man is Mr. Jones. I am not acquainted with him. I suppose the Senator from Berks is satisfied that sufficient guarantees are given to the city of Philadelphia for the fulfilment of this contract. That Senator has stated something about the contract not being awarded to the lowest bidder. Mr. McArthur was next to the lowest, while Mr. Ketcham was the low est bidder in fact; and had he furnished his securities at the time fixed by the law—and he was waited upon by one of the Commissioners, Judge Stroud, to have him furnish the names of his securities—he would have been awarded the contract. This fact has been substantiated by the oaths of all who were present as witnesses

Mr. CLYMER. Task the sensor from the delphia, is it not a fact that this question of security was sprung suddenly upon bidders?

Mr. SMITH. No, sir; it was provided for

Mr. CLYMER. I understand that it wa thought that the commission intended to disregard the matter of securities, but when it was seen that Mr. McArthur was placed in a certain position, further securities were required from

Mr. M'CLURE. I know nothing about this bill, but I admit that as it is a peculiarly local bill, being altogether local in its character and operations, relating solely to the people of Philadelphia, I rise to inquire whether those who represent Philadelphia on this floor, who are charged with the responsibility of taxing her people, are in favor of the passage of this bill? I have heard one Senator from Philadelphia declare in favor of the bill and one other Senator against it. There are two more Sena-tors on this floor from whom I would like to vote for the bill as it is.

That Senator stated that Mr. Ketcham put in a bid of $200,000 less than that for which the contract was given to Mr. McArthur, but that Mr. Ketcham did not offer his countries. but that Mr. Ketcham did not offer his securities at the proper time. I understand—and if I am mistaken I ask the Senator from Philadel is to correct me—that from the time of issuing the specifications until the time the contract was awarded but eight days elapsed, and that these specifications were so vague that no one but the gentleman to whom the contract was rescinded their contract to John McArthur, when Mr. Ketcham again put in his bid. I unwhen Mr. Ketcham again put in his bid. I understand that he was given a stated time to present his security. Mr. Ketcham did not, in the short time afforded—from one o'clock, p. Another point in this bill to which I object is that it takes out of the hands of the pursuance of this Act shall not exceed $750, Councils of Philadelphia, the right of taxation, and places it in the hands of the Receiver of Taxes of the city of Philadelphia, a right that ought never to be taken from those Councils

I am very glad that the Senator from Frank-lin (Mr. M'CLURE) has become a convert to the doctrine he has promulgated this afternoon, when he indicated his intention of voting for this bill in consequence of a majority of the Senators from Philadelphia favoring its passage; He said that he made it a general rule, which I think he said he never swerved from, not to interfere in matters of local legislation. I will refer the Senator to the fact that not more than a year ago he voted for a bill relating to my dis-
