NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS.—All Advertisements, Business Notices, Marriages, Deaths, &c., to secure insertion in the TELEGRAPH, must invariably be accompanied with the CASH.

All communications recommending candidates for political offices must be sent to the office of the Editor, and otherwise they will be laid aside.

HARRISBURG, PA. Saturday Afternoon, May 31, 1862.

FRENCH.—A small daguerrotype case, containing a portrait of a gentleman. The owner can have the same by calling at our office and paying for this notice.

CORN.—The corn is up some three or four inches, and looks green, strong and healthy. The late showers have proved very beneficial to it, although a little warmer weather would do much towards its growth.

GALLANT CONDUCT OF A FORMER HARRISBURGER.—In the published report respecting the battle with the rebels during the retreat of General Banks' army, very favorable mention is made of the gallantry of Lieut. Ed. Whitman, formerly a resident of this city, who is attached to the staff of Acting Brig. Gen. Donnelly. During the battle, while dashing forward to convey an order, he was struck by a spent ball, producing, fortunately, a no more serious wound than a bruise.

BEAUTIFUL PRESENT FROM GOVERNOR CURTIN.—Last year a large intended for the trade between Fortville and the East, was launched at Schuylkill Haven, and on the suggestion of Mr. John H. Gaertner, was named "A. G. Curtin." The Governor has acknowledged the compliment by sending a blue silk flag, 6 feet by 4, to Captain Wagner, of the barges. It will be presented next week upon the return of the boat from New York. The flag bears the following inscription:

A. G. CURTIN.

PRESENTED TO THE UNION BARGE, A. G. CURTIN, OF SCHUYLKILL HAVEN, BY A. G. CURTIN. 1862.

The worthy Captain will unquestionably be the proudest of this beautiful present from the worthy Governor of Pennsylvania.

VAN AMBURGH'S MENAGERIE will visit this city on Monday week, and give two exhibitions, as announced in our advertising columns. This exhibition is purely a menagerie, having no circus attached, and is highly commended by the papers published in places which it has lately visited. It is the largest and most varied collection of specimens of the animal kingdom now in existence; in fact, it is about the only one now traveling which deserves the name of a menagerie, having a collection of trained animals whose performance is said to be very entertaining. They come with a good reputation. We recollect years ago that Van Amburgh was a "great institution" in the way of an "animal show," and have no doubt that he has been improving and enlarging his exhibition ever since. At least, wherever they have visited they have elicited commendation as forming a moral and instructive entertainment, which every one might attend, sure of being interested and more than satisfied.

UPON YOUR ORGANIZATIONS.—Upon this subject the Lancaster Express had some very well timed remarks, which are equally applicable to this city. The military excitement appears to have been utterly extinguished by the retreating of the order for troops which brought so many thousands of patriots to the city. So entirely has it subsided that we scarcely hear of any of the companies whose placards and drums enlivened our streets on Monday. The call had at least one good effect, showing what Pennsylvania and her sister States can do on an emergency; and we hope it will not be allowed to pass without making another improvement also. We refer to the keeping up, in full numbers and constant drill, of our volunteer military organizations. There were among us nearly, or quite three hundred men ready and booked to go—let them now stand by the companies which they then joined, or form new ones, as the case may be, and keep themselves in readiness and in practice, so as to be ready in case of a sudden and imperative call for their services. The companies formed here the other day, will have required some time for drill before being fit for effective service—hence they would have been of but little value as three months' men; but if they now remain organized and drill whenever and wherever possible, they will be prepared not only with courage and patriotism (which they now have in abundance) but with that discipline which makes an army out of the rough material. We hope these young men will not be thrown away, but set our hearts to thinking of this matter. We have but to point them to the gallant New York "Sevenths" to prove the truth of our remarks. Let us, then, as far as possible emulate its good example, and keep drilling and looking out for recruits all the time.

We see no reason why we should not have a full battalion of Zouaves, or Guards, or any other name, in our city, for we have the material and ought to have the will and the martial spirit necessary to render the material fit for use.

