

Daily Telegraph

HARRISBURG, PA.

Tuesday Afternoon, December 11, 1860.

See advertisement "Ho, for the Holidays."

Y. M. C. A.—A stated meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association will be held at their room this evening at seven o'clock.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—A few days ago Mr. Woolsey, a station agent on the Pennsylvania Railroad, while hunting near Irwin's station in company with Mr. Miller, formerly a conductor on the road, was shot by the accidental discharge of the last named gentleman's gun. At last accounts he was in a very critical condition.

CONCERT.—We learn that the members of the Methodist Choir intend giving a public concert shortly, in which they will be assisted by accomplished musicians connected with other associations in this city. We can safely promise the music-loving public a first-class entertainment, and hope to see the concert largely attended. The time and place will be announced in due season.

DEATH WARRANT ISSUED.—The death warrant of Andrew McKinley, convicted of the murder of Thomas Shanahan, at Danville, in May last, has been issued by the Governor. He is to be executed on Friday the first of February next. When the warrant was read to him he received the news with apparent composure. The Danville papers say the unfortunate man seems to be reconciled to his fate.

HARRISBURG AND LANCASTER RAILROAD.—A meeting of the stockholders of this company will be held in Philadelphia on the 27th inst., for the purpose of accepting or rejecting a contract for a more permanent lease of their road to the Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company. We learn that the latter Company have secured stock enough in the Harrisburg and Lancaster road to control its operations, so that the entire management of that road is likely to pass into their hands.

ATMOSPHERIC POISON.—People have often said that no difference can be detected in the analysis of pure and impure air. This is one of the vulgar errors difficult to dislodge from the public brain. The fact is, that the condensed air of a crowded room gives a deposit which, if allowed to remain for a few days, forms a thick glutinous mass, having a strong odor of animal matter. If examined by the microscope, it is seen to undergo a remarkable change. First of all it is converted into a vegetable growth, and this is followed by the production of multitudes of animalcules—a decisive proof that it must contain organic matter, otherwise it could nourish organic beings.

DON'T TAKE THEM.—The notes of the following Pennsylvania Banks are quoted no sale in Philadelphia. They have all gone under in the financial crisis which is now sweeping over the country: Bank of Commerce, Erie. Bank of Crawford, Meadville. Bank of Lawrence Co., New Castle. Bank of New Castle. Erie City Bank, Erie. McKean Co. Bank, Smethport. Monaca Valley Bank, McKeesport. North Western Bank, Warren. Tioga County Bank, Tioga. The Corn Exchange Bank, Philadelphia, gives notice that the notes of the Shamokin Bank will no longer be redeemed at its counter.

JEWISH FESTIVAL.—The Feast of Lights, or the Days of Dedication, commenced on Saturday night, and will last for eight days. The origin of this Feast is as follows: In the time of the Temple, there was a period when a heathen King, by the name of Antiochus of Syria, had nearly abolished the observance of the Jewish religion, through the great cruelties he committed in Palestine, over which he had dominion. At length the Jews, led on by the valiant Judas Maccabeus, drove out the Syrians, and again in consecrating the Temple they instituted a Festival called "Hanukah, or the Consecration," and ordered that for all future periods lamps should be lighted in all the synagogues and houses, commencing from the evening of the 24th day of the ninth month (of Kislev) as an everlasting memorial of the mercy of the Lord, displayed in delivering his people and his religion from the power of the oppressor.

DOWN ON THE BORERS.—We are glad to see the newspapers throughout the State making war upon the "borers" who infest this city every winter during the sessions of the Legislature. Their name is legion; and a more corrupt, unprincipled and mercenary class of men never desecrated any city with their presence. A rural cotemporary very accurately describes them as the men who, with bribes, persuasion, and blandishments, seduce the representatives of the people to grant private or corporate privileges destructive to the common welfare of the State. Indeed, the chief business of the "borer" at Harrisburg is jobbing or concocting schemes to transfer, under some special pretext, the money of the people from the pockets of its rightful owners to those of the speculating jobber. We have often wondered why some united action is not taken by the people to crush this evil. These men are known here—and their business is as well understood as if advertised in the newspapers. Why should they not be restrained? Why should they not be as amenable to penal law as any other dangerous and pestilent characters? It is to be hoped that the members of the incoming Legislature, for their own credit and the good of the people, will adopt measures to crush out the present disreputable system of "lobby legislation," and drive the infamous mercenary, known as "borers," from their respective halls. We intend to watch the operations of these fellows, this winter, and give accurate pen-portraits of them, so that the people may know who and what they are. They will find "A chain among them is an enemy; An' loath he'll print 'em."

CONSUMPTION.—Why is South Carolina like a little boy in distress in one of our public schools? Because she "wants to go out."

VINE STREET CHURCH.—There will be preaching in this church every evening during the present week, by Rev. Mr. Carson, the pastor.

THE FUNERAL OF MR. ISAAC G. M'KINLEY, whose death we announced yesterday, will take place at ten o'clock to-morrow morning from his late residence in Market street. The friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend.

