RETURNED .- Lieut. Geo. W. Davis, and four privates of the Cameron Guards, who remained behind the company, returned home this morning, bringing with them Ellis Lewis Eck in a suffering condition from illness. The Lieutenant is "gay and happy" as usual, and seems to have been phisically benefitted by the campaign. He talks of re-entering the service for the balance of the war.

THE WORTH INFANTRY, of York, made another parade last evening. In the progress of their march the company halted in front of our sanctum and honored us with three hearty cheers, given in the regular Zouave style, in return for proved themselves to be true gentlemen as well as good soldiers.

ASSAULTED A WOMAN. - Yester Jay afternoon Alexauder Walker was arrested for a brutal assault upon his step-daughter, Mary Hainer. and threatening to kill her. He was committerm. Complaint was made against the same that loc dity.

FOR COLD SPRING .- This morning an excursion train containing a large number of the farmers of Susquehanna and adjoining townships, left for Cold Spring, the place selected for their annual harvest home celebration. Our agriculturists have reason to be thankful for the abundant crops with which the God of harvests has blessed them the present season. A number of our citizens participated in the excursion, and we have no doubt all had a pleasant time.

SIMMIR -Mi summer, with all its rich promises of future abundance is now upon us. The trees underneath which we walk and the turf beneath our feet, is clothed in emerald green. The air is redolent with the fragrance of multitudinous flowers, and around nearly every cottage in our town can be seen the red and the white of the rose. It is an historical flower; years ago its different colors were adopted by each other. Years have passed, yes centuries, matic of truth.

HAND TIMES. - There is no just reason for the great clamor that is raised in many quarters about hard times. In the manufacturing dis tricts, especially those which are dependent on Southern patronage, many are thrown out of em, ployment, and there must be no little suffering; but there is more money in the country than ever before, and it is constantly coming in. Our importations are much less than usual. while the exportations of bread-tuffs, etc., are unusually large. The re is a steady and increasing demand for grain, and provisions, while goods of all descriptions are cheap. In the farming communities there is no just reason for tight times, beyond that growing out of the universal want of confidence which is discouraging investments and piling up money in

LIEUT. FRANK DAVIES .- It is with a great deal of pleasure that we make the announcement of the safe return of Lieut. Frank Davies to Washington. A letter has been received from him by friends in this city, dated at Washington yesterday. The Lieutenant was in the thickest of the fight for several hours, and was at the side of Col. Cameron when that gallant officer fell mortally wounded. When the panic took place the Lieutenant accompanied his regiment in the retreat, and having lost his horse, he arrived some time on Monday, and reached Washington yesterday. Our gallant young been complimented in official quarters for his skill and heroism. Should the remains of h s their gallant defenders. late esteemed Colonel be found, Lieutenant Davies will accompany them to this city, by special request of Gen. Simon Cameron, brother of the deceased. The people of Harrisburg should greet with a hearty welcome the young hero

GEN. M'CLELLAND EN ROUTE FOR WASHINGTON General M'Clelland, the hero of Western Virginia, passed through this city this morning en route for Washington. A number of regiments You're a bully boy. I belong to the fifth, and intend going back to fight under you." The "On to Washington," is the watch-word, and in which he said he would be glad to see as many of the three months' volunteers return as possible. He referred to the affair at Manageas. and said all we had to do was to try it over. This remark was loudly cheered. As the train moved off the General bowed to the impromptu crowd from the platform, and retired amidst much enthusiasm.
