

Daily Telegraph.

HARRISBURG, PA.

Monday Afternoon, December 17, 1860.

SEE advertisement "Ho, for the Holidays."

THE WATER PLUGS.—Have the water plugs been secured for the winter? If not, the proper committee should attend to the matter.

THE PRAYER MEETING will be held in the Presbyterian church, corner of Market Square, to-morrow afternoon, commencing at four o'clock, as usual.

THE LOCK UP has been tenanted for two successive nights—a very unusual occurrence.—We may, however, look for a fresh swarm of "vags" during the present week. The old class of "revolvers" who have formerly patronized the lock-up did not like the accommodations this cold weather, and now patronize the county prison, procuring "free passes" into that institution from the committing Magistrates. Not a few of them have become permanent borders in the poor house.

THE REVIVAL MEETING in the Vine Street Methodist church, commenced several days ago, continues in successful progress. Last night the spacious room was crowded to its utmost capacity, and many persons were obliged to stand in the aisles and vestibule, and others to return home, failing to obtain admission.—The altar was crowded with penitents, and a commendable degree of religious interest and zeal seemed to be manifested by the members of the congregation. The meeting will be continued throughout the present week, and no doubt great good will be done in the name of the Lord. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Carson, has thus far been very successful in his ministrations, the membership of the congregation having largely increased during the past year.

BOLD BURGLARIES.—On Friday night some burglars effected an entrance into the house of Mrs. Eckert, in Locust street, and passed through various rooms, examining closets and drawers, but failed to find any valuable plunder. A number of table spoons were taken from a drawer and broken. The burglars, finding the spoons to be pewter, left them lying on the table. The nocturnal intruders deliberately helped themselves to liberal supplies of bread and cold meat, and other eatables; and from appearances next morning they must have enjoyed a jolly banquet. A tallow candle, used by the burglars, was left lighted on a table, and burned to the socket, fortunately without doing any damage. Nearly all the doors in the house were found open in the morning, showing that the fellows had visited most of the rooms, some of them occupied by boarders, who must have slept very soundly.—The burglars, encouraged by past successes, are growing bolder in their operations, and it becomes our citizens to carefully secure their dwellings and places of business.

THE CHRISTMAS FESTIVAL.—We are now within one week of Christmas, and the little folks are jubilant in anticipation of the "good time coming." Theirs is a joy to be envied indeed. Well do we remember when a light-hearted careless boy, before life had put on its realities, how we gave vent to the exuberance of our spirits in the exclamation—"Only one week to Christmas!" And we remember, too, with what anxiety we retired to bed the night before to dream of good St. Nicholas, and to awake in the morning happier in the possession of a pocketful of cakes, than the man who counts his dollars by the million, or who owns the soil as far as his vision extends. This is the happy era in human life—this time once passed never comes again. Every one can stop and be benefited by going back in reverie to that munny morning in life, and with the noisy whirl of business barred from his mind, live over one Christmas season as it was in childhood. It is like sitting under the willows on a sultry day. It refreshes the heart with a wondrous elixir, and opens up with the key of memory the warm and beautiful but dimly lighted chambers of a past and better existence. Welcome, then, the happy holidays. Exult and be cheerful with the little ones, and indulge the cheer that takes you back along the vista of almost forgotten years, and makes you realize and enjoy the festive Christmas season even as it is enjoyed by them.

UNION MEETING.—In accordance with the notice given in the TELEGRAPH, a number of gentlemen assembled in the Court House on Saturday evening last. Mr. Geo. S. Kemble nominated Hon. J. C. KUNKLE for Chairman, which was agreed to. Mr. K. took his seat and opened the meeting by reading the published call, at the same time remarking that he understood it to be a preliminary meeting, and that committees would be appointed to devise ways and means and consult about the present state of affairs. He was not prepared to express any opinion himself.

Capt. CLARK moved the appointment of the following committee, viz: John C. Kunkle, James W. Weir, John H. Briggs, John E. Brant, H. Murray Graydon, Philip Dougherty, John J. Pearson, R. J. Haldeman, Thomas J. Jordan, Wm. H. Miller, David Fleming, Daniel D. Bosc, Herman Alricks, John Roberts, Wm. M. Kerr, Wm. Colder, Jr., Dr. George Bailey, John Wallower, Jr., Henry B. McCormick, Dr. E. W. Roberts, Valentine Hummel, Sr., D. A. Kepner, John L. Speel, D. W. Gross, R. A. Lamberton, William Dock, William Buehler, J. J. Greenawalt, J. Brisen Boyd, George W. Porter, Wells Coverly, Gen. A. L. Rounfort, Frederick Tracy. Which was agreed to.

