HARRISBURG.

Tuesday Afternoon, March 12 1861.

THE RAILROADS.—Forty-eight of the railroad companies of Pennsylvania, during the year 1860, have made full reports to the Auditor General of their condition. Twenty-six companies refused to report. Of the passenger corporations; nine made returns, in compliance with the law, and fourteen neglected or re-

The members will fighting whisky. now proceed vigorously and uninterruptedly to finish the work of the session, which will probably be accomplished by the last of next litical editor of the TELEGRAPH, was in the city month, or early in May.

GONE TO WASHINGTON. Mr. James Williams of this city, left for Washington this morning, to officiate as a Messenger in the War Department. The gay James was always "wide awake" during the last campaign, and did effective service for the party in the way of marching and burning coal oil.

GETTING READY.—The Good Will boys are fixing up for their Fair, which commences tomorrow night. The large room on the second floor of Exchange Hall is being elegantly fitted up and decorated for the occasion. The object the board, and the interests not only of the excel many in his fearless devotion to the inbeing a commendable one, we wish the boys third ward, but of the entire city, would be abundant success. The Fair is under the management of ladies who will grace the hall with their presence nightly during its continuance.

FUNERAL OF MR. COLDER.—The remains of Mr. John Colder, whose death we annouced yesterday, were taken to the railroad this morning and conveyed to Huntingdon, for interment in the cemetery at that place. On are compelled to leave their families behind the arrival of the cars at Huntingdon a large | them, in consequence of the fact that there are concourse of people assembled at the depot to no houses here for their accommodation. The ed by a large number of our citizens who esparticipate in the funeral obsequies, and pay the last sad tribute of respect to the memory of a man who was universally esteemed in that community.

Union WARD MEETINGS .- The citizens of the various wards of the city, irrespective of party, will meet at the following named places this (Tuesday) evening at seven o'clock, for the purpose of nominating candidates for the various municipal offices to be filled at the coming election: First ward at the Black Horse tavern in Paxton street; second ward at the Union House in Market street; third ward at the Franklin House in Walnut street; fourth ward it is evidently her duty to go into the proposed at the hotel of Wm. P. Hughes in Canal street: fifth ward at the hotel of John Raymond.

ANOTHER SUDDEN DRATH .- Another old citie zen, Mrs. Hannah Westfall, died suddenly yesterday afternoon. We learn that on Saturday she was about apparently in the enjoyment of her usual health, having attended market on the morning of that day. The unusually large number of sudden deaths occurring in our community this season keep constantly and forci-bly reminding us of the uncertainty of life, and the importance of proper preparation for the dread summons which, sooner or later awaits all men.

THE UNION MEETINGS.—The ward meetings this evening to nominate candidates for muni. | place, an iron chain was observed on the track. cipal offices, irrespective of party, should be so placed that it must inevitably have thrown participated in by all citizens who prefer the off any train so unfortunate as to have come in the offspring of a character, a correct judgment good government and prosperity of the city to contact with it. THIRD WARD COUNCILMAN. - Mr. Wm. Colder is the retiring Councilman in the third ward. Without any desire to dictate to the citizens of that ward, we think they could not do better than retain the services of Mr. Colder. He mentioned for the succession to the vacant subserved by his re-election.

DEMAND FOR DWILLINGS .- We have been credibly informed that quite a number of the mechanics employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company in the shops at Mifflin, Parkesburg and Columbia, and now about to be trans ferred to the new works erected in this city, company will be compelled to erect dwellings for these families unless our citizens make provision for them. Where do our capitalists invest their funds? Is there no public spirit among us?

OIL FOR THE TROUBLED WATERS .-- It has been alleged that the oil wells of Pennsylvania produce about eighty-five million gallons of oil per annum. ## W. W. Brown, Esq.

Among the many prominent gentlemen for the succession to a seat in the United States Senate, made vacant by the resignation of Hon. Simon Cameron, we hear the name of Col. W. W. Brown, of Bellefonte, favorably mentioned in various localities of the State. For many years Col. Brown has been editor of the Centre Democrat, in which capacity he has labored with a zeal and a devotion for Republican principles unsurpassed by any man in the Commonwealth. United to his zeal and devotion, he has added weight to his labors by the exercise of an intellect of the highest order, until he has been mainly instrumental in changing the centre of Pennsylvania from a blind adherence to pseudo Democracy to that of an enthusiastic dermion to the measures and men of the Republican organization.

We take pleasure in responding to the mentioning of the names of such men as Col. yesterday, and graced our sanctum with his Brown in connection with a high and honorable position, even if their own purpose is not achieved in the realization of a manly ambition. We do this, because it is to such men that principles of stern justice are indebted for success, and to whom we must hereafter look for the vindication of liberty, the protection of labor, and the establishment of the immutable laws of justice in all sections of our now distracted Union As a man of shillty and energy Mr. Brown will rank with most of those already has made an efficient and prudent member of Senatorship, and he would, if elected, certainly terests of Pennsylvania and the Union. > DIED -In San Francisco, California, on the 23d of January, in the 31st year of his age, ROBERT B. WALLACE, eldest son of Wm. Q. Wallace, Esq., of this city.

The deceased had been for some years connected with the Sheriff's department and was a well known and popular citizen of that place. Although not a native of this city, he was for many years-from youth to early manhooda resident in our midst, and will be rememberteemed him for his many engaging qualities of mind and heart. Mr. Wallace was cut off in the flower of his years and usefulness—just too as he was enjoying the society of the eminent persons whose confidence and friendship he had gained, in his far off home, by the suavity of his manners and the integrity of his character. Those friends, as well as those of earlier years. will ever entertain the most enthusiastic regard for his memory. Remarkable for his passionate attachment to his friends, he was met only to be loved, lost only to be greatly mourned, by the hosts of sympathetic hearts which, by this quality, he entwined around his own. With TRUTH, JUSTICE and RIGHT stamped upon his manly brow, he entered the perilous mazes of the Pacific metropolis, where hundreds of young men of rare promise have sunk under the effect of dissipation and despondency, but he was enabled to live an ornament to society and to die leaving an example worthy to be emulated by all. He was a loving, kind and affectionate husband, son and brother, and his loss will be keenly felt. His bereaved young wife who in California's clime endearingly cared for him and smoothed his dying pillow, and his distressed parents, brothers and sisters, have sincerely the sympathy of this community in this their hour of deep felt sorrow.
