St. VALENTINE'S DAY.—The indications of the near approach of St. Valentine's day may be noticed on the shelves and in the windows of the various book stores, which are stocked with every variety of "pictures" for the occasion, suited to the "lovier" and the beloved -the grave and the gay—the old and the youngthe rich and the poor-and in fact every condition, and age, and sex, of mankind or womankind. The custom of sending valentines, as practised to a great extent in this community, would be much "more honored in the breach than in the observance." Those who do send valentines, however, should make their selections with a view to please rather than mortify and offend. In this matter our advice is, "do unto others as you would that others should do unto you." The members on the twenty-second, with their new plumes, of the Harmonic Society-one of the best muif a sufficient number of them can be procured sical associations in the country—are making arrangements to give a grand vocal and instrumental concert in one of the churches some evening during the present month. To those who have attended the soirces of this society it is unnecessary for us to say that the proposed public concert will be one of the most pleasant entertainments of the kind to which the people of Harrisburg have ever be invited. MEN OF ANGLES.—There is a type of character in every community which some unknown whose bodily movements are awkward, are of an accommodating and of a "giving way" disposition. But mental angularity almost invariably has an angularizing effect on the carriage of the body. Every reader has doubtless suffered, at one time or another, at the hands or, properly speaking, at the elbows of a man of angles. Look out for him when he comes. He takes a manifest pleasure in crowding you into the gutter, although he has plenty of room on the sidewalk. He contrives to carry his umbrella or cane so pointed that it may gouge out the eye of some passer-by. He seems to like the fun of walking upon the dress of every lady he overtakes. He goes out of the way to kick a dog. . In an omnibus he sits sideways, in order to take up twice as much room as he has paid for, and when he wishes to be set down, he announces the fact by pulldaubs displayed in the small shop windows are a desire to drag the unlucky Jehu through the specimens of the coarsest vulgarity, and the aperture. The services of an excellent Band from a distance have been secured for the occasion.

> CHANGE OF LOCATION .- Having occasion to drop in to the store of Mr. M. G. Einstein, No. 10 Market Square, we were pleased to find our clever friend Mr. Erastus J. Jones officiating there as one of the principal clerks. We con gratulate the proprietor-upon having secured the services of so excellent a salesman and reliable a gentleman, and one whose personal popularity in community cannot fail to add largely to the patronage of the store. Those who deal with Mr. Jones once will call again.

The Infernal Machine Affare—Our last issue contained a brief telegraphic dispatch from Pittsburg, relative to adiabolical attempt to murder a whole family in Lawrenceville, Allegheny county, by means of an infernal machine. The Pittsburg papers received to day contain full accounts of the affair, from one of which we copy the following article:

DIABOLICAL ATTEMPT TO MURDER A WHOLE FAMILY — ANOTHER Infernal Machine — On Saturday night, about eleven o'clock, a most deliverate and diabolical attempt was made to destroy the family of Mr. Augustns Hoevler, by means of an infernal machine. Mr. Hoevler resides on the Greensburg pike, near Butter street, Lawrenceville, and is a very worthy and respectable citizen. He retired about the usual hour, on Saturday evening, occupying a room on the first floor, with his wife and three childer. When the inmates had fallen asleep, and all was quiet, the house was approached by some murderous miscreapt, who placed more desired.

The lower sash of box, and when the fire reached the powder a terrific explosion followed. PLUTO TURNED PREACHER.—A STORY OF THE METHODIST GAYETIES.—The readers of the Sun-day press must not infer from the frequency of our expositions of clerical villainy, that we are ever on the alert for delinquent divines. We have manifold duties, and, unhapply for us, there are manifold hypocrites, so that we may sit in the chair of our sanctum and read by the score statements in manuscript from dupe converts. The latest of these we have not the credit of originating. The points thereof are taken from a Harrisburg paper, and some addi-tional facts were furnished us yesterday morning, by a deputation of Methodists from the Northern Libertles. In North Front street, where an oblique avenue intersects with a crooked street or lane, stands a brick church, adjoined on the south side by a lumber yard and a flour mill in the rear. Said church was established about four years ago, and by a congregation from New Market street. It is one of those painfully plain edifices, with a great barn door in front, and a white slab toward the apex, stating the name, date, etc. It is of that modernized Methodist architecture, which sulkily yields up its gauky antiquity to the dehandsome sum of money. On the strength of his success he borrowed many dimes and went into business. Those who loaned him money never saw it returned, and after an equally su cessful preaching career at Herman Hall, the Rev. gentleman left Philadelphia.

SER WHAT OTHERS SAY OF IT.

Distinguished St. Louis Physician Writes O. J. WOOD, Esq.: Dear Sir :— Allow me the pleasure and satisfaction to transmit to you the beneficial effects of your Hair Restorative, after a trial of five years. I commenced using your Restorative in January, 1855, since which time I have not been without a bottle on hand. When I commenced the use, my hair was quite thin, and at least one-third gray. A few applications stopped its turning, and in three weeks: time there was not a gray hair to be noticed, neither has there been up to this time.

stopped its turning, and in three weeks time there was not a gray hair to be noticed, neither has there been up to this time.

