DISEASES OF IMPRUDENCE.—When the misguided and imprudent votary of pleasure finds he has imbibed the seeds of this painful disease, it too often happens that an ill-timed sense of shams or dread of discovery determined him from applying to those who, from education and respectability can alone befriend him, delaying till the constitutional symptoms of this horrid disease make their appearance, affecting the head, throat, nose, skin, acc., progressing on with frightful rapidity, till death puts appearance, affecting the lead, throat, nose, skin, acc., progressing on with frightful rapidity, till death puts appearance, affecting the sufferings by scading him to "that bourne from whence no traveler returns." UNION MEN IMPRESSED INTO THE REBEL RANKS.

MOVEMENTS OF GEN. FREMONT.

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 80. Lieut. Colonel Shacher of Colonel Peabody's egiment and Lieutenant Lemalt of Colonel Marshall's regiment, who were at Lexington, have arrived here and give some interesting particulars from that place. They say the rebels can easily turn out and probably will three twelve pounders per week at the Lexington foundry, and that they are very busy in making balls of all kinds.. They report that the rebels have a large amount of powder and amunition of every variety buried in the vicinity of Lexington, and that they have recently dug up a great deal. Two thousand rounds of loaded shell were discovered by the rebels in Mulligan's entrenchments on the very day of the surrender, our troops having no idea of their concealment, and they were deposited there three months. It is said that vast amounts of ammunition are buried in different quarters of the West and South, having been sent out from Jefferson City by Gov. Jackson before he fled from here.

Our troops would have destroyed the powder in their possession if they would have had any water or had they not feared an explosion that must have proved fatal in their narrow entrenchmenta. A female rebel of high social standing a

Lexington obtained admission to Mulligan's fortification disguised as a mulato washerwoman and took a complete sketch and plan of the works and reported her information to the rebels. It is believed the rebels have from forty to

There is about one hundred in number. Be fore they left Lexington they obtained a writington for that purpose.

General Fremont has approved of this action and they will start this morning. These officers say our troops were treated most kindly by the rebel officers, whom they pronounce high toned, honorable and generous gentlemen. The gallant conduct of Col's, Mulligan, White and Grover, are highly eulogized, and all our soldiers are enthusiastic in their praise. Maj. Suit who had command of the regular troops at Wilson's creek has deceived permission to take command of the eighth Iowa regiment. It is understood that his battalion of regulars will be incorporated in the regiment. Advices from Salino county report the rebels are over running that section of country with scouting parties who are impressing Union citizens into the rebel ranks and levying upon their goods.

This morning the rebels appeared in force on the Virginia side of the Potomac opposite Great Falls. A battery of six pieces of artillery was opened on the infantry of Gen. M'Call's division. Reinforcements were immediately sent to our side when three regiments of infantry came up to the support of the rebel battery. Gen. M'Call's batteries then came up and took position at once. They opened a rapid fire and with such good effect that the rebels dispersed in every direction.

There was not a single man hurt on our side. The Federal forces this morning took possession of Lewinsville seven miles beyond the Chain Bridge on the road towards Leesburg. The rebels retreated as our troops advanced, the only fighting being slight skirmishing which did no damage. The news from the Potomac is that the rebels have evacuated their battery at Freestone Point. Nothing can be seen there but a sandbank, according to the report of the gunboat Yankee which has made a recongissance. The President has given an assurance that

A LITTLE COURTESY, GENTLEMEN. -- Our experience has led us to concur in the remark of an intelligent cotemporary, that the good spirite help the man who is obliged to ask even the slightest courtesy from some of our new-fledged military officers who have lately fallen into such good fortune as to be the possessors of a little brief authority. The impudent and silly replies of these soldier-clad civilians operates upon a man something in the manner of a trepanning of the brain is represented to act upon one's constitution. The style in which some of these upstarts flounder about in a little pool of glory of their own creation is too rediculous to laugh at. Men who are known, root and branch, at their own homes, to be gentlemen in every sense of the term, are treated with the greatest indignity where these fellows hold office, and youth and gray hairs meet with a similar reception. Men who are acquainted the battle field, are almost always distinguished for their easy and affable style, used as they Gen. McKinstry and staff arrived here last are, to command those who are around them;
