THE UNION-THE CONSTITUTION-AND THE ENFORCEMENT OF THE LAW.

HARRISBURG, PA.

Saturday Afternoon, June 22, 1861.

ONE OF THE REASONS assigned for the destruc. tion of railroads, with their rolling stock, bridges and telegraph lines, is that they were all constructed by northern labor and genius, and never paid for by the southern companies. By demolishing thousands of feet of bridging, the mobs at the south are taught to believe that they are preying on northern capital, while the same lesson is inculcated in the burning of locomotives, pulling down telegraph poles and tearing up miles of railroad. There is a revenge in all this, which will recoil with a terrible effect on the people and the progress of the south. It will require years before the capitalists of the north will again invest their means to develope the deserts and sterrile fields of the alaye states, and years more to erect other improvements in the place of those which are now being destroyed by their mobs at the command of traitor leaders.

THE REPUBLICANS of Westmoreland county nominated the following very efficient and respectable ticket, to be voted for at the approaching fall election:

Assembly, D. W. Shryook, J. W. Blackburn Associate Judges, John L. Chambers, Alexander Coig; Prothonotary, John Barnett; Clerk of Courts, Caleb A. Steck; Treasurer, E. F. House-man; Commissioner, Thomas Gitson, Poor House Director, Joseph Nicewonger; Auditor H. C. Beacom.

D. W. Shryock, one of the candidates for the Legislature, is the editor of the Herald, and a man of superior abilities and attainments. He will, with his colleague on the ticket, reflect credit on old Westmoreland in the positions for which they have been selected.

THE SOLDIER who proves that temperance and morality are perfectly consistent with courage and gallantry, achieves a victory as noble as ever was or can be won on any battle field, and crowns himself with a wreath that will never fade. In fact, the struggle in which we are engaged is to prove to the tyrants and traitors at the south, the superiority and majesty of the people of the north, and therfore a moral bearing and a manly rectitude of conduct becomes as essential as a clean musket and a dry cartridge. Soldiers, remember this, as you turn your faces towards the land of rebelion and resentments.

Gov. J. W. GEARY has received authority from the War Department to enlist a regiment regiments for such recruits offering as come up to the strict standard he has adopted. It is the design of Col. Greary to make his regiment superior in every particular, and therefore none but the very best will be received as recruits. W. W. Lubrick, of this city, has been authorized by Gov. Geary to receive recruits at this point, and may be found at the Buehler house at almost any hour of the day.

A RESOLUTION has been introduced into the legislature of Maryland, to suspend the operation of the criminal laws, and shield from punishment the participators in the riot of the 19th of April last, in the city of Baltimore. For his last hours by the friends of the Union. this purpose it proposed that the Grand Jury shall be estopped from finding indictments against any of this class of offenders. This is piling Belion on Ossa. This is a step towards ent for the Republicans of the country to know offering immunity to treason beyond all that has ever been attempted.

THE ST. LOUIS REPUBLICAN says that since the flight of Governor Jackson from the capital of Missourl all the departments of the State government have been sealed and the keys given to Col. Boernstein. This was done with a view to avert all suspicion that the United States Government.

THE DEPARTMENT OF STATE has given notice that all passports which may be issued by a Diplomatic Agent accredited to this Government. or by any Consular authority whatsoever, either to a person about to proceed beyond the lines of the United States forces or to a foreign country, will be countersigned by the Secretary of State.

THE PENNSYLVANIA REGIMENTS in Virginia have adopted for their watchword in the time of battle : Remember Greble! This will ring to the traitors as terribly as once the battle cry of Remember Paoli rang in the ears of the servile soldiers of an imbecile tyrant.

THE DEPARTMENTS in Washington are now of troops to benefit the enemy. This is strictly carried out as regards the War Department, whose vigilance, as well as vigor, is necessary.

GEORGE B. CRABB, JR., a volunteer in one of ond Lieutenant in the regular army, in the Fifth Artillery Regiment. Lieut. Crabb is a printer, and will of course make a good soldier.