Many persons, some thoughtlessly and others we sincerely derive the idea of "Home Guards," they saw the Zouaves and Guards rise up in arms, and "go in" for the hard knocks. It is generally the case (let the reader observe the fact for himself) that those who swear at "home guards" and "playing soldiers" are the same who are always missing when the call to arms actually comes, while those whom they revile and deride step forward into the ranks. Keep your organizations, friends, and don't let a man take his name from the roll because the call is not just now imperative.

CITIZEN FIRE COMPANY.—A stated meeting of the Citizen Fire Company will be held at the company's house next Monday evening, at 7 1/2 o'clock. Punctual attendance is requested, as business of importance will be transacted.

QUARTERLY MEETING in the Ridge Avenue M. E. Church, to-morrow, Sabbath, June 1st, Preaching by Rev. Joseph Gregg, at 10 o'clock A. M., and Rev. F. Hodgson, D. D., at 7 1/2 P. M. Love-feast in the morning at 8 1/2 o'clock, doors closed at 9 A. M. All Christians are invited.

UNION STRAWBERRIES.—Our friend Miah, of the Keystone Nursery, below this city, had fine fresh strawberries of his own raising in the Market this morning, which attracted much attention, and hosts of purchasers. There were some boxes of the same fruit from "Dixie" also on hand, but they showed the effects of distant transportation, were much smaller, and did not possess that richness of flavor which distinguished those raised by Mr. Miah.

THE GOLDEN RAIN OF SPRING.—Agriculturists say that yesterday's rain, that fell alike upon the just and the unjust, was about as valuable as a shower of silver. Every drop was worth a three-cent piece. Peas, tomatoes, and other succulents rapidly approaching maturity, were parched with drought. The rain of yesterday to these was like the broth to hungry Zulus, without the sacrifices demanded by Jacob. Verily showers like these are only appreciated, as they should be, by people who live by watching the daily growth of the products of the earth.

RELIGIOUS.—The Lebanon Classis of the German Reformed Church of the State of Pennsylvania, will hold its session in the St. Emmanuel's Church, corner of Third and Chestnut streets, in this city, from Friday, the 30th of May to Tuesday, the 3d of June. The opening sermon was preached on Friday evening, by the Rev. Mr. Kramer, the President of the Classis, and preaching will take place in the morning and evening of each day. The proceedings of the Classis are public, and persons who may feel interested in them are invited to attend.

A MR. SEVERANCE recently spoke as follows, in the Minnesota House of Representatives, in support of a bill for the protection of the American Eagle: "I have only to say that any man who will in any way injure or take the life of our national bird, is mean enough to carry rotten sardines in the same pocket with musty fine cut tobacco, and pass the same around on the ace of spades, at the communion table; or would empty the canteen of a rebel prisoner and sit upon it, and whistle a Confederate air through the key hole of Washington's tomb."

FINE PAINTING.—Harry Davis, the popular artist, has just finished two magnificent marine paintings representing the sinking of the U. S. frigate Cumberland by the Merrimac, and the engagement of the latter with the Monitor on the following day. The sketches were derived from the most reliable sources, and have been transferred to the canvases in that skillful manner for which the artist is distinguished. The coloring of the water and sky, and the grouping of the distant vessels, are exceedingly natural. Of course, the paintings are intended to be added to the artist's panoramas of the great rebellion.

THE VERMONT RIFLES.—This company recruited chiefly in our city, commanded by Capt. Geo. A. Brooks, performed distinguished service with the Forty-sixth Pennsylvania regiment, to which it is attached, at the engagements with the rebels during the retreat of Gen. Banks. The following is a list of the casualties reported in the company after the battle:

Sergeant Philip Ohub, slightly wounded. Corporal Samuel C. Nace, Harrisburg, slightly wounded. Peter Flickinger, Harrisburg, missing. Thomas Lyon, Harrisburg, slightly wounded. Samuel Pheasant, Cumberland, wounded severely and missing. John Shelby, missing.

"HOOP-DE-DOO-DOO."—A young man of much modesty, who was left alone in a dry goods store, not a thousand miles from this city, during the dinner hour, received a visit from a beautiful young lady, who, after selecting some goods, expressed a great desire to try on a hoop skirt. The blushing clerk was much embarrassed by the proposition, but as the lady insisted, and appeared to be inclined to carry out her intention in the store, he begged her to walk into a private room in the rear. This she did, taking the goods she had selected with her. The clerk feeling great hesitation about hurrying a lady in so delicate an operation, left her there about fifteen minutes undisturbed, but thinking at last that she must have had sufficient time to re-arrange her toilet, gently opened the door, and found the window open, and the handsome lady, the goods, and the hoop skirt gone.

