HEAD QUARTERS.

TELEGRAPH PRINTING OFFICE, THIRD STREET, BE TWEEN MARKET AND WALNUT STREETS.

Our friends throughout the county, who may be selected to bring in the returns from the various election districts in Dauphin county, will please make their returns to the office of the PENNSYLVANIA TELEGRAPH, Third street, between Market and Walnut streets, where arrangements have been made to receive the returns, in order to have them printed for circulation as early on Wednesday morning as possible. It is very necessary that our friends should not forget principles, making them the watchword and this important arrangement.

AN ELOQUENTLY PATRIOTIC SERMON.

REV. EDWIN W. HUTTER

We print this afternoon, on the first page of the TELEGRAPH, a sermon delivered in the city sented, will be among the last tricks with of Philadelphia, on the day set apart by the which the sympathisers with rebellion will President of the United States, as an occasion of seek to warp the judgment and shake the pre fasting and prayer. newspaper in this city, and was known then for us be true to our colors—true to each other the zeal and ability with which he defended and advocated the peculiar doctrine of his party, and no less known or respected for his high social and personal accomplishments. He is one of those finished scholars capable of adorning any position, while the political arena could gratefully spare an intellect which thus devotes its power to give force and usefulness to a higher and a nobler part of duty. Since Rev. Hutter has occupied a position in the Philadelphia pulpit, he has achieved a great reputation and of course accomplished much good. This could not have been otherwise with a man of his rare abilities and kindly feelings, and, with his friends everywhere, we join in congratulating him on this, his last and best effort in defence of God and Liberty.

LOOK OUT.

For fraud and deception on the day of the election. It behooves every loval man to look close to his ballot. See that you have the whole ticket. See that the votes are not destroyed or any undue advantage taken. Stand by the whole ticket, and thus sustain your friends and your principles. Our ticket is composed of men in whom we can repose confidence-men who have been tried, and it is a duty every true friend of his country owes to himself, to give it an undivided support. Let there be no splitting. We fell assured every true hearted freeman will do his whole duty on Tuesday next.

DON'T TRADE.

We caution the friends of the People's Union to trade. We say to our friends in every district, do not give countenance to any project of not entitled to the support of the Republicans this kind. The only hope of the opposition, if who are the only true Union men. they have any hope at all of success, is to trade off all their ticket but one, and thus endeavor the motto be "THE WHOLE TICKET."

This is another whether he is entitled to the support of any evidence of the fact that the dough-faces desire Union man. ### A LAST WORD.

BEWARE OF SPURIOUS TICKETS AND SLANDEROUS HANDBILLS.

We are on the eve of another great political contest, involving principles essential to the success of the deadly struggle in which our armies are about to engage with a horde of rebel traitors. We tender, therefore, a last word to the independent men who have thus far rallied around the nominations of the people's convention. We ask them to remember that the principles involved in this contest, are far holier than any which ever engaged their consideration or challenged their preferences. If the county, honored as having within its limits the state capital of the Old Keystone falters or confesess a sympathy which amounts to an allegiance with rebellion, the commonwealth may as well prostrate itself and all its citizens bend their necks to receive the rebel slave holder's yoke. Therefore we ask our friends to stand firm in their devotion to the ticket the People have presented for support. We must elect every man nominated on that ticket, from Hon. John J. Pearson through the entire list of capable and honest men to Henry Peffer. They must all be elected. The defeat of one man would be a disgrace as great as the defeat of all and therefore all must be elected to secure our faith in allegiance, our interest in free institutions, our welfare as citizens of this Union, and our dignity and independence as free men!

We must beware of spurious tickets! The old game, without which the locofoco tricksters in this county have never succeeded, of issuing spurious and garbled tickets, is now being played with a desperation unknown even to these lesperate demagogues. Let no reading man be deceived by this trick. The ticket we print at the head of our columns is the only genuine Union ticket before the people. All others have men on them as candidates who were and still are deadly opposed to the war to suppress rebellion-hostile to the policy of enforcing the law against political offenders, and most bitterly denounciatory of that principle which TELEGRAPH: seeks to elevate free white above slave black labor, by recognizing it as a power and element of greatness in this government, and advocating its protection and encouragement as a means of increasing our local prosperity and national wealth. The people of Dauphin county must not abrogate these issues in this contest. While they are on the alert for spurious tickets, let them also uphold and defend these great battle cry, and depending alone on their purity and force for success.

We must beware of slanderous handbills! Bulletins containing all kinds of falsehoods-circulars replete with slander and vituperation—the record of good men perverted, and the independ ence of honest candidates utterly misrepreferences of the loyal men of Dauphin county.portance of the hour forbid that we should al-

John Cessna and the Legislative Ticket of Bedford and Somerset Counties.