HEMP GROWERS would do well to cultivate stock of a superior quality, as the demand for Let the chivalry be careful how they dig about the many make the roots of their family tree! They may make the ro tion of this rebellion.

When Abraham Lincoln was inaugurated, denouncing the opposition which the adminsailed as so many unconstitutional assumptions of power, for which Abraham Lincoln would be tion, simply because they cherished the hope and completion of this act of usurpation and rebelit was in the south. The same instincts victory from the territories to the Commonanimated men of similar proclivities in wealths of this Union, until states became subboth sections, with the difference that in the north the masses of the people had already broken down the barriers of a party that ity interposed to shape our ends, and rough held in subjection the mases of the south—so that the firing on Sumpter, instead of signalising the outburst of popular enthusiasm in the north for southern usurpation, elicited the indignation of the northern masses, drove them to arms, and marshaled them into irresistable phalanx and regiments to defend the honor and the unity of the whole country. It was the startling revelation of this fact that has driven the men who had promised to aid the traitors at the south to a meaner shift in order to play a still meaner game-and now finding that they have been foiled in their attempt to contribute to rebellion by open assistance and participation, they seek to escape this responsibility of their equality in crime, by obliterating all party lines, that they may find shelter and protection in the general confusion that would consequently follow.

The opposition to the Democratic party has always been waged simply because that party had wielded its influence, when in power, to the hour that it emerged into existence to the day that it went down into the tomb with the immortal Clay, the old Whig party struggled territory to freedom, and the more enlarged more battle, to issue one more order, and then and improved condition of free labor. In the Cabinet and Congress, when represented sence he will live in a glory more transcend by its leading men, such was the policy antly bright than that which has marked his of Whig principles—but when its great leaders fell, when its great Kentucky exponent passed from the scenes of his triumphs and his fame-and his compeer and colleague, Webster, followed him into the darkness of the tombthe Whig party seemed to sink with the immortal dead, and stop its mighty animations of truth and justice. But its principles survived the dissolution of its organization. They hovered over the destinies of this country in the deliberations of those who governed, as the conscience of bad men sometimes impel them to virtuous deeds, when their fits of desperation have subsided, and when the gaged in the city of Philadelphia, filling up his corruptions of the last administration, its dying of southern trial and danger, those upon whom dred and fifty of whom are encamped four Democratic party had run its lengths in the hours were devoted to phreneied efforts to save hours were devoted to phrensied efforts to save the south depended, the democracy of such of seventy, and sixty infantry, are at Bunker's the government from the destruction to which States as Pennsylvania, turn a deaf ear to their Hill, and others between that point and the it had impelled it, forced to do so by the sentiment which animated the immortal Clay before the sinews of war against their old friends in his usefulness. And that force was the result of south, that they still have sympathisers here in candidates, were the same who upheld James Buchanan until he could no longer resist the force of public opinion, and when he yielded to the sentiment of serving his country, he was deserted by his old friends, and supported in

To whom should Republicans yield? Let those answer who are constantly clamoring for the destruction of party lines. It is sufficithat thus far they have triumphed, and that if are but the beginning of her contributions to they yield their policy and principles now, they also yield the prospects of the Union. They have not been requested to do so by the masses of his country. Those who demand the abrogation of all party lines still ding to the rotten carcass of the old Democratic organization—still talk of compromising with traitors, and hint at the unconstitutiontroops had unduly interfered with the State ality of the struggle in which we are engaged. And they are anxious for this destruction of party that they may the easier control the masses of the north, and again establish the influence of southern statesmanship and southern institutions in this government. It is the policy of the Republican organization to preserve this Union-to enforce its laws and punish traitors. As long as it clings to this policy we will cling to its organization, and battle against its destruction as we now struggle with those who have sworn to dissolve this Union. Republican principles, the Union and the Constitution, are one and inseparable, and are all dependent upon the vigorous organization of the Republican party.

