WILL THOSE DEMOCRATS, who are now clamoring for a reduction of the salaries of civilians in office, themselves do a simple act of justice? Hundreds and thousands of those fellows have been in office through years of laziness, accumulating fortunes on sinecure salaries, or amassing immense sums out of fat contracts. Harrisburg has a host of these pampered politicians, some of whom never performed an honest day's labor, and all of whom spend the idle time to the Union. This, in the estimation of their which their ill-gotten gain has given them, in old allies of the south, constitutes a most grievabusing the government, denouncing the federal authority, and in many ways giving aid and comfort to the enemy. These are the men who now clamor for a reduction of the salaries of the clerks, porters and messengers in the employ of the general government, not to increase its economy, but to "punish and disappoint the dam Black Republicans." Will these men disgorge in proportion to what they desire to reduce the pittance received by the clerks, part of that ill-gotten gain which now lines their pockets? Are the contractors who still live on the wealth they filched from Pennsylvania, willing to come up to this standard of patriotism? It is only fair that they should do sylvania and the politicians and traitors of the se, or forever hold their peace on the subject of south, there is no change in their relations to economy, and a reduction of the wages of those the Union. They have decreed that the Union who do the labor in conducting the business of must and shall be preserved! government.

JOHN HICKMAN, of Pennsylvania, introduced a bill in Congress to define and punish conspir acy, which was, of course, opposed by Mr. Vallandigham, of Ohio, and Mr. Burnett, of Kentucky. The bill, however, passed, and the probability now is that certain men who are covertly aiding treason, may suddenly find themselves entangled in the meshes of the law, when they can invoke the aid of habeas corpus if they desire to do so, as certain men have recent. ly fallen so desperately in love with that ancient writ.

IF THE ACTION of the House committee of Ways and Means is to be taken as decisive of its purpose not to report any general tariff bill at present, we beg to express the heartiest concurrence in their conclusion. Lay any special duties which may be thought necessary on tea, coffee or sugar, but do not now enter on the discussion of tariff principles in general. This conclusion will be commended by the friends of the protection of labor throughout the whole

THE STATES IN REBELLION.

Among all the states composing the American nion, Pennsylvania has always occupied a high position, on account of the influence of her natural wealth and resources, and the force of her preponderating population, with their genius, enterprise and industry combined. In the councils of the nation, these facts gave to Penndid prominence and distinction. In the political progress of the country, when parties were waging a bitter rivalry for power, they made Pennsylvania a desirable ally, without whose aid no political party could succeed. Southern politicians, understanding and appreciating the immense influence which Pennsylvania wielded in the councils of the nation, and the still greater influence she exercised in the formation of those councils, as well as the shading of their political complexion, sought the alliance of such power by the best means they could bring to its success. No people ever served a section Pennsylvania, through their political leaders Polk to the Presidency, that the circle of the The bill authorizing the enlistment of 500,000 slave power might be increased southwardthe states where it existed, but in a sturdy sought also to disseminate its prostitutions and degradation

The relation of the people of Pennsylvania to the rebels after all the service they have give to the people of the south, is therefore peculiar thority for the purpose of assisting in maintaining the unity of the states, enforcing laws which were the result of that unity, and protecting property vested in all the states alike, from the aggrandisement or destruction of a few of those states, that have been violently seeking the repudiation of the responsibilities and obligations they incurred by a common loyalty to a common allegiance. STILL UPPERMOST.

Pennsylvania will keep turning up at the top of the heap with every fresh change. Our friends in Gotham, says the Philadelphia North American, had set their hearts upon ignoring Cameron on account of the tariff; he became head of what is really the most important department now. They were firmly bent upon ousting Forney from the office of Clerk of the House, and as the result Pennsylvania got the Speaker. They again had settled it conclusively that Pennsylvania should not have the Secretaryship of the Senate, and lo! Forney is elected to that office! They were tired of the Pennsylvania Chief Clerk in the War Department, and when Mr. Sanderson was transferred to the army, Mr. Lesley succeeded him. They were resolute that Pennsylvania should have no foreign appointments, but she has got the Ministers to Turkey, Portugal, Sweden, the Consul-General to British India, and other lucrative berths. They decried her volunteers and generals, and in the result we perceive that two Philadelphians command the most important wings of the army—McClellan and Patterson-wings of the army—McClellan and Patterson—and their operations have been attended with permanent and enduring success.

With such brilliant fruits of their anti-Pennsylvania policy we might advise these New York gentlemen to continue, for as sure as they do so we shall be the gainers by it. But as we have more regard for New York than she has for us we can afford to be generous now. General Sanford, a veteran and accomplished officer, vainly waited and dallied in Washington expecting to be assigned some active service, as he had a right to, but going voluntarily with some proper services as the permanent and enduring success.

Mr. Pearce (Md.) presented a memorial from the police commissioners now confined at Fort McHenry, who were arrested and confined by order of Maj. Gen. Banks. The memorialists solemnly declare that the would have discharged their duties impartially and in obedience to the laws and the constitution, and that any evidence to the contrary is false.

They state that the grounds set up by Gen. Banks is based on no authority at all, and that Marshall Kane is a man of integrity and worth, and that no body of men are less liable to the charge of unlawful combination than the police force of Baltimore. They submit that the pro-clamation by which they were arrested was no warrant of law, and ask the interposition of Congress in their behalf.

Mr. Pierce said the gentlemen were known to him and he believed them to be of the highest in egrity and faithful to the Constitu-tion. He did not believe that proof could be adduced against them. The memorial was referred to the committee on Judiciary.

Mr. HALE (N. H.) introduced a bill to increase the medical corps of the navy.

Mr. Anthony offered a resolution for the esablishment of a naval academy on Narragantsett Bay. He urged, in a few remarks, the appropriateness of the site, for salubrity of climite, and loyalty and maritime character of the people.

Mr. Grimes. (Iowa) from the Committee on Naval Affairs, introduced a bill to provide for the temporary increase of the navy. Mr. Foot, (Vt.) said there was a pressing necessity for the passage of the bill when priva-teers are injuring our commerce. The bill authorizing the Secretary of the Na vy to purchase or hire such vessels as may be necessary during the war to suppress piracy and render effectual the blockade, appropriates $3,000,000. The bill passed.

Mr. Holman, (Ky.,) introduced a resolution authorizing the select committee, heretofore appointed to examine into the war department ontracts, to extend their inquiries into the facts or circumstances of all contracts and agreements made, or hereafter to be made, prior to a final action of the committee, by or with any department of the government; that the committee have leave to sit during the recess, at such times and places as they may deem necessary; that they we empowered to employ a stenographer or clerk; that the sergeant-atarms attend the meetings in person, or by deputy, to serve all subpoenas; that the Speaker be authorized and directed to issue subpœnas at the request of the committee, as in cases during the session of Congess.

Mr. Kellogg (Ill.) opposed the extension o the inquiry, which could be authorized only on the assumption that something is wrong. He was not disposed to establish an advisory and controlling board, in effect to have eight in-stead of one head of a department. There was nothing to warrant putting the Secretary of War under the ban of the committee. He was opposed to a roving committee without limita-tion as to time and place. He believed that the Secretary of war was faithfully and honestly attending to the duties of his high and responsible office.

Mr. Roscon Conkling, (N. Y.,) briefly opposed the resolution, principally because he was averse to the appointment of a roving commis-

Mr. Holman, (Ind.,) said that the resolution was reported by direction of the committee, and had his concurrence. He argued that it implied no censure of the administration. Mr. Dawes (Mass.) as a member of the Com
