YOUNG MEN.
 Young men who have become the victims of Solitary Vice, that dreadful and destructive habit which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of the young men of the most ardent and brilliant talents, who might otherwise have embraced illustrious careers with the banners of eloquence, or walked to conquer the living lyre, may call with full confidence.

MARRIAGE.
 Married persons, or those contemplating marriage, being weary of physical weakness, should immediately call on Dr. J., and be restored to perfect health.

ORGANIC WEAKNESS
 Immediately cured and full vigor restored.
 He who places himself under the care of Dr. J., may rely upon the honor of a gentleman, and confidence of the most eminent Physicians. Fully employed on his staff as a Physician.

DR. JOHNSON
 Dr. Johnson member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, graduate from one of the most eminent Colleges of the United States, and the greatest part of whose life has been spent in the Hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia and elsewhere, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known. Many troubles with ringing in the ears and head when asleep, great nervousness, being alarmed at various sounds, headachings with frequent faintings, and sometimes with derangement of mind were cured immediately.

TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE.
 Dr. J. successively all those who have injured themselves by private and improper indulgences, that secret and solitary vice which ruins both body and mind, and unfit them for either business or society.

These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, viz: Weakness of the back and limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dropsical Swelling, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General Debility, Symptoms of Consumption, &c.

MENTALLY.
 Mentally, the fearful effects on the mind are too much to be eradicated—Loss of Memory, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Fears, and Delusions, Aversion to Society, Self-distrust, Love of Solitude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evil effects.

Thousands of persons of all ages, can now judge what is the cause of their decline in health, losing their vigor, becoming weak, pale, nervous and emaciated, having a singular appearance about the eyes, cough, and symptoms of consumption.

YOUNG MEN
 who have injured themselves by a certain practice, in indulging in when alone—a habit frequently learned from self-complacency, or at school, the effects of which are highly fatal, even when asleep, and if not cured, renders marriage impossible, and destroys both mind and body, should apply immediately.

What is the cause of your illness, the hopes of your country, the darling of your parents, should be sacrificed from all prospects and enjoyments of life by the consequences of deriving from the path of nature, and indulging in a certain secret habit. Be ye persons must, before contemplating reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote conjugal happiness. Indeed without these, the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage the prospect hourly darkens to the view; the mind becomes shrouded with despair, and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another being is blighted with our own.

DR. JOHNSON'S INVIGORATING REMEDY FOR ORGANIC WEAKNESS.
 By this great and important remedy, Weakness of the system are speedily cured, and full vigor restored. Thousands of the most nervous and debilitated persons who had lost all hope, have been immediately relieved. All impediments to Marriage, Physical or Mental Debility, Nervous Trembling, Weakness or Exhaustion of the most fearful kind, speedily cured.

TO STRANGERS.
 The many thousands read at this institution within the last twelve years, and the numerous important Surgical Operations performed by Dr. J., witnessed by the reporters of the papers, have induced many persons, who have appeared again and again before the public, to send him standing as a physician of character and respectability, to a sufficient guarantee to the afflicted.

DISEASES OF IMPUDENCE.—When the misguided and imprudent youth, who have had the misfortune to be the victims of this disease, find that they have been afflicted with this disease, they should apply to those who, from education and respectability can give them the most effectual and reliable assistance. The symptoms of this disease are, a redness of the eyes, a swelling of the head, throat, nose, skin, &c., period to his dreadful suffering, all these pains a source from whence so travels, sending him to that awful agony that thousands fall victims to this terrible disease, owing to the want of timely relief. It is a great misfortune, by the loss of this disease, to prevent the constitution and make the residue of life miserable. To Strangers.—The Doctor's Dispensary hang in his office.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.

The following letter from Lieut. General Scott was received by the President on Thursday afternoon.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY, Washington, D. C. Oct. 31.

The Honorable Simon Cameron, Secretary of War:

SIR:—For more than three years I have been unable, from a hurt, to mount a horse or walk more than a few paces at a time, and that with much pain. Other and new infirmities—dizziness and vertigo—admonish me that a repose of mind and body with the appliances of surgery and medicine are necessary to add a little more to a life already protracted much beyond the usual space of man. It is under such circumstances made doubly painful by the unnatural and unjust rebellion now raging in the southern States of our so late prosperous and happy Union, that I am compelled to request that my name be placed on the list of army officers retired from active service. As this request is founded on an absolute right granted by a recent act of Congress, I am entirely at liberty to say that it is with deep regret that I withdraw myself in these momentous times from the order of a President who has treated me with distinguished kindness and courtesy, whom I know upon much personal intercourse, to be patriotic, without sectional partialities or prejudices, to be highly conscientious in the performance of every duty and of unrivaled activity and perseverance. And to you, Mr. Secretary, whom I now officially address for the last time, I beg to acknowledge my many obligations for the uniform high considerations I have received at your hands and have the honor to remain, sir, with high respect your obedient servant,

WINDFIELD SCOTT.

A special Cabinet Council was convened on Friday morning at nine o'clock, to take the subject into consideration. It was decided that Gen. Scott's request, under the circumstances of his advanced age and infirmities, could not be declined. Gen. McClellan was therefore, with the unanimous agreement of the Cabinet, notified that the command of the army would devolve upon him. At four o'clock in the afternoon the Cabinet again waited upon the President and attended him to the residence of Gen. Scott.

On being seated the President read to the General the following order:

On the first day of November, A. D. 1861, upon his own application to the President of the United States, Brevet Lieut. General Windfield Scott is ordered to be placed and hereby is placed upon the list of retired officers of the army of the United States without reduction in his current pay, subsistence or allowances.

The American people will hear with sadness and deep emotion that Gen. Scott has withdrawn from the active control of the army. While the President and the unanimous Cabinet express their own and the nation's sympathy in his personal affliction, and their profound sense of the important public services rendered by him to his country during his long and brilliant career, among which will ever be gratefully distinguished his faithful devotion to the Constitution, the Union and the flag when assailed by a paralytic rebellion.

[Signed] ABRAHAM LINCOLN.
 Gen. Scott thereupon rose and addressed the President and Cabinet, who had also risen, as follows:
 PRESIDENT.—This honor overwhelms me. It over-pays all services I have attempted to render to my country. If I had any claims before they are all obliterated by this expression of approval by the President with the unanimous support of his Cabinet. I know the President and this Cabinet well. I know that the country has placed its interests in this trying crisis in safe keeping. Their counsels are wise, their labors are untiring. As they are loyal and their course is the right one.

Mr. President, you must excuse me. I am unable to stand longer to give utterance to the feelings of gratitude which oppress me. In my retirement I shall offer up my prayers to God for this administration and for my country. I shall pray for it with confidence in its success over its enemies and that speedily.

The President then took leave of Gen. Scott giving him his hand and saying he hoped soon to write him a private letter expressive of his gratitude and affection.

The President added: "General, you will naturally feel solicitous about the gentlemen of your staff who have rendered you and their country such faithful service. I have taken that subject into consideration. I understand that they go with you to New York. I shall desire them at their earliest convenience after their return to make their wishes known to me. I desire you, however, to be satisfied that, except the unavoidable privation of your counsel and society which they so long enjoyed, the provision which will be made for them will be such as to render their situation as agreeable hereafter as it has been heretofore.

Each member of the administration then gave his hand to the veteran and retired in profound silence.

The Secretary of the Treasury and Secretary of War will accompany Gen. Scott to New York to-morrow by the early train.

The following is the response of the Secretary of War to the letter of Gen. Scott:

WAR DEPARTMENT, Washington, Nov. 1, 1861.

GENERAL: It is my duty to lay before the President your letter of yesterday asking to be relieved under the recent act of Congress. In separating from you I cannot refrain from expressing my deep regret that your health, shattered by long service and repeated wounds received in your country's defence, should render it necessary for you to retire from your high position at this momentous period of our history. Although you cannot remain in active service, I yet hope that while I continue in charge of the departments over which I now preside, I shall at all times be permitted to avail myself of the benefits of your counsels and sage experience. It has been my good fortune to enjoy a personal acquaintance with you for over thirty years, and the pleasant relations of that long time have been greatly strengthened by your cordial and entire co-operation in all the great questions which have occupied the Department and convulsed the country for the last six months. In parting from you I can only express the hopes that a merciful Providence which has protected you amidst so many trials will improve your health and continue your life long after the people of the country shall have been restored to their former happiness and prosperity.

I am, General, very sincerely, your friend and servant.

[Signed,] SIMON CAMERON, Secretary of War.

To Gen. WINDFIELD SCOTT, present.

The steamer Resolute came up to the Navy yard yesterday afternoon and went down to the Potomac in an hour or two. The Pusey came up last night and left the yard again early this morning. Both steamers report affairs unchanged down the river. The rebel steamer Geo. Page is still cooped up in Quantico creek, but has worked her way sufficiently far in to be out of sight from the Maryland side.

The work on our batteries is progressing finely and a number of guns and mortars have been mounted.

A few other puntings run the blockade now and then yesterday a schooner is said to have passed down.

Experimental firing with a ten inch mortar was made at the Navy Yard this morning with a charge of three pounds of powder and an elevation of 45 degrees. A shell, not charged, weighing 102 pounds, was projected to a distance of 1,400 yards; the time of firing being about 17 seconds. The firing demonstrated that considerable accuracy may be attained with the old-fashioned mortars, and that at a distance of from 1,000 yards to 2,500 yards, they are a very effective weapon.

Information from the Congressional Investigating Committee, now in session at St. Louis, states that Adjutant General Thomas has not exaggerated the Fremont business.

The Treasury Department is about to issue a notice for the redemption of the old twelve percent two years' notes, issued by the last administration.

Private Knight, of the First Pennsylvania Cavalry, and James Glass, and Henry Hobaugh of the First Pennsylvania Reserves, died yesterday.

From Gen. Banks' Column.

Release of Hon. Jno. Strothers by the Rebels.

Humored Plans to Cut Off Gen. Bank's Army Supplies.

DANESTOWN, Oct. 31.

It may not be generally known that Hon. John Strothers, the uncompromising Unionist of Berkley Springs, has been released by his captors, and is now enjoying health at his own residence. His son, Porte Crayon, is attached to the engineer corps of Gen. Banks' division.

Governor Blair of Michigan and suite were yesterday guests of Brig. Gen. Williams, of the Third Brigade, and a citizen of Michigan. Information is being privately circulated in this section to the effect that a plan is on foot to surround or cut off the supplies of this division, but your correspondent cannot learn how it is to be accomplished, whether by a concerted action of the rebels and the Maryland disunionists or otherwise; nor can he trace the report to anything like reliable authority. It is, therefore, probable that it is only a canard of the day.

The Telegraph.

[COMMUNICATED.]

To Captain George W. P. Davis,
 Dear Captain—I know that you are both a gallant soldier and a courteous gentleman, and therefore I address you thus publicly, to make a request which I trust you will grant. The tent you have erected in the capital grounds in front of the Walnut and Third street entrance for recruiting purposes, is a convenience which you have a right to enjoy at the expense of the state, but I submit to you, whether you think it is right that it should be used at night by a gang of men and boys, who amuse themselves in beating drums to the annoyance of the neighbors and the danger of those who are compelled to ride or drive a horse in that neighborhood. I am certain that this constant drumming does not secure you a recruit, if it did, I would say, "roll on your drums." I make these suggestions respectfully, and I believe that your own good sense will see the necessity of abolishing the nuisance.

The wife of a soldier makes this request.
 MARY.

The Condition of Affairs in Missouri.
 The St. Louis papers of Tuesday contain sundry interesting items. Here is a statement of the loss of Fremont's body guard at Springfield: "It is now ascertained that the loss of Fremont's body guard in the brilliant charge at Springfield was six to eight killed and some fifteen to twenty wounded. A number of most brilliant instances of daring were shown on our side. One sergeant had three horses shot from under him, and a rebel placed a pistol to Zagonny's breast and was in the very act of firing when the Major severed his arm from the shoulder and laid him dead at the horse's feet."

WHEREABOUTS OF PRICE AND McCULLOUGH.
 Price has again pulled up stakes, and is on a full retreat once more. At last accounts he was in Jasper county, and it is probable that the two armies under Price and McCulloch by this time are united somewhere in the vicinity of Carthage. Whether they will consider themselves with their combined forces strong enough to give us battle, of course yet remains to be seen. But be it as it may, it is probable that an expected battle is by this retrograde movement put some little way in the future. The reports as to the strength of McCulloch's force are not positive, but it is generally supposed to be about 15,000. Price's effective force is about 23,000.

The army of the latter is reported to be suffering severely from sickness, want of clothing and shoes. It is said there are at least 2,000 men unable to bear arms on account of sickness, and that the entire force is greatly discouraged.

RUNAWAY SLAVES.
 Thirteen negroes, all one family, had arrived at a federal camp twelve miles from here. They are the property of a rebel clergyman now in Sterling Price's army, and are very anxious to obtain their freedom, complaining bitterly of bad treatment by their master.

GEOVORNER JACKSON.
 The latest intelligence of Governor C. F. Jackson's movements mentions his having passed hastily through Lamar, the county seat of Barton county. He had with him about three hundred men, understood to be his body guard. The men were badly equipped and clothed. Many of them were barefooted. He is said to have reported himself as on his way to the Arkansas line, with the view of bringing up reinforcements under McCulloch. He was traveling with his usual haste—making good time and few stops.

Col. Devens' Account of the Leesburg Battle.
 The following letter from Col. Devens, of the fifteenth Massachusetts regiment, was addressed to A. H. Bullock, of Worcester, Massachusetts, in reply to a letter making inquiry concerning the wants of the regiment:

"CAMP FOSTER, Pottsville, Md., October 27, 1861.

"Dear Sir:—I am exceedingly obliged to you for your note of sympathy and encouragement, received by Mr. Pratt. Although the loss to the regiment was perfectly terrible, my list of killed, missing and wounded being three hundred and ten, while six hundred and twenty-five was the largest number I had during the engagement, yet its courage was most nobly brave and enduring. The battle was hopelessly lost before Col. Baker was killed, yet the cool manner in which the regiment, half an hour after, marched over from the right of the line to protect the left, would have won for it a historic name if it had been done on one of the battle fields of Europe.

"The men here lost almost everything in the way of clothing and equipments, but I trust that the government will make immediate provision; if it does not, I will have no hesitation in appealing to yourself and other patriotic citizens to aid.

"The brave companions whom we have lost cannot be restored to us, but their number may. The courage of the regiment is unshaken; two nights ago, at an alarm, they turned out as calmly as if nothing like this calamity had ever happened, and the sick in the hospitals would be brought to the field, and be the original members many or few, they will yet be seen to wave high above the emblems of treason and secession.

"Allow me to ask you to communicate this note to his honor the Mayor, to whom I am prevented from writing fully, and believe me, with many thanks for your expressions of kindness, I am, Sir, very truly,
 Yours most truly,
 CHAS. DEVENS.