SUSPENDED.—Operations have been temporarily suspended on the South Street Sewer, owing to a scarcity of brick. From present indications it is doubtful whether the present contractor will be able to complete the work this winter.

FEAST OF THE "IMMACULATE CONCEPTION."—Last Sunday was the feast of the "Immaculate Conception," and as such was duly celebrated by the Catholics of this city. As this feast is one of interest, especially to American Catholics, no pains are spared to render its ceremonies effective; and foremost in the work stands the Jesuit priests of America.

PENNSYLVANIA OIL BUSINESS.—The underground oil business of Pennsylvania is getting to be a business of such magnitude that several old whitemen from New Bedford are said to have struck their harpoons into it, as not requiring so long voyages nor so great risks, and yet furnishing a much more sure catch than the whaling business. It is believed to be real and permanent, and men of capital are investing in it quite extensively.

MILITARY.—Several prominent military gentlemen of Allegheny county held a meeting the other day to consider the present dilapidated condition of the military of this State, and they adopted a resolution inviting the co-operation of all the military throughout the Commonwealth in such measures as will secure legislation necessary for the improvement of the system. We have no doubt the resolution will meet with a cordial response. We would suggest the propriety of a military convention at Harrisburg during the session of the Legislature.

BEFORE THE MAYOR.—The only vagrant before the Mayor this morning was a tramp named George Murphy, out of money and in search of employment. Tavern keepers, as a general thing, are not a very tender-hearted class of men, and do not often entertain people who cannot afford to pay. George was therefore obliged to seek the shelter of the lock-up, or "stay out in the cold," and he wisely chose the former. After hearing his story this morning the Mayor gave the unfortunate wanderer some directions about obtaining work in the city, and then discharged him.

SUSPICIOUS CHARACTERS.—Three young Germans, supposed to belong to the gang of burglars recently spotted in Philadelphia, arrived here yesterday. Some persons who saw them, and had previously read the reports in the Philadelphia papers, think they answer the descriptions given. The Chief of Police was in search of the fellows to-day, and visited a number of German lager beer shops, but failed to find them. The probability is, that if any of the gang came here yesterday, they either left again last night, or are securely concealed somewhere in the city.

POPULATION OF DAUPHIN COUNTY.—In 1850 the population of this county was thirty-five thousand seven hundred and fifty-four. According to the late census returns it is now forty-eight thousand six hundred and forty, showing an increase in ten years of twelve thousand eight hundred and eighty-six. During the same period there has been an increase in the number of dwelling houses in the county of two thousand one hundred and ninety-three, the whole number at present being eight thousand two hundred and twenty-six. There are so many inaccuracies in the census returns, however, as to render them unreliable.

A STEAM FIRE ENGINES TRIAL took place in Erie a few days ago, where arrangements have been made to procure one. In five minutes from the time fire was communicated to the fuel, she commenced pumping and throwing water, with forty pounds of steam, and a one and a quarter inch steam was thrown over a three story building, through nine hundred feet of hose. Two streams were thrown through one and a quarter inch nozzles with great power and to a remarkable height, showing the most complete adaptation of the machine to the work. The steam engines have become popular wherever introduced, and it is hoped that property holders in our city will promptly and liberally aid the members of the Friendship Fire Company in their efforts to procure one of these machines. Should a conflagration occur during the winter in the western section of our city, or on Fair Hill, where there is no water, the necessity for a steam fire engine would be unmistakably demonstrated. By all means let us have a first class steamer, and the sooner the better.

OBSCENE PUBLICATIONS.—The following communication comes to us from a highly respectable citizen. He sends us some specimens of the articles to which exception is taken, which, "with others destroyed," he says, "suggested the propriety of a notice." These articles appeared in the local columns of the Patriot and Union, some of them quite recently, and we fully agree with our correspondent that the paper containing such obscene publications should be carefully excluded from the family circle.

MR. EDITOR.—We are often grieved to be obliged to secrete or burn numbers of our daily papers in consequence of articles contained therein calculated to corrupt the morals of our children. We are often constrained to believe from our personal knowledge of the character of the proprietors of these papers, that they would not permit such articles to appear if they saw them before they were in type, and we cannot get rid of the idea that many of these productions are concocted by their authors while taking a stroll on desecrated ground. Let no corrupt communications proceed out of your mouth, but that which is good to the use of edifying, that it may minister grace unto the hearers.—Ephesians 4:29. "Be not deceived; evil communications corrupt good manners."—1st Corinthians 15:33.

MUSICAL.—New music from all the leading publishing houses arrived immediately after publication. Violins, Guitars, Banjos, Accordions, etc.; all sorts of strings always fresh on hand, at Wm. Knocnis's Music store, 92 Market street.

ALL in want of cheap Christmas and New Year's presents should call at BERONER'S.

A YANKEE GIRL'S ASTONISHMENT.—A young lady from Vermont, teaching in a town in Georgia, writes to her parents thus: "The people here are very much excited over the election of Mr. Lincoln. Yesterday they formed a military company among the young men, and to-day they came out to drill. The most remarkable part of that performance was a Yankee girl was to see each soldier have a negro along to carry his gun."

