HARRISBURG, PA.

Wednesday Atternoon, February 6, 1861. Speech of the Hon. John W. Kil linger.

We find in the Congressional Globe very able speech delivered by our Con gressman on the present state of the Union, and are really sorry that we are not able to transfer it to our columns at once. The Legislative proceedings have crowded us considerably of late, and delayed a number of articles on hand. We shall, however, attempt to publish it shortly, and then bespeak for it a careful perusal. It is an able document, and fully represents the feelings of his constituents.

We Want Concession.

We want concession remarks the Springfield Journal. We want the Southern States which are clamoring about concession and compromise, to concede that ours is a Government proper, and not a compact between States. We want them to concede that a State cannot dissolve its connection with this Union at will. We want them to concede that this Government has a right to enforce its laws and protect its property, even if it becomes necessary to hang or shoot every traitor in the United States, to do it. We want them to concede that it is the duty of this Government to retake from Southern traitors its stolen forts, arsenals, etc. We want them to concede that ABRAHAM LINCOLN, having been constitutionally elected President of the United States of America, has a right to take his seat without any opposition from any quarter whatever; and that if armed opposition is offered, it is the duty of the Government to put down or overcome such opposition at every hazard. We want the is his duty to observe it. We want them to concede that the seceding States have violated the Constitution-that they are in rebellion against the Federal Government, and that it is the duty of this Government to put down rebellion. We want them to concede that the taking of Feder. for. We ask them to concede that Northern creditors have a right to sue for and collect their demands in Southern courts. We ask them to concede that Slavery is the creature of local law. In all this we do not ask the South to ed by the Constitution of the United have been fired into-the free navigation dressed to Hamilton :of the Mississippi has been interruptedand to-day a large body of traitors lie in though I am—I tell you now, and beforehand, wait to take Fort Pickens. We are in that I will return her, with the blessing of God, to the authorities of that Government which some brave defenders of the American flag—the flag of Washington—have been And I will tell you more than that, that I will first establish the fact that we have a Gov- stripe of it. ernment-a Government able to protect itself and punish treason. We should not talk about compromise while the flag of the traitors floats over an American fort, and the flag of our country trails in the dust. The flag that a Washington and his war-worn, weary soldiery kept flying sily overflow all the country of the lower Missils Velley Forge—the flag that Jasper re-sissippi, and drown out the town and plantaplaced on the walls of Fort Moultries at the cost of his life-the flag that our heroic Revolutionary fathers carried triumphantly through the war for Independence -the flag that is honored the wide-world over, has been torn from American forts, arsenals and navy yards at home-has been trampled under foot by traitors in our own land, on American soil! Until that flag is unfurled over Moultries, and over every other stolen fort, arsenal, custom house and navy yard—until the laws cede that slavery shall go into the Territories by authority of this Government. Before we talk about such a thing, we want it settled that we have a Government. Before compromise of any kind is made or even talked about, on the subject of slavery, we want to see the rightful authority of this Government recognized and respected. Let the stolen forts, arsenals owner—tear down your rattlesnake and Pelician flag, and run up the ever glorious Stars, and Stripes-disperse your traitorous mobs, and let every man return to his duty. Then come to us with your list of grievances, and whatever manhood, honor or patriotism can yield, shall be fully accorded.

THE PALMETTO FLAG. - The first attempt of a vessel to enter a foreign port under the flag of the "Independent Republic of South Carolina" was made at Havana by a brigantine from Charleston. She sailed in past the Moro Castle with her "Palmetto" flying aloft. But immediately, by order of the officer in command of the fortress, she was brought to anchor under its guns, and kept there until the flag of the United States was displayed at her mast-head, when she was permitted to proceed up the harbor.-Palmetto-dom about this outrage upon their flag in a foreign port. FROM THE FEDERAL CAPITAL.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5, 1861. One of the favorite arguments of the dis unionists, in justification of their revolutionary acts, is that secession can be peaceably accomplished. They argue, in clear and lucid terms to their own comprehension, the absolute right of such a proceeding, and then declare its peaceable objects. It is a little strange, howand navy yards be restored to the rightful ever, that John B. Floyd, when Secretary of War, should have taken the precaution to remove as much of the public military stores South as possible, to secure and deposite in localities South an almost inexhaustible supply of powder and ball, cartridge, shell and small shot. While the Free States were quietly pursuing their peaceful projects, engaged in enterprises of industry and improvement, the sworn officers of the Buchanan administration were acting together for the consolidation and security of the plans of treason. Every available point was secured-every piece of warlike machinery transported from the North to the South, while the armory at Springfield, Mass., South, while the armory at Springfield, Mass., that the laws will be enforced to the greatest Stocks, (at present market value,) was almost, if not entirely depleted. All this extent that is practicable, and on a Union basis. Bonds. do. was done to carry out peaceable secession, and even with these supplies in their hands, Southern men talk of the heathenism and unconstitutionality of coersion. From the armory at Springfield alone, 135,430 United States muskwas preparing for the revolution of progress. Five. Springfield armory, by the thievish policy of We wonder what they are going to do in Floyd, furnishes sufficient muskets to arm Alabama and Mississippi. Truly, peaceable coersion, beautifully illustrated. Added to these evidences of a peaceable coersion, the number of forts violently wrested from this Federal Government, swells the list of robbery to an aggregate of startling millions. I append a list of those which have been seized by order of the Governors of the States in which they are located:
