HARRISBURG, PA. Saturday Morning, October 26, 1861.

THE FIRST ICE.—An intelligent farmer from South Hanover township, this county, informs us that the water in that section was covered yesterday morning with a thin sheet of ice, the first of the season.

A LARGE number of volunteer companies, and last few days, There is material enough at that camp now to form several regiments.

COL WYNKOOP'S REGIMENT. - We understand that Col. Wynkoop's cavalry regiment, at suing year Camp Cameron, has been thoroughly uniformed and supplied with nearly the requisite number of horses. They expect to receive their arms and marching orders some time next week, Capt. C. C. Davis' company is attached to this regiment.

The troops were ordered under toons. id preparations made for an assault, but the perpetrators of the outrage had fied. The Colder Fencibles, of this city, are attached to this regiment, and were on picket duty at the time of the attack last Monday night.

THE "WILD CAT" BOYS AT WORK .- Gen. McCall made a reconnoisance from Drainesville to Camp Pierpont on Monday. No rebels were found except to the Southward, where four or five hundred were reported at Hampton Station, on the Leesburg Railroad. The rebel pickets were also found three miles west of Drainesville. Sunday evening, five of Kane's Wild Cat Regiment, Pennsylvania Reserve Corps, were on picket duty southward, when fifteen rebel cavalry came up and fired on them. They returned the fire, and four out of the fifteen fell from their saddles. Three of the bodies were taken away, but the fourth was secured, and proved to be private Watts, of the "Louisiana Tigers." His shot-gun, loaded with buckshot, sword and equipments were brought in by them. The ball went in at his eye, and tore away his head killing him instantly.

A DAUGHTER OF THE REGIMENT, The Philadelphia Fire Zouaves have attached to their corps a young lady named Virginia Hall, as vivandiere of the regiment. In person Miss Hall is above the medium height. She is a bright blonde, having a clear blue eye, and her light hair cut short like a lad's, and parted on the side. Her nose is slightly retrousse, her mouth well formed, and when she converses, even dentists might go mad at the display of so fine a set of teeth. Her uniform consists of a blue Zouave shirt, trimmed with same colored braid, a Zouave jacket of the same color, and similarly ornamented, a tunic shirt, dark pants, Zouave down, a liberty cap with a red band, a blue ble. The Fire Zouaves take great pride in her and quickly resent any imputations made against their viorndiere.

TIME FOR ECONOMY. The mecessities of the war have created a demand for labor in nearly all our manufacturies and Government establishments, and skilled workmen have no difficulty at finding employment at fair wages.-This work however, is not like the regular employments of industry, certain of its duration, and depending upon the regular wants of the population of the country. It may last as long as the war, and it may cease in a few months, ending just as suddenly as the demand for it has been created. It is the part of prudence then, in those who are now in a situation to save a portion of their wages to exercise the closest economy, so that any sudden constion of employment will not Till combination of ingredients in the light leather gaiters, extending from the knee down, a liberty cap with a red band a blant time of multiple districts of the second of the sec down, a liberty cap with a red band, a blue time of public distress, to rely upon the merchants as short sword and small revolver attached to her belt. GENERAL ORDER NO. 10. Harrisoned, Pa., Oct. 22, 1861.

It is with great pain that the Governor and Commander-in-Chief has learned the death of Col. Edward D. Baker upon the field of battle. Aithengh not a citizen of Penneylvania, he had been selected by many of her sons as their com-mander, and he met his death while gallantly leading them dinte action . The same feeling which inspired his soldiers to regard no state littles, when our common country is in danger, induced the Commander-in-Chief to recognize him, while diving as a Pennsylvania soldier, and impels him now that he is dead to bear this public assumpts, to his gallantry and worth.
