CONCENTRATED LEAVEN.

FOR MAKING Bread, Tea-Cakes, all kinds of Pastry, &c.

MANUFACTURED BY EDW. CHAMBERLIN & CO., Proprietors of Shawmut Chemical Works.

No. 33 INDIA STREET, BOSTON.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN is the re-CONCENTRATED LEAVEN is the result of careful chemical research. All its ingrediouts are prepared in the highest state of purity, and compoundity, and in much less time, than by any other process; and by the manufacturers submit it, with entire confidence, to the judgment; of discriminating boasekeepers, bakers, &c.

Bread of all kings made by using Concentrated Leaven is lighter, more digestible and unitritious; has an agreeable, natural taste; is less liable to sour; will retain its moisture longer than by any other process, and the whole preparation for the oven need to exceed ten intuites.

It is valuable hearned it is not perichable, and may be whole preparation for the oven need tot exceed ten minutes.

It is valuable because it is not perishable, and may be rendered available in places and at times when yeast is not within reach, as at sea. In all climates and under all circumstances, it may be adopted, thus obviating all officially of precuring yeast or other ferme t, which is frequently of an inferior quality, re dering the bread more of leasunwholesome.

It is also valuable as regards economy, as it has been acceptained that a saving is effected in the flour of not less than 16 per cent. In the common process much of the saccharine of the flour is lost by being converted into carbonic acid gas, or spirit, and the waste is incurred solely for the purpose of generating gas to raise the dough. By using Concentrated Leaven this waste is avoided, and the gas obtained in a manner equally efficacious. Fermentation, as has been stated, destroys a part of the flour or meal, and, in consequence, a barrel of flour weighing 190 flow; which, by the dominon method, ordinarily makes about 250 fbs of bread, gives by this process 200 fbs , thus effecting the very important saving of 16 per cent. in the quantity of flour. By conformity to the directions on each package, any person capable of erdhary attaition may conduct the process; and the result will invariably be highly satisfactory.

CERTIFICATE FROM DR. HAYES,

certificate from DR. HAYES,

Assayer to the State of Massachusetts.

"I have analysed the Concentrated Leaven, manufactured by Messrs. Edw Chamberlin & Co., with reference to its purity sate efficiency of action in producing the effect of yeast in distending dough, and thereby rendering it fit for making bread. This article is skillfully compounded, from perfectly pure material. It raises the dough without consuming the sugar or any other principle in the flour, perfectly; and the same weight et flour will produce more sweet, palatable bread than can be obtained through yeast; while for eakes and pastry it is invaluable, as it saves all risk, and much time of the pastry cook.

"The experiments made by me confirm the statements made by the manufacturers, and proves this compound worthy of public approval and extended use.

"Respectfully,"

"A. A. HAYER, M. D., State Arsayer,

"16 Boylston street, Boston, September 25, 1860."

DIRE OTIONS.

DR. JOHNSTON.

DR. Johnson member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, graduate from one of the mest eminent Colleges of the United states, and the greatest part of whose life has been spent in the Hoppitals of London, Taris, Philadelphia and elsewhere, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known. Many troubled with ringing in the ears and head when asleep, great nervousness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, bashfulness, with frequent blushing, attended sometimes with derangement of mind were cured immediately.

TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE. Dr. J. addresses all those who having injured them-selves by private and improper indulgencies, that secret and solitary habit which roins both body and mind, un-fitting them for either business or society. These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, viz: Weakness of the Back and Limbs, l'ains in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of Muscular, Power, Papitation of the Heart, Dyspepta, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General Debitty, Symptoms of Consumptions in

TO STRANGERS.

The many thousands cured at this Institution within the last twelve years, and the humerous important Surgical operations performed by Dr. J., wincessed by the reporters of the papers, and many other persons, actices of which have appeared again and again before the public, besides his standing as a penileman of character and responsibility, is a sufficient guarantee to the afficied.

DISHASE OF IMPRUDENCE — When the misguided and imprudent votary of pleasure finds he has implied the beside of this parify disease, it too often happeans that an ill-timed sense of shame or dread of discovery deters him from applying to those who, from education and respectability can alone befriend him, delaying till the constitutional symptoms of this horrid disease make their appearance, affecting the head, throat, nose, skin, ac., progressing on with frightful rapidity, till death puts a period to his dreadful suderings by sending him to "mat böurne from whence no traveler returns." It is a melianchy fact this thousands fall victums to this terrible disease, owing to the unstifficiences of ignorant prefenders, who, by the use of that deadly potson, marcury, ruin the constitution and make the residue of his miserable.

Marriages and Deaths to be charged as regular

To JAMES BUCHANAN.

