MOVEMENTS OF THE ARMY.

There is no doubt that the traiters have been the press of the northern states. The sympathy which has been published for them by a portion the press of the northern states. The sympathy which has been published for them by a portion the control of the sympathy which has been published for them by a portion the sympathy and openly proclaim their intention to be the 'American citizen' prouder than that of 'Roman citizen' in the days of the Scipios and Cresars. of the press which oppose the war, has had the effect of encouraging and enraging the rebels to a degree at which they never would have approached, had they fairly understood the force and temper of the loyal men of the north .--They have imagined that these sympathisers in our midst would be able to cripple northern effort to meet and crush rebellion, and hence in our own midst who are daily assailing our their boldness along our lines, and their persistent attempts to push their forces to the very limits of the federal capital. Public opinion limits of the federal capital. Public opinion and the courts are correcting these evils, and it now remains for the newspaper press that is loyal to correct another that is doing the cause of the T. It states that may be considered and the courts are correcting, and who are saying a power in a government of a people, founded upon the rights of a majority, to defend itself against all traitors at home and enemies abroad. We allude to statements in regard to the movements of of the press, that when it has gathered venom, the army When these are made in the northern press, they of course find their way, through it may turn and sting the hand which has carnorthern traitor and southern rebel hands, to the leaders of rebellion, by whom they are used with advantage to themselves and injury to our government. In order that we may escape any censure for such indiscretion, we intend in of southern pulpits, that our government should the future to refrain from all allusion to these movements, and content ourselves hereafter with simply giving the results of the victories that are in reserve for the troops of the federal government. The movements of the army or any of its divisions—their strength, position or destination, are matters that the public interests demand should be strictly guarded from publicity. With this conviction we have come to enacted? How many noblemen have been hurden and divisions—their strength, position or those who now rule. Shall not the star which answers to Illinois be brightest in the galaxy of Much will depend upon the result, and with equal truth we may say that the r. sult depends mainly upon the acts of the government. The Maryland legislature will meet again in Frederick the 1-st part of September. If by that time the rebels shall have gained another important victory in that region, (happily almost an impossibility,) the plan of the rebels in the legislature is to pass an ordinance of secession at once. It would not be surprising if the rebel ferocity fire and rapine—the jail and the gibtroops should attempt to occupy Frederick, as and forbearance characterize the other! The the column under Banks is now many miles re moved from that town, being in a good position to guard the various fords from the mouth of dria, Fairfax, &c., &c., who shoot our sentinels, the Monocacy r ver down to Great Falls. when brought in as prisoners, are released on Everything depends upon the position of our taking the oath of allegiance! Hissing traitors. army and government so far as the election in who keep the enemy informed of all our move will stand up for the Union if they doubt the power of the government to protect Maryland from invasion.

He is in Harrisburg at present for the purpose of discharging professional duties, before the court convened to-day. Few men in the state of Pennsylvania combine more forcibly and fully those qualities of head and heart es. sential to constitute a during soldier, sagacious statesman and shrewd lawyer than Bartram A. To the first he has just established his the omen that the doom of these traitors, which claim, while in the state Senate he fixed his we have so long predicted, is fast approaching. title to the second and his reputation before the courts of Pennsylvania leaves no room to doubt-his capacity in the latter. Gen. Shaeffer is always welcome in Harrisburg.

THE COUNTRY will be puzzled to understand the movement of the army under General Banks. His removal from Sandy Hook to the east side of the Monocacy was accomplished so quietly that the people have been taken by surprise, and are puzzled to account for the important movement. One result of the withdrawal of our troops from Sandy Hook is, that Washington city will lose its accustomed supply of Cumberland coal, as the upper sections of the canal are once more in the hands of the rebels. A good deal of sympathy must be felt for the loyal men of Harper's Ferry, Martinsburg and the Maryland border, who will be subjected to insults and persecution the moment our troops are out of the way. Frederick will be liable to invasion under present circumstances, unless a force is thrown into Hagerstown; but the public may have the fullest confidence that the recent movements of the army in that vicinity are the results of a deliberate plan on the part of Generals Scott and McClellan, and may be Grand Jury of Lancaster county. The people have had this war. They began it, let them as 'Christian most.' are the results of a deliberate plan on the part cause. These plans are very properly concealed

WOMEN ARRESTED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.

Commander Porter, who was recently deprived of his command of the sloop of war St. Mary, on suspicion of disloyalty to the government, has voluntarily returned to Washington. He to-day, it is understood, presented to the War Department an elaborate document, with proofs in refutation of the charges, showing that for-gery has been resorted to for the purpose of ining. The very large number of wagons, horses, mules and immense amount of equippage and other army supplies, afford direct evidence of his vigor and efficiency.
