Our usual editorial variety is excluded to day to make room for the proceedings of the Electoral College, which we publish in full,

The Carolina Cadets at West Point.

The young men at the West Point Milthe world, wherein they declare that though not indifferent to the value of a West Point diploma, and though they would, under no ordinary circumstances, relinquish such a distinction, yet they have met in solemn conclave, and sworn Illinois, to the Presidency of the United States, self-devotion of these modern Hampdens, which will fill with holy pride the bosoms of the Spartan mothers of the South, becomes still more touching when we consider the circumstances under which they are willing to throw away, so heroically, the high honor of a West Point dialogs. We have examined the West Point cata-logue, printed annually with the rate of guided sectionalism. logue, printed annually with the rate of scholarship, and we think we find another reason why these gentlemen are so willing to their homes and so cheerful.

As Pennsylvanians, what we claim for our selves, we willingly yield to our sister States. We expect and demand justice—let justice be done to all and by all. We avow our attachto return to their homes, and so cheerful- ment to the Constitution and the Laws-let no West Point Academy never graduates more than forty in a class, all below that number being cast out. The highest scholar of these patriotic Carolinians ranks as the fifty-third scholar of his class, while against most of the others is a little mark signifying that they have been put back one year, a mark of delinquency, which is followed speedily by dismissal. In plain language, these voung gentlemen ly offer themselves as a sacrifice. The act of our people or of our Legislature ever be In plain language, these young gentlemen relinquish their diploma, because by no of our American Nationality, to make our system possibility can they receive one; and so they embrace the opportunity of marching they embrace the opportunity of marching of the state of the American with the great heart of the American home with honor, rather than of being people, still clings to the Union as her safety and defence; as the safe guard and bond of

The Champion of Italy.

The glorious spectacle of Victor Emmanuel's entrance into Naples as King, time, have kindled the sympathetic enthuterialism of the nation. The New York "Tribune" thus refers to the retirement of the Washington of Sicily: "Garibaldi has resigned his dictatorship into the hands of Victor Emmanuel, and gone of Caprera. After uniting Sicily and the session of the College with a solemn and Naples, with their nine millions of people, turns to the simplicity of his peaceful seclusion, refusing both wealth and titles, enriched in nothing but glory, and the mingled admiration and affection of the world. If history records any where the life of a hero more disinterested, more brave, more faithful, endowed with more substantial magnanimity or a more sublime simplicity of character, we do not know it. Italy may well look upon him with pride and gratitude, but he belongs to her."

THE TWO POET ELECTORS .- Among the Republican Electors are two poets whose names possess an undying fame. William Cullen Bryant and John Greenleaf Whittier. They have for years given their sympathies and influence to the cause of Freedom in our land; and shall now have the satisfaction of sealing the viz: triumphant vote of the sixth of November, which elects ABRAHAM LINCOLN to the Presidency of the United States.

AT AN ELECTION held in Clarke county, Virginia, for a member of the Legislature, the "Conservator," published in that county, says "the disunionists were unable to induce any one to run on the ticket." Mr. Souther moved that the College nov proceed to supply the vacancy.

The President. I hold a letter in my hand from Mr. MERCUR declaring his inability to attend, and recommending the election of E. REED MYER as his substitute. The College then proceeded to select a person viva voce.

Mr. E. REED Mysa was nominated. Messis MUMMA and KIRKPATRICK were appointed as tellers. The tellers reported that Mr. MYER was duly elected, having received 26 votes. The Governor was immediately informed that the vacancy had been supplied, whereupon the Governor informed Mr. Myer of his election. The letter was read as follows, viz: PENNSYLVANIA EXECUTIVE CHAMBER,) Harrisburg, Pa, Dec. 5, 1860.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

SENATE -The session was opened with prayer. Mr. Pugh, of Ohio, appeared in his seat. Mr. Hale, N. H., moved that a number of the volumes of the Pacific Railroad reports be published for the use of the Senate. Mr. Powell, Ky, moved the reference of so much of the President's message as relates to the present political affair of the country, to special committee.

