HARRISBURG, PA.

Wednesday Afternoon, August 21, 1861.

COUNTY COMMITTEE.

The County Committee of the People's party will meet at the Court House in Harrisburg, on Tuesday, the 27th day of August, inst., at 10 o'clock P. M.

P. IRWIN, Chairman.

Attest, J. V. YOST, Secretary, Harrisburg, Aug. 19, 1861.

Within the last week Alderman Kline has sent about four hundred volunteers into the service of the United States.

MILITARY RELIEF FUND.—An adjourned meeting of the Committee will be held this evening at the Exchange at 6 o'clock. By order of the President, O. EDWARDS, Sec'y.

THE DOG LAW.—A number of our citizens are under the impression that the dog law expired on the 20th inst. This is a mistake. The law does not expire until the 20th of September, and it will be strictly enforced until that time.

SHINDIG IN TANNER'S ALLEY.—A negro ball came off in the Masonic Hall, Tanner's Alley last night, which was kept up until a late hour, and then broke up in a row. The establishment should be returned to court as a nuisance.

THE VERY THING.—Volunteers going to the war should provide themselves with a gum overcoat, blanket, cape, cap cover, or drinking cup, all of which articles they can find in great variety at the establishment of Wm. S. Sheaffer, north side of Market Square, near Buehler's Hotel.

PAYMENT OF VOLUNTEERS.—A general order has been issued directing that at the end of this month, and every two months thereafter, all volunteers shall be mustered for pay. One copy of the pay roll to be sent to the Adjutant General's office, two to the paymasters of the district or post where the regiment is stationed, and the remainder at headquarters.

A PROPOSITION.—Are there not Union ladies in this city to equip, without feeling it, a company of cavalry. Let them each contribute one of their heaviest sets of silver to begin with, and it that don't do let their superfluous jewelry go till they get enough. If we are to restore our glorious Union, as we must do, their husbands can afford to get new and fashionable ones; and if we do not, and are doomed to drink the conqueror's chains, let our spouses neckties and jewelry be of the same material.

RECRUITING BOUNTIES.—By an order from the War Department the two dollars bounty per man, hitherto paid to persons obtaining recruits, has been abolished. As this has caused some dissatisfaction, an explanation of the policy that has dictated it becomes necessary.

A bill was brought before Congress last session authorizing the War Department to give as bounties to the three months volunteers, on re-enlistment, the sums of thirty, forty and fifty dollars, under certain specified conditions. For this was wisely substituted a law adding two dollars a month to the pay of the soldier. There was no object of economy in the change, for while under the first bill the recruit would get only $30, unless when enlisting with a company or regiment, under the second he obtains by the above addition to his pay for the three years $72. The difference as against the government will be seven millions of dollars—the aggregate amount of the additional pay for the volunteer force for the three years being twelve, while that of the $30 bounty would be only five millions. Of the moral advantage of this arrangement there can be no doubt. When the soldier gets a bounty he is apt to dissipate it at once, his family deriving no benefit from it; whereas, by the present system, he can easily be induced to allocate his monthly pay, or a portion of it, to the support of those dependent upon him. The bounty to persons obtaining recruits has been abolished, from the belief that the addition made to the soldiers' pay will be sufficient inducement to compensate for its necessity.

POICES.—Before the Mayor.—Peter Maglaughlin, a short, stout, squally individual of twenty-five years or thereabouts, with a pug nose set in a face as broad as a full moon, was arraigned for the offence of drunkenness. Peter said he lived in Carlisle and had come here to enlist, but unfortunately got into the ranks of captain whiskey, and was stowed at the first fire, he was discharged.

Philip Garret, a jolly looking waterman from the pine regions, belongs to a raft, which he had lodged on a rock somewhere in the river. He was tired of waiting for a rise, and got high himself, in which condition he was piloted to the lock-up. Discharged on a promise to leave the city in two hours.

