DONATION VISITS.—We hear it rumored that the members of one or two congregations in this city design paying their respective pastors donation visits on Christmas. May all our preacher-friends be the recipients of "lots" of good things on that blessed occasion.

MAMMOTH PORKERS.—On Monday last Mr. J. B. Early, of Manassasville, in this county, slaughtered two hogs, sixteen months old, which weighed, when dressed, nine hundred and thirty-seven pounds! If anybody can "do better" in the pork line, it will afford us pleasure to make the announcement.

A PROPER PRAYER FOR THESE TIMES.—"Come and see the works of God; he is terrible in his doings towards the children of men. He turned the sea into dry land; they went through the flood on foot; they were rejoiced in him. He ruleth by his power forever; his eyes behold the nations; let not the rebellious exalt themselves."—Psalm 66.

DIPHTHERIA IN HARRISBURG.—This terrible family scourge, which has ravaged other sections of the country for some months past, and desolated hundreds of homes, now prevails in our city to a limited extent. Three or four cases have occurred recently, one of which proved fatal. It is to be hoped that our physicians may be more successful in the treatment of this alarming disease than medical men elsewhere have been. Upon the very first indications of sore throat a physician should be promptly summoned. The disease, once seated, is beyond the control of human skill.

CHRISTMAS AND THE POOR.—In the midst of the festivities incident to the holiday season, let the poor and destitute be kindly remembered. The poor we have always with us, and it is recorded as a Divine saying that, "inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these, ye have done it unto me also." The reward of the charitable is not of this world, but finds its place in the sacred memories of Heaven. In the meantime, however, let us feast upon the good things that are provided by an all-wise Providence for our use, for it is a kind of gratitude to the Giver of all good things to enjoy the fruits of the earth in due season.

A MUSICAL TREAT.—A Concert of Exceior Sacred Music, for the benefit of the St. Lawrence Church on Front street, will be given on Christmas evening; and from the extensive preparations in progress, the lovers of the "divine art" may anticipate an unusually rich treat. The object of the concert is to raise money to aid in liquidating the debt contracted by the congregation in the purchase of the church edifice, and we have no doubt our German Catholic friends will be liberally patronized on the occasion. The entertainment, which is to consist of vocal and instrumental music, will be well worth hearing, and we advise all our citizens to go.

A DANGEROUS NUISANCE.—A terrible nuisance is caused by the juveniles coasting with their sleds upon the pavements. The frequent travel, and the drizzles and freezings, cause the walks to be so slippery, at times, as to render locomotion dangerous, and the sledging only adds to the trouble. Scarcely a day passes during the winter season without somebody getting seriously stunned or hurt by a sudden fall, and the wonder is that some necks are not broken. And the youngsters who make this mischief, go on with their sport as if they enjoyed the fall of pedestrians as much as their sled rides. Seriously, this is a matter worthy the consideration of our city authorities. The little fellows who coast the streets ought to be severely reprimanded, and obliged to seek a more retired locality for indulgence in their winter sports.

WEEK OF PRAYER.—Immediately after the suppression of the awful insurrection in India, the Missionaries of the Presbyterian Board at Louisiana, in that country, proposed that the second week of January, annually, should be observed as a week of prayer for the conversion of the world. The suggestion was last year acted upon quite generally, with great interest and with beneficial results. For the coming year, the following subjects have been suggested, as topics for thought, prayer and exhortation, viz: Sunday, January 6th—The promise of the Holy Spirit. Monday, 7th—An especial blessing on all the services of the week, and the promotion of brotherly kindness among all those who love the Lord Jesus Christ in sincerity. Tuesday, 8th—The attainment of a higher standard of holiness by the children of God. Wednesday, 9th—A large increase of true conversions, especially in the families of the believers. Thursday, 10th—The free circulation of the word of God and a blessing upon Christian literature. Friday, 11th—A large outpouring of the Holy Spirit upon all bishops, pastors, and ruling elders of the churches, upon all seminaries of Christian learning, and upon every Protestant Missionary among Jews or Gentiles, upon the converts of his station, and his field of labor. Saturday, 12th—The speedy overthrow of all false religions, and the full accomplishment of the prayer, "Thy Kingdom Come." Sunday, 13th—Thanksgiving for past revival, and the enforcement of the solemn responsibility resting on every Christian, to spend and be spent in making known the name of Jesus at home and abroad.

