Pennsylvania Daily Telegraph, Thursday Afternoon, April 4, 1861. Wood's HAIR RESTORATIVE.—Among all preparations for the hair that have been introduced as infallible, none has over given the satisfaction or gained the popularity that Prof. Wood's Hair Restorativ enow has. His Restorative has passed the ordeal of innumer-able fashionable toilets, and the ladles, wherever they have tested it, pronounce it a peerless article. They find, wherever they have tested it, pronounce it a peer-less article. They find, where the hair is thinned, that i creales a fresh growth—that it ully restores the ve-getative power of the roots on the denuded places, and causes the fibres to shoot forth answ—that tt dissolves and removes dandruff, prevents grayness, restores the Miscellaneons. Judges of Cumberland county, died at Philadelphia on Tuesday last. The vacancy thus occasioned on the bench will be filled by Gu beinatorial appointment.

RAILBOAD ACCIDENT .- On Tuesday afternoon whilst Mr. Wm. H. Curry, a freight conductor on the Northern Central Railroad, was engaged in coupling two of the cars of his train, near the Bolton Depot, the engine backed up, catching him between the two bumpers, and injuring his thigh in such a manner that it is thought he will be lame for life.

THE SCARLET FEVER prevails to a considerable extent among children in this city and vicipity. Several fatal cases have occurred within a few days. One family lost two children in quick succession. In other sections of the county homes have been visited by this muchdreaded "red demon of the nursery," and pa- and esteemed lady, Mrs. Dr., Brown, who died rents robbed of their household jewels. THE FRUIT TRADE .- Foreign fruit continues to pour into Philadelphia from Messina and Palermo. This week two vessels arrived, bringing in the aggregate seven thousand five hundred and fifty boxes of oranges, and nearly two thousand boxes of lemons. Much of this fruit finds its way to our city, and oranges are peddled about the streets by little boys and girls, who are glad to dispose of them at the rate of ten cents per dozen. At ruling prices even the poorest in community can afford to luxuriate on this delicious and wholesome fruit.

RHRUMATISM KILLED BY MADNESS .- A young man named William Hammel, of Pottsville now an inmate of the State Lunatic Hospita near this city, for four years past was so lame from rheumatism as . to render locomotion. without the aid of crutches; impossible. On Thursday last, to the great surprise of all who saw him, he walked away from his house without crutches. It was discovered also that he had suddenly became a maniac through the severity of his sufferings ; the same cause which had restored him to the use of his limbs de priving him of his reason. He was brought here and placed in the Lunatic Hospital by the Odd Fellows, of which order he is a member.

"Norming on earth can smile but man," says the famous Beecher. And a facetious cotemporary replies : "Henry Ward, you're right. Nothin'-nothin' on earth can 'smile' but man. Flowers have cups, but they can't crook the elbow. They can't 'smile.' That's city, by the breaking of an axle. The forward what's the matter. Birds, also, can't come in neither, too. They have beaks, but no breakers. What do they know about '

'The bubbles that swim on the beaker's brim?' What do they care about juleps? Not a straw. Their only idea of a cocktail is a bunch of feathers. No, a 'smile' is the prerogative of man with a sixpence in his breeches-or, at least, three cents."

MIDDLETOWN ITEMS. - The Journal says that on last Monday night M. Gumph, an aged man, residing near that town, accidentally fell into the Aqueduct and was drowned. His body was found on Tuesday evening and taken from its watery grave. Justice Schaeffer summoned a jury, and held an inquest on the body, when a verdict of "accidental drowning" was rendered. The same paper records the death of an aged

A large number of citizens were in attendance as spectators, and the Brass Band enlivened the emonies with good music.

IN DEMAND.-There is an increased demand for cheap dwellings houses in this city. Many of the mechanics who have been transferred from Parkesburg to the Pennsylvania Railroad machine shops here, are without "local habita tions" for their families. Would it not "pay" some of our enterprising capitalists to erect a number of small, comfortable and cheap dwellings for the accommodation of working men? Considering the steady and rapid increase of business and population, men of capital would certainly run no nisk by investing it in this way. If we wish to keep mechanics in our city, and induce others to locate among us, we must provide for their accommodation.

FINAL ADJOURNMENT.—This morning the Senate concurred in the resolution recently adopted by the House, fixing upon the 18th of April as the day for final adjournment. An immense amount of business has been done up to this time, and two or three important mea-sures remain to be disposed of—among the number the apportionmentbill, upon which no progress has been made. From present indi-progress has been made. From present indioct31-w1v cations the resolution will have to be rescinded, and the final adjournment postponed until later period than that now designated.

AN ADVENTUROUS HUNTER having visited the interior of Africa in search of game, often noticed a little gray bird, twittering and chattering on a branch of the nearest tree. It seemed greatly excited, and anxious to attract his at tention. When it had fairly won his notice, it darted forward in wavy lines, still keeping up its incessant twitter, as if inviting him to follow its flight. Alfured by its strange manner, he one day followed it until it reached a hollow tree. Hovering over this tree a moment, it pointed to it with its bill, and then, quietly perching on a neighboring branch, watched his movements. Guided by the action of the bird, the hunter looked into the hollow of the tree, and found a nest of wild bees, well stocked with honey and wax. He afterwards learned that the little chatterer was named the "honey bird," and that the natives were in the habit of relying upon its guidance when in quest of the sweet stores of the bees. Now, just what the honey bird was to the hunter, this notice is to those persons who are about purchasing their spring dry goods.
