Alarm in South Carolina.

The condition of things throughout the whole South, at this juncture, is such that the people of that section are to be pitied. They are standing upon a mine which may be fired at any moment, and they know and feel their danger. The little volcanic ous opposition of the Locofoco party. State of South Carolina, though hurrying | Much credit is also due to the financial on secession, is not without its alarms and apprehensions, as will be seen by the following letter, which portrays vividly, and accurately we doubt not, the real condition of things in that State. A lady, writing to her uncle in New York, says the family are preparing to come North, and goes on to show the difference between the poetry and the reality of secession. Look upon the picture :-

You may imagine, dear uncle, our situation, but you never can realize it in its fullness. Already we tremble in our own homes in anticipation and expectancy of what is liable to burst forth at any moment, a negro insurrection. Could you see the care and precaution displayed here by the proprietors of the negroes, not only planters, but others, you would not, for a moment, envy us our possessions. Not a night passes that we do not securely lock our field servants in their quarters; but our most loved and valued house servants, who in ordinary times we trust to any extent, are watched and guarded against with all the scrutiny and care that we possess. Our planters and owners of slave property do not allow their servants to have any intercourse with each other, and the negroes are confined strictly to the premises where they belong. We are all obliged to increase our force of overseers to prevent too free intercourse even among our own servants. The negroes feel and notice these new restraints, and the negroes feel and notice these new restraints, and the negroes feel and notice these new restraints, and the negroes feel and notice these new restraints, and the negroes feel and notice these new restraints, and the negroes feel and notice these new restraints, and the negroes feel and notice these new restraints, and the negroes feel and notice these new restraints, and the negroes feel and notice these new restraints, and the negroes feel and notice these new restraints, and the negroes feel and notice these new restraints, and the negroes feel and notice these new restraints, and the negroes feel and notice these new restraints, and the negroes feel and notice these new restraints, and the negroes are confined strictly to the premises of the Sinking Tond for the redemption of State tooks, relief notes, &c.

Special Commissioners of the Sinking Tond for the redemption of State tooks, relief notes, &c. pation and expectancy of what is liable to burst negroes feel and notice these new restraints, and haturally ask "Why is this?" But it is unnecessary for them to ask the question, for they all comprehend the cause as well as we who own them. They have already learned enough to give them an idea of what is going on in the State and Nation, and this knowledge they have not gained from Abolitionists, as some suppose, but from the conversation of their owners indirectly held in their presence. They have already heard of Lincoln's election, and have heard also that he is for giving them their liberty, and you may imagine the result:
You have heard that our servants all love their masters, and their masters' families, and would lay down their lives for them-that the colored race in the South prefer slavery to free-dom—that they would not befree if they could, &c., &c. That is but the poetry of the case, the &c. &c. That is but the poerry or the case, the reality consists in sleeping upon our arms at night—in double-bolting and barring our doors—in establishing and maintaining an efficient patrol force—in buying watch dogs, and in taking turns in watching our sleeping children, to guard them and ourselves from the vengeance of these same "loving servants" -a vengeance which, though now smouldering is light the

You at the North are not the only ones who are suffering financially by this new panic. The planters among us are really suffering from the depreciation in their property. Already negroes are not worth half price. No one dares to buy a servant, fearing lest he, in doing so, should be introducing upon his plantation one tinctured with the idea of freedom.

Now, one word as to the military force of the Now, one word as to the military force of the State, to protect us against an insurrection. I presume, with the exception of Charleston, and perhaps a few large towns, that the remainder of the State is situated very much as we are here; and I will give you an idea of how well prepared we are to resist a mob. Upon our place of about 1200 acres, we have: Of whites, males—husband two overseers and my son of males—husband, two overseers and my son of 18 years—total, four; females—self and cousin, little Lucy and one of the overseer's wiveslour: of whom only four at the most are capa ble of bearing arms to offset which we have at least seventeen field hands, sturdy young negroes, besides the female servants. And this is a fair representation of the force upon our plantations. Considering such a state of facts, do you blame me for desiring to absent myself, my husband and children from the State?