Mr. Green, (Mo.,) introduced a resolution that the Committee of the Judiciary be inatructed to inquire into the propriety of provid-ing by law for establishing an armed police force along the border States, both slave and free, for the purpose of maintaining general peace between the States, and preventing the invasion of States by the citizens of another; and also for the efficient execution of the Fugitive Slave Aw. Mr. Cameron, Pa., moved that the subject be made the order of the day for next Monday.

Mr. LATHAM, Cal., presented the credentials of Edward D. Baker, Senator elect from Oregon.

Mr. Hale, (N. H.) moved to reconsider the which 10,000 copies of the President's Message were ordered to be printed. He said that if he understood the message clearly, it first took the ground that South Carolina has FOURTH STREET NEAR MARKET. just cause to secode, and secondly declared that she had no right to secode. He thought the President should have pointed out to Congress ome rule for guidance. He has failed to look the thing in the face.

We must look to the ballot-box, or a war, for the termination of these difficulties. South Carolina asks no counsel. She considers disunion a settled question, and is arming herself. The voice of the majority, as announced at the ballot-box, will not be submitted to by her. She considers that the nor thern States are the aggressors. The gentlemen on the other side listen to the voice of passion rather than to their own convictions. We are trying an experiment. Our republic has not yet outlived the soldiers who fought its battles and won its victories. We have obtained what we have, by great effort. We are approaching the culminating point, and the civil war of England was insignificant to what our conflict may be if we cannot settle things peaceably. We must look danger straight in the face.

bill is thus brought up for action.

Mr. Grow did not desire to discuss this measure, the principle involved having been familiar to the country for the past ten years. This bill, however, avoids the prominent objection made in President Buchanan's veto message. It does not purpose to denote the lands, but requires the payment of two dollars for one hundred and sixty acres. He might, if necessary, quote Gen. Jackson against Mr. Bu-chanan, to show that the former was of the opinion that the public lands should not be the source of federal revenue. He moved the previous question, under the operation of which the bill passed—yeas 132, nays 76.

Mr. COIFAX, (Ind.) moved that the Post route bill, returned from the Senate at the former ression with amendments, be referred to the Post Office Committee. He remarked that there had been no such bill passed for the last three years, and it was desirous to have action as soon as possible.

Mr. Smith, (Va.) objected, saying that the Government was financially embarrassed.

Mr. COLFAX. That is true, but we draw our

pay. He had performed his duty as to this matter, and said, in conclusion, that there were several reforms proposed in the bill, and the Postmaster General was anxious to know the disposition of Congress as to the contracts with railroad companies.

The objections to taking up and referring the bill were persisted in.

On motion of Mr. Sherman, (Ohio,) the House went into the committee of the whole on the state of the Union, (Mr. WASHBURN, of Illinois in the Chair,) and took up the Military Union Convention in New York.

New York, Dec. 5.

A State Convention of the Union men, led off by Commodore Stockton, Com. C. Alexander, ex Governor Price, Col. Peter J. OCTORC. WEICHEL, residing in Harrisburg, Pa, Third street near North street, cured in Germany as well as America, many persons after having been treated without success by other physicians.—We extract here some passages from German newspapers of this place, containing acknowledgement of such persons and their recommendation to apply in similar cases to Dr. WEICHEL.

George Cassel, West Hanover township, Dauphin county, testifies that he was perfectly cured of a Cancer inward his 1.ft cheek. Jane Radabaugh, of Harrisburg, testifies that having been treated by various physicians for five years in the case of Rheumatism in both legs so that she was unable to lift one leg before the other during all that time; after their abandonment she used Dr. Welchel's mediane only about three months, and was perfectly cured. J. Sollenberger testifies that his sister Jane having been confined to her bed for nine years, and all that time speechless, and every day and night spasms on the chest, was then perfectly healed by Dr. Welchel, and has for five years since that time the use of her speech. Marg. Zimmerman testifies that having been totally blind in one eye for ten years, and in the other for one year, has received full sight of one eye by using Dr. Weichel's direction and medicine. John Meyer, of South Middleton township, Cumberland county, testifies that having totally lost sight of the right eye for more than one-year and a half by the gray catarnot, and exployed several physicians without success, has received then under the treatment of Dr. Weichel in less than one year his sight so that he can read, and considers his cure to be accomplished.
