

Daily Telegraph

HARRISBURG, PA.

Wednesday Afternoon, September 11, 1861.

THE CITY LOCK-UP contained twelve tenants last night—mostly cases of drunkenness—all of whom were disposed of this morning by the Mayor, according to their deserts.

APPLES, peaches, etc., are very plentiful, very cheap and tolerably good, but with them, unfortunately, come those scourges of the season, diarrhoea and dysentery. The doctors say these are more than usually prevalent at present, and so those who indulge in luxuries which are apt to bring on these diseases should do so with caution.

A SIMILAR MATCH.—Last evening, after working hours, two of the blacksmiths connected with the Round House of the Pennsylvania Railroad made up a match to run a race of one hundred yards for a stake of five dollars—one to hop the distance and the other to perform it in the ordinary mode of running. The race was won by the hopper, who came to the score at least two lengths ahead of his competitor.

A REMISSION.—Information was made at the Mayor's office last night against Thomas Gilnaugh, for maintaining a disorderly tipping house. Gilnaugh is the keeper of a "cheap grocery" in State street, east of the Capital, and from all accounts has been driving a thriving trade in the whisky line among the dusky denizens of that classic locality known as Bassa Cove. He was brought up this morning, and entered bail for appearance to answer.

THE MUSICIANS of our friend Wm. Knoche, No. 93 Market Street, is one of the finest establishments in the city, and never fails to attract the attention of the by-passers. It is theemporium of the musical trade hereabouts, and to meet the demand Mr. Knoche is necessarily compelled to keep a large supply. There is not a musical instrument from a jew's-harp up to a first class piano or a church organ that Mr. Knoche cannot supply you with—nor is there a page of sheet music published, but what can be found upon his shelves.

EFFECT OF MUSIC ON THE SICK.—The effect of music on the sick has been scarcely at all noticed. In fact its effectiveness, as it is now, makes any general application of it out of the question. Wind instruments, including the human voice and stringed instruments, capable of continuous sound, have generally a beneficial effect—while the piano forte, with such instruments as have no continuity of sound, have just the reverse. The finest piano forte playing damages the sick, while an air like "Home, Sweet Home," or the most ordinary grating organ, will sensibly soothe them—and this is quite independent of association.

IN TOWN.—Col. Stephen Miller, of the first Minnesota regiment of volunteers, is now in this city, stopping at the Jones' House. The Colonel wears a decided military appearance, and we are glad to say is in the enjoyment of excellent health. It will be recollected by our readers that the first Minnesota regiment participated in the thickest of the fight at the battle of Bull Run, and suffered severely—having lost some two hundred men. On this occasion Col. Miller distinguished himself for his coolness and intrepidity, winning the highest encomiums from his superior officers, as well as the esteem of the army generally. The Colonel is accompanied by his son Wesley, who left Minnesota as a private in the regiment, but has since been promoted to a Second Lieutenant in the Seventh Infantry regiment of the regular army.

OBTAINING MEALS UNDER FALSE PRETENSE.—This morning a Lieutenant having charge of twenty-five volunteer recruits from Pittsburgh, on their way to Washington city, obtained breakfast for himself and men at the State Capitol Hotel, representing to Mr. Omit, the proprietor, that the Major of the regiment to which they belonged would call in a short time and settle the bill. The matter seemed all right until towards noon, when it was ascertained that the Lieutenant with his men had made arrangements to leave the city for Washington. Col. Omit then made enquiries for the major of the regiment, and not being able to discover any such personage, he at once concluded that the Lieutenant's story was all a sham, and immediately got out a warrant for his arrest for obtaining the meals under false pretences. The Lieutenant was arrested as he was about getting on the cars at the depot, and taken before Alderman Kline, who committed him to prison to answer.

CHAPLAINS.—The pay of a chaplain is that of a captain, $150 per month—or, by the recent decision of the War Department, the pay of a cavalry captain, which is $60, three rations a day, valued at thirty-three cents, $8 a month for a servant, if he really has one, which will cost the chaplain $20 a month; forage valued at $8 a month, if he has a horse; which is about one-half the keeping that the horse will cost. But the horse and trappings, which will cost from $250 to $800, the chaplain must furnish himself; but if lost in the service, he will be paid for it by the Government—perhaps at the end of the war.—All else, including clothing, etc., he must buy himself. In some regiments the chaplain must get the men together on Sunday as best he can. In others the colonel does not dismiss the Sunday A. M. inspection till after divine service. All the services must be short. It is a great folly, as well as danger, for a chaplain to go armed, unless he really means to take part in the war. The person of a chaplain and surgeon are regarded as sacred, and in case of a battle are not shot at generally, and if taken prisoners of war, are released at once or tenderly treated; but if found armed to the teeth, would be dealt with as other men are.

