pleased, and having elected a President in a constitutional way, I certainly object to the demand of the seceders and their backers, that we shall now tie his legs so they can handle him! It has been said that the Southerners admire pluck. I believe they respect it also. Hence I believe that a firm, united and determined North, will do more to preserve the Union than all the concessions which can be extorted from all the concessions which can be extorted from our self-interest or our fears. We have conceded too much already. We conceded the repeal of the Missouri Compromise line, and we are now reaping the bitter fruits of that rash, wrong step. Let them restore that line—not ask it of us. Let those rebuild the temple who destroy-oditi. We cannot realism or save the traitors ed it. We cannot reclaim or save the traitors by a repeal which they care nothing about and which they will despise us for making; bu we can save our manhood and self-respect. Let us, by all means, do that. Let us, to our own selves be true, and it must follow, as the night the day, that we cannot then be false to any man," or section of men.

RA TELEGRAPH.

We shall issue an extra edition of the TELEGRAPH to morrow afternoon, containing the speeches of Messrs. DAVIS, Hopius, Leisenning and Williams. Orders for extra copies must be left at the office by 12 o'clock, noon, to morrow.

The President's Cabinet.

We have purposely avoided discussing in our columns the claims of particular idividuals for positions in Mr. Lincoln's Cabinet. We have entertained entire confidence in the ability and sagacity of the President elect to perform that service for himself. And we do not intend now to depart from a course that we regard as essential to peace and harmony in the party. On the other hand we deprecate the policy adopted by the Tribune and some other leading papers, in their attempts to manufacture public sentiment for their special favorites, and against those who are not so agreeable to them. To us, it is very apparent that it is the desire of some of these gentlemen that Pennsylvania shall be unrepresented-of others, that she shall be misrepresented in that Cabinet. Either would be a mistake, the latter much the greater. The one set is struggling for the patronage of the Government—the other is hostile to the peculiar and special interests of our State. For this State, the matter first in importance, in connection with the construction of the incoming Administration, is, that it shall be so made up as to give assurance to our people that the promised and expected efforts in behalf of our languishing industry shall be honestly made and persistently adhered to. To place at man whose antecedents, and whose public position to the universal sentiment of our construction of law shall be maintained. principalities. Augusta. people, would be to falsify every assurance made to the people during the contest, and bring destruction and disorganization on the party in this State. Already we are tsunted, by our opponents, that Pain Killer. It is the acknowledged antidote which so dom fails if applied in its early symptoms. No family our rallying cry of "Protection" was a should be without a bottle of it always on b fraud and a cheat, to deceive and delude The stain on li voters, and that the Chicago Plate

We cannot, we will not, believe this. We know that the President elect is sound and true on this great, vital question, and that he is deeply impressed with its justness and necessity. And we have an abiding confidence that, regardless of all cliques and factions, he will, in justice to this great State, that contributed so largely to his nomination and election, place at the head of the Treasury some wise and cominent statesman, whose life and record will give hope and confidence to our people. Should that be the man of our own choice, so urgently pressed by our people, or some other able, faithful and consistent. Tariff man, we shall be content; with less our people will never be satisfied.

There has been a fear, justified by the earnest manner in which Mr. CRITTEN-DEN has enlarged upon the probability of Disunion, that his Southern feelings would carry him finally with the ultra South, and lead him, in his disappointment at the failure of his cherished plan, to sanction the fatal result which he has endeavored to prevent. But, thank God! there is no such egotism or selfishness in in the heart of the old patriot; no such folly or insanity in the brain of the old statesman.

In the Executive session a few days ago, not speaking out before the country. but in the obscurity of secret session, it leaks out that the gallant Kentuckian, whose plume we have followed in so many a battle, and to whom the whole nature of every Old Whig or American goes out in reverence, is the same sterling patriot, the same true unselfish and wise lover of the whole Union as ever. His voice tremulous with emotion, he recited the position of Kentucky under the Union, prosperous and happy, her institutions protected by friendly States on her northern line; and then solemnly declared that never would she consent to become the border State of a Southern Confederacy, with a hostile people on her North, and her cities and plantations devastated by civil war and servile insurrection. He turned upon those Southern men who, by deserting their posts in Congress, or by actual votes, bad defeated his Compromise and shut the door upon a peaceful settlement, and raised the ancient banner of the Union in their faces, declaring that whatever coercion might be necessary to sustain the Constitution-now that it cannot be amended-and maintain the laws, that coercion he would sanction and support, come

SEVEN STATES REPRESENTED BY PRO MINENT RAILROAD MEN.

Interesting Developments and Encouraging Prospects.

The Crittenden Compromise Approved by the Convention.

Washington, Jan. 28.

The Railroad Convention of the five east and west trunk lines, has adjourned to meet at New York on the 20th of February. A schedule of rates for freights, between all east and west points, was adopted. This restores the figures of the St. Nicholas and Saratoga meetings, with a slight variation regarding passengers. The first and second section of the arrangement is reaffirmed, making the favors uniform, and dispensing with numers. and dispensing with runners.

