CONCENTRATED LEAVEN,

FOR MAKING Bread, Tea-Cakes, all kinds of Pastry, &c. MANUFACTURED BY

EDW. CHAMBERLIN & CO., Proprietors of Shawmut Chemical Works.

Progretors of Shawmut Chemical Works.

No. 33 INDIA STREEF, Boston.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN is the recurs of careful chemical research. All its ingredicular are prepared in the highest state of purity, and compounded with a view to produce bread of a far better quality, and in much less time, then by any other process; and by the manufacturers submit it, with entire confidence, to the judgment of decriminating house keepers, bakers, &c.

Bread of all kin s made by using Concentrated Leaven is lighter, more digestible and nuitritious; has an agreeable, natural taste; is less liable to sour; will retain its mosture longer than by any other process, and the whole preparation for the oven need not exceed ten minutes.

It is valuable because it is not perishable, and may be whole preparation for the oven need not exceed ten minutes.

It is valuable because it is not perishable, and may be rendered available in places and at times when yeast is not within reach, as at sea. In all climates and under all circumstances, it may be adopted, thus obviating all officulty of precuring yeast or other ferme t, which is frequently of an inferior quality, ret dering the bread more or less unwholesome.

It is also valuable as regards economy, as it has been ascertained that a saving is effected in the flour of not less than 16 per cent. In the common process much of the saccharine of the flour is lest by being converted into carbotic acid gas, or spirit, and the waste is incurred solely for the purpose of generating gas to raise the dough. By using Concentrated Leaven this waste is avoided, and the gas obtained in a manner equally efficacious. Fermentation, as has been stated, destroys a part of the flour or meal, and, in consequence, a barrel of flour weighing 196 hs, which, by the con mon method, ordinarily makes about 250 hs of bread, gives by this process 290 hs, thus effecting the very important saving of 16 per cent. In the quantity of flour. By conformity to the directions on each package, any person capable of ordinary attention may conduct the process, and the result will invariably be highly satisfactory.

CERTIFICATE FROM DR. HAYES,

ordinary attention may conduct the process, and the result will invariably be highly satisfactory.

CERTIFICATE FROM DR. HAYES,

Assayer to the State of Massachusetts.

"I have analysed the Concentrated Leaven, manufactured by Mersis. Edw Chamberlin & Co., with reference to its purity and efficiency of action in producing the effect of yeast-in distending dough, and thereby rendering it fit for making bread. This article is skillfully compounded, from perfectly pure material. It raises the dough without consuming the sugar of any other principle in the four, perfectly; and the same weight is flour will produce more sweet, palatable bread than oan be obtained through yeast; while for cakes and pastry it is invaluable, as it saves all risk, and much time of the pastry cook.

"The experiments made by me confirm the statements made by the manufacturers, and proves this compound worthy of public approval and extended use.

"Respectfully,
"A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Arsayer,

Another Curtin Lecture.

BY MRS. GEORGE WASHINGTON WYLLYSS.

