HARRISBURG

Saturday Afternoon, February 23, 1861.

DAUM FOUND.—The parties that lost a small drum from the train going down to Lancaster yesterday evening can learn at this office where the same may be found.

REV. C. C. HUTCHINSON a resident of Kansas, and Agent of the New York Kansas Relief Committee, was in town this morning, on business connected with his Agency.

HORSE AND BUGGY STOLEN.—A horse and buggy, belonging to Mr. Millisen, was stolen yesterday evening in the upper part of the city. The horse was taken from a post to which it was fastened. All efforts to recover the same has proved ineffectual.

DEPARTURE OF THE PRESIDENT.—President Lincoln left this city at six o'clock last evening, in a special train of cars for Philadelphia, where he made close connection with the Baltimore train, and arrived safely at Washington at six o'clock A. M. this morning.

GOING TO WHOLESALE.—The Patriot and Union of this morning copies nearly two columns of speeches from the TELEGRAPH of last evening, which were exclusively reported by our photographic reporters. We have no particular objection to our neighbor copying the telegraphic dispatches, which cost us some thousand dollars yearly, but when they copy reported speeches, which cost not only a large sum, but require an immense labor, we do think that we are fairly and honestly entitled to a proper credit for them.

OMISSIONS.—Owing to the great extent of the procession yesterday, and the brief space of time allotted to our special reporters in preparing the report, it was scarcely to be expected that some omissions would not inadvertently occur. The appearance in the line of the Friendship Engine, elegantly decorated, and drawn by four richly caparisoned horses, was among the omissions; as was also that of the Dauphin Cavalry. This body, to be sure was not equipped, but they were well mounted, and property officered, and their presence indicated that they were not devoid of the proper spirit of patriotism.

The Paxton Hose Company deserve a great deal of credit for the handsome display they made in the procession. Their hose carriage was beautifully decorated, and the children it contained, among whom we recognized a son of our old friend, Col. Koser, added much to the fine effect.

Our reporter, also, inadvertently stated that the Hope Hook and Ladder apparatus was drawn in the procession by the American Fire Company. It should have read "by the Union Fire Company, of Lancaster." The members of this Company were dressed in dark gray shirts, black hats and New York fire hats. The members of the American were dressed in dark pants, red capes, and oil cloth caps.

The fine display made by the firemen in the procession was the subject of general remark by all our citizens as well as strangers; and our special reporter desires us to state that he deeply regrets that any omission occurred in his report that would fail to give them full justice. The omission was altogether owing to the hurry, confusion and press of the moment, and most certainly not intentional.

The Flag at the Rolling Mill.—We omitted to state yesterday that a large and handsome American Flag was raised over Bailey's Rolling Mill, on a staff over sixty feet high.

PRESIDENT LINCOLN AT LANCASTER.—The President elect was heartily welcomed at the city of Lancaster by a very large concourse of people. The Express says: "The President elect was escorted to the balcony of the Cadwell House, fronting on Chesnut street, when Mr. Dickey, Chairman of the Committee of Arrangements, appeared, and said that it afforded him much pleasure to introduce to the citizens of Lancaster, without distinction of party, the Hon. Abraham Lincoln, President Elect of the United States.

Mr. Lincoln was then received with great cheering, and bowing to the crowd he spoke substantially as follows:

Ladies and Gentlemen of Lancaster County.—I am happy to meet the citizens of this country face to face, but I do not feel prepared to make a speech to you to-day. I have not the time now nor the strength; and what is more, have no speech to make. I have come here to see you and let you see me. He then complimented the ladies, and said in this respect he had the advantage of seeing them, and therefore the best of the bargain. As regards the gentlemen he could not say so much. He might make a long speech, as there is plenty of matter in the present political condition of the country, but time would not allow. He thought the more a man speaks in these days the less he is understood. As Solomon says, there is a time for all things, and he thought the present is a time for silence.

