It is valuable because it is not perishable, and may be rendered available in places and at times when yeast is not within reach, as at sea. In all climates and under all circumstances, it may be adopted, thus obviating all oifficuity of precuring yeast or other farme t, which is frequently of an inferior quality, readering the bread more or less unwholesome. It is also valuable as regards economy, as it has been ascertained that a saving is effected in the flour of not less than 16 per cent. In the common process much of the saccharine of the flour is lost by being converted into carboule acid gas, or spirit, and the waste is in-curred solely for the purpose of genorating gas to raise avoided, and the gas obtained in a manner equally effi-cacious. It is an established fact, that all diseases arise from INPURE BLOOD1 The blood is the life! and when any foreign or un-healthy matter gets mixed with it, it is once distributed to every organ of the body. Every nervo feels the poison, and all the vital organs quickly complain. The stomach will not digest the food perfectly. The liver ceases to secrete a sufficiency of bile. The action of the heart is weakened, and so the circulation is feeble. The lungs be come clog ed with the poisonous matter; hence a cough —and all rom a slight impurity of the fountain-head of lile—the Biod I As if you had thrown some earth, for instance, in a pure spring, frem which ran a tiny rivulet-in a few minutes the whole course of the stream be, comes disturbed and discolored. All the passages become obstructed, and unless the obstruc-tion is removed, the lamp of life soon dies out. These pills not only purify the blood, but regenerate all the secretions of the body, they are, therefore, unrivalled as a letter from South Carolina, in the Baltimore American, after speaking of the gorgeous promises of secession oratory, says :

These bright phantoms of a flowery imagina-tion take well with the masses. They burn with zeal, and are ready to rush into extremes. But sometimes - in small circles -- it is suggest-ed, and often it occurs to the minds of sober thinking men, who have nothing to gain from the favor of the people, that after all, disasters and ruin will overtake them in secasion. It is often asked, what is the State to do alone and as sovereign ? How will she maintain her will the money come from to support the Gov-ernment? There will be no tax on importations-direct levies will be made — a poll tax of $25 or $30 will be insufficient for the pur-pose, even if that sum could be collected.— South Carolina is a very rich State, but there is here, as everywhere, a large majority of poorer people, and so heavy a poil tax would gind them to the earth. Oppression would be the result, and ruin, perhaps carnage and bloodshed, would ensue. These are weighty consider-ations and will be regarded. The thinking people will give them consideration.

THE LONDON TIMES contains a long and able editorial upon the election of Lincoln, and the disuction agitation which has followed it. It distribution agriation which has followed it. It thinks that the turbulent feeling in those States may lead to many foolish and suicidal actions, but will at length pass away under the influence of time, and a practical experience of Lincoln's Administration. There is not a word of sympathy for the secessionists, who have counted largely upon aid and comfort from the English. The article is the Trans English. The spirit of the article in the Times, which may be regarded as an index of British opinion, is indicated by the following para-graph, which we quote :

"The Carolin'an and Georgians protest too much. The flame is too violent and too seldom to last long. No doubt, much sedition will be talked, and many acts committed which the Federal Government might be justified in treating as treasonable; but when time has been given for reflection, the Southerners will be reconciled to their fate-which, after all, is no hard one-and common sense will show them the absurdity of refusing to accept a constitu-tional election because it has gone against them and breaking up a great nation through the vain fear that a magistrate of limited powers will do what no despot would be able to effect."

A FROG STORY .- The Hartford Press prints the story about six ladies of Toledo swallowing live frogs daily to cure them of consumption, and follows it up with another :---

A couple of gentlemen from a neighboring town, who were called to watch with a sick person, who had been given over by his physi-cians, and apparently had but a short time to live, after some conversation relative to the improbability of stories of recovery by from inhaling a sick perion's breath, resolved to test it. The first frog placed at the dying man's mouth was as dead as Julius Conar atter only three or four breaths had been drawn; the second lived some time longer and died; the third lived half an hour, and though others were applied, none of them died. The sick person immediately began to mend, and ficully recovered. The parties to the transaction, who tell the story themselves, are highly respectable.

THE NATIONAL INTELLIGENCER calls attention to the fact that neither South Carolina, Alaba its own Constitution. Every officer of South Carolina is required by the Constitution of the State to take the following oath : "I do swear or affirm that I am duly qualified according to the Constitution of this State, to exercise the office to which I have been ap-pointed, and will, to the best of my abilities, discharge the duties thereof, and preserve, pro-tect, and defend the Constitution of this State and of the United States." In the same Constitution it is provided that the Governor shall command the military forces of the State, "except when they shall be called into the service of the United States."