WHY THE SOUTH IS ARMING .- The Washington correspondent of the Boston "Journal" gives an excellent reason for the present activity of some of the Southern States in "arming"-a precaution rendered necessary by the persistent efforts of dishonest politicians and factionists in misrepresenting the principles and purposes of the Republican party:

As for the armament of the South, it is intended to defend the whites against a servile insurrection. There has been so much said about the abolitionism of Lincoln and Hamlin that the negroes have become indoctrinated with the idea that they will be free on the 4th of March. It is to guard against a "rising" that Sharpe's rifles, and Colt's revolvers, and Ames' outlasses are being sent Southward. These weapons, anylow, have to be paid for in good funds. and the Yankees who take them receive kind

THE SENTIMENT CHANGING. - The tone of sentiment in Virginia has evidently taken another turn. In Mr. Garnett's district, as well as in several others, conservative resolutions; have been passed almost unanimously, and the object of those the truth, that before the first of February at urging Gov. Letcher to fix an early day least two and perhaps five States will be out of for the assembling of the Legislature, was to have an expression of conservative sent- in this city, that when they are once out iments before the meeting of the South of the Union, they can dictate their own Carolina Convention. Gov. Letcher re- terms, and return under assurances guarfused, saying "Let South Carolina goshe will be no loss to the Union."

PROBABLY.—A Washington telegram has this interesting information: "Members from Virginia, Maryland, and several from Kentucky, boldly declare that nothing short of a disbanding of the Republi-Union." Perhaps the Republican party will at once proceed to commit suicide in order to gratify its enemies. But at the same time perhaps it won't.

Finances of Pennsylvania.

We are under obligations to Auditor General Cochran for an advance copy of the past year the State debt has been reduced the sum of $674,629,03. This result is owing to the sale of the public works, formerly an expense of nearly a million of dollars to the State, which was accomplished under the administration of Gov. Pollock, against the most strenu-SLIFER, who have the funds of the State in their charge; and we are assured that if the present Democratic office-holders, who act as collectors for the State, had been equally vigilant and made the collections assigned to them, the result would have been still more encouraging. Correspondence of the Telegraph.

Washington, Dec. 8, 1860. The objections to the committee of one memthe House, all came from the South. It was proposed to make that Committee the arbiter ploy a great number of men. of the difficulties between the North and the South, and to represent, if possible, the sense of time next week, which is to be called, at the inthe country in its appointment. To accom- stance of both branches of Councils, by the plish these purposes, men of every shade of po- Mayor, to show our Southern friends that we litics were necessarily excited, and it was hoped have a few dough faces left in this city. The that after a few day's consultation, the committee would be able to report some plan of mains to be seen whether they will have it all compromise or basis on which to adjust the their own way. If they do, they must be complaints of the South, and finally settle all sharp. vexed questions now disturbing the peace and amity of the various sections of the Union. But it is doubtful whether such a result will be achieved at this session of Congress; while it is asserted, and you can accept the assertion for the pale of the Union. These Scates claim, or rather it is claimed for them in political circles enteeing to the institution of slavery all that is asked for it by its most passionate advocates. And these demands will consist of the opening of our ports to the slave trade, a reconstruction of Congress, which is, after all, the secret of this entire tumult. The Southern States have discovered in the reports of the census just taken, the real elements of the threatened danger. It is not the election of Lincoln that they so much fear. It is the growing population and mighty men and mechanics, the whole State does not contain as much muscle and mind as could be furnished by Dauphin county. But because this is the condition of that State, she is no the receipts and expenditures of the State less entitled to all her rights. Nor is it that of Pennsylvania during the fiscal year those rights are in danger, that the politicians ending November 30, 1860. From this of the South now so clamorously demand constatement it will be observed that during cession and compromise. The anxiety for power, and the certainty of losing that power by natural causes, is what is creating the excitement and trouble among Southern politicians. They care less for their peculiar institution than they do for their peculiar desire for

