THE ENVELOPE LETTER .- The combined envelope-letter, or letter-envelope, which has just been prepared by the government, is a most abury paper brings a serious charge against useful contrivance. It presents us three separate me of the ladies of that uncient borough. It things in one, viz: a sheet of letter or note wars he recently entered a mystic circle paper, an envelope and a post-stamp, all so simply put together that any one may use them with more case than he would the old envelope. EQUIPMENTS FOR KENTUCKY. - Several wagon loads of boxes, filled with bridle bits for cavalry. passed through the city en route for Kentucky, on Saturday, by Adams' Express, consigned to Gen. Robert Anderson.

"C: MING WITH SONGS TO GREET US."-San ford, the inimitable delineator of Ethiopian character, has written to Col. Brant, that he will be "around" here shortly with his celebrated troupe of artists. Sanford is always welcome visitor to this city, where he never ails to draw "crowded houses." Heretofore his visits here have been limited to one or two nights, but on this occasion, we understand, he contemplates remaining for an indefinite period.

POLICE-Before the Mayor.-Kate King-onof the frail sisterhood-was arraigned for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. Sent to prison for fifteen days.

Charles Fox, up for yagrancy, and discharged John Landis-a "bould soger boy"-was ar raigned for drunkenness. Put under marching orders for the camp.

S. Thanhouzer—a traveling pedler of laces and other gimcracks-was arraigned for ped dling without license. Bound over to answer. Before Alderman Kline. - An old woman, too drunk to tell her name, was brought up in a buggy from the lower end of the city. She was for 48 hours to sober up.

John Shaffer was arraigned for drunkenness and sent to prison for 48 hours.

A WORD ABOUT "TRAMPERS."-The season here once more when the worthless crew known as "Trampers" flock into the city to prey upon the good nature of industrious people. Of the poor—the Lord's poor; and even the poor devils—we have not a disparaging word to say but of that crew, which emphatically deserved the appellation of the devil's poor, we have this much to say that the person who gives anything to them commits a crime, in that he encourages the worst species of vagabondism known to civilized society, We agree with our friend of the Reading Times in his declaration that the trampers are a set of thieves, who roam about the country for eight months in the year, stealing the farmers' produce, setting fire to their barns and hay-ricks, and doing damage in to their barns and hay-ricks, and doing damage in numberless ways, until the severity of the weather compels them to make for the towns, when they drag their loathsome bodies from house to ouse begging, and when their of-times unreasonable demands are refused, abusing women in the absence of the male portion of the family. For refuge at night they rush to the Poor House, or the Lock-up, and are an eyesore to the police and authorities. Now, there is a cure for this evil, and we believe only one; and that is to hit upon some plan to make every tramper who enters the city do some kind of work. This is the bane of their lives. They are trampers because they will not work; and, after loafing the fine spring, summer and fall weather away with no higher aim than that of the beasts of the fields, the severity of the winter weather.