In a very few days the time would be here for him to speak officially, and he would then endeavor to speak plainly in regard to the Constitution and the liberties of the people. Until he should so speak it would be unnecessary to say more. He then greeted his friends most warmly, and said that he had been in the city of Lancaster for some time, and had been most cordially greeted by the friends of Gold and Silver. The remarks of the friends of Gold and Silver were most interesting, and he was most warmly applauded.

Indeed, so punctual was the arrival of Lincoln, that he was seen by the people of Lancaster. When about to retire from the platform, Lincoln was presented with a bouquet by one of the ladies present, who courteously returned thanks. As the cars moved off Mr. Lincoln was seen from the rear of the platform, and the assembled crowd sent up the wild

THEIR TRADES AND PROFESSIONS.—The editor of the Chester County Times, (Mr. Capron), and assistant clerk of the House of Representatives, publishes a full list of the trades and professions of the members of the House, which we extract as follows:

Table with columns: NAMES, TRADES OR PROFESSIONS, NATIVE STATES. Lists names and professions of House members from various states like Mass., Pa., N.Y., Md., Va., etc.

It will be seen by the above list that we have in the present House of Representatives 31 Farmers, 14 Merchants, 1 Railroad Contractor, 7 Physicians, 13 Lawyers, 1 Lumber Dealer, 3 Iron Manufacturers, 1 Architect, 1 Clerk, 1 Manufacturer, 1 Horticulturalist, 1 Coal Merchant, 1 Coal Operator, 2 Powder Manufacturers, 2 Tanners, 1 Engineer, 1 Cooper, 1 Carpenter, 1 Tin Smith, 2 Wheelwrights, 1 Gentleman, 1 Agricultural Implement Manufacturer, 1 Moulder, 1 Victualer.

Of these 67 are natives of Pennsylvania, 2 of Massachusetts, 1 of Ohio, 2 of Connecticut, 1 of Maryland, 5 of New York, 1 of Virginia, 2 of New Jersey, 4 of Ireland, 1 of England, 1 of Wales, and 1 of Germany.

A MAGNIFICENT VIEW.—A few days ago we ascended for recreation and amusement to a clearing on the summit of the first mountain, a short distance north-west of Lingiestown, from which we had a most magnificent view of the surrounding country. The sun shown dimly through heavy dark clouds, and the vapor in the atmosphere reflecting the rays of the sun, gave rise to the interesting phenomenon in nature, usually described as "the sun drawing water," which added much to the beauty of the scene. From this point, which is elevated about a thousand feet above the level of the surrounding country, we had a view of parts of Dauphin, Lebanon, Berks, Lancaster, Cumberland, York and Adams counties, and some of the higher mountain ranges of Maryland and Virginia, the intervening space variegated with villages, masses of worship, hills and valleys, meadows, and away off in the distance a beautiful slopes of towering mountains. The majestic Susquehanna stretches like a silvery belt, reflecting the bright light of the declining sun. The villages of Mantown, Palmyra, Hummelstown, Pro-Fairview, and the domes and spires of a burg can be distinctly seen, presenting a panorama of varied natural scenery, seldom observed by the human eye. There is a good stage road to the summit of the mountain, a beautiful spring of crystal water near rises from the rocky side of the mountain, flows for a short distance, and sinks again to the earth. To those in search of health and amusement, and to those in want of a beautiful and romantic spot for a May day picnic, I would recommend a visit to this place.

NOTICE.—Rev. A. X. Shoemaker will preach in the Court Room, (Brant's Hall,) to-morrow morning and evening as usual.

POCKET BOOKS FOUND.—The pocket books belonging to Mr. Ellis and Mr. O'Brien, were found by Mr. W. Beideman under Oelder's stables this forenoon, and returned to their owners.

MARGARET O'BRIAN an Irish lass was found in a drunken condition by the Chief, and locked up for a hearing, after which she was sent to jail for thirty days.

THE ANNUAL DISCOURSE before the Harrisburg Bible Society will be delivered by the Rev. Mr. Cattell in the Presbyterian Church, Market Square, to-morrow evening.