Mr. GRAYDON moved that "when this meeting adjourns it will adjourn to meet again next Thursday evening." The President put the motion, and several voted yes, whilst others voted no. The President, however, declared it carried, which was no doubt correct.

ASSAULTING AN ALDERMAN.—A man named Samuel Deffenbach is now in prison awaiting a trial for assault and battery on Alderman Pifer. He is suspected of being one of the gang who stole the meat, lard, and other articles from Mr. Stephenson's butcher shop; and the fellow would have been arrested on that charge had not officer Fleck previously imprisoned him.

THE TAX PAYERS of the first and second wards are referred to the advertisement of Mr. Zimmerman, collector, in another column.—Those who wish to save five per cent should pay up within the time designated. In the present dilapidated condition of our public finances, duty as well as policy should prompt all good citizens to pay the taxes now due, and thus aid Council in retrieving and maintaining the credit of the city.

A BEAUTIFUL WINTER DAY.—This has been one of those bright, clear, soft Southern days that we seldom experience in this latitude at this season of the year. The brilliant sunlight danced and sparkled with all the joyousness of merry Spring—the sky looked serenely blue, with all the deep azure of Summer. The whole day, in this grim month of December, was like the scene of Hope with happy and resplendent countenance intruding upon the dark and lowering presence of her unattractive sisters—Despair and Despondency. May we be blessed with many such pleasant days during the Winter months.

A BAD SHAKING.—Some odd genius, with no fear of the extravagant before his eyes, got up the following picture of ague shaking:—
He took the ague badly,
And shook him sorely;
Shook his boots off and his toe-nails,
Shook his teeth out and his hair off;
Shook his coat all into tatters,
And his shirt all into ribbons;
Shook his coatless, hairless, toothless,
Mind boots and mind toe-nails;
Shook him till he reached his death-bed;
Shook him till he shuffled off his mortal coil, and then it
Having made him cold as could be,
Shook the earth still down upon him;
And he lies there in his grave,
Ever shaking, shaking, shaking!

ANOTHER ROBBERY.—On Sunday morning between four and five o'clock, some fellow forced an entrance into the house of Henry Snyder, a lager beer seller, on Third street, and stole a watch and chain, and about $1.25 in silver change, from the money drawer. He then proceeded to the sleeping room of Mr. and Mrs. Snyder, where his movements awoke them; and finding that he was discovered the burglar beat a rapid retreat, effecting his escape. Mr. Snyder had the sum of fifty-two dollars concealed in this room of which fact the burglar, who seemed to be thoroughly familiar with the premises, was no doubt aware. Suspicion attaches to a German of this city who regularly frequented Snyder's beer shop, but no arrest has yet been made.

ARRESTED ON SUSPICION.—One Jacob Goff, who resides at the corner of Second and North streets, was arrested last Saturday evening, on suspicion of having participated in the stealing of a fresh-slaughtered hog, belonging to Mr. Eitla, from the butcher shop of Mr. Paul Stephenson. A can containing fifty or sixty pounds of lard, together with some beef and other articles, were taken at the same time; and the lard can being found in the house of Goff, excited suspicion against him, and led to his arrest and imprisonment. He will have a hearing before Alderman Maglauchlin this afternoon. Some of Goff's "chums" are suspected, and a hearing of the case may lead to developments implicating one or more of them.

RIGHT FOR OWER.—The usually unreasonable old dame, "Fashion," has for once, since her reign began, inaugurated a good movement. We refer to the introduction among the female portion of community, of those life-preservers and disease-preventives, worth more than all the patent nostrums of the land, viz: Balmoral skirts and thick-soled boots. It is true, there have been a few ladies sensible enough to wear the latter for some time, but not until recently have they become really fashionable. This is a revolution of the understanding in more ways than one. It is evident that woman is taking a higher stand in society—that she will, sometimes, exercise good judgment. For comfort and for beauty, let us have the high-heeled, high-ankled, thick-soled boot, which dashes so courageously through mud and slush—and the gay Balmoral, so jaunty and so sensible. A column might be written on this subject, but since "Fashion" has ordained that the good change shall take place, it is enough—the work is accomplished.

