FRENCH CONFECTIONABLES.-A large assortment of Urystalised Candies, suitable for ornament Chritmas trees, has just been received at BANNVART's. They are very fine, and by illuminating a tree at night present a fine sight.

A FULL PRISON. - The county prison is crowdwith convicts, and prisoners awaiting trial- in the procession will render the pageant much some of the cells containing as many as six oc cupants. Every night vagrants, committed by of dilapidated "one horse" military companies, the various Aldermen, are refused admittance. there being no room to accommodate them.

-14. 170 HOLIDAY ENTERTAINMENTS .- Prof. J. H. Anderson, Jr., the "Wizard of the World," designs favoring our citizens with a series of his holiday season, commencing next Monday evening. The young and good looking "Wizard" comes well recommended, and will no doubt be libefally patronized.

exchange paper has some spicy answers to correspondents. Here is a sample :--

Junny-Ministers are not more addicted to dissipation than men of other professions. few of the Kalloch toye take gin toddies and liberties with females, but the great majority of them are as good as lawyers and doctors. If you want a true Christian, marry a printer.

THE BAND CONCERT .--- We hope all citizens who can afford it will purchase tickets for the Concert to be given by the State Capital Band next Saturday evening. They will enjoy a rich musical treat, and at the same time contribute to a worthy object. Of course we all desire that our unrivalled Band should make a creditable appearance on inauguration day, and the design of the Concert is to raise money to procure the beautiful new equipments now ready for delivery. Let us, then, honor the Band with a crowded house on Saturday evening.

THE MARKET, this morning, was largely at. tended by our country friends, and there was an abundant supply of provisions of every kind at fair prices. Judging from the number of turkeys disposed of, there will be many good the square, the dealers in which did a brisk and profitable busines. The market next Sathandsomely decorated. All who wish to "see sights'' should be on hand.

A FORMER HARBISBURGER KILLED .-- A terrible accident occurred in Philadelphia on Monday night, resulting in the death of a young man

A LADY'S FUR TIPPET was found last even ing on Second street between Locust and Wal nut The owner can obtain it at the DAILY TELE-GRAPH office by proving property and paying for this notice.

MASONIO FESTIVAL .- The Masonic fraternity of this city intend celebrating St. John's Day, the anniversary of the birth of their patron saint, by a supper at the Buehler House on the evening of the 27th inst. It will be an occasion of unusual interest to the brethren of the mystic tie; and no doubt the supper served up by Mr. Bolton will add to his already well earned reputation as a successful caterer.

PROPERLY PUNISHED .-- Last night a fellow received severe personal chastisement for insulting a lady on the street. This sort of misdemeanor has become quite common in our city. and the wonder is that more offenders are not summarily dealt with. A man who is so far lost to a sense of decency as to ingult ladies on the street deserves expulsion from society-or rather confinement in a place where respectable people are not ordinarily found.

THE WIDE-AWAKES will be here in large numbers to participate in the ceremonies incident to the inauguration of Governor Curtin; and if the "Logan Guards" do not like such a demonstration by the "oil cloth cape and coal oil party," let them stay at home. The Wide-Awakes elected Governor Curtin, and intend to more imposing and attractive than any number like the "Logan Guards." headed by a corps of "paper Generals" who never set a squadron in to begin the work :---

ANOTHER VICTIM. --- An intelligent young man interesting magical entertainments, during the a native of Susquehanna county in this State. a miller by trade, arrived here last night in a destitue condition, en route for home, having been driven away from Memphis, Tennessee, by a mob. He had been there a few months. following his occupation. Although opposed How to OBTAIN A CHRISTIAN HUSBAND .- An to slavery, he was careful to suppress his sentiments: but the fact of his being a northern man was sufficient cause of offence, and he was obliged to flee from Memphis at night, to avoid mob violence. The Mayor furnished the young man with funds to procure lodgings, and procured a free pass for him over the Northern Central Railway to Sunbury, from which point he expected to be able to make his way home. Every day mon are tarred and feathered, ridden on rails, lynched and cottoned, in some of the Southern cities, simply because they are Northern citizens ! We refer the reader to an article on the opposite page for detailed accounts of some of these infamous outrages. Shall we hear an expression of septiment on this subject at the "Union Meeting" to-morrow night?