A GERMAN named Messner, residing in the Sixth ward, was arrested by officer Radabaugh on complaint of abusing his family. The Mayor sent him to jail for twenty-four hours.

TEN LODGERS occupied the lock-up last night. This morning they were before the Mayor, and as they stated they were in search of employment, they were discharged and went their way rejoicing.

GUMBATZ, a Jew clothes dealer in Market street, yesterday, recklessly rode in the crowd of people, in Market Square, injuring a small boy. He was taken off the horse by officer Lewis, and taken before the Mayor. He was bound over to answer the charge at Court.

A YOUNG MAN, named Fetro, a miller by trade, came to the city yesterday to see the sights—having a great penchant for whiskey, he became heavily intoxicated. He was placed in the lock-up, and this morning the Mayor fined him one dollar and costs, which he paid, and was permitted to depart.

A YOUTHFUL CRIMINAL.—Thos. Boylen, a lad about 11 years of age was before the Mayor this morning for disobedience and vagrancy. About a month ago he stole a watch which was recovered by officer Radabaugh. On account of the boy's tender age the Mayor sent him to the Poor House. Several days ago he ran away from that institution, when the Mayor, consulting the District Attorney, finally concluded to commit him to prison, from which he will be sent to the House of Refuge.

HANDSOME SERENADE.—The Repass Cornet Band of Williamsport, favored our office and residence this morning with a handsome serenade, in return for which compliment they were elegantly entertained by the proprietor. The Band was one of the first on parade yesterday, and know how to get up good music. Vive le Repass.

The Blairville Band treated us also to a handsome serenade, for which they will please accept our thanks. A CARD.—The Rev. Mr. Liesman, Pastor of the German Lutheran Church of this city, has opened a select school in which instruction is imparted in both the German and English languages. Mrs. Liesman, who is a native of England, and has taught in private academies, both in England and in France, will take part in the labors of the school. Parents who desire their children to receive thorough instruction in the German language could not easily secure superior facilities to those here offered. Rev. Mr. Liesman is prepared, also, to furnish private instruction in German to such professional gentlemen as may feel the need of greater familiarity with that language. CHARLES A. HAY.

INGENUOUS ESCAPE OF A CONVICT.—Our readers will, perhaps, remember that at the last Court a woman by the name of Margaret Brett was convicted and sentenced upon two charges of forgery and one of larceny. She had displayed a great deal of audacity in the manner she had passed the forged checks, and was evidently no novice in crime. She had excited the interest of the keeper of the prison in her behalf, by alleging that she was enceinte. In consequence of this she had been permitted more privileges in and about the buildings than she otherwise would have enjoyed. And as it too often the case with the class to which she belonged, she abused the confidence placed in her and took advantage of the kindness shown her. In going to and from the kitchen where she was put at work, she of course had many opportunities of learning all about the habits of the family, and, as the same will show, she made good use of her opportunities. About two or three days ago when the time came to lock up the prisoners in their cells, what was the surprise and astonishment to find Margaret among the missing. Every place was searched—the garden, cellar, kitchen and tower, but neither height nor depth would give her up. It was a mystery—the heads concerned in solving it were greatly exercised. But no resolution could be arrived at. At length the under-keeper, inquired of the mother-in-law of the keeper, Mr. Boyd, whether she had not been out at that afternoon. No she had not been out that day! Light at once broke in upon the bewildered brain of the usually placid Captain. He looked for a moment, slightly dashed, yes, he looked astounded; and when his breath came to him, he exclaimed "then I am beat!" And so he was—he had been outwitted by Margaret. It then transpired, that she had gone into the room of the lady before mentioned, had assumed her dress, shawl, bonnet and veil, and walking boldly to the door in the customary manner of the lady, had rapped to call the Captain from his seat in the corridor. Hearing the rap, and seeing as he believed, Mrs. Treuman standing at the door to be let out, he of course went and turning the lock, in the politest manner imaginable bowed his prisoner Margaret Brett, out into freedom. She is under obligations to him—she certainly ought to feel kindly to our venerable friend! But the deception was complete, Margaret imitated the walk, air and general carriage of Mrs. Treuman, and it being just the hour when objects can be but dimly seen in the prison, no wonder that she successfully imposed upon the wary and watchful keeper. The disguise was perfect, and she had selected the best time of the day to carry out her design. It was an ingenious conception, and we must admit it was well executed. But how long Margaret will enjoy her liberty is yet to be seen. We opine not long.

