...as, ...an or ...than the ...ital in our ...n Superior City, ... contract from that pla... ...settlement, in the Hudson ... ...orities. The following is an extra... ...rom an editorial in the Lake Superior Guide, which presents the case forcibly:

The Lake Superior region, comprising the northern peninsula of Michigan, Douglas, La Pointe, Ashland, Burnet, Polk and Dallas counties, Wisconsin; St. Louis, Lake, Carlton and Pine counties, Minnesota, and "The North Shore," having separate interests from the States to which we are attached; with ample resources of every description within ourselves to form a powerful State, should be set off by the joint action of these States and Congress into a separate government. The necessity for the protection of our interests is daily becoming more evident from the rapid increase of population and mineral and other exports. We are separated by vast forests and lakes from our respective State Capitals, with the distance ranging from two hundred to six hundred miles. A proposition of this kind met with a favorable reception several years ago in the Legislature of two of those States. It appears to me that the time has now arrived for having our rights protected, and our region recognized as a sovereign State. To this end I suggest to the citizens of Lake Superior the calling of county conventions at the earliest practicable moment, and election of delegates to meet in Superior to take immediate action in the premises.

DISTRIBUTION OF SEEDS.—Upwards of one million papers of vegetable and flower seeds have been put up at the Agricultural Division of the Patent Office within the past sixty days, and sent to members of Congress for distribution. The seeds were selected in Europe, by Hon. T. G. Clemson, with great care, and comprise many varieties heretofore unknown on this Continent. Each collection comprises one hundred and fifty-four different varieties of vegetable seeds, and nearly the same number of papers of each variety varying from one to forty, as the peculiar soil or climate for which they are destined may make them more or less desirable. The members of Congress from the seceding States had sent to them the quota they would have been entitled to when in the Union. They took them of course. In or out of the Union, they take all they can lay their hands upon.

SELF INVOKED INDIGNATION.—The following extract of a speech by ex-President Tyler, delivered in the Virginia House of Delegates, a number of years ago, sounds strangely, now that this same man, his head whitened for the ingathering crop of eternity, is spending his declining years in trying to break up the Union he then so eulogized:

"SIR:—I have looked into the distant future, and have there beheld the greatness of free America. I have beheld her walking upon the face of the mighty deep, and carrying glad tidings of great joy into distant nations. I have seen her stretching her arms over the whole earth, and overturning the strongholds of despotisms in the old world. Wo, wo betide the man who shall endeavor to sow the seeds of disunion and anarchy among us. Better for him he had never been born. If he call upon mountains to hide him—nay, if he bury himself in the very centre of the earth—the indignation of man shall find him out, and blast him with its lightnings."

THE editor of the Mobile Register tries his spite on Yankee Doodle, calling it a "musical abomination," and saying it has never been heard by him since a boy without indignation. He says: "It was ever a cold bath to every throb of patriotic emotion, ever made our flesh creep and our soul sink into the bottom of our boots—not on account of its name, 'Yankee Doodle,' but because it is a mean, sneaking, be-littling, contemptible tune. If we were on the eve of battle, and were at all doubtful whether to stand or fly, we believe the sound of the abominable strain would decide the question, and we would take to our heels." Of course such a man would run. It always had this effect upon such people.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS.—The amendment to the Constitution which was passed by the last Congress, before it can become a part of that instrument must be ratified by three-fourths of the Legislatures of the States. If North Carolina and Arkansas secede, there will then be nine States that would not recognize the Constitution, and would, take no action on any proposed amendment. In that case the Constitution can never be amended unless some one of these States be brought back, or the independence of the Southern Confederacy recognized.

FAREWELL SERMONS.—Rev. Dr. Bishop, ... the Locust Street Methodist church, will preach his last sermons in Harrisburg to-morrow. His subject in the morning will be, "Civil Government," and an interesting and instructive discourse may be anticipated.

THE Frankfort Commercial raises the name of Mr. Crittenden at the head of its columns as the people's candidate for Congress from the eighth Kentucky district.

SPURGEON sometimes comes out with a good thing: "Brethren," he said, "if God had referred the ark to a committee on naval affairs, it's my opinion it wouldn't have been built yet."

