BEIAL OF THE FRIENDSHIP STRAMER. -- An insting trial of the Friendship company's m the engine took place in Market Square Saturday atternoon, which was witnessed a large concourse of our citizens. The ner, on this occasion threw a one and oneth stream of water a distance of two hunand nineseen feet, which is considerably than its previous performance at the capal. it is said is owing to the fact that the fire are inadequate to supply a sufficient volf water to meet the suction powers of the ner. ret to announce the death of R. J. Ross, Esq., ich took place at his residence in this city day afternoon. Mr. Ross was well known inancial circles throughout the State as the hier of the Dauphin Deposit Bank, and for a ng time as one of an eminent banking firm in iladelphia. His demise was the result of a ralytic stroke experienced some time last mmer, while attending to his duties in the nk. Since then he has been confined to his l, so powerless as to be almost unable to move thout assistance. Several times, indeed, he med to be regaining in strength, and strong es were entertained of his ultimate recovery, east so far as to enable him to move about d attend to his official labors; but these wed delusive, and the spark which at these es were only fanned by affection into a hter glow, has now, alas! been quenched ver. spatch from Washington published in last aturday's Telegraph, relative to the murderous ttempt upon his life, turns out to be false. is wife received a letter and a telegraph disthich allusion is made to the rumor as revailing even in the camp at Darnstown, but which he pronounces to be an entire abrication, and so far from being shot, he a, on the contrary, in the enjoyment of most the enemy. The report of his shooting is said to have originated from the arrest, in Baltimore ast Friday, of a girl in male attire, who repreented that she was the son of Col. Knipe, and that he with herself had been shot by the halfbrother of Lanaham, who shot Major Lewis. The girl wore one of her hands in a sling, and a she was known to have come from Darnstown, her story seems to have impressed the Police authorities with its plausibility, and they were gulled into its belief. Of course, these abiquitous gentlemen of the press, yclept reparticulars of the examination, which, in due ourse of time, found its way to Washington, and from there, curtailed in dimensions, was ransmitted over the telegraphic wires to the sesociated press. In the mean time, the girl who told the story in Baltimore was remanded to prison for a further hearing, where her real sex was accidentally revealed, and she herself proved the falsity of her statements.

Suicide - A middle aged man named D. Watson, formerly a broker of New Castle, Lawrence county, committed suicide at the Jones' House in this city, about half past 11 o'clock Sunday morning. Watson, as evidenced by the hotel register, arrived here on the 23d of last month for the purpose, it is said, of obtaining some position in the army; but not succeeding in this. he unfortunately permitted a natural failing to get the better of his good judgment, and sought to forget his disappointment in the temporary pleasures of the glass, This course of dissipa tion resulted last Saturday night in an attack of deliriem tremens, which, however, does not appear to have been very violent, as we did not earn that any physician was summone I, and he retired to bed as upon ordinary occasions. Yesterday morning he rose at the usual hour and excepting a visible tremor in his nervous system, arrising from his previous excesses, there was nothing in his general appearance to ndicate that his mental faculties were in the east disturbed. To a remark made by him 'that he would like to have a drink of brandy' an acquaintance replied that he "had better get a prescription from a Doctor."

He shortly afterwards went to Williams' barper shop, under the hotel, and got shaved, after which he proceeded to Wyeth's drug store, and what followed is fully detailed in the subjoined testimony of Mr. Lewis Wyeth, before the coroners inquest, which we publish in full in order to correct some misstatements which inadvertantly crept into the account of the affair, published in yesterday morning's TELEGRAPH.