The fact was developed, in the course of the deliberations, that the freight from the south and south west, with the exception of cottod, has greatly decreased, while the movements of produce from the north west and central west, north of the Ohlo river, is unusually large. All the roads report increased receipts over January, 1860. The income on some of them was very heavy, and as an instance, it was mentioned that the Baltimore and Ohio Rail-road, the most southern of the five great lines, road, the most southern of the five great lines, and the increase of which is less than that of others, shows an enlargement in revenue on eastward freight of $25,000 for the first wenty-two days of the present month over a similar period of last year. A general falling off is reported in the passenger receipts, and westward boind freights. Much of the produce move that the five lines are the first three first lines are the first lines are th ment is for Europe. All the five lines are de-riving increased business from the diversion of any change in the Constitution.

Mr. TRUMBULL presented memorials from the Citizens of Illinois expressing the opinion that a devision of the Territories by the line 36 degress 30 will be a satisfactory settlement of the resent national difficulties.

Mr. King. (N. Y.) presented a petition for the preservation of the Union; also, against any change in the pilot laws.

Mr. Sidell, (La.) asked to take up the reso-lution he had offered in regard to the President's message respecting the appointment of Wm. Holt as acting Secretary of War. He moved that the resolution, together with the message, be referred to the Committee on the Indicary House.-Mr. Colfax (Ind.) called up the Post Route bill, which passed the House at the last session and was returned from the Senate with amendments, which were now considered and nearly all agreed to, including the provis ions for procuring and furnishing one cent stamped wiappers and envelopes, requiring let ters which have been advertised to be returned to the dead letter office within two months, lets ters for the seabord to be retained for a longer period under the Post Office regulations, unclaimed money from the dead letter office to be applied to promote the efficiency of that bureau.

Mr. COLFAX, (Ind.) said that the Committee on Post offices and Post Roads, recommended a non-concurrence in the Senate amendment proposing to limit, the compensation to Railroad companies carrying the mail, to $200 dollars per mile per annum for first cless, service, and $80 for the second class, and $40 for the third class, the speed not to be greater than twenty, seventeen, and twelve miles per hour, for each class.

This would effect a saving to the treasury of $355,000, but the committee think that such a reduction would have the effect of deranging he present system.

Mr. Sherman, (Ohio,) gave his reasons why he hoped that the amendment would be adopted, having a view to economy. Mr. Ввакси, (N. С.,) opposed it. He said the compensation was now inadequate, and a reduction would induce the contractors fuse the contract. There was no power here to control the speed of the cars. After further debate the amendment was re-

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN. FOR MAKING Bread, Tea-Cakes, all kinds of Pastry, &c.

MANUFACTURED BY EDW. CHAMBERLIN & CO., Proprietors of Shawmut Chemical Works.

No. 33 INDIA STREET, Boston. CONCENTRATED LEAVEN is the re-UNIVERSITIES LEAVEN is the re-suit of careful chemical research. Affits ingredi-onts are prepared in the highest state of purity, and com-pounded with a view to produce bread of a far better quality, and in much less time, than by any other pro-cess; and by the manufacturers submit it, with entire confidence, to the judgment of decriminating house-keepers, bakers, &c.

Bread of all kines made by naing Concentrated a re-keepers, bakers, &c.

Bread of all kines made by using Concentrated Leaven is lighter, more digestible and nutritious; has an agreeable, natural tate; is less liable to sour; will retain its moisture longer than by any other process, and the whole preparation for the oven need not exceed tenminates minutes.

It is valuable because it is not perishable, and may be rendered available in places, and at times when yeast is not within reach, as at sea. In all climates and under all circumstances, it may be adopted, thus obviating all difficulty of procuring yeast or other ferms t, which is frequently of an inferior quality, residering the bread more or less unwholesome.

difficulty of procuring yeast or other ferme t, which is frequently of an inferior quality, re dering the bread more or less unwholesome.

It is also valuable as regards economy, as it has been ageratined that a suring is effected in the flour of no less than 16 per cent. In the common process much of the saccharine of the flour is lost by being converted into carbonic acid gas, or spirit, and the waste is incurred solely for the purpose of genorating gas to raise the dough. By using Concentrated Leaven, this waste is avoided, and the gas obtained in a manner equality efficacious. Fermentation, as has been stated, distroys a part of the flour of meal, and, in consequence, a barrel of flour weighing 196 hs, which, by the common method, ordinarily makes about 250 hs of bread, gives by this process 280 hs, thus effecting the very important saving of 16 per cent: in the quantity of flour. By conformity to the directions on each package, any person capable of ordinary attention may conduct the process, and the result will invariably be highly satisfactory.

GERTIFICATE FROM. INE. HAYES, Assayer to the State of Massachustis.

"I have analysed the Concentrated Leaven, manufactured by Messra. Edw Chamberlin & Co., with reforefice to its purity and efficiency of action in producing the effect of yeast in distending dough, and thereby remdering effit for making bread. This article is skillfully comfounded, from perfectly pure material. It raises the dough without consaming the sugar or any other principle in the flour, perfectly; and the same weight ei flour will produce more sweet, palatable bread than can be obtained through yéast; while for cakes and pastry it is invaluable, as cit sayes all risk, and much time of the astry cook. "The experiments made by me confirm the statements made by the manufacturers, and proves this worthy of public approval and extended dae.