THE POWER OF TRUTH.—The secession journals denounce Mr. Lincoln's inaugural with characteristic vehemence. The Richmond Enquirer says "it is couched in the cool, unimpassioned, deliberate language of a fanatic," and with other fire-eating papers the calm, circumspect and self-possessed manner of its delivery is a matter of much fault finding. Our traitorous friends should know that Mr. Lincoln has no reason for excitement or passion. They may remember the anecdote of Swift.—When the Dean was arguing one day with great coolness, with a gentleman who had become exceedingly warm in the dispute, one of the company asked, "How do you keep your temper so well?" "The reason is," replied the Dean, "I have truth on my side."

THE Wheeling papers state that Richard Hadden, the man who was shot by young M'Lane at the Sprigg House on Tuesday morning, died on Wednesday of the injuries received. M'Lane, after having shot Hadden, went across the Ohio river near Belle-air, and committed suicide by shooting himself through the heart. It is thought, from the situation of the earth where the body was found, and the body itself, that the unfortunate young man, before firing the ball into his heart, must have laid down flat upon his back. The terrible tragedy created much excitement in Wheeling where the parties were respectably connected.

SIGNS OF ANARCHY.—The contrast between the Texas Convention and Gov. Houston is very significant, for it shows that the secession spirit is anything but universal in that State. Houston will probably refuse to take the new oath of allegiance, in which case he will be superceded. Should that happen, we may next look for the the old veteran at the head of a re-actionary party. By cunning combinations, combined with bluster and terror, Houston may be thrust out of office; but for all that he is by far the strongest man in that semi-barbarous Commonwealth, and he is able to rally whatever conservative elements it may contain.

THE NEW YORK AND ERIE RAILROAD. Samuel Marsh, president, and Horatio N. Otis, secretary of the New York and Erie Railroad Company, have presented a petition to our Legislature asking to be exempted from the payment of the ten thousand dollars taxes assessed for the privilege of running through forty miles of the State of Pennsylvania. They place it upon the ground that the road has benefitted the State in other respects—has cost forty millions of dollars—has sunk nearly all the money invested in the stock, and pays in addition all the taxes imposed upon corporations in the State.

A CHAMPION CLAM EATER.—Among the "champions," little and great, springing up daily, the last one we have heard of is an oyster opener in New York, who, after eating an ordinary dinner, on a wager of five dollars only accomplished the wonderful feat of eating fourteen large sized bull-nosed clams in six minutes and ten seconds—ten minutes being allowed by the terms of the wager. The clams weighed, after being opened, five pounds and a half, clean meat. The man was alive the next day, and expressed himself as feeling "all right."

SECESSION IN TEXAS.—The latest advices from San Antonio show that the Union men carried that town after all, at the late election, nothwithstanding the presence of Ben McCulloch's 800 rangers to overawe the people, and to swell the disunion vote. The issue of Union and Secession was squarely made, each party parading with flags, banners, &c. There need be no doubt of the overwhelming strength of the Union sentiment in Western Texas.

The election in this city yesterday resulted in the election of Joel B. Wanner, the Democratic candidate for Mayor. The Democrats also elected their Treasurer, Auditors, and eleven out of the sixteen Common Councilmen. The Republicans elect their candidate for Select Council in the North West and South West wards.

The total vote polled for Mayor is 2,982—1,037 less than the vote cast for Governor last fall. Many leading Republicans voted for Mr. Wanner, the Democratic candidate, who is personally popular and unexceptionable. In addition to this, there was factious opposition made by professed Republicans. The feeling in this city is as strong in favor of the Constitution and the laws as ever it was, and we have yet to see the man who regrets his vote for Lincoln.

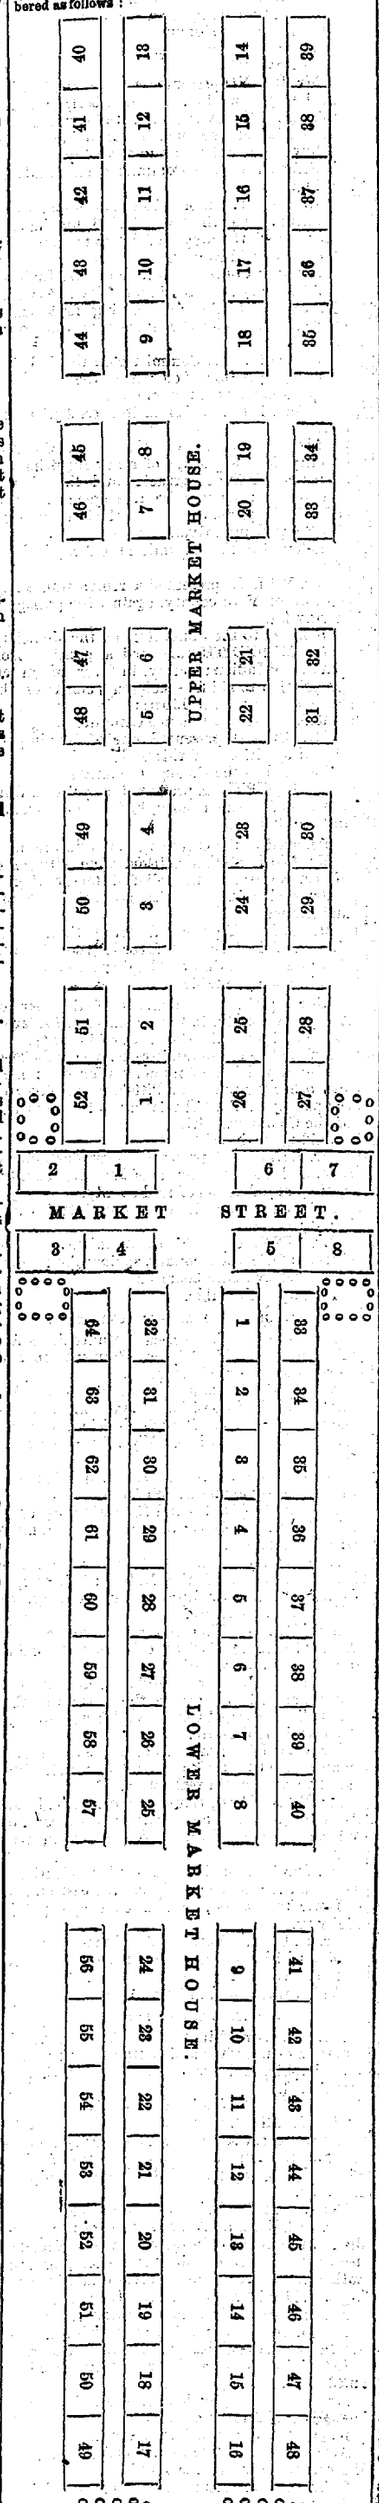
AN ORDINANCE CONCERNING THE MARKETS.—SECTION 1. Be it ordained by the Common Council of the City of Harrisburg, That there shall be held two markets in each week during the year, the one on Wednesday and the other on Saturday; and the market hours shall be between the hours of five and eight o'clock, a. m., during the months of April, May, June, July, August and September, and between the hours of six and nine o'clock, a. m., during the residue of the year; and each and every person who shall buy or sell anything in market before the hour appointed for the opening of the market as aforesaid, shall pay a fine of one dollar for each and every offence and the costs of suit: Provided, That nothing contained in this ordinance shall be construed as to interfere with the evening markets, as heretofore held.

SEC. 2. And be it further ordained by the authority aforesaid, That the stalls in both market houses be numbered as follows:



And that the Clerk of the Market be and is hereby authorized and instructed to lay off and designate by numbers, on a plan or draft to be prepared for that purpose, all the stations or stands between the two market houses and at the ends thereof, and also similar stands or stations from time to time, as the occasion may require, for the use of country people and others attending the markets, from the side of the Square out Market street, on both sides thereof, as far as Fourth street, and out Market street towards the Harrisburg Bridge as far as River alley; and also along both sides of Second street from the Square as far as Chestnut and Walnut streets, and also around the Square itself.

