

Daily Telegraph

HARRISBURG, PA.

Thursday Afternoon, December 6 1860.

A SPECIAL MEETING OF COUNCIL will be held at the City Hall this evening.

GOVERNOR CURTIN, we are reliably informed, will not visit the Capital of the State until the Saturday prior to the day on which he is to be inaugurated.

GOSS HOME.—The Presidential Electors, and the crowd of politicians attracted hither by the meeting of the College, have left the city, and our hotels once more present the appearance of "banquet halls deserted." They will soon fill up again, however, with members of the Legislature, bidders and office hunters. We anticipate lively times at the Capital this winter.

A SPECIAL MEETING OF THE TYCOONS will be held at the Council Chamber to-morrow evening at half past eight o'clock. Punctual attendance is requested at the hour designated, as the Chief Tycoon will mount the Chair of State at precisely twenty minutes and twenty seconds of nine o'clock. By order.

P. FINCKAN, Chief Tycoon.

LITTLE TOMMY, Secretary.

COUNTERFEITS.—Counterfeit $20 notes on the Farmers' Bank of Reading have recently been put into circulation. They are altered from some other Farmers' Bank, by inserting "State of Pennsylvania" at the top, and "Reading" near the bottom. Counterfeit $20 bills on the Bank of North America are out. The vignettes upon the bills are: in the centre the head of Washington; on the right a woman with a sheaf of wheat, and on the left a sailor.

CHICKENS IN WINTER.—Those not fully up to all the requirements of the "Henery," should remember that if they desire a liberal crop of eggs in winter, the fowls must be fed with raw meat, chopped fine, not less than twice a week. They should also have a constant supply of gravel, also old mortar, lime, or ground bones. They should be kept warm—the house should have a southern exposure, if possible, with window lights, to shift when necessary. No one, who cares about the appearance of his lawns, or the cleanliness of his yards, doorsteps, &c., should allow his fowls to wander about. A chicken-yard, as well as a chicken-house, is indispensable.

FOR THE LADIES.—A "fashion" writer in a New York paper says, "the winter bonnets promise to be as plain as a Shaker meeting-house; feathers and flowers will be seen as rarely as birds on the prairie. Dark velvet depressed over the forehead, with almost straight sides, plain crown, and decoration of rich, real lace, only will be recognized as ton by the initiated." The same writer says of the winter goods that will be worn: "Flash has had its day. The rainbow plaids, with squares as large as small windows, are consigned to oblivion, and ladies are no longer to be seen walking the streets enclosed in chequer work. The railroad stripes are numbered with the things that were.

RESPIRE OF A MURDERER.—In the case of James Miller alias Buckley, convicted in Philadelphia of murder in the first degree, and who was to be hung to-morrow, he has been respited by the Governor until the 15th of February.—The sheriff of that city who was here on Tuesday, in company with ex-Mayor Gilpin, and obtained the respite, returned home the same evening, when they at once proceeded to the prison and read the official document to the unfortunate doomed man. The prisoner was firm. After the reading, he drew a long breath which escaped like a deep heavy sigh. There are quite a number of persons in that community who think the case was not one of murder in the first degree. The prisoner does not seem prepared to die; and this is supposed to be the reason why the respite was granted.

THE PRAGMERS' ASSOCIATION adjourned last evening after a pleasant session of two days, and the ministers who were in attendance have returned to their respective charges. During the discussion relative to the extension of ministerial terms, some "sharp shooting" occurred between old and young members of the Association, imparting a degree of originality and spice to the debate which was refreshing to the audience. One or two of the old fogies pitched into "young America" somewhat roughly, but the latter defended themselves with spirit and ability. Upon the whole, however, the session was a pleasant and profitable one. The visiting clergymen were hospitably entertained, during their stay in this city, by members of the Methodist congregation, and returned home highly pleased with the kind manner in which they had been treated.

BEFORE THE MAYOR.—Three dilapidated specimens of humanity, who were last night found on the street, stupid from the combined effects of whisky and cold, and caged in the lock-up, appeared before the Mayor this morning for a hearing. The first was a regular trumper, a German answering to the name of George Meyer, hailing from Lebanon and bound for Carlisle. The next customer was a German with a jagged beard countenance, named Lewis Fisher, on his way from Carlisle to Lebanon.—The third member of the trio was a feeble old man, with a head whitened by the frosts of seventy-four winters. He belongs in Lancaster county, and not liking the poor house accommodations, started for Carlisle, where he expected to receive better treatment, having patronized the Cumberland county institution on a former occasion. Judging from the old man's own story he is a regular "revolver," and has been an inmate of nearly all the poor houses in this section of the State. While perambulating the city last night he fell in with the two worthies first named, one of whom had a bottle of whisky, and the result was that the whole party got drunk. But for the timely intervention of the Keeper of the lock-up, the trio would have remained in the cold, and this morning been subjects for a Coroner's inquest. They were all discharged.

BISHOP SIMPSON has recently lectured on the "Holy Land," and other interesting topics, in various towns of this State. If the learned and eloquent Bishop could be induced to visit Harrisburg, and deliver a lecture, we feel confident that he would attract an immense audience.—He is said to be unsurpassed in logic and argument, and to equal the lamented Bascom in pulpit oratory.