We presume these suggestions will be acted upon in this city, and that the pastors of the several congregations will hold a conference and make the necessary arrangements, as has already been done in Carlisle and other neighboring towns.

ARE you in search of an article for a Christmas present? Don't forget KILMER'S Drug and Fancy store, where you will find a splendid assortment of new goods if you call soon. They are disappearing rapidly.

BEFORE THE MAYOR.—Two vagrants, named Michael Horman and Jacob Zimmerman, were before the Mayor this morning. They told the old story of "no employment and no money." They passed an uncomfortable night in the lock-up, rather than stay out in the cold.

THE REVIVAL MEETING in the Vine Street Methodist church continues in successful progress. The nightly meetings are largely attended, and the religious interest seems to increase rather than abate. A number of young persons, of both sexes, profess to have been happily converted during the past week.

PARENTS REMEMBER YOUR CHILDREN by calling on BARNVART and procuring ornaments for their Christmas trees in the shape of crystalized candies, beautifully designed, and gotten up expressly for the season. If you wish to present them with something novel and interesting, now is your time to purchase, and the assortment is full. Call and examine.

THE UNION MEETING re-assembles in the Court room this evening, pursuant to adjournment. We presume it will be participated in by men of all parties. The Democrats, especially, should figure prominently in the demonstration, for the only Disunionists in this section are to be found in the ranks of that wing of the party of which the Patriot and Union is the recognized organ.

ACCIDENTS.—The illipery condition of the pavements last night occasioned a great many feats of "ground and lofty tumbling," some of them decidedly amusing, and others resulting quite seriously. A lady who fell on Second street was injured to such an extent that she had to be assisted home. A little boy's head was cut so badly that a physician had to be summoned to dress the wound. No doubt a number of similar accidents occurred which have not been reported. On such occasions all house-keepers should sprinkle coal ashes on their pavements.

RELIGIOUS CONVENTION.—The pastors of the Old School Presbyterian churches of Pittsburg and Allegheny cities, and Professors in the Western Theological Seminary, have issued a call requesting the ministers and ruling elders of the Presbyterian church in central and western Pennsylvania, northwestern Virginia and the State of Ohio, to convene in the First Presbyterian church, at Pittsburg, on Tuesday, the 15th day of January next, to pray for a revival of God's work. The Rev. Dr. Creigh, of central Pennsylvania, is expected to open the Convention with a sermon, on Tuesday evening. A large attendance of ministers is anticipated.

A REPORTER IN LOOK.—The Pennsylvania State Agricultural Society, at its recent Annual Fair, held at the Wyoming massacre ground, in September last, offered a handsome premium for the best descriptive report of the proceedings. The Committee of Award met yesterday at the Grand House, in Philadelphia, consisting of Messrs. Heister and Haldeman, of Harrisburg, and Engle of the former city. In the language of their report, the publications of John George Alfred Townsend, a member of the corps of Philadelphia, "were marked by a high degree of literary ability and great descriptive power." They accordingly awarded to him a service of silver plate.

AVOID PORKERS.—Not long since a gentleman in a neighboring county bought of a pedler some salve for corns. He applied it, and it caused a sore which continued to spread and cause intense pain until he was relieved by death. This is but one of a thousand warnings against dealing with any of the thousand vagabond swindlers who are allowed to harangue crowds in our towns, and prowl among the farmers, cheating the simple and sometimes imposing upon the very shrewdest. Some of them are doubtless prison birds, and belong to gangs which tell each other where they can pluck the fattest geese by the way of trade, if they never dare go twice to the same place. The right way is to buy all you have to buy of settled merchants, who pay rents, license and clerks, and who can be held responsible if they defraud, and be avoided if they cannot be punished.

OVER-BATING.—The great President Edwards acknowledged that almost every day of his life he had a battle and a defeat; the determination before going to his dinner, that he would not eat beyond measure, and the confession after, that he had exceeded the limits of temperance and moderation. A venerated name, Amos Lawrence, was a greater coward, but a wiser man; for the latter years of his life he did not dare to go to the table, but had sent to his private room only as much as was proper for him. Many a man might add a score of years to his life-time by rigidly pursuing such a practice while at home.—Ex. Paper.