MODERN HIRSUTE ADORNMENTS .--- If ever there was needed an "artist in hair" in any community, it is in behalf of the wearers of beards in this our Capital City. We have lately been carefully and curiously scrutinizing the hirsute adornments of our bearded brethren, and have been perplexed and troubled that man with his well directed ingenuity, should so distort dinners served up in our city on Tuesday. We what was originally intended as an ornament. noticed numerous piles of "Christmas trees" in | into an absolute deformity. It is only a few years since the moustache, now so generally seen, was an exceptional accident occurring to urday morning will present a regular cornucopize a masculine upper lip, and folks called the of good things, and some of the stalls will be wearer of them a fop or a dandy, or considered him as one of those foreign importations who had not yet succumbed to the "custom of the Drawers at 50, 62 and 75 cts.; 1,000 pairs of country." But some enterprising young felfows fancied they were becoming -divers young ladies endorsed most flatteringly that modest opinion-and so, behold the mouths hidden by discount will be made, S. Lswr, at Bhoad's named George W. Rupp, son of Prof. A. D. Rupp, their pendant flowingness ! (By-the-by, is not Corner. formerly of this city. In attempting to jump that last sentence slightly Hibernian ? or upon the front platform of a passenger railway can one behold what is hidden ?) Just promenade car, he missed his footing and fell beneath the Market street on a pleasant evening, and notice wheels, which passed over his body, killing slyly the multitude of novel cuts in the whiskhim instantly. The deceased formerly clerked er mode. There comes a youth tenderly nuris the store of Bitner & Co., in this city, and sing an incipient beard as carefully as if it were for some time past has been engaged in the a South American orchid to be trained to blossom in Maine. Next the proud wearer of the an intelligent young man, of good business first success, soft, silky, superfine-and, oh ! so valued! Then the middle aged man with dark whiskers of true mutton-chop cut, who evidently thinks every other sort in horrid taste. Another's are tucked in neatly at the extreme corner of the mouth, looking as if they were false, and held by some mysterious titey were failed, and held by some mysterious arrangement inside. Then the peaked, pointed beard which never fails to give something of style and notability to the wearer and the full, flowing, juxuriant growth in which one sees Moses and Aaron depicted, and which is almost sure to be accompanied by a corresponding baldness of pate, reminding one of the child's baldness of pate, reminding one of the child's innocent remark, that "Mr. So-and-so has put his hair on wrong !" As for the moustache, it ought to be a subject of a serious tew moments study to each man before he assumes it, to consider if his face needs and is improved by it. The mouth displays so much of character. and is the seat of so many emotional traits, that it may sometimes be adopted as a mask, or worn as a veil, placed above an ugly feature. It is one advantage the stern sex have above the poor women, that an unattractive mouth may be shaded, and it is a feature in which the beauty of a woman is most often perilled. We have no manner of patience with men who Mayor this morning, having passed the night are continually coquetting with the fashion of in the lock-up. The first was Charles Rogers, their beards, any more than with those daintyhanded young fellows who pet theirs during Having no money to pay his fine, and the prison the whole two hours of church service-it is being full, he was discharged. They reported themselves as dividuality may be in many things reckoned by boatmen, en route for home, (their craft having one's dress, so may the beard be considered as been frozen up in the "raging canawl,") with- the apparel of the face. To our peals of the hungry vagrants who frequent the brethren we would say, be as careful in the lock-up. Our citizens have no ides of the choice of a mode for your beards as in the seamount of money he pays out of his private lections of a lady-love ; get one that suits you

CHRISTMAS CARES .-- We are indebted to Mr. John O'Dell for a sample of the delicious cakes he is prepared to furnish his customers with for Christmas. All who want good cakes, and other "nick-nacks" for the holid lys, should give John a call at his handsomely decorated

AN UNFORTUNATE YEAR.-The year 1860 has indeed been an unfortunate one. It was ushered in by a startling calamity, and the catalogue of disasters has not diminished in interest up to the present. Accidents, murders, pestilence, wars, famine, shipwrecks and earthquakes have been common since the new year came in. Great men have died, and passed from the earth in such rapid succession that we have almost_ceased to wonder; and now the secession movement is causing a terrible commotion throughout the country.

CADETS OF TEMPERANCE.-We learn that an effort will shortly be made to institute a section of Cadets of Temperance in this city. In view of the vast amount of intemperance prevalent in juvenile circles here, all good citizens, parents especially, should encourage this commendable reform movement. Similar organizations exist in many towns throughout the State, and great good has been accomplished. Let an earnest effort be made "to succor and to save" the youth of this city, many of whom have already entered upon the downward path ed to its utmost capacity at the present time, assist in insugarating him. Something must be done to save our youth from being overwhelmed by the flood-tide of intemperance that is now rolling over the Capital City; and now is the time

CARD OF THANKS .- Our friends and the members of the "Church of God" in the city of Harrisburg will please accept our sincere thanks for the real and practical manifestation of the kindness we received at their hands in a donation visit to our family on the evening of the 29th ult., (Thanksgiving day). The same old purse that bore the precious treasure last year was again well filled with money, and the pantry with flour, meats, butter, cakes, &c. The services (remarks, singing and prayers most appropriate to the occasion) were conducted by Elders McFadden and Newman. Our friends in this city are assured that they have found a place in the centre of our affections, and their memories will be cherished as the fondest recollection of life's history. If the churches generally knew how much they, in acts of this kind, encouraged the hearts and strengthened the hands of God's servants, their pastors, and those dependant upon them for a livelihood, they would visit them in a body at least once a year, in a donation way, bearing into their domestic circles the mark of their friendshipshowing, indeed, their high appreciation of the work of the ministry in their midst.

SLIPPERY .--- AMUSING STREET SCENES .--- A drigzling rain fell to-day, coating the pavements with ice and rendering them smooth as glass. We noticed persons walking along, with their arms in the air, as gingerly as though they expected every minute to break through and make an exploration of the depths beneath, when in fact they were only in fear of having their heels sent in the air and their heads come in sadden and close contact with the icy surface of the paventent? We saw a number of persons embrace their "mother earth" as if they had not seen her for years. Whether they arose from the embrace as refreshed as was Antzeus of old, we cannot say ; but from the contortions on their countenance we rather thought not.