NATIONAL FAST DAY.—In response to "numerous appeals by pious and patriotic associations and citizens, and in view of the present distracted and dangerous condition of the country," the President recommends that Friday the fourth day of January be set apart "as a day for humiliation, fasting and prayer throughout the Union," and that the people assemble on that day, according to their several forms of worship, to keep it as a solemn fast, and "with deep contrition and penitence sorrow, unite in humbling ourselves before the Most High, in confessing our individual and national sins, and in acknowledging the justice of our punishment;" and also to implore Divine aid in preserving the Union and saving us from the horrors of civil war. We have no doubt the Presidential recommendation will be generally complied with by our citizens. The prayers of truly righteous men will avail much in the present emergency; but we are of the opinion that had President Buchanan, at the right time, exhibited a proper degree of firmness, and taken decisive steps to crush out the disunion traitors, the troubles which agitate the country, and the dangers which threaten to revolutionize and overthrow this confederation, would not now exist. Prayer is all right, for genuine piety exalteth a nation; but a little "back-bone" in our rulers is also essential, when treason is boldly preached within their hearing on the floor of Congress. The imbecile old occupant of the Presidential chair has proved unworthy of the trust reposed in him by the people—a coward at heart, and the abettor of disunionism and treason. He will shortly retire to obscurity loaded with infamy, and with the curses of a betrayed and ignorant people ringing in his ears.

A STATED MEETING of the State Capital Guard Club will be held at their Wigwam in Eby's building (this Monday) evening, at 7 o'clock. Punctual attendance is desired.

AMUSEMENTS IN PROSPECT.—There will be no lack of amusements in this city during the holiday season. On Saturday evening next the members of the State Capital Band, assisted by distinguished pianists and violinists, will give a concert at Brant's Hall. On Christmas evening there will be a grand concert of sacred music by the Roman Catholic congregation in their Church on Front street; and on the same evening a grand social soiree comes off at the hall of the Leidekrantz Singing Society. Two or three select dancing parties will also take place during the week. On New Year's Eve the annual ball of the Friendship Fire Company comes off in Brant's Hall, and this will be among the largest and most recherche parties of the season. Upon the whole we may look for lively times during the holiday season, now near at hand.

ECONOMY IN THE FAMILY.—Somebody says, and we endorse the sentiment, that an economical woman at the head of a family is the very best savings bank that can be established—one that receives deposits daily and hourly, with no costly machinery to manage it. The idea of saving is a pleasant one, and if the women would imbibe it at once, they would cultivate and adhere to it; and thus, when they were not aware of it, would be laying the foundation for a competent security in a stormy time, and shelter on a rainy day. The woman who sees to her own house, has a large field to save in, and the best way to make her comprehend it, is for her to keep an account of current expenses. Probably not one wife in ten has an idea how much are the expenditures of herself or family. Where from one to two thousand dollars are expended annually, there is a chance to save something, if the attempt is only made. Let the housewife take the idea, act upon it, and strive over it, and she will save many dollars, perhaps hundreds, where before she thought it impossible. This is a duty, not a prompting of avarice—a moral obligation that rests upon the women as well as the men; but it is a duty, we are sorry to say, that is cultivated very little, even among those who preach the most, and regard themselves as examples in most matters. "Teach the women to save," is a good enough maxim to be inserted in the next edition of "Poor Richard's Almanac."

We deem it a duty to let our readers know, now that the season is at hand in which an unusual quantity of confectionery is consumed, that the place where it may be had in its purity and richness is at KELLER'S Drug and Fancy Store, No. 91 Market street.

SANTA CLAUS' HEAD-QUARTERS.
FELIX'S MARKET SQUARE.

I thought it was dreamy. Quite wild with surprise for an instant I closed both my mouth and my eyes! The former, just as I was speaking the words, I might break. The latter to prove I was really awake. Above me, beside me, before me, around me, I saw the smiling faces of all that had been rescued from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it cures the blood. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or delinquency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, of the blood and nervous system, and must have been cured by the use of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and it c