HARRISBURG, PA. Tnesday Atternoon, January 22. 1861.

Political Enemies in Office. We call the especial attention of those who have political patronage at their disposal to the following article copied from the Philadelphia Daily News. The same principle advocated in the article below have abundant men, good and true, who do to say that the Government cannot be lished, show the estimation in which Gen. true. carried on if some of the old officers are Cameron is held personally by political not retained. This theory has long since been exploded. New men can easily be in his conservatism, integrity, and comobtained who are willing and anxious to petency for the high position to which learn what others have accomplished be- Mr. Lincolnhas called him: fere them. We say the party in power ought to reward their political adherents, and never forsake old for the sake of making new friends, who are only with them in the sun-shine of victory, and desert them when storm-clouds lower threatening disaster and defeat. The instances are innumerable where mercenary and unprincipled place-hunters, of the kind described, have served a party, for pay, while that party was in the ascendant, and when defeat came abandoned and betrayed those who kept them in office. It has been the fatal mistake of our party-too frequently repeated—to reward political enemies at the sacrifice of the best working men in

> From the Philadelphia Daily News. POLITICAL FIDELITY.

There was a time in the history of the politics of our State and our City when the term which forms the caption of this article was very well understood, and when the man who dared to ignore its sentiment was justly consigned to that oblivion which was merited by his turpitude. It is said that as we grow older we grow more wise. We cannot say if this is always true or not, but it is certain that as some men progress in years they lose that moral sen-sibility which should gevern every person who cares for the good opinion of his fellows.

Union severed, and a free people will be at 67 F. 20 C. The London Daily News announces that the French Government had ofmerely possible that it is necessary that this should be the case, but we confess our inability to understand the reason why it should be so. There is certainly something more involved in a political contest than the mere question Aiken of how much money the successful other purpose than this to subserve it matters People's party, and this for the simple resson volved in a political canvass, one man is as good as another, provided his character be untarnished. And it is therefore that when the candidate of a party is chosen to office, his political friends have a right to demand that the propositions involved in the contest shall be rified in the construction of the department after the election.

The time has, without doubt, arrived, when the question should be understood, and when the people who make nominations and aid in elections, should know whether they are simply working to put money, in somebody's pocket, or to elaborate a principle of Government, on which its safety and perpetuity is to depend. There is scope for very considerable argument on this subject. We shall probably refer to it again in a few days.

GENERAL CAMERON AND LINCOLN'S CABINET. The TELEGRAPH announced, weeks ago, that Gen. Cameron, of Pennsylvania, one of United States Senators, had been semi-officially appointed, to the important position of Secretary of the Treasury, in President Lincoln's Cabinet. In the formation of that Cabinet, we have had neither lot nor part, but but we are free to say, that in the selection of Gen. C., the President elect has made a most judicious selectioncertainly the most conservative statesman in the ranks of the Republican party of our State — and one whose appointment will both strengthen the incoming Administration and harmonize the interests of Pennsylvania. Few public men of our State have more devoted friends than Gen. Cameron, and—politics aside -we know of none more deserving of the personal friendship of his fellow citizens than he, or whose selection, at home or abroad, will reflect equal credit upon the new Administra-

The Purpose of the Secessionists.

There is no doubt that the object of many of the leaders of the Secession movement, is to establish a form of government recognizing classes. South Carolina proposes the Constitution of the United States for a temporary organization only, but evidence crowds upon us every day, that once disunion is effected, and a Southern Confederacy established, the whole form of Government will be changed. Here is one item. A Scotchman residing at Mobile. who strongly sympathizes with the Secession movement, writes as follows to the Liverpool of rates. (England) Post:
