HARRISBURG

Friday Afternoon, March 29 1861.

A BOOM AT HARRISBURG.—This morning a bill was read in the Senate for the incorporation of a company to construct a boom in the river Susquehanna at or near this city.

THE UNION PRAYER MEETING will be held in the Presbyterian church, corner of Market Square, to-morrow (Saturday) afternoon, commencing at four o'clock, as usual.

CHANGES OF LOCATION.—The City Fathers this afternoon vacated the Walnut Street Exchange and took possession of the new Council Chamber in the Court House, where their future meetings will be held.

PASSED FINALLY.—The bill to establish a law library in the city of Harrisburg, recently published in this paper, passed the Senate finally yesterday. No doubt it will pass the House and become a law.

VIOLATING ORDINANCES.—Numerous complaints are made of the violations of ordinances. They will be attended to as soon as the Chief of Police, now prostrated by illness, resumes his official post.

ANOTHER MAIL AGENT.—Mr. Solomon Booth, of Millin, has been appointed a mail agent on the Pennsylvania Railroad between this city and Altoona. He takes the place of Mr. Sargeant, and is said to be competent for the position.

MARKET MASTER.—At the meeting of Common Council last night, the only appointment made was that of Frederick P. Haehelen for Market Master. The new ordinance goes into effect on and after Wednesday next, and the people expect that Mr. Haehelen will faithfully and fearlessly enforce its provisions.

FAST DRIVING.—Wm. Reigle, employed by the Adams Express Company, was before the Mayor this morning, charged with a violation of the ordinance prohibiting fast and reckless driving within the city limits. He was fined one dollar and costs, which he paid and was discharged.

LARCENY.—Information was made before the Mayor this morning against two colored men named James Dorey and Wm. Bender, for larceny of a store box from Cyrus J. Reese. Warrants were issued for them, but at the time of penning this item they have not been captured.

APPROPRIATION TO THE FIREMEN.—This morning, pending the consideration of the appropriation bill in the House, the section offered by Dr. Heck, giving each of the fire companies of this city the sum of seventy-five dollars, was adopted by a vote of forty-two to thirty-six yeas. We have no doubt the Senate will concur in this action.

CORNER STONE LAYING.—The corner stone of the Odd Fellows' Hall at Lykenstown will be laid, with appropriate ceremonies, to-morrow afternoon at two o'clock. Arrangements have been made for a parade of the order on the occasion, which we presume will be participated in by Odd Fellows of this city and the various towns in the upper section of the county.

The following is supposed to describe the "Dixie" whose praise is growing universal:

Oh, is not this a happy land— With wine upon the land— Where poppies smoke in six quart pans, And dumplings grow on trees? Where Nature's lessons may be read To every habiting brood? Where bubble-bears don't sting a chap, And muly cows don't hoot!

THAT PITTSBURG PARDON.—The item in yesterday's paper, relating to a pardon, copied from a Pittsburg paper, was incorrect. The facts are, as we learn from an official source, that a young man named Daniel Mitchell was, on the thirty-first of January, pardoned for the offence of a trifling larceny, upon representations made by a large number of prominent citizens, which were conclusive as to its propriety. He was intended to be pardoned, and the papers were made out accordingly.

THE "SOAP MAN" DRIVEN OUT OF ROCHESTER. The public career of the distinguished vendor of that "unrivalled New England Soap," Professor Gardner, who flourished extensively in this city some two years ago, has come to an ignominious conclusion. He fled from Rochester a few nights ago to avoid prosecution, or what was quite as bad, a flogging, from parties who detected him in some infamous acts. The "Professor" was obliged to leave Harrisburg for similar reasons, and we presume the lesson he learned here might lead to his reformation; but in this we have been disappointed. Gardner has had a sort of reputation before the public for ten or twelve years, and in his way was regarded as a pretty clever as well as shrewd fellow. We regret his having done that which thus disgraces him. After the developments made, which are too disgusting for recital, the probability is we shall no more hear of him as a lecturer and soap vendor.

THE FUNERAL OF PROFESSOR WADSWORTH, yesterday afternoon, was largely attended. The religious exercises were conducted by the late pastor of the Locust Street Methodist church, Rev. Dr. Bishop, who came here from Philadelphia for that purpose. It is pleasant to linger over the memory of a true man—one who by his knowledge has tended to leave the world wiser, and by his conduct has helped to make it better, than he found it. To those who were associated with him in his labors it is a source of peculiar gratification to record the sense of his services at a time when his eyes were closed and his eloquence is stopped for ever, when praise cannot be mistaken for flattery, nor the expression of grateful regard be tortured into selfish motives. Such a true man was Beverly B. Waugh, esteemed and beloved by all who enjoyed the pleasure of his acquaintance. In his death a truly good man has fallen, and he will be sadly missed in the domestic circle, in the church, in the Sabbath-school, and in society at large. May we all be as well prepared as he was the deceased, for the summons of the pale messenger.

AN AMERICAN SABLE VICTORINE was lost last evening between Oml's Hotel and Felix's Confectionary store. The finder will be suitably rewarded by leaving it at the bar of the Hotel above named.

THE CAVALRY SQUADRON will meet on the Park grounds to-morrow afternoon at half-past one o'clock, for drill exercise, and the election of permanent officers. All desirous of joining the company will then be required to advance the sum of five dollars towards the purchase of material for uniforms.

THE LYKEN VALLEY RAILROAD has had a supplement to its charter passed by the Legislature. By this supplement it is empowered to extend its road up Williams Valley eastward, as well as westward around the end of South Mountain, and thence eastward to Rausch Gap. It is also empowered to increase its capital stock to $800,000.

IMPROVING.—The weather to-day is delightful. From present indications, old Winter, who has been lingering in the lap of Spring for three weeks past, is about to take his departure. No doubt all our readers are anxious to bid the stormy old chap farewell, and welcome the advent of smiling April with her balmy south winds and genial showers.

NEW USE FOR INDIA RUBBER.—One of the uses to which India Rubber is put, is that of furnishing the material for business cards. Besides the various convenient forms which may be given to the material, it may also be improved with any ornament or design suitable to any particular business. The material makes light and prettily molded business cards, one advantage of which is that they cannot be defaced easily, and are almost indestructible.

ANOTHER EDITOR REWARDED.—Our young friend Mr. Curdren, editor of the Shippensburg News, has been appointed Postmaster for that town. He is a clever gentleman and will make a first class officer. The members of the editorial fraternity in this State are being well provided for by the new administration. We (the local) are still "out in the cold," but hope to be taken in shortly.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY.—A man named Peter Shaefter was recently attacked on the highway in Westmoreland county, and robbed of some $360. It appears "at he had sold his farm to a Mr. Hoffley, and was returning home with part of the proceeds in his pocket, when two men, with their faces blackened, sprang from the roadside, and while one of them seized his horse's bridle, the other demanded his money or his life. He refused to part with his cash for the mere asking, whereupon one of the robbers discharged a pistol at him, the ball passing through his hat. They then dragged him from his horse and abstracted his wallet, after which they fled, and have not since been heard of.

CHANGES OF MARKET HOURS.—The summer arrangement for the city market goes into effect on Wednesday next, the first market day occurring after the first of April. The market will therefore open at five o'clock and continue until eight. We now give notice of the new arrangement for the benefit of such country people as read the TELEGRAPH. Many of our rural friends, however, do not take newspapers, and of course are ignorant of the enactment of the ordinance by which they are hereafter to be governed. In consideration of this fact, we would suggest to Council the propriety of having the ordinance printed in slips and extensively circulated among the country people who attend market.

A BABY FOUND IN A BAGGAGE ROOM.—The baggage master of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad, found in the baggage-room at Crestline, on Thursday last, a female child, apparently about six days old, dressed in a pink frock and with a quarter shawl around it, the face being left exposed, doubtless with a view to prevent its being thrown aside as a bundle, or perhaps to make it more readily noticed. When found life was nearly extinct in the little wail, from cold and want of sustenance perhaps, but careful nursing soon restored its natural vitality. The child was adopted by a family in Crestline, and a number of railroad men intend raising a fund for its maintenance. It is supposed to have been purposely left by a passenger on either the Southern or Western train on Wednesday night.

HOLY WEEK.—The present week in the calendar has long been regarded by several denominations of Christians as the Holy Week, and religious services of a solemn and impressive character are daily conducted in their churches during its continuance. The Passion of the Blessed Savior is commemorated, and a host of believers are no doubt refreshed and invigorated spiritually by its observance. Such occasions have been set apart by the Church in all ages for the commemoration of some Saint, or some remarkable occurrence in the life of the Redeemer. It has been a question agitated by divines whether it be proper to appoint or keep any holidays, the Sabbath excepted. The advocates for holidays suppose that they have a tendency to impress the minds of the people with a greater sense of religion and of the acquisition and victories of Christianity, always celebrated with the highest joy; also, those events which relate to the salvation of man, such as the birth, death and resurrection of Christ. On the other side, it is observed that if the holidays had been necessary under the present dispensation, Christ would have observed something respecting them, whereas he was silent about them; also, that it is calculated to bring Christians into that bondage to ceremonial laws from which Christ delivered them, and that it is a tacit reflection on the Head of the Church in not appointing them; and that such days, on the whole, are more pernicious than useful to society, as they open the door for indolence. That objections may have prevailed in those countries and in those periods of Church history, when feasts were very numerous and observed; there is no doubt, but in latter days the great difficulty is to have them observed even by members of the Church. As far as this country is concerned, the general impression is that they are productive of good.

The Harrisburg Firemen and the Legislature

MESSRS. EDITORS.—My attention was called to a communication in the Patriot and Union, headed "The Harrisburg Firemen and the Legislature," in which the writer makes an unprovoked attack upon me. So far as that communication relates to me, it is an unmitigated premeditated lie, from beginning to end, and has been written by no other than a low braggart. That I have opposed the appropriation asked for by the firemen, either before the Legislature or any single member thereof, is equally untrue. Whatever may have been my faults, I have never been accused of being afraid to stand by my own acts. Of this the author of the communication referred to can fully satisfy himself if he will come out from his lurking hole, purge himself of the filth and slime which must necessarily envelope the carcass of such a creature, put on what little manhood nature may have endowed him with, and try the experiment of standing up for himself as a citizen and property-holder in this city. I must necessarily feel it my duty to contribute my share to the support of the Fire Department. What motive could I have to oppose an appropriation from the State, which would necessarily be an advantage to me as well as to the firemen? I have no petty squabble with the firemen, as such. I am not aware of the fact, if there are three men in the whole department who are my personal enemies, but whatever their number, if they do not so follow as are beneath my notice, if I do not get even with them single-handed or in pairs, without striking at the whole department, with whom I have no quarrel, I will charge them or either of them nothing for what they make of me.

But why this attempt to prejudice the firemen against me who have been among their best friends? I procured for them the appropriation they ever received from the State, when a member of the Legislature in 1856-7, and I have since that every year used all my personal efforts to get similar appropriations. In 1859, when Mr. Lawrence, our member, was on his death-bed, and could not attend to it, I went to the Chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means, Mr. Strong, and succeeded in getting him to put the appropriation in the bill, which was secured that year. In addition to this I have always, when called on, contributed as liberally as any other man in the city, in proportion to the amount of property owned, in support of the Fire Department. These facts are well known to many of the firemen, and cannot be successfully contradicted by any one. What, then, can be the motive of the few persons who are making this desperate effort to get up an issue between the firemen and myself? Certainly not for the good of the former alone. The writer of the communication referred to says, "I had no bitterly denounced them (the firemen) in a speech in a recent campaign." The reiterated of this contradicted falsehood may throw some light upon this singular persevering effort to prejudice the firemen against me. That my vote may have been wrong on that occasion, may be possible; but that the speech referred to was made, is false, as will appear by the following.

MONDAY MORNING, November 21st, 1859. DAVID MUMMA, Esq.—Respected Sir,—At a stated meeting of the Hope Fire Company, No. 2, of Harrisburg, held in their hall on Friday evening, Nov. 18th, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the charge brought against Major Mumma being totally groundless and unfounded, that he be hereby honorably exonerated from the charges preferred against him. Resolved, That David Mumma, Esq., be unanimously elected an honorary member of this company. Extract from the minutes. JACOB M. BARR, Secretary of the Hope Company, No. 2. INTERESTING DECISION.—A few days ago the Supreme Court rendered a decision in the case Hutchmaker vs. the administrators of Elisha Harris, deceased, a detailed report of which recently appeared in the columns of the TELEGRAPH. Hutchmaker, it will be recollected, purchased, at the sale of the personal effects of Mr. Harris, an old drill machine, for which he paid fifteen cents. On taking it home and breaking it up for kindling wood, some $3,000 were found concealed within it, and the dispute was as to who should take the money, the administrators of Mr. Harris or Mr. Hutchmaker, the purchaser. In deciding the case, Judge Woodward said: The machine itself, and every essential part and constituent element were well sold. The consideration paid, though fifteen cents, was in law a quid pro quo, and the sale, unaffected by fraud or misrepresentation, passed to the purchaser an indefeasible right to the machine, and all the uses and purposes to which it could be applied. But the contents of the machine are to be distinguished from its constituent parts. These were not inventoried, were not exposed to auction, were not sold. Of course they were not bought. All that was sold was fairly bought and may be held by the purchaser. The title to what was not sold remains unchanged. A sale of a coat does not give title to the pocket-book which may happen to be temporarily deposited in it, nor the sale of a chest of drawers a title to the deposits therein. In these cases, and many others that are easily imagined, the contents are not essential to the existence or usefulness of the thing contracted for, and not being within the contemplation or intention of the contracting parties, do not pass by the sale. The judgment of the Court below, awarding the money to the administrators, is therefore confirmed.

PENNSYLVANIA FEMALE COLLEGE.—We are requested to announce that arrangements are being made to continue the current term in this institution, and the regular duties of the College will be resumed on Monday morning.

TWENTY-FIVE pieces of beautiful white Curtain Muslin, needle-worked; 50 pieces of beautiful Broche Borders for Shawls; 25, 37, and 50 cents; 100 yards of splendid black Merino for Shawls, six-fourths and five-fourths wide; another new lot of black Muslin at 10 and 12 1/2 cents; splendid black Shawls, with broche border, at all prices; a large lot of single and double Broche Shawls at cost; remnants of Calico and DeLaines I will sell very cheap. I have just received a very large lot of white goods of all descriptions from the New York auction; also Cambric Band and Edgings, new Calicoes, new bleached Muslins and past stuff, very low. Black Silks and colored Silks very low; hemstitched Handkerchiefs and gentlemen's linen pocket-handkerchiefs. For cheap goods please call at Lewer's, Rhoad's old stand.

AXB.—This little word always used to be entitled to three letters. Mr. Webster omits the final e in all his additions. He says, "it is improperly written axb." Strange! In all the editions of the Bible within our reach, English and American, in the best copies of Shakespeare by Johnson, Walker, Worcester and Richardson, it is written axbe. The final letter does not, indeed, seem to be of any great necessity, but that is not the point. We refer to a Dictionary to know how a word is spelled, as for instance, we purchase Dry Goods at Union & Bowman's because they are fashionable and cheap. m28-24t.

W. A. BATCHELOR'S HAIR DYE! THIS SPLENDID HAIR DYE has no equal—insoluble in effect—Beautiful Black or Natural Brown—no staining the skin or injuring the hair—no itching or irritation of the scalp—no greasy or greasy hair—No one can use it without being satisfied. It is a perfect hair restorer, and is the only one of the kind. It is sold by all Druggists. W. A. Batchelor, 618 Broadway, New York.

NOTICE. COUGHS.—The sudden changes of our climate are sources of Pulmonary, Bronchial and Asthmatic Affections. Experience having proved that simple Remedies are not only the most efficacious, but also the earliest stages of the disease, recourse should at once be had to "Brown's Bronchial Troches," or Lozenges, let the Cough, or Irritation of the Throat be ever so slight, as by this precaution a more serious attack may be averted. Public Speakers and Singers will find them especially of great value in clearing the voice. See advertisement. sold-everywhere.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—Among all preparations for the hair that have been introduced as infallible, none has ever given the satisfaction or gained the popularity that Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative has. It Restorative has passed the ordeal of innumerable fashionable toilets, and the ladies, wherever they have tested it, pronounce it a perfect article. They find, where the hair is thinned, that it grows a fresh growth—that it fully restores the vegetable power of the roots on the thinned places, and causes the fibres to shoot forth anew—that it dissolves and removes dandruff, prevents grayness, restores the hair to its original color when grays has actually enveloped, gives a rich lustre, imparts the softness and flexibility of silk to the hair, and keeps it always luxuriant, healthy and in full vigor.—"N. Y. Tribune." Sold by all respectable Druggists. oct1-1m