DON'T FORGET, that the place to get your Christmas presents is at BERONER'S, 51 Market St. See advertisement "Ho, for the Holidays."

A CHURCH ROBBER.—We learn that very recently some sacrilegious scamp forced an entrance into the Methodist church at Halifax, in this county, and stole the marble slab off the communion table. Thus far the thief has escaped detection.

NIGHT CAPS.—If there be a thirteenth labor of Hercules, it consists in putting a child to bed. If there be a fourteenth, it is the child's resolution to go to bed. And not having lived over a hundred years since we were a child ourselves, we venture to affirm that the fourteenth is harder than the thirteenth by several degrees. We remember how we pleaded for ten minutes more—how we turned conversation into lively and mirthful channels, endeavoring to divert the venerable minds of our progenitors so that they might not look at their inexorable watches—how, when the nurse-maid was left alone with us, we surreptitiously turned back the hands of the clock precisely one hour, climbing upon the mantel-piece for that purpose to the eminent hazard of our cervical vertebrae—and also, how that clock, attempting a base imitation of General George Washington, said "I cannot tell a lie!" and struck eight at the customary dreadful hour, though the hands pointed at seven. Mr. Benjamin Franklin! we call on you to do the generous thing, and confess manfully that though you did say "early to bed" in your later years, you invariably kicked like a Trojan when that thing was tried on you in your earlier ones. Anybody, therefore, who renders the dreadful emergency known as going to bed something to be met by youth with fortitude, if not with ecstasy, has conferred a blessing on the whole human family. This universal benediction has been granted to the race by the magnificent ingenuity of the present age. This munificence and ingenuity has taken human form in the person of Mrs. Fanny Barrows. She has made going to bed easy. She has robbed of his sting the King of Terror's brother, sleep. She has smoothed the gloomy passage down to temporary extinction in such a way, that it is now difficult not to go to bed. This great achievement has been attained by the invention known as "Aunt Fanny's Night Caps." They are not the old ribbed cotton variety, with an extinguisher top and tassel like Harlequin's. They are not that delicate variety, wittily shaped of muslin—edged with point d'Angleterre—so fascinatingly coy in their tout ensemble that no man could remain a bachelor ten minutes if by any conceivable means he could be supposed to see one of them on. Nor are they that allegorical night cap—adopted only by elderly and vicious persons—whose manufacture is not of the needle but the spoon—whose texture is so spirit-ously arial that it affords no defence whatever to what Mr. Heenan would call "a quack in the head."

They are the stories with which Aunt Fanny used to reward her own family for the heroic self-denial of going to bed. She sat with this family on and around her knees, spinning them yarns of magic delight—until the only wonder to us is how the youth who heard such yarns could ever shut their eyes at all. We take them up at present—and never wink till we come to the finish. They are the most delightful blending of childhood's dearest improbabilities with the facts of common household life. They are fit companions for the most charming literature of our lives. They are the connecting link between that glorious Mother Goose in whose nurture we were brought up—and that Robinson Crusoe of blessed memory whose shaggy arms received us coming from her downy breast. The Night Caps are five—for the present. They will soon have to be many more.

We believe there is room among the beloved little children for everything of this kind which Aunt Fanny may manufacture—were her pen as prolific as her needle—which we believe ought to make at least one of the literary articles for every day in the year. These books are entitled as follows: "Night Caps;" "Baby Night Caps;" "Little Night Caps;" "Big Night Caps;" "Fairy Night Caps." As a final addition comes the New Book of Fairy Stories—which is a night cap of the most bewitching variety. In other words a perfect success. As the hallowed blessedness of Christmas draws nigh, let every good father and mother drop a hint in the presence of Santa Claus on the subject of these child-rejoicing stories. If that worthy benefactor of life's most pleasurable period has not sored by contact with this hard business world since we knew him—next Christmas morning will see several thousand baby socks dancing for bliss—with a package of Aunt Fanny's Night-Caps in each toe. They may be obtained at the bookstore of Mr. Bergner, and we advise all parents to invest in the "Night Caps" before the supply is exhausted.

W. A. BATCHELOR'S HAIR DYE. THIS SPLENDID HAIR DYE has no instantaneous effect—beautiful Black or Natural Brown—no staining the skin or injuring the Hair—removes the absurd and ill effect of Bad Dyes, and invigorates the Hair for life. PROF. WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—This Restorative for making the hair grow, stopping its falling out, and restoring gray hair to its original color, is beyond all praise. It has cured thousands who were giving way before it. Three fourths of the mixtures for restoring and beautifying the hair, do it more injury than good. They burn it up—destroy the life of its roots—make the hair fall out, and produce premature baldness. But Prof. Wood's Restorative may be relied upon as containing nothing which can in any manner be injurious to the hair, while its success in accomplishing what it professes to do has been verified in hundreds of cases. We advise gray heads, and heads getting bald—all who wish to save their hair or obtain a new stock, to get a bottle of Wood's Restorative. N. Y. Democrat. Sold by all Druggists.

MOTHERS, READ THIS.—The following is an extract from a letter written by the pastor of a Baptist church in the State of Ohio, and is a glowing testimonial in favor of the world-renowned medicine—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children's Teething.