Joseph Wilson, is a "boud soger boy" and belongs to Col. Black's regiment. Joseph got slightly inebriated yesterday, and observing the poor horse mill-wagon, laden with flour, he approached the driver and informed him that he had been appointed by the Government to take charge of the team, whereupon he mounted the wagon and took a seat. The driver took the matter coolly, and turned his horse's head towards the Mayor's office, at which place he stated the position of affairs, when Joseph was transferred from the wagon to the lock-up. The Mayor remanded him to await the orders of his Colonel.

Peter Shilling & Son, brushmakers of Reading, were arraigned, charged with selling brushes without a license. The case was finally disposed of by the parties paying the costs and promising to take out a license.

Barney O'Bryan, a picky negro, was charged with disorderly conduct in the lower market house. Sent across the street to mend his ways.

A milkman, named Stevens, yesterday brought to the lock-up a dilapidated looking individual whom he charged with having committed depredations on his (Stevens') cornfield. We did not hear the result of the hearing.

THE BIDDLE GUARDS.—We incorrectly stated yesterday that this fine company of volunteers hailed from the town of Huntingdon. They came from M'Aladery's Fort, Huntingdon county, and are commanded by Captain G. B. Miles.

A MISTAKEN NOTION.—GOOD ADVICE FOR THE TIMES.—Some persons seem to think they must hoard up every cent they can get hold of, in order to provide against hard times, and we hear reasons on all sides about economy. This is a most mistaken policy. In fact it is the most certain way to bring about the very evil they fear. The suspension of all enterprises leaves the laboring people without the means of support, and the result is the prostration of every branch of business. Every man who has the means should persevere in his projects of improvement which promise to be productive. Men will still want houses to live in, bread to eat and clothes to wear. The farmer need not therefore hesitate to purchase fertilizers, to raise stock, and to put up such buildings as are necessary. Those who have wealth should live as heretofore, and men generally should remember that there is such a thing as being "penny wise and pound foolish." If the people cannot get work they cannot purchase food, and if they cannot purchase it, they must have it given to them.

Persons of means should remember this, when talking about curtailing expenses. In short, if improvements are needed, now is the time to make them. Those having means should rent and rebuild their houses, improve their farms, buy good substantial clothing, without involving themselves unnecessarily or imprudently, and thus keep the tailor, the storekeeper, the butcher and baker, as well as the mechanic and working man employed. If every man should shut himself up in his shell like a tortoise, we shall soon have want and suffering in earnest. Earnest, active men will be the more earnest and active, and while they advance the fortunes of those around them, they will advance their own. There is a prudent foresight that gathereth while it scattereth—a foresight which converts the five talents into ten, and the ten into twenty, while there is a blind economy that places the talent in the vault, allows it to lay there and rust, doing its possessor not any one else no good. Every man should be a good steward and not a miserably miser.

ARREST OF ALLIANCE SPOONSTEEL SPIES.—Information having been received at the Mayor's office, that a party of men supposed to be spies from the secessionists, would arrive to-day in the eleven o'clock train from Chambersburg, Chief Radabaugh, and a squad of specials proceeded to the depot, and upon the arrival of the train arrested three men who were pointed out as the suspected party by an officer from the division of the army under General Banks, who was also a passenger in the train.

The prisoners were taken to a private room in the Exchange, where they underwent a strict examination by the Mayor. They gave their names as Thomas J. Carson, Walter W. Kelley and Wm. M. Pegram and represented themselves as being citizens of Baltimore.

Carson is a fine looking, elderly gentleman, perhaps fifty years or thereabouts. His former home business in New York city, but has been living in Baltimore for the last several years. Kelley is a man apparently about thirty years, of medium size, and slimly built. He represented himself as a British subject and presented a passport signed by the British consul at Baltimore, and countersigned by the Secretary of State.

Pegram is about the same age as Kelley, and of like proportions and stature. All of the party were well dressed, and apparently men of means. Carson exhibited a "pass" from Col. Heintzelman countersigned by Gen. Cooper, dated August 9. Upon his person were also found a number of "passes" from officers in the confederate army, giving him privilege to visit his property in several of the Southern States.

In the carpet-bag owned by Pegram were found a number of sealed letters, among which, one directed to Judge Brewer, at Annapolis, and others to Mrs. M. Humphreys and Geo. Brewer, at Baltimore. These were opened and discovered to be signed by J. W. Brewer, a sergeant in the Washington Artillery of New Orleans, serving in the confederate army. They were principally descriptive of the battle of Bull Run, in which the writer participated.

