To the Honorable Judges of the Court of Quarter Sessessions of Dauphin County:
The undersigned members of the Grand Jury of Dauphin county, recommend to the county Commissioners the appropriation of TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS out of the county funds, or if necessary to create a loan for that purpose, for the support and maintenance of the families of such of our citizens who have volunteered or who may hereafter volunteer during the present war. That we have found everything to be in good order, and, as a general thing, the prisoners have entered no complaint of either want of sufficient food or prepare are and attention; in the sufficient food or proper care and attention under the management of Mr. John R. Correspondence of the Telegraph. BALTIMORE, April 24, 1861.

Baltimore is fast being evacuated, the road from Baltimore to York is lined with carriages conveying families north, exorbitant demands are made by the livery stable keepers, but every charge is promptly paid, such is the eagerness of families to leave. The city is now quiet, and it is believed that a force of 10,000 Nothern troops determined to go through would not be attacked. The attack on the Massachusetts regiment was made by a lot of young cowardly vagabonds, who fled before the fire of only a few muskets. There is an evident fear pervading the respectable portion of the inhabitants that the city will be shelled or burnt and burnt to the ground.

The latest account from Washington report that pending the arrival of the troops from Annapolis a painful feeling of suspense existed there. No communication was recieved from the North from Friday to Tuesday, but from the South information was daily received of the concentration of Virginia troops to attack the Capital. The report that there were 14.000 Northern troops was confounded, the number including volunteers from the district and some 800 regulars did not exceed on yesterday morn-
