Old Camp Curtin. BY W. D. M.

Arr-Joe Bowers. Written for the Telegraph.

We are the Pennsylvania boys, As you will shortly see, We're going down to Dixle To fight for liberty. We'll soon dispel our country's gloom,
Or else it will be queer,
For we hall from old Camp Curtin
And we like our lager beer.

These traitors are the worst foes Our country ever had,
And when we have wiped them out
The people will feel glad,
We all will rally around our flag, And give a hearty cheer, For we hail from old Camp Curtin And we like our lager beer.

Our noble State has done its part, As everybody knows, She sends her men and money To put down rebel foes; But our country must be free of them, Before another year, For we hail from old Camp Curtin

And we like our lager beer. We want to have a chance at them, To meet them on the field To show our Yankee courage, For we'll never, never yield; We'll get the head of Davis, An action they do fe r For we hail from old Camp Curtin, And we like our lager beer.

Come rally then my noble boys Let all of us now swear, To put down this rebellion And each to do his share; Let all rush into the hottest fight, Let none be in the rear, For we hail from old Camp Curtin And we like our lager beer.

Thus victory will crown the flag, Which all of us do prize, Its folds will wave more nobly Than any beneath the skies We'll return to our wives and families Which are to us so dear And remember old Camp Curtin Whils't drinking our lager beer.

To the Loyal Women of America,

WASHINGTON, D. C., October, 1861.

Countrywomen ;-In the extraordinary en largement of the whole structure of our national government, which has this year been forced upon us, the wants of the sick and wounded of the army and navy cannot be a non-fully pro-vided for by the ordinary means.

REGULATIONS AND INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE FIELD SERVICE OF THE U. S. CAVAL-RY IN TIME OF WAR. By Gro. B. MCCLET-LAN, Major-General U. S. Army. To which is added, the Basis of Instruction for the U. S. Cavalry, from the authorized Tactics, including the second strict of the second strict

cessary, which, without taking any of the duties of the regular agents of government out of their hands, can, nevertheless, offer to them means of administering to the wants of the sick and wounded much beyond what could be obained within the arbitrary limits of supply es tablished by government, and in strict accordance with the regulations necessary for maintaining a proper accountability to it.

The Sanitary Commission, a volunteer and inpaid bureau of the War Department of the government, constitutes such an agency.

The Sanitary Commission has established its ight to your confidence. The President, the mark to the coast of Portugal; thus including secretary of War, General Scott and General the German, Dutch and Freich ports within Secretary of war, General scott and General this line, and all vessels attempting to violate the warmest terms, the advantages which have succeeded in capturing, already resulted from its labors, and the discre-tion and skill with which they have been directed. Its advice has been freely taken, and, in several important particulars, acted upon, favorably to the health of the army, by the government. There has scarcely been a company of volunteers in the field, with regard to which some special defect, error, or negligence, endangering health, has not been pointed out by its agents, and its removal or abatement efwhich its services or advice, offered through all single complaint has been received of its embarrassing any officer in his duty, or of its embarrassing any officer in his duty, or of its interfering with discipline in the slightest defended in the brig Ida, of loston, were all at the profit of gree. Its labors have, to this time, been chiefly that port about the same time. They all loaded directed to induce precautions against a certain cargoes for the United State, and all arrived class of diseases which have scourged almost every modern European army, which decimated our army in Mexico, and which, at one time, rendered nearly half of one of our armies in ally from entering the ports England, with the war of 1812 unfit for service. It is a ground all her navy, could never prevent the French or national gratitude that our present armies have passed through the most trying season of the year wonderfully escaping the danger. That their capturing a prize and getting them safe in.

Whoever expects our fleet on the southern of the Commission cannot be doubted, but that, mong human agencies, a large share of credit for it should be given to those labors, it is neither arrogant nor unreasonable to assert. In this assurance, what contribution that has hith is to block their entrances with sunken vessels, or take possession of the fort, that command he Commission is not received back again ten fold in value?

After full and confidential conference with the Secretary of War, the Commander of the Army of the Potomac, and the Quartermaster deneral, there is reason to ask with urgency for large increase of the resources of the Commission, especially of that class of its resource upon which it must chiefly draw for the relief of the sick and wounded.

The experience of the Commission has so well acquainted it with the earnest desire of their loyal countrywomen to be allowed to work in the national cause, that it is deemed unnecessa ry to do more than announce that there is a eal and immediate occasion for their best exertions, and to indicate convenient arrangements

It is, therefore, suggested that societies be at sacred service of their country; that energetic and respectable committees be appointed to call from house to house and store to store, to obtain contributious in materials suitable to be all loyal women meet at such convenient times and places as may be agreed upon in each neighborhood or social circle, to work upon the material which shall be so procured.

MILITARY ABUSE OF HORIS.—By the way, speaking of mules, I have a suggestion to offer to the military authorities: Mount a portion of the cavalry here on mules instead of horses,—they don't know how to just horses decently, and they don't deserve tohave them. Take all the brainless "cavalrymin," who are constantly racing their horses up and down at the top of their speed, as if legions of fiends were after them, and clap them or mules for a time. There is no propriety in pemitting fools to ruin valuable U.S. horses at the rate that some of them are doing it now. By the time they are wanted for active service, their horses will be worthless

A BATTLE HOURLY EXPECTED.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Nov. 3. Yesterday small bodies of the enemy came within twelve miles of us and news was received of the approach of their advance, 2,800 strong. Preparations were making to go out and attack them, when General Fremont received the unconditional order from Washington relieving him at once from his command. Simultaneously came the newspapers announcing the fact that the intelligence spread like wild fire through the camps and created indescriable excitement and indignation. Great numbers of officers signified their intention to resign at once, and many companies laid down their arms, declaring they would fight under no one but Fremont. The General spent much of the atternoon expostulating with the officers, and urging them by their patriotism and by their personal regard for him not to abandon their posts, and also issued the following farewell to the troops. HEAD QUARTERS WESTERN DEPARTMENT,