Few persons, perhaps, "over-eat" deliberately. It is generally done in haste, inattention, miscalculation, or inadvertence; but the consequences are the same—that is, an unmixing harm to the whole organization. The injury manifests itself in a great number of ways, according, however, to various laws; these effects lasting from one to a dozen hours, in every variety of intensity, from simple discomfort to actual torture. At first there is general irritability or fretfulness for a short time after meals, eventually extending from one meal to another, until the whole existence is a growl or groan, according to the active or passive nature of the culprit victim, who has not only blotted out his own life, for all humane or noble purposes, but cast a blur and a blight over the existence of all those whose unhappy lot it has been to be placed under the same roof and to be seated at the same table. The failure of the cure of dyspepsia, in countless instances, has arisen from two causes: First, relying too much on medicine; second, making another the rule for himself—when no two persons ever were alike in all conditions—therefore, the same result could never take place in any two cases. In the successful treatment of dyspeptic disease each man must be a rule to himself, adapting everything to his individual needs, tastes, instincts, inclinations, temperament, station and habit of life. Let dyspeptic act upon these suggestions, and the most happy results will speedily follow.

THAT CONCERT.—The Patriot and Union announces that "the Ladies' Union Benevolent Society of this city propose giving a grand vocal and instrumental concert on the evening of the 8th of January," for the benefit of the poor. We are reliably informed that no arrangements have been made by the Society named for such a concert. Other parties did contemplate a select soiree for the purpose mentioned, but the present indications are that the project will be abandoned.

FUNERAL OF A FIREMAN.—The funeral of Mr. W. Rich, a member of the Paxton Hose Company, took place this forenoon, and was attended by his late associates. The remains of the deceased were conveyed to the Railroad depot upon the hose carriage of the company, which was tastefully draped in mourning for that purpose. The bells of the various fire companies were tolled during the march of the funeral cortege to the depot. Arriving there the remains were taken in charge by relatives of the deceased, and conveyed to Lancaster for interment.

STILL AT LARGE.—The preacher-thief Hicks, recently alluded to in our columns, who stole a coat and pocket-book from Mr. Straw, of this city, is still at large. A warrant for him was placed in the hands of one of our constables some days ago, but it has not yet been served. Hicks, who is a kind of perambulating religious exhorter, is now operating among the "heathen" in the rural districts of Lebanon county. Such miserable hypocrites greatly damage the cause of religion, and the church is censurable for not expelling them, and holding them up to public scorn and contempt.

EGG-NOG.—As this is the season when people are apt to indulge in the luxury of egg-nog, we give the following formula for making the genuine article, which is said to be digestible and will not cause head-ache:— "Take the yolk of sixteen eggs and twelve table-spoons full of pulverized loaf sugar, and beat them to the consistency of cream; to this add two-thirds of a nutmeg grated, and beat well together; then mix in a half pint of good brandy or Jamaica rum and two wine-glasses of Madeira wine. Have ready the whites of the eggs beaten to a stiff froth, and beat them into the above described mixture. When this is all done stir in six pints of good rich milk. There is no heat used.

"MAN KILLED."—So common has this heading become of late, that it has lost all the horror it once possessed. People now read it without a shudder, and on looking over the item, if the name of the killed was not an acquaintance, they scarcely read all the particulars, or if they do, they will not remember it longer than they are reading it. We have now to record the instant killing of a man named Meloy, who was run over by an engine at Altoona a few days ago. He was crossing the track, when he observed an engine coming towards him, and in endeavoring to get over quickly he slipped and fell across the rail and the engine ran over his breast, crushing it horribly and almost severing both arms above the elbow.

How to Do It.—We frequently hear the question asked: "What shall be done to arrest the progress of drunkenness and roidylem in our city?" The best plan we can suggest is to crush out all the unlicensed beer and whiskey shops, and reduce the number of those doing a legal business. Then, in connection with the lock-up, give us a chain-gang, and the reform will soon be accomplished. Our main streets need paving badly, and there is no way in which the work can be done with less expense to the city than by means of a chain-gang; while at the same time it would hold up to public scorn the many rowdies, rich and poor, who are constantly annoying community, and who cannot be got rid of by any other means.