Mixed Blood.—Our southern neighbors—especially our Virginia neighbors-should be governed by the utmost secresy, to prevent the careful how they boast of their illustrious deuse of information in regard to the movements scent. They should remember that convicts as well as Cavaliers were sent over from the mother soil; that for every shipload of honest emigrants, there were delegations of rogues. They should remember that the two streams of emigration have mingled their currents: our city companies, has been appointed a Sec. and that the stock has become suspiciously "mixed." Who shall say how far nobility and infamy have amalgamated; how far the "lord of the manor" and the tenant of the hulk have sent their blood coursing in a common stream through the veins of after generations?

THE LIBERALITY OF PENNSYLVANIA, and the promptness with which our citizens have taken the different loans to assist in carrying on the war, has elicited alike the envy of the traitors and the applause of the loyal citizens of the country. THE REBELS PREPARING FOR FIGHT.

> FORTRESS MONROE, June 21. via Baltimore 22.

The regiment which yesterday made a reconoisance towards Great Bethel, returned late in the evening, having gone to the neighbor hood of Little Bethel. They have no intelligence of importance. It is understood, however, that the rebels are concentrating a large force at Yorktown. Two hundred of the naval brigade encamped to day at Hampton. This remnant of the brigade is under command of Col. Wardrop, of the Third Massachusetts Regiment.

The excessive heat of the past few days has been very trying to our troops in active service. The facilities for sea bathing at Old Point and Newport News, however, contribute greatly to their health and comfort. Important information has been obtained from socalled spies from Sewell's Point. I am not at liberty to state all that has come to light, but it is safe to say that important movements are going on at Sewell's Point, and also at Willoughby's Point, some three miles further down, and opposite the Rip Raps, or the old Fort Calhonn

The wounded at the hospital are doing well. Private Vincenucs, shot through the chest at Great Bethel, is in a fair way of recovery. An immense quantity of hospital stores has arrived within a few days; in part the generous contributions of societies and individuals.

In a letter brought down by the flag of truce a few hours ago, Col. Magruder, in command of confederates, addressed Gen. Butler as commandant at Fortress Morroe. The reply contained the gentle reminder that Gen. Butler commands the department of Virginia. It appears by this letter that the rebels have but one prisoner. A large number of officers go north to night on furlough. Quarter Master McArthur proceeds to New York with government despatches.

An Alarm at Georgetown-Amusements of the Rebels.

Washington, June 22. Speaker Allen, of Indiana, leaves here to-morrow for Indianopolis, to lay before Gov. Morton the requisition of the War Department for four additional regiments from that State. to be taken from the First, Second and Third Congressional districts. A large number of companies have already been formed in that part of the State, and more are organizing, with view to immediate service in these regiments. At two o'clock this morning a camp half s mile from Georgetown, was thrown into alarm ground that traitors could be granted only such and the men were called into quarters, but the commotion soon subsided. It may have been occasioned by a firing at the pickets, as according to the representation of the soldiers the secession scouts have for some time past been indulging in such amusements on both sides of the river. Another evidence of active war preparations is the fact that Quarter Master General Meigs advertised for baggage wagons.

LARGE NUMBERS KILLED AND WOUNDED

Sr. Louis, June 21. The Democrat has a special dispatch from Syracuse, about twenty-five miles south of Booneville, which says that an expedition of nearly 1,000 strong, with four pieces of artil lery, under Capt. Totten, of the regular service left Booneville Wednesday night and reached this place at 10 A. M. yesterday. Gov. Jackson, with about 500 men, arrived here on Tnesday, and after impressing property of both friends and foes, being afraid of pur-suit, suddenly left yesterday forenoon, pro-ceeding southward towards Warsaw. Our forces have gone forward to-day, but there is little hope of overtaking the fleeing party.

A battle took place at sunrise on Tuesday morning, between 800 Union Home Guards un der Capt. Cook, near the town of Cole Camp, and a large party of Secessionists from Warsaw and the surrounding country, at which 15 Guards were killed, 20 wounded, many of them severely, and 30 prisoners were taken. Most of the Guards were in a large barn when the firing began, but they im mediately sprung to arms, and 'tis said killed 40 of the attacking party before being over powered by superior numbers, but nearly all of them escaped and are ready to join our forces to dispute the passage of the State troops.