The basis on which the South will only settle the present difficulty, is the prompt and unqualified disavowal, on the part of the Republican party, of all its positions. If Abraham Lincoln decides that his Cabinet shall be comofficers of the State, Messrs. Cochran and posed partly of those who represent the extreme views of the South, and that there would be no removals from the Departments, the noise and confusion would at once be abated .-This is the idea now, to force the Republican party into measures opposed to its avowed constitutional policy, and compel Abraham Lincoln to desert the very principles on which he was elected. Mournful, indeed, would such a INQUIRER.

Davis, (the two last prominent candidates for Speaker of the House), Samuel Lawrence and several others in this city. There is also a large number of prominent men here from the interior of the State, such as Major Jackman, Gen. Burns, Gen. Beck and Mr. Courtright, all of Sunbury and Eric notoriety, who, as rumor has it, are fixing up matters for the winter. It is alleged that the Pennsylvania Railroad and Sunbury Railroad men have struck hands and will elect Davis, of Venango, as their Speaker. By the way, Mr. Davis is a clever gentleman, and personally I shall have no objection. But what of the Forts guarding the Charleston Harbor will become of Mr Sheppard? He is an old during the remainder of his administration. will become of Mr. Sheppard? He is an old member, and possesses all the requisites for the office. I was always under the impression that tells me that they are pledged to him, and that he is certain of his election. Col. Patterson stands pledged against the repeal of the tonnage tax, and it seems that both Railroad Companies will do their utmost to defeat him. Anothe matter may also enter into the Speakership contest. It is the election of United States Senator. Your eastern friends tell us if they elect a western man for Speaker, the west must give them M'Michael or M'Clure for Senator; and then in the event of Gen. Cameron accepting a Cabinet appointment they will give the west either Wilmot or Cowan. Mr. Patterson, however, tells me that he desires both Railroad companies to oppose him, and that he can be elected on that issue, fairly presented to the programme considerably, and I give for this as sustaining many of the enterprises which have city gossip.

Mr. Latham, Cal., moved that the resolution relative to an overland daily mail to California, be referred to the committee on post offices and post roads. Carried.

Mr. Sumner, Mass., offered the memorial of Thaddeus Hyatt, praying relief for the sufferers in Kausas. The resolution proposes legislation to spectacle be, and no less disgraceful to the give power for the correction of the evils. Our duty to our country requires us to act promptly. Mr. Green, (Mo.,) said he would vote for the resolution; although an amendment to the Constitution, or legal enactments, unless they met the popular sentiment or were supported by the strong arm of the Government, were not worth a straw. Efforts must be brought to bear on the public sentiment, or the alter-native will be to arm the Federal Government with physical power to enforce the Constitution everywhere.

Mr. LATHAM, Cal., said that California will remain with the Union, the great North and West, no matter what occurs. The Pacific Railway is the great disideratum of her people. Mr. Powell accepted Mr. Collamer's amendment to strike out.

Died.

This morning, Isaac G. M'KINLEY, Esq., aged fifty years. This bereavement falls with a heavy crushing weight on an interesting family, to whom the deceased was greatly endeared in the relations of a husband and parent. On these we may not intrude, except to say that the entire community sympathizes with them in no ordinary degree. Few men will be more missed among us than Mr. M'Kinley. His life spent in our members. Time, however, may change the midst-suggesting, stimulating, co-operating with and contributed to the interesting prosperity of our city—his death is a public loss. We could specify many special acts of his connection with these enterprises, but they are too well known to require statement. For a long time he held important connection with political move ments—in a more just and liberal spirit than is usual in the strife of politics. Genial in his social relations, and unceasingly so in the last few years, his absence from the circles of his friendships will be greatly felt. The 'great question" which should interest all of us, received his deliberate, sincere and thoughtful attention, and during his lingering illness its great truths furnished comfort and hopeful trust, up to the last hour of his mortal strife.