SEC. 3. And be it further ordained by the authority aforesaid, That it shall be the duty of the Clerk of the Market, on the first Wednesday of October next, and on the first Wednesday of October annually thereafter, to rent for the term of one year from said day, by public auction, to the highest and best bidders, the stalls in both market houses, or as many as may be desired.—The inside ranges of stalls in the upper market house, to be rented to butchers for the purpose of vending meats and the outside ranges of stalls in the upper market house, and all the stalls in the lower market house, to be rented to the persons for the vending of country produce and other commodities. The rents for said stalls to be paid to the Clerk of the Market half yearly in advance, whose duty it shall be, immediately on the receipt thereof, to pay it over to the City Treasurer for the use of the city. And it shall also be the duty of the Clerk of the Market, as soon as the said stalls shall be rented, to report to the Council the numbers of stalls rented, according to the plan prescribed in the second section of this ordinance, the names of the persons to whom and the prices at which they shall be respectively rented, with which amounts he shall stand charged in his settlement with Council: Provided, That Council shall have power to exonerate him from payment of such portion of said rents as he may not be able to receive, after due diligence on his part used to collect the same.

SEC. 4. And be it further ordained by the authority aforesaid, That if any of the stalls should not be rented at the time appointed for rented, according to the provisions of the third section of this ordinance, it shall be the duty of the Clerk of the Market to rent the same, by private agreement, to such persons as may be desirous of renting them for the best prices he can obtain therefor, payable as prescribed in the third section, but not for a longer time than to the end of the time for which the other stalls shall be rented; and when any stall shall be so rented by private contract, it shall be the duty of the Clerk of the Market forthwith to pay over the amount of rents received to the City Treasurer, and to make report to Council, as directed in cases of renting by public auction.

SEC. 5. And be it further ordained by the authority aforesaid, That it shall be the duty of butchers to provide their own hooks, and find their own blocks and accommodations, and not to extend their benches or blocks more than five feet and a half from the pillars of the market house inwards; they shall leave no offal in or about the market house, and shall also clean and remove their blocks after market hours, and place them under their respective benches; and no butcher shall, during market hours, keep more than one dog at his stall, which shall be kept tied or chained to the stall during the continuance of the market.

SEC. 6. And be it further ordained by the authority aforesaid, That all beef, pork, mutton, lamb, veal and all kinds of poultry and fish, and all other articles of food whatever, that shall be brought to market, or publicly exposed to sale in the city, and shall be found diseased, tainted or in any manner rendered unwholesome, or unfit for use; and all veal which, when killed, shall not have been of the age of four weeks, shall be forfeited; and the person or persons exposing the same for sale, shall moreover, on conviction thereof, forfeit and pay a fine of four dollars for the use of the city.

SEC. 7. And be it further ordained by the authority aforesaid, That the occupants of stalls on the inside ranges of the lower market houses shall not occupy with tables, barrels, baskets or produce, more space during market hours than five feet and a half from the pillars of the market house inwards, nor shall the occupants of stalls in either market house, on the outside ranges, occupy, as aforesaid, more space during said hours than three feet from said pillars outwards; and no person shall occupy or obstruct in any manner the main or cross passages in said market house, during market hours, s with marketing or otherwise, but said passages shall be kept open and free for the convenience of purchasers and others attending market.

SEC. 8. And be it further ordained by the authority aforesaid, That no person shall occupy a stall in either of the market houses, or a stand or station which has been laid off by the Clerk of the Market, during market hours, unless he, she or they shall have rented the same.

SEC. 9. Be it further ordained by the authority aforesaid, That no person shall, during market hours, sell meat of any kind by less quantity than a quarter of a carcass, unless it be from a stall or bench in one of the market houses, or from a stand or station laid off by the Clerk of the market; and unless the said meat so offered for sale shall be of their own raising: Provided, however, That this section shall not apply to the regular butchers, who are by this ordinance confined to the inside ranges of stalls in the upper market house, and to such stations or stands outside of the upper market house as may be set apart for them by the Clerk of the Market.

SEC. 10. Be it further ordained by the authority aforesaid, That no person shall buy or sell any provision of any description during market hours, in any part of the city, except within the Market Square, in Market street, between Front and Fourth streets, and in Second street between Walnut and Chestnut streets; and all provisions shall be exposed for sale in said Square and streets during market hours, at the stalls in the market houses, or on the wagons, carts, sleighs, sleds or other vehicles in which they may have been carried to market, backed up to the curb-stones along the pavement of said Square and streets, or from a stand or station laid off by the Clerk of the Market.