A COW-HIDING AFFAIR is on the tapis, if rumor be true, growing out of a gross insult recently offered to a respectable young lady, by a married man connected with one of our city churches. The fact having been communicated to a gentleman friend of the lady alluded to, he at once avowed a determination to waylay and cowhide the afore-mentioned church-member, who is said to be an old offender in matters of this kind. We anxiously await further developments!

DISRUPTING A CONGREGATION.—Last evening a colored girl named Mary Jane Keener, was before Alderman Kline, charged by the pastor of the colored Methodist church in Short street, with disturbing the congregation during time of worship. The affair, excited considerable sensation in colored circles and attracted a large crowd of the sable sisterhood to the Alderman's office. The charge being fully sustained, Mary was bound over to appear at Court and answer. The law inflicts a very severe penalty for disturbing religious meetings.

LADIES, BEWARE OF EARTHQUAKES!—One of our Maine exchanges is informed, on what it considers "the most reliable authority," of a singular and unprecedented circumstance which took place in connection with a recent earthquake. A married woman residing not a thousand miles from Yarmouth, in that State, but whose husband has been absent about two years, was delivered of a healthy and sprightly child, shortly after the shock! Earthquakes have always previously been supposed dangerous to human life, instead of producing it! Wonder what effect an earthquake would have in Harrisburg? Great is the Pine Tree State, but greater still is the institution of earthquakes!

PORTABLE HEATERS.—We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement, in another column, of Mr. Gilbert, who is sole agent for the sale of Sanford's Portable Heaters. Having one of these Heaters in use in our Bookstore, we can speak from experience and recommend the same to all persons who are desirous of warming their houses without an extravagant waste of fuel. Our heater not only heats one of the largest store rooms in this city, where the front door is almost constantly open, but also heats a large parlor and bed chamber, which we found "impossible" to do with a large Heater manufactured by Kistebach, of Philadelphia, located in the cellar, consuming twice the amount of coal. The heater itself is an ornament in any room and occupies but little space. Persons who use other heaters are often troubled with smoke when the fire is first kindled; but no such annoyance is experienced from Sanford's Heaters. We invite all to call and examine the Heater in use in our store, and we can satisfy them that Sanford's is much superior to any of those we have seen or used.

WANTED AN HEIR.—By the following graphic account, which we clip from one of the Philadelphia papers, it will be seen that the bogus baby business was not all exhausted by the famous Mrs. Cunningham of New York, however that estimable lady may herself have been exhausted by her arduous maternal trials and duties. Here, according to the Philadelphia papers, is the latest version of a domestic game of "Hyde and Seek." We publish it in full:

Several weeks since we published an account of a babes corpus case heard in the Quarter Sessions, wherein as a defence to a claim set up by a husband to the custody of an only child, the wife declared that it was an imposture, practiced upon her too confiding lord and master—that she had represented herself as an interesting condition, and then by means of a story founding, acted the part of a woman underrating all the pains incident to maternity. The ruse in this case was successful, and the nearly twelve years old, and then the wife made a clean breast of the whole matter in furtherance of her design to keep the child. Another case of this kind is now attracting the attention of the public. The matter has progressed so far as to need the services of Recorder Kane, who issued a warrant for the arrest of the parties concerned. The lady who acted as principal in this affair is Mrs. F. B. Hyde, wife of F. R. Hyde, pawnbroker. About seven years ago, Mr. Hyde, who was then a widower, had a child, the name of which was not given. For several years the child was born, and the pair—at least Mr. Hyde was given to understand—that such was the case, and he was none the wiser for a long while. The fact that his wife had none of the "lactical fluid" so necessary to the existence of a child, was not sufficient to open his eyes to the truth. The child died, and this was Mrs. Hyde's trouble all in vain, and after waiting for some time in order to allow for a natural increase in her milk, and finding it to be all gone, she again resorted to the plan of nursing. When the time arrived for the birth of the child, everything was nicely arranged. In order that Mr. Hyde should be the more effectually bamboozled, it was agreed that the announcement should take place at the house of a friend—Mrs. Fenton—where, of course, Mrs. Hyde was to be "taken ill very suddenly." Dr. Robinson was in the plot, and true to the previous arrangement, he was on hand at Mrs. Fenton's, where Mrs. Hyde went to bed and through all the necessary formalities which ended in the birth of a fine child, said child being two days old, and a former resident of the same house, and a child being over, and mother and child being pronounced out of danger by the attending physician, Mr. Hyde was again set free, and the announcement made to him that up was again a father. But Mr. Hyde was too old to be caught a second time in this manner, and he persisted in sending for his family physician, Dr. Gebhard, and he insisted upon Dr. Robinson's waiting until the other physician arrived. Dr. R. did remain, much to his discomfort, and when Dr. Gebhard arrived and made the necessary examination, the game was up. Mrs. Hyde fainted, and when Dr. Gebhard took him to task for the part he had played, he pleaded "sympathy for the lady." Mr. Hyde got out a warrant for the arrest of all the parties concerned in the conspiracy, and two hearings have occurred before the Recorder, but no final disposition of the case has been reached.