In the name of the citizens of the United In the name of the citizens of the United States, for we know no other citizenship, we call upon you, James Buchanan, Rresident of the United States, to wake up from your worse than traitorous sleep, and exert the whole power of the Federal Government, to save it from the traitors who are openly, and by your connivance, if not by your ald, seeking to overturn it, and plunge the country into civil war. Stretch forth your arm, Sir, seize with your right hand the broad sword of the power once wielded by the immortal Washington and Jackson, in a similar emergency, and, with Jackson, in a similar emergency, and, with the left bearing aloft the stars and stripes in their glorious unity; say to the enemies of the Republic, who have dared to insult the majesty of this People—"Thus far and ne farther."—Appeal to the friends of the Federal Government, as it is, in the midst of the treason, that has thus far forced them to go with the tide, against their will, to rally to the side of the Union in its integrity—tell them in trumpet tones, that 'The Federal Union must and shall be preserved," even if a million of men fall in its defence, and you will instantly calm the waters of discord, and the voices of thousands of true spirits will come up in response to your command, even from the land of the rebels themselves.

Mr. Buchanan, you have been derelict to your solemn duty, long enough. When you penned your Fort Duquesne letter, in which you uttered the base and infamous declaration, that the Republic was on the eve of proving a failure, you gave "aid and comfort to the ene mies" of the Rederal Government. Your whole policy in regard to Kar sas was in contempt of policy in regard to Kar sas was in contempt of popular government—of Democracy itself—and pointed directly to the present state of things. Your abandonment of the Federal forts on the coast of South Carolina, to the mercy of a Charleston mob, and your persistance in that policy, place you in the category of the rebels against the just and lawful authority of the United States, of whose Execution and the coast of the coast of the coast of the category of the rebels against the just and lawful authority of the United States, of whose Execution and the coast of tive power, you are the sworn defender. Your late message dishonestly charged the real question at leave, the execution of the laws of the United States, to the question of making war upon a State, which nobody in the country ever dreamed of. That public document was nothing more nor less than an apology for the treason that now stalks abroad throughout the whole country, with its brazen face, alarming the timid, and disturbing the peace of the na-

You have adopted all the herestes that have grown out of that stupendous heresy, the resolutions of 1798, by which this government was changed from a government of the whole people, to a mere compact between confederated States, liable to be broken at pleasure; and, walking in the traitorous steps of John C. Calhoun, you have undone all that George Washington and Andrew Jackson did to cement the government upon its true foundations. Instead of presenting yourself as the Chief Magustrate of the Republic, in the harbor of Charleston, on the 7th day of last November, with the whole power of the country, and commanding the peace, you have ignobly shrunk from the performance of your facted daty, and allowed your hands to be tied by the traitor Coab and his equally traitorous associates, and to smile upon the efforts of the rebels who refuse to submit to the late peaceful decision of the peo-ple of the United States, under the normal action of our Federal institutions. When General Washington marched a large and imposing force against the Whisky Insur-rectionists of Pennsylvania they disappeared from the face of the earth, like the dew under a summer's morning sun. When treason rear-ed its hideous head in South Carolina, General Jackson suffered no truitors to poison the at-mosphere of his Cabinet by their fetid breath, but awed the treason back into his hated zir by the very front of his presence. Nay, he did more than this. At the very first signs of reistance on the part of the nullifiers, he ordered the army and the navy to be reaworn in their allegiance to the United States, thus nipping in the bud the mad heresy, that a citizen of the United States could owe allegiance to any other government.

Since the above lines were penned, we have read the news that you have driven Gen. Case from your councils, because of his fidelity to the Constitution and the laws, because of his walking in the footsteps of Washington and Jackson, because of his determination to exert, the power of the Rederal Government for its preservation. Mr. Cohb. was in too great haste, in departing from your councils; he share been contentioned by you. James Buchanan, in your disloyality to the Government confided in an evil hour to your ands, by a deceived constituency, even though it was a large minority of the popular vote. The public press announces that you refuse to reinforce Fort Moultrie, for lear of bringing on a collision with the South Carolina rebels against the supreme and lawful authority of the United States. And yet, by not reinforcing that post, you leave the gallant officers in charge of it to the mercy of a Charleston mob. The only consulation in such a crisis; in that they will give a good account of themselves, even though they may be overpowered. If even though they may be overpowered. If you are inadequate to the high discharge of your magisterial duties, which your trembling and vacillating course clearly shows, why do you not resign, and let Mr. Breckinridge, the candidate of the disruptionists, take your place? The country would then be relieved from your timid treason, and be brought face to face with either fidelity to its institutions, or open treachery theretinto. or open treachery thereunto.

or open treachery thereinto.

But there is yot an opportunity for you to escape from the gulf of ignominy into which you are mishing with fearful speed. An election for President and Vice President has taken place according to all the forms of the Constitution and the laws. You have to dear with that fact, and that fact alone.

It is your sworn duty to except the laws in all their, entirely, so far as you can, with the means at your command. Heinforce the fact.

Beinforce the forts, in Charleston harbor, instantly, and let the rein Charleston has the manufacture, and the table sponsibility of collision beautiful stated to the rebels against the authority of the United, States.
