is a delapidated affair. It is now in charge of Sergeant Bromley and one man. The Cavalry magazine adjoining Mifflin is in charge of Mr. Bunker, a veteran of sixty years service.

The surrender of Sumter was received with almost universal disbelief, but being now confirmed, the excitement is most intense. The volunteers are making preparations to be ready and respond instantly to the call of the Governor or President.

CHARLESTON, April 14th, evening. The hostilities have for the present ceased, and the victory belongs to South Carolina. With the display of the flag of Truce on the ramparts of Fort Sumter at half past one o'clock the firing ceased, and an unconditional surrender was made.

So, soon after the flag-staff of Major Anderson was shot away, Col. Wigfall, the aid of Gen. Beauregard, at his command, requested, went to Fort Sumter a white flag, to offer assistance in extinguishing the flames.

Col. Wigfall replied that Major Anderson must haul down the American flag, that he would be granted. "Surrender or fight was the word." Major Anderson then hauled down his flag and displayed only the flag of truce.

All firing instantly ceased, and two others of Beauregard's staff, ex-Senator Chesnut and ex-Governor Manning came over in a boat and signed with Major Anderson that his surrender should be unconditional for the present, subject to the terms of Gen. Beauregard.

Major Anderson was allowed to remain with his men in actual possession of the Fort, while Messrs. Chesnut and Manning came over to the city, accompanied with a member of the Palmetto Guard, bearing the colors of his company.

WASHINGTON, April 14. The President will to-morrow issue a proclamation calling forth the militia to the aggregate of seventy-five thousand men for service against the seceded States; and to cause the laws to be duly executed. The first service will probably be to repossess the forts, places and property which have been seized.

PHILADELPHIA, April 14, 10 o'clock, P. M. A proposed project to seize Fort Delaware, a source of great excitement, is now commended by Capt. Foster of Virginia, who is reported to have resigned if Virginia secedes.

THE NORTH PREPARING. We hear from all parts of the North that the whole population is preparing for war.

PROCLAMATION OF THE PRESIDENT. WASHINGTON, April 14, 11 o'clock A. M. Whereas, The laws of the United States have been for some time, and are now being opposed, and the execution thereof obstructed, in the States of South Carolina, Alabama, Florida, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas, by combination, to be suppressed by the ordinary course of Judicial proceedings, or by the powers vested in the Marshalls by Law.

The details for this object will be immediately communicated to the State authorities through the War Department. I appeal to all loyal citizens to favor, facilitate and aid this effort to maintain the honor, the integrity and the existence of our National Government, and the re-assertion of the popular government and to redress the wrongs already long endured.

DEEMING that the present condition of public affairs presents an extraordinary occasion, I do hereby in virtue of the power in me vested by the Constitution, convene both Houses of Congress. The Senators and Representatives are therefore summoned to assemble at their respective Chambers, at 12 o'clock noon, on Thursday, the fourth day of July next, then and there to consider and determine such measures as in their wisdom the public safety and interest may seem to demand.

The President Expresses His Sentiments. WASHINGTON, April 14. In Mr. Lincoln's reply to the Virginia commission, after expressing his regret that the public mind is still uncertain as to his course, and referring to the policy marked out in his inaugural address, he said:—But if, as it now appears to be true, in the pursuit of a purpose to drive the United States authorities from these places, an unprovoked assault has been made upon Sumter, I shall hold myself at liberty to repossess, if I can, like places which had been seized before the Government was devoted upon me; and in any event, I shall, to the best of my ability, repel force by force.

Sympathies in the United States. HALTAM, April 13. The intelligence of the bombardment of Fort Sumter reached this city this forenoon. The Legislature, amidst intense emotion, passed the following resolution by a unanimous vote: "Resolved, that the House has heard with the deepest sorrow and regret of the outbreak of civil war among their friends and neighbors in the United States, that this House, without expressing an opinion upon the points in controversy between the contending parties, sincerely lament that those who speak their language and share their civilization should be shedding each others blood, and desire to offer up their fervent prayers to the Father of the Universe for the restoration of peace.

Pennsylvania Volunteers. The noble volunteers of this State are preparing. We understand that some thirty volunteer companies tendered their services to the Governor within twenty-four hours after the War bill had passed. Even Little Quaker Delaware county, is organizing a volunteer company. The western portion of this State is all for war, and we should not be surprised to hear that Pennsylvania will furnish troops enough to put down the Rebels at the South.

Excitement at Boston. BOSTON, April 13. An intense excitement was created in this city this afternoon by the receipt of the Charleston telegrams.