PURSE FOUND.—Mr. Patrick Flinn has left at our office a purse containing several promissory notes, and a railroad ticket from Chambersburg to Harrisburg and return, which he found in the yard attached to the Female Seminary, where it was no doubt thrown by some pickpocket. The contents of the purse are valuable, and it can be had at this office.

PICKPOCKETS ARRESTED.—Yesterday upon the arrival of the noon train of cars from Philadelphia, Chief Radabaugh arrested James Benson and James Rogers alias Fitzgerald, two notorious knucks haling from Buffalo, New York. They were locked up, and of course could not operate professionally. They were held until to day, when they left in the train for Baltimore. So far as our police could learn there was not a single pickpocket here from Philadelphia.

WATCH RECOVERED.—Last Monday an individual who formerly resided in this city crossed the river and went to the house of Col. Jacob Haldeman on a begging expedition. During the temporary absence of Mrs. H. he stole her gold watch and chain, valued at over two hundred dollars. Chief Radabaugh was apprized of the facts, and after search, recovered the watch from the fellow, who had gone to Lebanon county. Col. Haldeman not wishing to prosecute the fellow, he was permitted to depart.

RUNNING OFF WITH ANOTHER MAN'S WIFE.—John Mundorf, a resident of Westmoreland county, a man of about fifty years of age, and father of six or seven children, eloped a few days since with Mrs. Daniel Stepper, a lady of some forty years, and mother of five children. The parties were arrested yesterday at Rockville, and after a desperate resistance, during which a revolver and bowie knife were exhibited, they were safely lodged in jail here, to await the requisition of the authorities of Westmoreland county.

A young man was also arrested at the same time, who accompanied the party here, and paid particular attention to the daughter of Mrs. Stepper. They passed themselves off as man and wife, which is said not to be the fact. We hear, however, that the latter case, is or will be, settled by a lawful wedding.

THE FLAG ON THE CAPITOL.—Thoughts suggested upon witnessing the elevation of the American Flag, on the dome of the Capitol at Harrisburg, by the Old Soldiers of 1812, on the 22d of February, 1861.

Run up that banner of the free, Whose folds shall swell on every gale; Our noble flag that shall stand true, Though foes and rebels raise assail.

Though traitors trail their tins in the dust, We'll stand thus proudly to the mast; In thee, Old Flag, and God we'll trust, "We will defend thee to the last."

Though treason strive, with impious hand, From out thy star-gemmed field of blue To blot those lights, they yet shall stand, To guide the noble, brave and true.

Proudly you're floated o'er the earth, From land to land, from shore to shore, From where the sun gives morning birth, To where he sinks when day is o'er.

Each hill, and crag, and mountain peak, In every land, on every sea; 'Ere Aëolus loosed, cold and bleak, Have halld the banner of the free.

Upon a thousand battle fields, Victory crowned thee with her wreath; Thy gleaming stars and stripes shall shield, From tyrants, millions yet to breathe.

Ye who have fought and glory won, Stand by the flag of liberty, Stand by it still, and trust your sons To guard it in its purity.

Floot on Old Flag! stream high in air! Let thy true colors proudly wave; For thee we'll fight, for thee we'll dare, Or sleep beneath thee in the grave.

AMIDST the contending elements of political strife, it becomes us as a civilized people to pay proper respect to our personal appearance. In view of this, we might say that it is not generally known that President Lincoln intends purchasing his inaugural suit of clothes at URICH & BOWMAN'S. This intention on the part of the President may be from the fact that they have a large stock of Cloths, Cassimeres and Vestings at prices to suit the times. Corner Front and Market streets.
