WASHINGTON, August 6.

During the delivery of the prayer the utmost solemnity prevailed, all the spectators remaining uncovered, not only at that time, but throughout the scene of the execution. Several gentleman were melted to tears. Armstrong stood firm, with his eyes closed. He was supported by a gentleman who mounted the scaffold for that purpose.

After Mr. McAuley had concluded, Armstrong stepped forward, and in a firm and unflinching manner spoke as follows :

-DELING SPRECH OF ARMSTRONG.

" My friends, let me say in passing, I die in peace with my Maker, and if at this moment a pardon were offered to me on condition of giving up my Maker, I would not take it. To the few people here, I would advise them to take warning by my fate. Sabbath breaking was the first cause.

"I bid you farewell. To the Prison Keepers, to Mr. Perkins, to Sheriff Kern, and to my Spir-itual adviser, Mr. McAuley. ACTIVITY IN MILITARY CIRCLES.

"I bid farewell, gentlemen, I bid you all fare-well; I now die in peace with everybody."

There was much disappointment that the dving man had made no allusion to the crime Prince Napoleon, who started to visit Manasfor which he was about to suffer ; and at the sas, did not return to Washington this morning last moment he showed the same reticence in this respect, as at the time of his sentence.