SEC. 11. Be it further ordained by the authority aforesaid, That no person shall use steelyards within the market limits, during market hours, nor shall sale be made by other weights and measures than such as shall have been legally regulated and stamped by the Clerk of the market.

SEC. 12. Be it further ordained by the authority aforesaid, That no horse or other animal shall be at any time fastened to any of the columns, piers or other fixtures of the market houses; and if any person shall wilfully injure or deface any part or fixture, or appurtenance, of either of the market houses, he shall incur a penalty of five dollars, and shall, moreover, be liable to make compensation for the damage done; and all persons attending market shall be required to unhitch their horse or horses and tie them to their wagons or elsewhere.

SEC. 13. Be it further ordained by the authority aforesaid, That if any person shall sell, or bring to the market for sale, any bread, butter, lard, fruit or other provision, in lumps, loaves, tubs, vessels or parcels, as or for a greater weight or measure than the true weight or measure thereof, or shall empply any device for imposition or fraud in the sale of any provision, the said article so offered for sale shall be forfeited for the use of the city.

SEC. 14. Be it further ordained by the authority aforesaid, That the market houses shall not be used for any unlawful purpose, nor shall any one shake carpets therein, or create or leave any dust, dirt or nuisance therein of any kind.

SEC. 15. Be it further ordained by the authority aforesaid, That no person shall, during market hours, buy, or cause to be bought, any articles of provisions, fruits and other commodity whatsoever, for the purpose of retailing or re selling the same.

SEC. 16. Be it further ordained by the authority aforesaid, That no huckster, dealer, or other person whatsoever, shall buy or cause to be bought, within the limits of the city, any articles of provisions, fruits, vegetables or other commodities intended for the market, for the purpose of retailing or re-selling the same, between the hours of two o'clock, p. m., on Tuesdays and Fridays of each and every week; and nine o'clock, a. m., on the regular market days heretofore established.

SEC. 17. Be it further ordained by the authority aforesaid, That it shall be the duty of the Clerk of the Market to sweep out the market houses every market day after market hours, and shall once in each week during the months of April, May, June, July, August, September, October and November, cause them to be washed and thoroughly cleansed by the use of the hose and hydrant water; and it shall be his duty, moreover, to attend each market day during market hours, within the market limits, and at such other times as may be necessary, and enforce all the laws, or ordinances and regulations, relative to the markets, and shall seize and prosecute for all breaches thereof, and shall prevent all persons from occupying stalls or stations without authority, or for purposes not authorized. He shall weigh, try and examine all bread, butter, lard and other provisions purporting to be of a given or accustomed weight or measure, and all scales, weights and measures which are found in the market; he shall examine all persons suspected of unlawfully purchasing, during market hours, articles for retailing, and shall take such order respecting all provisions and other articles which may be seized under the provisions of this law as the Council may direct, and shall not accept or take from any person attending market any donation, fee, perquisite or reward, under any pretence whatever.

SEC. 18. Be it further ordained by the authority aforesaid, That no regular butcher or other person shall, directly or indirectly, purchase, or cause to be purchased, from any farmer or other person, any fresh meats (except pork in the hog) offered for sale within the bounds of the city, and re-sell the same meats, or any part thereof, at wholesale or retail, under the penalty of five dollars for every offence.

SEC. 19. Be it further ordained by the authority aforesaid, That it shall be the duty of the Clerk of the Market to attend every Tuesday and Friday morning at the Harrisburg bridge market, and see to it that all the provisions of this ordinance in relation to the regular market on Wednesdays and Saturdays are duly observed and enforced, so far as they may be applicable to this market; and said provisions of this ordinance are hereby made and declared to be in full force, binding and obligatory on all persons attending the said bridge market.

SEC. 20. Be it further ordained by the authority aforesaid, That for any and every infraction or violation of any of the provisions of this ordinance, (not otherwise provided for,) the offender or offenders shall be fined in any sum not less than 3, nor more than 10 dollars, at the discretion of the Mayor or any Alderman of said city, before whom the offender or offenders may be prosecuted to conviction.

SEC. 21. Be it further ordained by the authority aforesaid, That all ordinances heretofore passed upon the subjects of the markets, embraced within the provisions of this ordinance are hereby repealed.

Passed March 4, 1861.