TAKEN IN AND DONE FOR.—We yesterday heard the particulars of an affair that recently transpired in our city, which goes far to verify the old adage that "a fool and his money are soon parted." A genteel and intelligent looking young man arrived here about ten days ago, from one of the interior towns of the State, having in his possession about two hundred dollars, mostly in gold. He was on his way to the "Quaker City," but meeting some acquaintances here, he concluded to lay over one night, and "stir up the elephant," in which determination he was quite successful, though at a cost which will doubtless cure him of any further curiosity on the subject. In order to secure a proper frame of mind for his anticipated view of the animal, he in company with his companions, devoted themselves for a while to certain labors at the bar, and by the time they were ready to sall forth, they were exceedingly "gay and happy." While in this cheerful mood, they encountered a gentleman of a pleasant turn of mind, who courteously accompanied the party to an establishment most likely to be attractive to young gentlemen from the rural districts.—Here they found cards, and choice liquors, and gay, sprightly women, and for a time things went on swimmingly. At last, frequent libation from the "flying bowl" began to tell wonderfully on the young gentlemen, and he who is the immediate subject of our remarks, sank finally to the floor in a glorious state of oblivion. His comrades observing his condition, concluded that he was safely "tied up" for the night, and staggered from the establishment to stir up the animals elsewhere. When the "young gentleman from the rural districts" awoke next morning he found himself reclining on the grass in the Capitol park, his eyes swollen, his hair tangled and matted, his lips parched, and his hands twitching with excessive nervousness, all the effect of his recent debauch. He quickly arose to his feet, brushed his soiled garments, adjusted his hair, then, as if impelled by a secret doubt, he suddenly felt for his wallet, and upon opening it, discovered to his horror that the fine looking pile of bank-bills it contained the evening previous, but a solitary "ten-spot" now greeted his vision! He tried to recollect all the occurrences of the past night—the location of the house he visited—the name of the owner—his companions—all, however, were forgotten, and his hopes of recovering any portion of his money were exorcisingly slim indeed.

He proceeded to his hotel with a sorrowful countenance, and finding that the balance of his money would be inadequate to pay his bill and passage home, he made a clean breast of the whole affair to the landlord, who kindly consented to "hook the account," and at noon the "young gentleman from the rural districts" left the city by the Northern Central Railroad, a wiser, but a sadder man.

THE ABOVE furnishes but one of a number of instances within our knowledge of strangers being fleeced by the sharks of our city who are ever on the alert for unsuspecting victims. Many with their pockets filled with money freely enter places which city men would avoid, even if they had nothing in their possession to excite the avarice of the inmates. They trust to their native shrewdness, and are invariably skinned, paying dear for their experience, and meeting no sympathy in their misfortune.

COTTON IN PENNSYLVANIA.—We yesterday published an article from the Lancaster Express in which the writer spoke of the possibility of successfully raising cotton in Pennsylvania. It has heretofore been the general opinion that the climate of this and the adjoining middle States is altogether unfavorable to the growth of this important product; yet the Philadelphia Press publishes a letter from a well known gentleman, residing in Brazil, which goes to show that in the table lands there, where the climate is nearly identical with our own, a species of superior cotton is produced on plants which flourish year after year amid frosts that are fatal to vegetation of a less hardy character. The writer was formerly a resident of Lancaster county, in this State, and seeing a paragraph in the Press inviting farmers to try the experiment of growing cotton here, he sent Mr. Forney some seeds of a peculiar kind of cotton growing in Brazil, for distribution among his friends. Of this cotton he says "It is cultivated in the province of Minas Geraes, on high table land, where they have severe frosts and cannot grow rice or sugar cane, but have all fruits of the Middle States, U. S. The European grass, Triticum repens, is entirely killed every year, not the root. There are two kinds of this cotton, white and nankeen, of which I send you the two varieties." Referring to a cotton tree grown for seeds of the latter quality, which had been planted some six years before, he says: "In Pennsylvania this would be an annual. It produces cotton the first year; and I have reason to believe that it will bear the climate of Pennsylvania. There have been here this year some heavy frosts, and the grass referred to is entirely killed; but on this cotton tree the leaves were still green, and there still remained some flowers." Mr. Forney has distributed the seeds as requested, and the matter will now at least get a fair trial. We perceive that experiments with the common seed are being made this year at Philadelphia, some of which promise well. Mr. H. B. Jenks has an acre of cotton, some of the plants of which are from three to four feet high, and having mostly blossomed, the balls vary in size from a large pea to a good sized cranberry. In a month's time, provided the frost does not kill them, they will reach the size of walnuts and burst, when the cotton will be ready to pick. Messrs. Garsed & Bro., Frankford, have three quarters of an acre of plants set out. They are now about two feet high, with occasionally stalks of three or four feet, their balls being generally smaller than those of the plants grown by Mr. Jenks. A good deal of care is being bestowed on these experiments, and the result, whatever it may be, will be looked for with deep interest.