LEWIS WYETH, sworn. I keep a drug store on the corner of Market square; a boy named Jeffries attends the store; between 11 and 12 o'clock to-day (Sunday) I was out of the store, and he called to me, and told me a gentleman was in who wanted some strychnine; I asked him whether he had an order from a physician; he said that he himself was a physician, and that he wanted a drachm of strychnine; I told him that I had not that quantity in the store; I told him this because I did not wish to give it to a stranger even if he was a physician. To show him that I did not have that quantity, I took down a bottle containing probably the twelfth part of a drachm and showed it to him; while I was getting this bottle he stepped behind the counter and picked up another bottle containing some strychnine and stood it on the counter. He said, "I'll take what is here but have no change with me, but will pay you to-morrow," and then grabbed both of the bottles containing about 16 grains, and started out; I thought his conduct very singuar, and called to him; when I got to the door MOVEMENTS OF COTTON.—It is well known that he was going into the Jones House; I ran argumentity of cotton has arrived in New across the street, and met Coverly in the hotel, and stated the circumstances to him, describing the man, and told him that he (Watson) had told me that he was a physician; Coverly re-plied that he was not a physician; while I was talking to Coverly, Watson came down stairs and started down Second street; I followed him and caught up to him at Kelker's corner; I told him that Coverly said that "you are not a physician, and I must have the strychnine back; he said it was up in his room, No. 33, in the Jones' House; I told him he must go along with me and get it; and I caught him by the arm; he threw my arm off and drew back to strike me; I jumped aside and went down to the hotel for help, when I met Mr. M'Calla and Mr. Duncan, and told them to take care of the man while I went and searched his room: I then went and made thorough search of his room, but could find neither strychnine or bottles: Watson escaped out of sight of those gentlemen, and we all started in search of him; Duncan and I started in search of him down Mulberry street and up in search of him down munerry surest and up. RETURN OF HENRY S. MAGRAW.-Henry S. Magraw, formerly State Treasurer, but now a resident of Lancaster city, who was arrested a few days after the battle of Bull Run while on an errand to Manassas to rescue the body of Col. Cameron, returned to his home last Friday. The commission appointed to examine into the character of the charges of the State prisoners at Richmond reported favorably in Mr. Magraw's case some four or five weeks ago, but through a misunderstanding the report was not confirmed by the rebel cabinet until the latter part of last week. Upon Mr. Magraw's release he was taken to Norfolk, and from thence to Fortress Monroe under a flag of truce, and from thence came directly home. Mr. Harris who was captured at the same time was also released, but preferred remaining in Secessia. He is Kentuckian and his loyalty has been under suspicion ever since the breaking out of the war. Mr. Magraw, though closely confined, has been kindly treated during his sojourn in Richmond. The Reported Shooting of Col. Knips.—How The last three or four weeks of his captivity he Story Originated.—The friends of Col. Joseph Knipe will be glad to learn that the telegraphic spatch from Washington published in last as he did before leaving home.

COL. HAMBRIGHT'S REGIMENT. -Two companies of Col. Hambright's regiment, Capt. Kendrick's atch from him on Sunday, in both of and Capt. McBride's from Lancaster, arrived here on Sunday, an route for the west. The remainder of the regiment will follow this week. The Express says that the scene at the depot in Lancaster when the companies took excellent health, and anxious for a brush with The depot, the surrounding streets, the windows the cars was of the most inspiring character. and balconies of the adjoining hotels and houses were filled with people, who congregated to bid adieu to the brave fellows on their way to defend the glorious stars and stripes. The cars pushed off amid the most enthusiastic applause of the assembled throng, while the tears of mothers, wives and sweethearts attested only too truly how strong a hold many of them had upon the affections of those remaining behind.

In the item referring to the railroad acciden at Kinzer's Station in last Saturday's TELEGRAPH rters, were on hand and made an item of the several errors occurred. The child killed was a son of Mr. Edwin Hopton, aged two years, and not a daughter of Mrs. Hopkins as reported. We obtained the particulars from the Lancaster Express, a subsequent issue of which makes the above correction.

REV. J. C. GREGG, of Bainbridge, will preach this evening, in the west Harrisburg M. E. church, DR. DUPONOO'S GOLDEN PILLS at 71 o'clock.