COST OF RAISING PORK.—A correspondent of the West Chester Record, writing from Willistown, shows that the cost of raising pork is seven cents per pound, as follows:— On Saturday last, Mr. Jos. B. Showalter slaughtered a porker, sixteen months old, which weighed, when dressed, 672 lbs., heavy dressing; clean dressing, it weighed 542 lbs., there being 30 pounds of feet taken with the dressing, that generally is left in those brag hogs. It was bought from Emmor G. Griffith when a shoat, by Showalter, and fed moderately and kept in a close pen, with a view of ascertaining whether there was any profit in feeding porkers, where all the feed had to be bought. We append below the following statistics: Original cost of shoat $ 5 50 100 lbs. feed " " " 18 50 12 bushels old corn at 70c per bushel " 8 40 4 " " new corn at 60c " " 2 00 Dressing " " " 4 50 Total $40 45

HOTEL IMPROVEMENTS.—The Jones House, one of the largest and handsomest hotels in the State, and an ornament to the Capital City, has been materially improved by Col. Coverly, with a view to the comfortable accommodation of a large number of guests during the session of the Legislature. In all its arrangements, from basement to attic, the Jones House is fully equal to the first class establishments of New York and Philadelphia, and of its enterprising and gentlemanly proprietor we may truly say he "can keep a hotel." The parlors and sitting rooms, as well as the business office, have been elegantly re-papered and magnificently furnished; and the most fastidious cannot take exception to the style in which the sleeping chambers are fitted up with all the modern conveniences. Members of the Legislature, and strangers who design sojourning here during the winter, will find the Jones House a pleasant home, and Col. Coverly a very entertaining, obliging and attentive host.

SANTA CLAUS' HEAD QUARTERS. FELIX'S MARKET SQUARE.

I thought I was dreaming. Quite well with surprise for an instant I closed both my mouth and my eyes. The former, lest speaking the spell might break, the latter to prove I was really awake. Above me, beside me, before me, around, was scattered the semblance of all that's been found remarkable, beautiful, laughable, gay. Since the world was created, 't was down to-day. Each object was fraught with most wonderful grace, and look where I would, naught but beauty I'd face. The child of bewilderment, the child of awe, I noticed a camel hitched fast to a dray, who quietly pulled his burden along. Proceeded a queer but magnificent throng of objects, and amidst them, as they passed, Corvetted knights, and soldiers with guns, Shepherds and staiden, peasants and kings, Women in wooden shoes, ladies with wings, All on a pilgrimage, bound for a shrine, and called—Please guess its name, for their secret's not mine. In a grove in their rear an elephant grazed, While lions and tigers roared in a mad way. At an ox, who declared—the benevolent beast—He was fasting himself for a Christmas feast. Some riders from England, some from Brazil, Barch holding a diamond, or pearl in his bill; Arabian horses, and stately giraffes, A group looking bear, which actually laughs, All from Egypt, and hogs from Japan. A monkey which danced quite as well as a man, American sheep whose musical bass Were accompanied by donkey's more musical brays, All perfectly created, delicate of that grove, And seemed riled by no power stronger than love. A few steps beyond was assembled a group of children dining on rich kitchen noodle, While Japanese Country, the witty young noodle, Regaled them with snatches from old Yankee Doodle. A venerable schoolmaster sat in a corner, His arms crossed, and his eyes fixed on the door, Teaching twenty-four urchins, as they stood, their ah, ay, say, say. The sight did me good. Behind him an arseless coolly revealed His nature of cannon, his lance and shield, But each from its duty had found a release, For the motto that ruled, was "In Union there's peace." The Garibaldi played checkers with kings in disguise, And Blue Beard who killed his inquisitive wives Was giving Paul Pry an account of their lives. Uncle Tom and his Cabin was there in great state, And the old gentleman looked as if he had had a fight with a bear, while falling his eyes Bright as candles, and dresses of anovist white. Looked on with expression of great delight. Swiss cottages, sheep-folds, villages, towns, Were dressed up like houses, old wives and old downs, Lord Chesterfield changed to a smart squire Jack, Winkardsoners who spring at a touch from a sack, And sweetmeats to him the most obstinate colds; The loveliest don't bear for Christmas trees, Immovable puzzles one's patience to leave. My bric-a-brac with a red velvet room, 'T was all I'd say in this wonderful room; At length glancing upward, who did I see But old Santa Claus looking down upon me. The darling old gentleman looks as if he had had a fight with a bear, while falling his eyes Bright as candles, and dresses of anovist white. Looked on with expression of great delight.