A RUMOR was circulating in our streets to-day to the effect that a soldier at Camp Curtin was shot night before last by a farmer who detected him stealing corn. We were not able to ascertain if the report was true.

ARREST OF ALLEGED MURDERERS.—Two brothers, named Neff, were arrested at Camp Curtin this morning charged with being participants in the recent murder of the brother's Smetzer at Safe Harbor, Lancaster county, the particulars of which were published in the TELEGRAPH last week. They were taken to Lancaster to await their trial.

IMPORTANT TO COAL CONSUMERS.—As the time is approaching for laying in the winter supply of coal, the following rule for verifying the weight of Pennsylvania coal will prove of interest to consumers: Coal put into bins and leveled, can be measured from one to a thousand tons with as much accuracy as it can be weighed on scales. For instance, Lehigh white ash coal, per ton of 2,000 lbs. of the egg or stove size, will uniformly measure 34 1/2 feet cubical, while white ash Schuylkill coal will measure 35, and the pink gray and red ash will reach 36 cubical feet per ton of 2,000 lbs., or 40 feet for 2,240 lbs., the difference of cubical contents between the net and gross ton being exactly four feet. If the length, breadth, and height of the bin be multiplied together, and the product is divided by the aforementioned contents of a ton, the quotient must show the number of tons therein.

HOW ARMIES MARCH.—The column is put in motion and the march commences with the same regularity as would be observed by a regiment moving in or out of a garrison town, the bands playing, the light infantry with arms sloped, and those of the riflemen slung over the shoulder, the officers with swords drawn, exact wheeling distance preserved, and perfect silence observed. After having proceeded a short distance in this manner, the word of command, "route step," is given by the general at the head of the leading battalion, and passed quickly on to the rear. The captains, instead of continuing at the head of their companies, draw back to the rear of them, that they may see any men of their respective companies who may attempt to quit the ranks without leave. The soldiers then march and carry their arms in any manner convenient to them, conversation and smoking being ordinarily allowed.

THE LADIES' AID SOCIETY.—The Managers of this Society are in an appeal to the ladies of the State for contributions of hospital stores for the use of the troops at Washington. Speaking of the mission of the Society, they say: "Our undertaking is one of magnitude, but one from which patriotism and humanity forbid us to shrink. If the ladies in our country could witness the scenes presented in the hospitals after a battle, there is no sacrifice they would not willingly make for the relief of the sufferers. If they could hear the wounded soldier's expression of gratitude for a cup of cocoa, a glass of water, or the soothing of his hard pillow by woman's hands; if they could see his dependency giving place to confidence, and to courage, for a renewal of the conflict, on the slightest manifestation of woman's sympathy, donations would flow in so that our depository could not contain them. The following are some of the articles wanted: Coarse woolen shirts and drawers, and knit stockings. Let every woman furnish a pair of stockings. Also, feather pillows, air beds, bed clothing, jellies, dried fruits, apple butter, crackers, wines, brandy, ale, white sugar, tea, chocolate, cocoa, farinaceous preparations, spices, pickles, dried beef, hams, citric acid, oil of lemon, &c., &c. Pickles are most acceptable to the men in the camps, as well as those in the hospital; in some circumstances they are esteemed by the surgeons as valuable adjuncts. Donations in money may be sent to Mr. Stephen Caldwell, treasurer of the Ladies' Aid, N. E. corner of Eleventh and Arch streets. Other contributions may be forwarded, freight prepaid, to 'Ladies' Aid, care of John P. Rhoads, Esq., No. 701 Walnut st., Philadelphia," marked "hospital stores."

A CARD TO THE LADIES DR. GARDNER'S GOLDEN PILLS FOR FEMALES. Invaluable in correcting, regulating, and removing all obstructions, from whatever cause, and in every way successful as a prevent.

THESE PILLS HAVE BEEN USED BY the doctors for many years, both in France and America, with unparalleled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who use them, to make the Pills in question the basis of their treatment from any irregularity whatever, as well as to prevent an increase of family where health will permit it.—Females particularly situated, and who are themselves, are cautioned against these Pills while in that condition, as they are sure to produce miscarriage, and the proprietor assumes no responsibility after this admission, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health—otherwise the Pills are recommended.
