THE MORNING TELEGRAPH Is issued every morning and contains THE LATEST TELE-GRAPHIC DISPATCHES received during the night.

THE RUM MILLS.—The only class who dese crated independence day by doing business, were the rum mill proprietors, who kept up a continuous flow of lager and whisky, making men drunk and coining money, while the mass of our business citizens closed their establishments and observed the day in a patriotic manner. The beer and whisky sellers are directly and solely responsible for all the drunkenness and last night.

They went through a variety of novel and difficult has reason to be proud of his young Zouaves sho, we predict, will in a short time compare invorably with the best drilled companies of rangements, mounted. the kind in the country.

FLAG PRESENTATION.—The Union Cadets were vesterday presented with a handsome flag, manufactured for the purpose, by several young ladies. The ceremonies took place at the residence of Mr. Wm. Sayford, in Market street. and Joshua M. Weistling, Esq., presented the flag, on behalf of the donors, making an appropriate and eloquent speech, which was responded to by Captain Sayford. The young soldiers then gave three cheers for the flag and three for the ladies, and resumed their march. The tlag is a beautiful one, creditable to the taste and skill of the manufacturers.

SPLENDID FLAG. -- One of the largest and finest flag was brought here from Fort Pulaski, Georgia, by Ordnance Sergeant Luke Walker, through many vicissitudes. On being ordered to hoist the flag, by Col. Bartow, commanding remarkably well. the Georgia volunteers, Sergeant Walker perangements to have the flag displayed in this city on the fourth of July, and it was accordingly flung to the breeze yesterday morning by Brumbaugh. It attracted general attention during the day.

SAD ACCIDENT.—One of the most distressing features connected with the celebration of independence day was the accident on Capitol Hill. during the firing of a national salute by a squad of Capt. Brady's artillery company, which resulted in very serious injury to one of the gunners, Mr. Henry Welsh, of Philadelphia.-When loading for the second round the cannon prematurely exploded, owing either to a defect in the piece or carelessness in the vent-holder, shooting Mr. Welsh in both hands, and lacerating them in such a terrible manner as to render immediate amputation necessary. He was also struck on the breast and severely wounded. A piece of the rammer stick struck the door of Mrs. Humes, a considerable distance off, on Third street, making a slight indentation in the wood. The unfortunate man was taken into the Arsenal and subsequently removed to Camp Curtin, where he now lies in a suffering and critical condition.

After writing the above, we heard the death of Mr. Welsh reported.

FLAG RAISING.—At eight o'clock yesterday starry emblem of our nationality was being run American Eagle occupying a prominent position. p, the Union Band of Lebanon played the time-honored national air Hail Columbia in exof our good old flag, in "thoughts that breathed novel and attractive display they made on this and words that burned," and elicited enthusiastic applause. He briefly reviewed the causes which led to our present difficulties, and was terribly severe upon the secession sympathisers who talk of "compromise" with armed rebels marshalled under the three striped flag which represents "theft, perjury and treason." He held it to be the duty of every true American citizen to sustain the government in its effort to crush out rebellion and treason, and maintain the laws, without stopping to count the

Before the hour fixed for the grand procession, the First City Zouaves made a parade through the principal streets, attracting general attention and eliciting the admiration of and disorder which disgraced our city yesterday all for their neat appearance, soldierly bearing, and the accuracy with which they marched.-Three other neatly equipped companies, combilled last evening in presence of a large num. posed of juveniles, also paraded and created quite a sensation. The orator of the day, Rev. Dr. Charles A. Hay, was then introduced, and addressed the people for over one hour in his usual able and impressive manner. As the oration is to be published at length in the TELEGRAPH this afterwere thronged with gaily appareled pedestrians, noon, we deem any comment upon it unnecessary now, further than to say that it embodied sentiments of the purest patriotism, and irresistable arguments against the heresy of secession and in favor of maintaining the union of these States "one and inseparable, now and forever." The oration made a good impression and the Reverend orator was enthusiastically cheered during its delivery.

Mr. Hay having concluded, a resolution was offered and adopted, tendering the thanks of the meeting to the officers, the orator of the day and reader of the Declaration, the Marshals, the Clergy who officiated, the Eintracht Society and the Bands, for the able and satis factory manner in which all had discharged their duties on the occasion. Also to the old soldiers, the officers and soldiers of Camp Curtin, the volunteer and fire companies of this city, for their handsome display on the occasion. A resolution was also adopted requesting Rev. Dr. Hay to furnish a copy of his oration for publication.

After another song by the Eintracht Society, music by the Lebanon Band, and the benediction by Rev. Dr. DeWitt, the meeting was dismissed and the crowd dispersed. This ended the regular programme of exercises, and it affords us great pleasure to say that everything passed off in a way satisfactory to our people generally and creditable to the committee of arrangements. During the afternoon the streets continued crowded with people, old and young, and immense quantities of fire crackers ed. Everybody seemed to be "gay and happy," and determined to make the most of the national holiday.

At two o'clock the old soldiers met around the festive board in Brant's Hall, where they indulged in a sumptuous dinner, and had a remptorily refused to do so, thus defeating the sixty strong, fully uniformed and armed with good time generally. The festivities of the occasion wound up with private pyrotechnic displays in various sections of the city, some of which were very handsome and attracted large crowds of admiring specta tors. The streets were thronged with pedestrians until a late hour; and in the absence of a general exhibition of fire works, which has been customary in former years, the people contented themselves with viewing the grand pyrotechnic display in the heavens, afforded by the Comet which now looms up nightly in brilliancy and magnificence. In closing our report of the doings of independence day, we repeat that the demonstration was a splendid and creditable one, and proved that the spirit of seventy-six still animates the hearts of the descendants of the revolutionary heroes. With a few exceptions sobriety and good order prevailed throughout the city limits; and but one serious accident occurred to mar the pleasures of the occasion. May all who participated in of the occasion. May all who participated in the festivities yesterday live to welcome the advent of another anniversary of American Independence, when "the Flag of our Union" shall float over thirty-four reunited and prosperous States.

FIRE THIS MORNING.—About four o'clock this morning the room occupied by Dr. Harris, in the Patriot and Union building, was discovered to be on fire. An alarm was made, but owing to the delay of the firemen in responding, at so early an hour, the flames gained considerable headway. When the machines were put in operation, however, the room was in a short time flooded with water, and the fire suppressed. But for timely discovery, a disastrous conflagration would have been the result. The origin of the fire is not known.

"THE UNION MUST BE PRESERVED."-We noticed yesterday a large banner spanning Second store, containing the names of the thirty-four States. Attached to this banner was an American flag with] the old Jackson motto: "The Union must and shall be preserved." The affair was neatly gotten up and did credit to our patriotic friend Mr. Shaeffer, who is sound on the Union question.