Yes, Mr. Crocus, I think it's full time you were home! I'd like to know where you've been all this time? Only to an Anti-Secresion Meeting? What business is it of yours whether the South secedes or not? A pretty idea, that the poor women folks have to sit at home, crying their eyes out, while you are ballooing yourself hoarse about panies and politics, and I don't know what else! The Personal Liberty Bill is in denger. Well Lit it had denger to Bill is in danger? Well, let it be in danger.—
Caleb Crocus's private opinion won't make much difference on the subject, I presume.—
The Personal Liberty Bill don't buy tea and sugar, at your grocery, I take it? People have a good deal too much personal liberty as it is
—if it was a law keeping decent men at home with their wives at night, I should think differently! The Union is tottering to its foundations? Is it? Well, if it can't keep itself up without your running to the tavern to put your shoulder under, I say, let it go! The base fire-eaters of South Carolina are undermining our Constitution? Indeed! I should suppose you were undermining yours by the looks of your nose! Pity the South Carollnians don't know nose! Pity the South Carolluians don't know Caleb Crocus's opinion of them. They'd appoint a day of fasting and humiliation, probably! Don't tell me that I don't understand the weighty interests involved! I understand quite enough! Strange if I didn't, when you spend your whole time wrangling with drunken loafers and hurrabing at the filly speeches of some fool who is a degree more fanatical than even you! I haven't any patriotism? My husband has enough for both, it seems! I hear of nothing but national concessions, and compromises, and seceding; until I'm sick of them. promises, and seceding, until I'm sick of them. Did you hear that clock strike, Mr. Crocust Did you know that it was eleven o'clock, and that you ought to have been home four hours ago? No use turning the conversation to Old Abe! If Old Abe can't take care of this country without your help, he must be a poor stick! And, talking about sticks, there isn't a blessed kindling split for to-morrowl Who did you suppose? Or perhaps you were going to send up a committee from the tavern? You'll please go about it, as coon as convenient! I'm not going to sit up all night for you! You want your supper? Well, I've wanted you any time these four hours. You needn't go prying into these four hours. You needn't go prying into that cellar—you won't find anything to eat there. Where's the cold beef? The cold beef has seceded, Mr. Crocus! There's no use in banging that door, either. Keep your fingers out of that case-safe, unless you want 'em caught in the rat-trap. See what comes of sta ing out until eleven o'clock at night. The next time you go to help save the Union; I'm wile can't uou it. It's representance if a man's expand my mind vastly by the study of post-tics? Oh! I haven't any patience with the men! Crocus you shan't stir out of the house to-morrow night? How will I help it? I'll hide your hat! You guesswon can go without hide your hat! You guesswon can go without a hat! Then I'll hide your troweers! I'm sure I shall dream of secession and Personal Liberty, Bills to night! It's enough to wear a woman out! Oh, dear! I wish there was no such thing as politics!

Child-Angels---Their Early Going Home.

Benjamin F. Taylor, of the Chicago Journal. dilates thus eloquently and feelingly upon the death of a child: It went in the morning-a bright and radiant morning—many went yesterday, more to-day, and there are dews to be shed for the de-partures of to-morrow. And can it be wonder. ed that pleasant summer mornings should be-guile them into going? Is it a marvel that they do not wait for the burden and the noon, but follow the lark, and hear her song over the rim of the rainbow? That those words so beautiful, they should make so true, 'and joy cometh in the morning?" Going in the morning!—a glorious morning when the sky is all beauty, and the world is all bliss; ere the dews have gone to heaven, or the stars have gone to God; when the birds are singing, and the cool winds are blowing, and the flowers are out that will be shut at noon, and the clouds that are never rent in rain, and the shadows inlaid with crimson lie away to the west.

a casket for jewels, all alone by itself in a huge hearse, melancholy with plumes, and gloomy as a frown, and we have thought not so should we accompany those a little way who go in the morning. We have wondered why they did not take the little coffin into the carriage with them, and lay it gently upon their laps, the sleeper there lulled to slumber without a bosom or a cradle. We have wouldered what there was for tears in such a going—in the early morning from home to home—like fair while doves with downy pinions emerging from nether night and fluttering for entrance at the windows of Heaven. Never has there been a hand wanting to take the wanderer in, and shut out the darkness and the storm. Upon those little faces it never seemed to us that death could place his great eal; there is no thought of the charnel-house in those young listeners to the invitation whose acceptance we are bound not to forbid; there should be morning songs, and not sighs—fresh flowers, and not badges of mourning—no tears nor clouds, but bright dews and bright dawnings together. Fold up the white robe—lay aside the forgotten toy-smooth the little unpressed pillow, and gently smile as you think of the white gain ment, of the harp of gold, and of the fair brow with its diadem of light; smile as you think that no years can make that memory old. An eternal, guiltless child, watting about the threshold of Paradise for the coming friend