MUSICAL.—New music from all the leading publishing houses always received immediately after publication. Violins, Guitars, Banjos, Accordions, &c.; all sorts of strings always fresh on hand, at Wm. Knocum's Music store, 92 Market street.

EDUCATIONAL. CONTROLLING ELEMENT OF NATIONALITY is the system of education in a country. In proportion as the structure of a government gives force to public opinion, that public opinion should be enlightened.—Washington's Address. To this end the people in general should be educated into general and familiar acquaintance with the nature and principles of our government and its institutions. OUR GOVERNMENT: An explanatory statement of the system of Government of the Country, & A MANUAL FOR THE PEOPLE, by AGADEXIES and POPULAR USES, is a work which, with proper historical notices, gives the construction of the provisions of the Constitution, of the United States and of those of the several States, as well as the nature and character of the various departments and officers, including some of the most important and practical, so as to show the actual working of the government, and to give the people a more correct and cultivated view of our country. It is free from speculation to a considerable extent, in the EDUCATION OF YOUTH, Statesmen and Presidents, and is recommended by Jurists, Statesmen and Professors of Colleges.—M. W. KIMBLE, Harrisburg, Pa.

It is proposed that fire alarm bells in all our large cities should be so managed as not only to indicate the district or ward, but also the number of the house that is burning.—E. That's a "fine idea"—but why stop there? If it could be "so managed" as to give the name of the occupant of the house on fire, together with the value of his effects, and the amount of insurance on the same, the manner in which the premises took fire, &c., it would save reporters a world of trouble.

SOUNDNESS.—The other night a highly respectable young lady, while passing up Third street on her way home from the Methodist Church, was insulted and rudely jostled by a well-dressed drunken blackguard. The "lewd fellows of the baser sort" who commit such outrages are liels upon humanity, and deserve to be treated to an application of boot leather. Disreputable scenes of this kind are of such frequent occurrence in our city, that it is unsafe for ladies to venture on the streets alone after dark. In every instance of this kind, if ladies, or their friends, will furnish us the names of the scoundrels who molest them, we promise to give them a "put" in the columns of the TELEGRAPH free of charge.

DECEMBER has now fairly entered upon her pilgrimages; and if her mission is attended with its usual vicissitudes, clouds and snow storms will form the prominent features of the month. December is, in general, the most unpleasant month in the whole year, with rapidly decreasing days and lengthened nights. Even nature is hushed to sleep, and every change seems only an advance towards universal gloom and desolation: "No mark of vegetable life is seen. Save the dark leaves of some red evergreen; No bird to bird repeats his tuneful call. Save the low rustle on the moss-grown wall." During her reign, the penetrating winds, the frost that whitens every object, and the whitening rays of the receding sun, all admonish us that Winter is at hand—a season dreaded alike by the rich as well as the poor. The former on account of the sleet and drifting snows, and the latter for the pinching cold and penetrating winds that creep into every crevice of the humble cot.

NOTARY PUBLIC.—In these Lincoln times when there is such a wild hunt for office, it may be important for Democrats to know that there are some crums yet left for them in the public crib. Gov. Packer, before he retires from office, has the appointment of a Notary Public, perhaps a couple of them, for this place. The office is worth some four or five hundred dollars a year, and in some hard times may exceed that amount considerably. Patriot and Union.

The office of Notary Public does not "pay" so well as some people imagine. Alderman Kline, who has held the position for three years past, and done business for the Dauphin Deposit Bank, informs us that his income from that source has averaged about one hundred dollars per annum. When Notary Public under former Administrations, in times past, he informs us that he did not realize "five hundred dollars" in that many years. A man can discharge the duties of the office, however, without interfering with other business; and if any of our Democratic friends are anxious to obtain the "crumbs, yet left for them in the public crib," now is the time to pitch in, as the Governor will soon have to make the appointments.

ATTEMPTED BURGLARY.—A FIRE IN THE REAR. Between eleven and twelve o'clock last night, a fellow was discovered in the yard of Mr. Bineline, editor of the State Sentinel, who resides on Front street below Mulberry. The son of Mr. Bineline had occasion to go to the hydrant, when he discovered a man trying to conceal himself behind a wash-tub in one corner of the yard. With a commendable degree of self-possession, young Bineline passed on through the yard, deliberately procured water, and returned to the house, without giving the nocturnal intruder reason to suppose that his presence had been detected. Having re-entered the house and secured the door, he armed himself with a loaded shot gun, and proceeded to the balcony overlooking the yard. The mysterious visitor was still there, and finding that he was discovered, started to run, when young Bineline, taking deliberate aim, fired at the retreating burglar, the shot taking effect in the rear of his person, and causing him to indigne in some terrific howls. He succeeded, however, in effecting his escape. Mr. Bineline and his wife were absent from home, their children being the only occupants of the house at the time. This fact was probably known to the burglar, who only awaited the retirement of young Bineline to carry his burglarious design into execution. After the warm reception he met with, it is not likely he will attempt a repetition of the experiment.