The Republicans of Bedford and Somerset counties, in the beginning of the present campaign, made proposals to the Union Democrats of that district to form but one ticket based on the principles of sustaining the government in the present war, and with that view John CESSNA, Esq., was agreed upon to be the representative from Bedford, and E. M. Schrok, Esq., from Somerset county. Before the nomination was fully made however, the Democrats held a convention, and before nominating a ticket, the different candidates for nomination were questioned whether they would accept the nomination of any other party or permit their names to be placed on a ticket in opposition to the democratic ticket. Mr. Cessna at once responded in a manly spirit by stating that he would not accept the nomination of any other party and he further more pledged himself plainly that he would support none but a democrat for the various offices to be filled by the Legislature, we give Mr. Cessna full credit for the frank avowal thus made and published over his own signature in the Bedford Gazette. He has plainly refused to accept the nomination of the Union party and can therefore not ask the support of any Republican Union man, yet we understand that strenuous efforts are to be made to obtain the volunteer vote now encamped here for Mr. ticket against the attempts which will be made | CESSNA. Mr. Cessna declared emphatically that he would always vote as a democrat and is therefore

Will you allow your name to be placed on any other than the regular ticket of the Democratic party?

In reply to the above interrogatories, Mr.
Cessna submitted the following:

I answer the first question thus—I have never in any way been attached to any other political oranization than the Democratic Party, nor have I any idea of being so connected for political purposes, if Providence shall spare my country and its Government—If the Government is not sustained I consider the future of political or-ganizations as promising but little to us as a FORTRESS MONROE, Oct. 4. The U.S. steamer Pawnee has returned from Hatterss Inlet; she reports the loss of the pro-peller Fanny on Tuesday night. She was on her way from the Inlet to Chicamaconica, the encampment of the 20th Indiana Regiment, and was captured by three Rebel tugs which put out from Roanoke Island. Two rifled cannon, twenty-five of the Indiana Regiment, in-cluding Quarter Master Ira W. Haett, several of Col. Hawkins Regiment, and a cargo of commissary stores fell into the hands of the rebels. CHRAT MOUNTAIN, Oct. 3. This morning at one o'clock a portion of Brigadier General Reynold's brigade, consisting of three Ohio regiments—the 24th, 25th and 32d and portions of six Indiana regiments—the 7th, 9th, 13th, 14th, 15th and 17th-together with detachments of Bracken's Indiana, Robin son's Ohio and Greenfield's Pennsylvania caval ry, and detachments of Howe's regular, Loomis' Michigan and Daum's Virginia artillery, numbering in all 5,000 men, left Cheat Mountain to position on Greenbrier river, twelve miles Colonel Ford's Thirty-second Ohio was sent forward to hold an important road, the occupa-tion of which prevented the enemy from flank-make a reconnoissance in front of the enemy's ing our main column.

The expedition arrived in front of the enemy's fortifications. At eight o'clock their pickets retreated after firing an ineffectual volley. Kimball's Fifteenth Indiana was immediately sent forward to secure a position for Doomis' battery. Ammin's Twen-ty-fourth Ohio deployed as skirmishers on the south side of the mountain.

Loomis' battery getting in position, supported by the Seventeenth Indiana regiment, opened the battle. The shot was immediately responded to by an enemy concealed in the bush, but who were soon routed by the Fourteenth Indiana, with a loss of seven killed, a large number wounded and taken prisoners.

Howe's battery, supported by the Thirteenth Indiana, then moved forward, taking a position three hundred yards nearer the enemy's fortifications, opening a brisk fire.

The firing on both sides was almost incessant for one hour, our artillery doing execution, judging from the lamentable shriek of the tively little injury, their guns being too much elevated. Our guns effectually silenced three of their guns.

While observations were being made of the enemy's fortifications, occupying three more hours, an irregular artillery fire was kept up, ccupying the enemy's attention.

During this interval, the Twenty-fifth Ohio and Fifteenth Indiana regiments rendered efficient service in scouring the mountains before the close of the reconnoissance, which was most atisfactory.

The enemy received heavy reinforcements from their camps near Monterey, making their trength about 15,000. Although this reconnoissance partakes more of the character of a regular engagement than any previous battle in Western Virginia, our loss is but ten killed and eleven wounded. It is impossible to ascertain the loss of the enemy. It will not, however, fall short of 500 killed and wounded, as our artillery did terrible execution. Their camp was situated on the slope of the mountain, supported by a number of guns.

We captured thirteen prisoners from the ene my, and also a lot of cattle and horses.

The reconnoisance proved entirely successful, affording information relative to the enemy's strength, which could not be ascertained from scouts.

Our troops acted nobly.

General Anderson and Colonels Johnson, Jackson and Oliver commanded the rebels. Later From Washington.

The steamer Emilie arrived this evening with the wounded from Lexington. About thousand rebels remained in Lexington on Tues. day morning. Mr. Prescott, a citizen of Lexington, who was in Mulligan's fortifications during the seige contradicted the report that Sturgis had arrived there.

Mr. Prescott says he heard Price tell Rains and Parsons that now is the time to fight, if they ever intend to. He heard them discussing the propriety of falling back to fortify Rose Hill, in Johnson county, fifteen miles west of Warreasburg. He thinks, however, that their real intention is, to retreat southward, or to the Arkansas river. Since the surrouder, the Arkansas river. Since the surrender, they had raised two cannon at the foundry in Lexington, which increased their field pieces to thirteen.