After my hair was completely restored, I continued its use by applying two or three times per month. My hair has ever c hilaued healthy, soft and glossy, and my sail perfectly free from dandruff. I do not imagine the fasts above mentioned will be of any particular advantage to yon, or even flatter your vanity at this late day, as I am well aware they are all known already and even more wonderful ones throughout the Union. I have occupied my time in traveling the greater part of the time in past three years, and have taken pride and pleasure in recommending your Restorative, and exhibiting its effects in my, own case. In several instances I have met with people that have pronounced it a humbug; asying they have used it and without effect. In every instance, however, it proved, by probing the matter, that they had not used your article at all, but had used some new article said to be as good as yours, and selling at about half the price. I have noticed two or three articles my self advertised as above, which I have no doubt are humbug. It is astonishing that people will patronize an article of no reputation, when there is one at hand that has been proved beyond a doubt.

Apparently some of those charitans have not brains enough to write an advertisement, as I notice they have copied yours word for word in several instances, merely inserting some other name in place of yours.

I have, within the past avey years, seen and talked with more than two thousand persons that have used your preparation with perfect success—some for haldness gray hair, scald head, dandruff, and every disease the scaip and head are subject to.

I called to see you personality at your original place of business here, but learned you were now living in New York.

You are at liberty to publish this or refer parties to me. Any communication addressed to me, care box No. 1,920, will be promptly answered.

Yours, truly,

WARM SPRINGS, Perry Co., Pa., June 7, 1850.

Prof. WOOD, Dear Str.—I was induced more than a year ago to try your valuable Hair Restorative for the purpose of cleansing my head of dandruff. I had suffered with it upon my head for years, and had never been able to get anything to do me any good in removing it; all though I had tried many preparations, until I saw your advertisement in a Harrisburg paper. Being there at the time, I called at Gross & Kunkle's drug store, and bought a bottle, and now am prepared to recommend it to universal use, for it has completely removedail dandruff from my head, and an application once in two weeks keeps if free from any itshing or other unpleasantness.—I must also state that my hair had become quite white in places, and, by the use of your preparation, has been restored to its original color. I am now 50 years of age, and although I have used two bottles of the Restorative, no one has any knowledge of it, as I allow a few gray hairs to remain in order to have my appearance comport with my age. My head is now of less trouble to me in keeping it clean, &c., than at any time since I have been a child. I consider your preparation of great value, and, although I do not like to expose myself, I consider it my duty to do so. "You can use this or any part of it in any shape you think proper, if it is worth any thing to you.

Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative.—in another coldina will be found an advertisement of this well known and excellent preparation for restoring gray hair to its original color. The Hair Restorative also cures cutaneous eruptions, and prevents the hair falling off. We have seen many authentic testimonials in proof of these assertions some of which are from gentlemen whom we have known for many years as persons of the most reliable character. Don't dye till you have tried this Restorative. Bosion Olive Branca.

Wood's Hair Erstorative.-We are not in the habit of wedd's HAR KISTORATVE.—We are not in the habit of puffing every, new discovery, for in nine cases out of ten they are quack nostrams, but we take great pleasure pracommending Professor Wood's article to all whose hair is falling off or turning gray. Our well known contributor, Finley Johnson, Eiq., has experienced the benefit of its application, and joins with us in speaking of its vitues. Let all try it, and bald heads will be as rare as snow in summer.—Ballimore Pairiot.

Wood's HAIR RESTORATIVE.—Unlike most specifics, this is proved, by unimpeachable evidence, to possess great efficacy as a restorer of the hair to pristine vigor. Where the head had become almost bald because of eickness, the use of this article has produced a beaufuld growth of thick, glossy hair. It is therefore a valuable preparation for all classes. Its ingredients are such as to effectually cradicates dandrulf and other impurities, which operate so injuriously to the hair. It also has curative properties of another description. In many cases plmples and other disfigurements of the skin disappear whenever it is used. There is no hazard attaching to the trial of his remedy, and its effects can only be peneficial, as the compound if it does not cause a mrnifest improvement, is incapable of doing harm, as its component elements are perfectly innocuous.—Botton Transcript, April 22, 1859. A GENUME Boox.—in our capacity as conductor of a public journal, we are called upon to advertise the curalis of the day, each of which claims to be unadulterated in its composition and infallible in its curative effects, with what justice we leave our readers to determine. Is one instance, however—Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative —we are so well assured of the notable qualities of the acticle, that we give it our indorsement as all that its in ventor and vender claim it to be. Its effect upon a falling head of hair is universally known to be magical. Like lime or guano on exhausted land, it brings its crop whatever applied. Our own thatch is fortunately very leading they but we advise our friends with sparsely growing hair to try the Restorative.—Columbia Spy.

All Hair DYES ARANDONLD.—Word's Great Article has Tubin the Field.—Professor Wood stands on an eminance, no obemist, whose attention has been turned to inventing a hair tonic, has ever before reached. His fame is said den but world-wide, and thousands who haye worn wigs or been bald for years are now, through the use of his preparation, wearing their own natural and luxuriant head covering. So much for chemistry, the chemistry of human life, and the laws which apply to the functions of the system. Prof. Wood studied out the human hair, its character, its properties and diseases, and how to restore the decaying vitality to that ornament; he saw, as in his ewn case, that gray hair is unpatural unless the ago of the individual has reached four score, and he believed that the hair could be naturally revitalized. He tried his own case—almost bald and quite gray, at the age of thirty seven—he restored his own hair in color, strength and luxuriance, and the article he did it with he gave to the world.
