DISTANES OF IMPRUDENCE—When the misguided and imprudent votary of pleasure finds he has imbibed the seeds of this painful disease, it too often happens that as ill-timed sense of shame or dread of discovery deters him from applying to those who, from education and respectability can alone befriend him, delaying till the constitutional symptems of this horifd disease make their appearance, affecting the head, thous, noes, skin, &c., progressing on with frightful rapidity, till death puls a period to his dreadful sufferings by souling him to "that bourne from whence so traveler returns." BATH, Maine, April 18th, 1859, PROF. O. J. WOOD & Co.:—Gents:—The letter I wrote you in 1856 concerning your valuable Hair kestorative, and which you have published in this city and elsowhere, you in 1600 concerning your vatuation can reconstruct, and which you have published in this city and elsowhere, has given rise to numerous enquiries touching the facts in the case. The enquiries are, first, is it a fact of my habitation and same, as stated in the communication; second, is it true of all therein contained; third, case my hair still continue to be in good order and of natural solor? To all I can and do answer invariably. My hair sill continue to be in good order and of natural solor? To all I can and do answer invariably. My hair is even better than in any stage of my ill. for 46 years past, more soft, thrithy, and better colored; the same is true of my whiskers, and the only caute why it is not generally true, is that the substance is washed off by frequent ablution of the face, when if care were used by wiping the face in close connection with the whiskers, the same result will follow as the hair. I have been in the racejut of a great number of itters from all parts of New Engrand, asking me if my hair still continues to be good; as there is so much fraud in the manufacture again of various compounds as well as this, it has, no New Rogiand, asking me if my hair still continues to begoed; as there is so much fraud in the manufacture agsale of various compounds as well as this, it has, no doubt been basely imitated and been used, not only without any good effect, but to absolute injury. I have not used any of your Restorative of any account for some months, and yet my hair is as good as ever, and hindreds have examined it with surprise, as I am now 61 years old and not a gray hair in my head or on my face; and to prove this fact, I send you a lock of my hair taken off the past week. I received your fac, or of two quart bottles last summer, for which I am very grateful. I gave it to my friends at disereby induced them to try it, many were skeptical until after trial, and then purchased and used it with amversal success. I will ask as a favor, that you send me a test by which I can discover irand in the Restorative, sold by many, I fear, without authority from you. A pure article will insure success, and I believe where good effects do not follow, the failure is caused by the impure article, which curses the loventor of the good. I deem it my duty as heretofore, to keep you apprised of the condinued effect on my hair, as I assure all who enquire of me of my unshaken opinion of its valuable results. I remain, dear sir, yours,

IMPURE BLOOD!

The blood is the life! and when any foreign or unhealthy matter gets mixed with it, it is once distributed to svery organ of the body. Every new feels: the poison and all the vital organs quickly complain. The stomach will not digest the food perfectly. The liver ceases to secrete a sufficiency of bile. The action of the heart is weakened, and so the circulation is feeble. The lungs be come clogged with the poisonous matter; hence a cough and all from a slight impurity of the fountain-head of life—the Blood! As if you had thrown some earth, for instance, in a pure spring, from which ran a tiny rivuleting a few minutes the whole course of the stream be, comes disturbed and discolored. As quickly does impure blood fly to every part; and leave its sling-behind. All the passages become obstructed, and unless the obstruction is removed; the lamp of life goon dies out.

These pills not only purify the blood, but regenerate all the secretions of the body, they are, therefore, unrivalled as a
