Progristors of Shawmut Chemical Works.

No. 33 INDIA STREET, Boston.

ONCENTRATED LEAVEN is the regular of careful chemical research. All its ingredients are prepared in the highest state of purity, and compounded with a view to produce bread of a far better quality, and in much less time, than by, any other process; and by the manufacturers submit it, with entire confidence, to the judgment of discriminating house keepers, bakers, &c.

Bread of all kinds made by using Concentrated Leaven is lighter, more digestible and muitrilous; has an agrees, ble, natural taste; is less liable to sour; will retain its moisture longer than by any other process, and the whole preparation for the oven need not exceed ten minutes.

It is yaluable because it is not marishable and mloutes.

It is valuable because it is not perishable, and may be rendered available in places and at times when yeast is not within reach, as at sea. In all climates and under all circumstances, it may be adopted, thus obviating all difficulty of precuring yeast or other ferme t, which is frequently of an inferior quality, readering the bread more or less unwholesome. frequently of an inferior quality, readering the bread more or less numbolesome.

It is also valuable as regards economy, as it has been ascertained that a saving is effected in the flour of not less than 16 per cent. In the common process much of the saccharine of the flour is lost by being converted into carbonic acid gas, or spirit, and the waste is incurred solely for the purpose of genorating gas to raise the dough. By using Concentrated Leaven this waste is avoided, and the gas obtained in a manner equally efficacious. Fermentation, as has been stated, destroys a part of the flour or meal, and, in consequence, a barrel of hour weighing 196 hs., which, by the common method, ordinarily makes about 250 hs of bread, gives by this process 290 hs. thus effecting the very important saving of 16 per cent, in the quantity of four. By conformity to the directions on each package, any person capable of ordinary attention may conduct the process, and the result will invariably be highly satisfactory.

CERTIFICATE FROM DR. HAYES,

CERTIFICATE FROM DR. HAYES,

"I have analysed the Concentrated Leaven, manufactured by Messis: Edw, Chamberlin & Co., with reference to its purity add-elliciency of ration in producing the effect of yeast in distending dough, and thereby rendering it fit for making bread. This article is skillfully compounded, from perfectly pure material. It raises the dough without consuming the sugar or any other principle in the floor, perfectly; and the same weight of, floor will produce more sweet, palatable bread than can be obtained through yeast; while for cakes and pastry it is invaluable, as, it saves all risk, and much time of the pastry cook.

"The experiments made by me confirm the statements made-by, the manufacturers, and proves this compound worthy of public approval and extended use.

"Respectfully.

"A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer, vil6-floyiston sirect, Boston, September 25, 1860."

Written for the Daily Telegraph. THE FLAG OF FORT MOULTRIE.

BY D. R. B. NEVIN.

"The American flag cannot be seen among the shipp ng at our wharves. It can only be dimly seen down the Bay, floating from the top of Fort Moultrie."-Charlettee

Mercury. What means this scandal of our flag? Fing of the gallant free, Whose agure folds so gracefully Encircle land and sea. Whose THIRTEEN old colonial stars

Are changed to THIRTY THREE. Why fade those stripes from off its folds? Why melt those stars away? They all have cluster'd side by side, In many a deadly fray-And fluttered, aye, triumphantly,

On many a batt'e-day. They shrank aghast from traitorous touch, They fled from TREASON'S hand; Those stars and stripes could never wave O'er such a motely band Of Catalinian patriots-

Dishonoring the land. Aye, fling your pennant to the breeze, The standard of a day: And laugh to scorn, if laugh you will, At ours, "far down the Bay." The Moultrie flag will proudly wave, When thine has passed away. SHIPPENSBURG, NOV. 1860.

A Model Pastor.

We have been waiting and watching, for several days, for some appropriate and fit-ting eulogium, from the Press, upon that model pastor, the Rev. Mr. Patterson, of Chicago, whose eminently Christian mode of discharging the sacred duties of the Confessional, inaugurates a more perfect law of confidence between Penitent and Pastor. A daughter of the Church, in deep affliction, laid hersorrows in penitential and touching language, before her Spiritual Father, entreating him to present them, in her behalf, to that Merciful Judge before whom all who are heavy laden are invited to cast their burthens. That rigid Pastor who treads

"The steep and thorny way to heaven," instead of going with his penitent—bruised in heart and crushed in spirit—before Him who is easily to be entreated, handed her petition over to a human tribunal ! The appeal of an erring but contrite daughter of the Church, for the pastor's intercession with her Heavenly Father, goes before an emission with her Heavenly Father, goes before an emission of the morthston the misery! This, we repeat, inaugurates a many representation of the morthstone independent of the company of the new era in elerical ethics. It reforms the relation between confessor and penitent. It corrects and dispels a delusion under which Christians have labored. A paster takes the confession of a member of his church and hands it over to a civil magistrate! This certainly conflicts with long-cherished prejudices. Pastors have suffered pains and penalties, languished in prison, and defied tortures, rather than divulge the secrets of the confessional. Indeed. FOR THE LADIES, there is a nigner, original, notice came when an erring but penitent woman came before our Savior, in reply to those who desired him to repel her, he rebuked them all all by telling him who was without sin to cast the first stone. Our modern and model Chicago pastor reverses the teachings and example of his Divine Master, by himself stoning the penitent who asked for his prayers! - [ALBANY EVENING JOURNAL.

THE SILENT CONFLICTS OF LIFE. - A triumph in the field is a theme for poetry, for painting, for history eulogistic, and aggrandizing agencies, whose united tribute constitutes fame; but there are victories won by men over themselves more truly honorable to the conqueror than any that can be achieved in war. Oh, through these silent successes, we never hear, the battles in which they are obtained are fought in solitude and without help, save from above. The conflict is sometimes waged in the still watches of the aight, and the struggle is often fearful. Honor to every conqueror in such a warfare! Honor to the man or woman who fights temptation, hatred, revenge, envy, selfishness, back to its last covert in the heart, and then expels it forever. Although no outward show of honor accrues to the victors of these good fights, they have their reward, a higher one than fame can bestow. They come out of the combat self ennobled.

A Mother's Task.—It is said that a certain celebrated artist had already spent two whole years in painting a scene; but being dissatisfied, destroyed the labor of many months and was making another attempt, when a friend interrogated him as to the cause of his thus spending so much of his time. His reply was,

"I paint for immortality." Every individual now living, is doing work for enterprise; but a MOTHER, to whom is committed the training of a mortal immortal, is emphatically PAINTING FOR IN-

Here is the hand that is delineating features on a canvass which will retain its characters "far into the other world." It is this consideration that gives its momentous importance to that question, so often asked with so much solicitude, by the anxious mother, "what influences among those I can bring to bear upon my child, will be the most lasting and productive of the greatest good?"
