Union Sentiment of North Caroli-NA.—A letter from Mr. Gilmer, member pealing for compromise, contains the following striking passages :-

States have no surplus. Common sense ought to teach the people of the free States that the chances are all on their side. They very well and the elections in Virginia and Tennessee are know that if they were to grant all that the slave States request, the laws of climate, soil and productions will settle the question at last; that the result will be precisely the same under any of the theories about which the politicians of the two sections have each other so much by the ears.

Honest Talk About Secession.

In the subjoined expressions of regret at the decree of the Georgia Convention in pronouncing a formal severance of the bond which unites that State with her sisters under the Federal Constitution, we have the evidence of a sentiment only the question of Union or Disunion could be distinctly and directly brought before them. We quote from the Lagrange (Geo.) Reporter of a late date:

"The deed is done! Our rights are—not secured! We have been fifed and drummed—and soled out of the Union. We still love the Union. We love our old Government, because it was established by the strong arms and the blood of as true men as the world ever saw. We never did have any war to make on the Government, but always regarded it as a priceless inheritance bequesthed to us by our Revolutionary fathers, and we have adored the Union of the States because that Union was formed and cemented by their blood. We have given them sition to re-adjust or forever settle the difficulty up and have now left the sacred chambers of our fathers. The action of Georgia may be right, and it may be wrong.'

Important Speech of Mr. Lincoln. DIPARTURE FROM INDIANAPOLIS

Indianapolis, Feb. 12.—Governor Morton called on Mr. Lincoln this morning at the Bates House, and escorted him and a part of the Presidential cortege to the Gubernatorial Manion, where the party breakfasted. Mrs. Lincoln and her two sons arrived this morning and joined her husband.

An immense crowd commenced gathering in the vicinity of the Bates House at daylight, and at nine, o'clock every available space near the hall was occupied. The crowd in the particle was the battern of lors, reception rooms and halls of the hotel vas equally as great as last night.

Previous to Mr. Lincoln's departure from he Bates House, he was again introduced from the balcony by Hansol Meredith.

Mr Lincoln said he had no speech to make If he made speeches wherever his friends desired, he would not be able to reach the Nation-Capital at the appointed time. He thanked the assemblage for their reception, trusting that they all might meet again under one flag of one Union, and bade them an affectionate

At 101 o'clock, Mr. Lincoln and his suite were escorted by the Governor and a Commit-tee of the Legislature, to the depot, amid the shouts of the multitude. Capt. G. W. Hazzard. U. S. A., at the request of Mr Lincoln, joined the party here.

ARRIVAL AT MORRIS, INDIANA. Morris, (Ind.,) Feb. 12, 1.10 P. M.—The rain bearing the President and family and invited guests, arrived here without detention Large and enthusiastic crowds were assembled at all the stations. The train stopped only at Shelbyville and Greensburg, where Mr. Lin-coln appeared at the rear end of the train and spoke a few words. Every precaution is taken by the Railroad Company to insure the safety of the train. Flagmen are stationed at every road and crossing, and half way between them. They display the American flag as the signal for "all right."

ARRIVAL AT LAWRENCEBURG.

LAWRENCEBURG, IA. Feb. 12.-An immens crowd was gathered at the depot here, on the arrival of the train, and lamps and banners were suspended across the track. Mr. Lincoln appeared and made a brief speech. He hoped that we were all Union men here, and friendly with our neighbors across the river. He was frequently interrupted with cheers The train moved off amid the firing of salutes and tu-multuous cheering. The Nattonal airs were played.

THE ARRIVAL AT CINCINNATI-THE RECEPTION AN ERA IN HER HISTORY.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 12.—The train with Mr. Lincoln and party arrived here at the appoint-ed time. The foot of Fith street was literally blocked with people, and the locomotive wa compelled to stop; the crowd was so great that it was impossible to get out of the way at the depot, and it was found necessary to bring the military and police forces into requisition to clear the track

This reception is an era in the history of Cincinnati. The weather was mild and beautiful, and the streets were crowded with citizens and people from this and the neighboring States.— The streets through which the procession passed had been crowded from an early hour in the day, and the windows were filled with ladies. The Burnett, where the Presidential party stop, was handsomely decorated, and every arrangement had been made for the comfort of the distinguished guests. The stars and stripes were flying from all the public buildiegs, as well as from a number of private stores and dwellings.

At halt past ten o'clock, the military, which made a fine display, and the Committee of Arrangements, were at the Indianopolis and Cin-cinnati Depot.

On the arrival of the train Mayor Bishop was elect to the city in a few appropriate remarks. Mr. Lincoln was escorted to the white house. His appearance was hailed with deafening applause from the vast concourse of people. The procession, which was under the mar-halship of Miles Greenwood, then took up its march, and passed through the principal streets. amid the cheers of men and the waving of flags five o'clock. Mr. Lincoln entered the Hotel, the bands playing Hail Columbia and the Star Spangled Banner.

After a few moments' rest, Mr. Lincoln made his appearance on the balcony, accompanied by Mayor Bishop, who made a short introductory IMPORTANT SPEECH OF MR. LINCOLN.—HE ADDRES SES HIMSELF TO THE KENTUCKIANS.

Mr. Lincoln then spoke as follows: I have spoken but once before this in Cincinnati. That was a gear previous to the late Presidential election. On that occasion, in a playful manner, but with sincere words, I addressed much of what I said to the Kentuckians. I gave my opinion that we, as Republicans, would ultimately beat them as Democrats, but that they could postpone that result longer by nominating Senator Douglas for the Presidency than they could in any other way. They did not, in any true sense of the word, nominate Mr. Douglas, and the result has come certainly as soon as ever I expected. I also told them how I expected they would be treated after they should have been beaten, and I now wish to call their attention to what I then said:

"When we do, as we say we will, beat you, you, perhaps, want to know what we will do with you. I will tell you, as far as I am anthorized to speak for the Opposition, what we mean to do with you. We mean to treat you as near as we possibly can as Washington, Jefferson and Madison treated you. We mean to leave you alone, and in no way to interfere with your institutions—to abide by all and every compromise of the Constitution. In d—coming back to the original pro position—to treat you, so far as degenerated men—if we have degenerated—may, according to the example of those noble fathers-Washington, Jefferson and Madison. mean to remember that you are as good as we; that there is no difference between us, other than the difference of circumstances. We mean to recognize and bear in mind always that you have as good hearts in your bosoms as other people, or, as we claim to have, and to treat you accordingly."

Fellow-citizens of Kentucky—friends, brethren—may I call you such—in my new po-sition I see no occasion and feel no inclination to retrace a word of this. If it shall not be made good, be assured that the fault shall not ha mine.

These remarks were received with great en-