DEAD. - An obituary notice in last Saturday's Philadelphia papers, notices the death in that city, of George P. Crap. The deceased was well known in this city as the publisher of the Borough Item.

THE COMMON COUNCIL held a stated meeting in their room at the Court House last Saturday evening.

A petition was received from Mr. Thompson keeper of the City Hotel, asking permission of Council to build a vault under Market street, near Meadow Lane. Refused on account of want of power to give any such authority.

The Paxton Hose company petitioned Council to give them the old Friendship engine.-The engine not having been given back by the company, Council refused to act.

The following additional petitions were ceived :

From Chief of Police, asking for an increase of salary. Referred. From Mount Vernon Hook and Ladder Com pany for the erection of a house. Referred, with instructions to report. From Daniel Rhoads, former Clerk of Market, requesting exoneration for sum of five dollars.

Granted. From Friendship Fire company, asking for 250 feet 10-inch hose; also, from Good Will company, asking for same length of hose. Re-

From citizens in Walnut street to widen the pavement on the south side of said street, from Second street to Jail alley, at the expense o the owners of said property, was granted. Alderman Kline sent in a complaint that his sewer contained water, with a request that a sewer would be made in Walnut street from Third street, to Jail alley. Referred.

On motion, Daniel Carrichner was appointed special policeman, without salary.

On motion, the market ordinance regulating the hours of market was so amended that from the 1st of October to the 1st of May the market opens at 5 o'clock and closes at 8 o'clock; from the 1st of May to the 1st of October, from 41/2 o'clock to 8 o'clock—to go into immediate ef

A communication was read from the Mayor returning, with his objections, the ordinance in reference to the manner of issuing the city bonds. The veto of the Mayor was sustained and a new ordinance was forthwith adopted.

Foot-walks were directed to be laid at Third and North and at High and State streets; also, a pavement in front of the Good Will engine

The council then adjourned.

THE FASHIONS .- A fashion writer for a New York paper says that this fall the "Garibaldi Jacket" will assert itself a favorite with all economical ladies, as it has the advantage of being suitable to wear with skirts whose associate body has become a thing of the past. It is made of red, white and blue flannel, and is gathered full into a band at the neck as well as at the waist, which will make it a redeeming feature to many a lean form, while to plump shoulders it will be de-trop. The neck is finished with a small colar, and the sleeve closed into a band or left open with a reversed cuff. About the waist or across the shoulders, at option of the wearer, belongs a scarf one-eighth few minutes after his body was removed to the of a yard in width and about two yards long made of similar material with the jacket.

> In bonnets the enlarged front is an acceptable change, but the masses of trimming piled up within and above the arch is stupendous. Plumes which once waved to the breeze only upon the outer works and were considered no company for many hued exotics, now fall gloomily over the brow of beauty, were not the shadow brightened by saucy knots of gay blossoms -all sorts of colors mixed up-for it seems the "red, white and blue" has reconciled our eyes to forbidden contrasts.

Cloaks will in all cases reach far down over the dress skirt; some will envelop the figure entirely. The circular, in various modifica-tions, will prevail. The trimming will be velvet, in different widths, heavy box plating of the same material, and embroidery in silk or

DEGREASE IN CRIME. - In conversation the other day with our worthy chief of police, Mr. Rada-baugh, we asked the condition of business in his department. Dull, very dull, no burglaries or thefts, he remarked. We suggested that per-haps that kind of professionable men had abandoned their evil ways on account of the strong inducements to be honest, held out by Unice & BOWMAN in the very low prices at which they are selling dry goods at the south-east corner of Front and Market streets. oc7-2t

Notice.—Numerous complaints having been made to the proper authorities, that a large number of the stop-cocks extend several inche above the level of the pavements throughou

Ten day's notice is therefore hereby given that Section 15 of an ordinance passed by Council March 22, 1841, will be rigidly enforced at the expiration of that time against all persons who fail to comply with said ordinance.
