FALL AND WINTER AMUSEMENTS .- The Spring the several election districts in Dauphin county field Republican—to which we are indebted for will meet in the Court House in this city, at 2 many a good thing—makes the following sugo'clock to-morrow afternoon, to count the army gestions in regard to fall and winter amusements vote, and issue certificates of election to the which we make use of for the benefit of our amusement loving readers. The people of the Nothern States are not going to forego their usual cold weather amusements the coming season, on account of the war, and even if such a thing were possible, it would not by any means be desirable. Those who labor physically or mentally, will need their usual relaxation and recreation as much as ever, and surely we are not yet so much reduced by the war that our usual amusements must be deemed ill-timed gineer of a freight train, on the Pennsylvania or in bad taste. But at the same time it would be well if the balls and parties and sleigh-rides might be merged in some other form of amuse ment, which would be equally pleasant, and a the same time have a patriotic intent, to furnish our soldiers with clothing and other need ful articles. This double object might be obtained by the introduction of social meetings, "sociables," into every village or every school district, where young and old might come toriver points, they having instructions as to the every one or two weeks during the winter reaching her by rail must be controlled by the fellows who are ighting our battles for us, and agencies of the two delivering western roads at would be the source of much rational enjoy-district, where young and old might come together and work for the soldiers, and have a social time. A series of such meetings, held every one or two weeks during the winter, would be productive of much good to the brave fellows who are lighting our battles for us, and would be the source of much rational enjoyment besides. Such sociables might be started in any village if some patriotically inclined individual would take hold of the matter, and if balls and such costly amusements could be dispensed with this winter, and all classes devote their surplus funds to the good of the soldiers, and at the same time have all their customary enjoyment by carrying into effect some plan like the above, it would be a consummation very much to be desired.

[FROM OFFICIAL HOSPITAL REPORES.]

MAY 10, 1880.—Ellen S., st. 23, single, never was very stronge we years ago she had an attack of acute rheumatism, from which she was confined to her bed for two weeks and subseq ent y from a relapse for four more. She has been well since then till hast Satur day, while engaged in house cleaning, she took cold, had pain in ber back, felt cold, bot had so decided chill. Two days later her ankles began so swell, which was followed by swelling of the knee joints and of the hands. She has now dull pain in her shoulders, and her knuckles are very tender, red and painful; both hands are affected, but the right is most so. This, then, is a case of acute rheumatism, or, as it is now fashionably called, rheumatis fever. It is a well remarked typical case. We will carefully watch the case, and from time to time call your attention to the various symptoms which present themselves. My chief object in bringing her before you now, is to call attention to a remedy which has recently been recommended in the treatment of rheumatism. Im an propylemiae. Dr. Awenarius, of St. Petersburg, recommends it in the highest terms, having derived great benefit from its use in 250 cases which came under his cave. Various commendatory testimonials respecting it have appeared in our journals, and I propose therefore to give it another trial. Inst confess I am always moredulous as to the worth of new remedies, which are vaunted as specifies; but this comes to us recommended so highly, that we are bound to give it a trial. [FROM OFFICIAL HOSPITAL REPORTS.]

SAME CASE FOUR DAYS LATER!

SAME CASE FOUR DAYS LATER!

May 28, 1880.—I will now exhibit to you the patient for whom I prescribed Propyismine, and was then laboring under an attack of acute rheumatism. She has steadily taken it in does of three grains every two hours (intermitting it at night.) The day after you saw her, I found her much more comfortable, better than she expected to be for a week or more, judging from her other attack. (The patient now walked into the room.) The improvement has steadily progressed, and you cannot fail to notice a marked change in the appearance of her joints, which are now nearly all of their natural size—Thus far our experiment would have seemed very successful; but, gentlemen, we must wait a little while before we can give a decided opinion as to what is to be the result.

fore we can give a decided opinion as to what is to be the result.

Here is ano her patient who was placed on the use of the same mediciae on Sunday last; she has long been suffering from chronic rheumatism, and I found her at that time with an acute attack supervening upon her chronic affection. The wrists and knuckies were much swollen and tense. She took the chierde of Propylamine in three grain do-es every two hours, and you will perceive that the swelling of the joints has much diminished.

THREE DAYS LATER!!

THREE DAYS LATER!!

MAY 26, 1860.—This is the case of acute rheumatism treated with propylamine, the first of those to which I called your attention at our last cliud. She is still very comfortable, and is now t-king three grains thrio-daily. In this case is has seemed to be followed by very satisfactory results. The second c-se to which your attention was called at our last lecture, has also continued to do well. I will now bring before you a very characteristic case of acute rheumatism, and if the result be satisfactory, I think, as good jurymen, we shall justly render our verdict in favor of propylamine.

He is a seaman, set. 26, who was admitted a few days sgo. Has find occasional rheumatic pame, but not so as to keep his bed, until cight days ago. The pains began in his right knee, subsequently affected the left knee, and later, the joints of the upper extremities. These joints are all swollen, tense and tender. His congue is forred; his skin, at present dry, though there has been much as weating. His putes is full and strong, and about 90.—He has now used propylamine for twenty-four hours.

This gentleman is what may be called a strictly typical case of acute rheumatism. There was exposure t could and wet, and this exposure is followed by a feeling of coloness, severe articular pain, beginning, as it usually does, in the lower joints. There is fover what the profuse sweating, so generally attendant on acute rheumatism. I did not bring this patient before you with the lottention of giving you a lecture on all the p-has connected with rheumatism, but to again give a trial of the new remedy we are testing, and to exhibit to you this typical case, as I have called it, than which there co uld not be a fairer opportunity for testing the medicine in question. We are, therefore, avoiding the use of all other medicines, even anolynes, that there may be no miggivings as to which was the efficient remedy. You shall see the case of a future clinic.

THE RESULT.

A FAVORABLE VERDICT.

June 9, 1860.—The next of our convalencents is the case of acute rheumatism before you at our clinic of May 26th, which I then called a typical case, and which it was remarked was a fair opportunity for testing the worth of our new remedy. It was therefore steadily given in three grain doses every two hours for four days. The patient has got along very nicely, and is now able to walk about, as you see. I do not hecitate to say that I have neves seen as severe a case of acute rheumatism so soon restored to health as this man has been, and without being prepared to decide positive oy as to the value of the remedy we have used, I feel bound to state that in the cases in which we have tried the Chloride of Propylamine, the patients have recained their health much carrier than under the treatment ordinarily pursued. I wish gentlemen, you would yourselves try it, sucd. I wish gentlemen, you would yourselves try it, and report the results.

For a full report of which the above is a condensed extract, see the Philadelphia Medical and Surgical Reporter. It is the report after a fair trial by the best medical authority in this country, and makes it unnecessary to give numerous certificates from astonished doctors and rejoicing patients.