Nothing of a suspicious nature was found in the carpet-bag of Kelley; but upon examining his person, the officers discovered a large number of letters sewed up very neatly between the mail of his shirt. These were principally of a business nature, written by parties at the South, and addressed to friends in Baltimore. An unusually large amount of drafts and bank notes were also found on his person.

All the letters were taken possession of by the Mayor, and the circumstances being deemed sufficient to detain the men in custody, they were put in the county prison for a further hearing.

So far as we can learn, the immediate cause of the arrest of the party was owing to a dispatch received in this city from Hagerstown, that the men had secretly crossed the Potomac from the Virginia side, at a point above Williamsport, and that one of them was a resident of Charleston, Virginia, and a noted secessionist.

There is no doubt, from the letters found in the possession of the party, that they are fresh from the rebel army in Virginia, and were en route for Baltimore with no good intentions.

Messrs. Editors.—I wish to call the attention of the public to a certain practice indulged in by the School Directors of certain townships in this county, by promising the schools to this or that individual long before the examination takes place. Now, sir, this is a habit which often throws superior teachers back to give place to inferior ones, merely because he had the promise of the school several weeks or months before the examination took place. We have no other tax payer, but we do think the directors should wait until they see the certificate before making any distinction whatever. We hope our worthy Superintendent will direct it distinctly understood to the respective Directors their duties in this respect. FAIR PLAY.

THE OHIO VOLUNTEERS.—At a meeting of the Cincinnati Zouave Guard (Co. D. 2nd Reg., O. V.) held after their return home, the following resolutions were reported by Messrs. Charles Mendelhall, L. V. Horten and T. Mardock, Committee, and unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we have been, together with our comrades of the First and Second Ohio Regiments, the recipients of many kindnesses from both stranger and friends, since our departure from the city, in the service of our country, therefore,

Resolved, That our warmest thanks are due the ladies, and citizens generally, of Zanesville, Steubenville, Pittsburg, Altoona, Harrisburg, Lancaster and Philadelphia, for their many acts of kindness and hospitality, shown us, both during our journey and from Washington, thereby greatly alleviating many of the hardships of a soldier's life.

Resolved, That we will ever remember, with feelings of the deepest gratitude, the hearty welcome extended to us by the citizens of Cincinnati on our return home, the approval of his friends being the highest reward a soldier can receive.

Resolved, That a copy of the above be forwarded to each of the above named cities for publication.

IMPORTANT LEGAL DECISION.—The Supreme Court has reversed the judgment of the Court below in the case of Wm. Frazier vs. the Pennsylvania Railroad, and awarded the defendants a new trial. The decision is a most important one, and a brief notice of its chief points will not therefore be out of place. Wm. Frazier, while in the employ of the company as a brakeman, received injuries in a collision near Irwin's Station, which he claimed was the result of gross negligence on the part of one of the company's engineers. He brought suit against the road and got a verdict of $5,775.00, but the defendants appealed to the Supreme Court, and the latter, after a careful examination of the questions at issue, reversed the judgment of the Court below, and ordered the defendants a new trial. The position taken by the Court in its decision may be summed up thus: An employer is not necessarily responsible to his employee for injury arising from the negligence of his fellow servant. But if he knowingly keeps in his employ a rash, careless and incompetent servant, and injury is thereby caused to another servant, the employer is responsible for the damage. If, however, the habitual carelessness or incompetency of the employee be known to a fellow employee who remains in the service without giving notice thereof to the employer, and receives an injury therefrom, the employer is not responsible. Character for care, skill and truth must alike be proven by evidence of general reputation, not of special acts.

HAVING returned from the city I now have on hand a full assortment of all kinds of Dry Goods: 200 pieces of new Calicos; 200 dozen of Stockings; a splendid lot of Black Alpaca; a large lot of Hoop Skirts; 1,000 yards of Cash for Toweling. All kinds of Summer Dress Goods at great reduction. S. LEWY, Rhoads' Old Corner.