NEW COUNTERFEITS.—The Philadelphia Bulletin of last evening says:—"A new counterfeit three dollar note on the Williamsburg City Bank, N. Y., was placed in circulation last night. The following is a description of the bill: 8s, vig., female sitting with a shield under her arm, both hands resting on a scroll, Niagara Falls in distance; right end State arms and '3' above, left end Indian on a cliff, '3' below. Counterfeit fives on the Western Bank of this city, made their appearance this morning. These notes are good imitations of the genuine bills, and well calculated to deceive. They are dated March 1, 1862. Vig., man whetting a cradle on the left end, and a man with his implements on the right end. Figure '5' in red, on both upper corners, in the centre, large 'V', printed in red. This morning, about eleven o'clock, officers Green and Murray arrested two men, in the neighborhood of St. John and Green streets, for attempting to pass the Williamsburg notes. The prisoners had upon their persons $68 in bogus bills—$20 of the Western Bank, and the balance of the Williamsburg Bank. They gave their names as Pennypacker and Brown, and will have a hearing this afternoon, at the Central Station.

DAUPHIN COUNTY BOY DROWN.—Henry McCarty, of Dauphin, Dauphin county, aged about ten years, fell off the pier on the Delaware river, at the foot of Vice street, Philadelphia, yesterday morning, and was drowned.

SMITH—the "immortal" of course—went to serve his lady-love, but, being afflicted with a bad cold in the head, he let drive at her in this fashion: "Cub, oh cub with me, The lion is beakin; Cub, oh, cub with me, The stars are gleebin, An' all round above With beauty teakin; Bloodlight hours are best for lub." Smith felt that he was an unfortunate being, when a small boy opposite where he was singing, cried out, "Blow your nose, you dab fool."

DRUNKENNESS IN THE SOUTH.—From all accounts they have an awful lot of "drunk" down in Dixie: "Citizens" writes to the Mobile Advertiser: "It was supposed by all having a good opinion of our city and country at heart, that whiskey-drinking in Mobile was at an end—at least until a brighter sky overshadowed the Confederate States. What was thought to be a death blow to whiskey shops and outskirt sloppens, appears to have given new life and vigor and increased means in our city called 'Druggists.' There is scarcely a day or an hour passes but you can see visitors and citizens more or less intoxicated by that destroyer.—Many carry their bottles publicly, bearing the label of the druggist."

And the Richmond Dispatch says: "We are infested with hosts of thieves, blacklegs, prostitutes and others, who daily offend the nostrils with their obnoxious and polluting presence. Gambling dens abound in every direction. We appear to the senses as a city called 'Drugs.' There is scarcely a day or an hour passes but you can see visitors and citizens more or less intoxicated by that destroyer.—Many carry their bottles publicly, bearing the label of the druggist."

TERRIBLE DEATH ON THE RAILROAD.—On Thursday, about noon, an old man named Wolfersberger, from Marietta, whilst returning from church, at Columbia, was overtaken on the Pennsylvania railroad, opposite Simpson's boat yard, by the first freight train west.—The whistle of the engine was blown, as usual, on approaching the curve near the furnace. The old man was at that time on the right hand track or siding, and, alarmed by the whistle, stepped upon the main track on which the train was approaching. The engineer saw his mistake and sounded the alarm. Wolfersberger then became aware of his peril. He was on the main track which runs within a few feet of Mr. Simpson's shop on the left.—In his confusion, instead of returning to the siding he ran on the track evidently aiming to reach the upper end of the shop and there escape to the left of the road. In his haste, however, he caught his foot in a drain, or on a tie, and fell, and the engine was upon him before he could recover himself. He was horribly mangled, and killed instantly. His head was nearly severed from his body, holding only by the skin, and both legs and arms were cut or torn off. The brakes were put on the train when the whistle sounded, but it was a very heavy one, and could not be checked in time.
