YOUNG MEN Young men especially who have become the victims of solitary Vice, that dreadful and destructive habit which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of young men of the most exalted talent and brilliant intelect, who might otherwise have entranced listening Senates with the thunders of elequence, or waked to exact the living lyre, may call with full confidence.

DR. JOHNSTON, Dr. Johnson member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, graduate from one of the mest eminent College of the United States, and the greatest part of whose life has been spent in the Hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia and elsewhere, has effected some of the most arconishing cures that were ever known. Many trouble with ringing in the ears and head when asleep, great nervousness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, bashfulness, with frequent blushing, attended sometimes with derangement of mind were cured immediately.

marriage impossible, and destroys both mind and body, should apply immediately.

What a pity that a young man, the hopes of his country, the darling of his parents, should be snatched from all prospects and enjoyments of life by the consequences of deviating from the path of nature, and indulging in socretain secret habit. Such persons must, before contemplating MARRIAGE, effect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote consubial happiness. Indeed without these, the journey through life becomes a weary pigrimage, the prospect heurly darkens to the view; the mind becomes shadowed with despair, and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another becomes blighted with our owa. DR. JOHNSON'S INVIGORATING REMEDY FOR OR!

By this great and important remedy, Weaknessiof the Organs are speedily cured, and full vigor restored. Thousands of the most nervous and debilitated whe nad lost all hope, have been immediately relieved. All impediments to Marriage, Physical or Mental Disqualifi-eation, Nervous, Trembling, Weakness or Exhaustion or the most fearful kind, speedily cured.

TO STRANGERS. The many thousands cured at this Institution within the last twelve years, and the numerous important Surgica operations performed by Dr. J., witnessed by the reporters of the papers, and many other persons, notices of which have appeared again and again before the public, besides his vianding as a gentleman of character and responsibility, is a sufficient guarantee to the afflicted.

DISEASES OF IMPRUDENCE.—When the misguided and imprudent votary of pleasure finds he has imbibed the seeds of this painful disease, it too often happens that an ill-timed sense of shams or dread of discovery deters him from applying to those who, from education and respectability can alone befriend him, delaying till the constitutional symptoms of this horrid disease make their appearance, affecting the head, throat, nose; skin, &c., progressing on with frightful rapidity, till death puts a period to his dreadful sufferings by sending him to "that bourne from whence no traveler returns." It is a melancholy fact that thousands fall victims to this terrible disease, owing to the unskiftluess of ignorant pretenders, who, by the use of that deadly point, mercury, ruin the constitution and make the residue of life miserable.

In the Autumn Time. BY MARIE T. HAMELIN.

We hied to the woods in the Autumn time, When the Frost-King the leaves had kissed, And the golden October had veiled the hills With a curtain of silver mist; and the brown-shelled nut lay in tempting

In a garner of velvet moss, And the squirrel was storing his Winter hoard, And giving his coat a new gloss.

The wood-grapes were peeping so purply ripe Through the shade of the tinted leaves, And the reapers were merry at work on the hills,
As they bound up the golden sheaves,
You spoke of the tiny tendrils of green
That clung to the blighted tree,
And said that thus ever, in weal and woe,

Your love would abide with me. And I hid the glow of my blushing cheeks Neath the shade of my waving hair, And gave you my hand confidingly;

O you deemed me then so fair

Now again the fall on the upland glows, And the scene is as bright as then, But never for me will the Autumn time With such beauty come again For I wander alone through the forest glade, And my heart is darkened with woe,

And I think of the days when you were true And the love of the days when you were true And the love of the long ago.

O love is a fleeting shadow at best. And its joy is a mirage fair, And, like the apples by Sodom's walls, It will tade in the world's cold air.

The French Princes in the Army. and the Duke of Chartres, says : "The busy days that are opening the cam-paigh of McClellan, give proof that they will never disgrace the high glories of their names. Always at their posts, alert, intelligent and subordinate, they are the pride of the officers and pattern of the soldiers. Their fine education and general information commend them to the society of the elders of the Administration.

"La Comte de Paris, the elder brother, upon whose baby brow nestled the shadow of the coming crown of France, in the days when his grandiather was king, is a tall, good looking young gentlemen, who seems much older than ne is, with short brown hair, and whiskers of the fighting color. His knowledge of English is periect, though marked with a singularity o accent, and his command of English in. shing in a foreigner, and one so young There are few British statesmen, if we may judge by their speeches, so well acquainted with the workings of the representative and federal system as this young noblemen, whose time one would imagine occupied in softer and fascinating pursuits than the barren study of law and government. His intercourse with the magnates here is distinguished by a quiet dig-nity and deference combined, that marks his better days of the ancient regime.

"His younger brother, the Due de Chartres, is a fine, romantic figure for historical picture and school-girl dreams. Though very vonng not twenty-one, he has already served with dis tinction in two wars. He stained his maider sword in the cause of struggling Italy, and fought at Solferino at the side of il Re Gulantuo mo. He also wears his hair en 2 nure, and blonde moustache which gives promise of future excellence, snades a delicate and sensitive mouth. His eyes are rather those of a poet than a soldier-dreamy and soft and tender He looks more like an artist in love than a warrior in wrath. If there was any society here, society would rave about him. His beauty, and dignity, and grace, and valor, and name, would be an irresistable combination, storming the eart of any lady who admires (as who does not?) the poetry and romance of real life."

GUERRILLA MURDERS IN WESTERN VIR GINIA.—Intelligence from Lewis county, Virginia, state that a most horrible state of ffairs exist there just now. A gentleman direct from the neighborhood informs the Wheeling Intelligencer that within a week there have been no less than five Union men shot by roving guerrilla bands within fifteen or twenty Jacksonville. Then Owen Mulvey. His body was brought into Weston on Thursday. The murderers stole four horses from Mulyey's premises af-ter killing him. The others killed, were a Mr. Blair, and another whose name is not given. Porter Arnold, brother of J. G. Arnold, member of the Legislature from Lewis, was shot through the side and the wound is thought to be mortal. All these men, with the exception of Mr. Brake, were killed in the same night. They lived within a scope of about four miles in the upper edge of Lewis county. Arnold was a secessionists last spring, and ran away to the rebel army. He subsequently returned and made professions of loyalty, for which, it appears, his life was taken. Great excitement prevails in Lewis and the adjoining counties, and the Union men are fleeing from the neighborhood as best they can, taking with them what little effects have been spared from the general ruin. The history of such times, in such a region, will make a sad chapter in the great book that will one day be written about this rebellion.

Nor So Ban.—In perusing the columns of several newspapers published in our State, we notice several very distressing accounts or the condition of our troops now in Western Virginia, especially of those on Cheat Mountain. It is reported that we are destitute of clothing, food, &c. It appears, from facts lately come to our knowledge, that these reports originated in the reports taken home by some of our high offiials, now at home in Ohio on furlough. What spirit it was that prompted them to overstep the bounds of veracity in their "big yarns" of our doings, we know not; but this we do know, our condition has been grossly misrepresented.—

great, and to control them is now beyond the power of the Government. The object can be no other than to obtain a supremacy over the Mexicans, and re-enact the game of St. Domingo in Mexico. The fact that some of these chiefs have raised the Spanish flag should be convincing proof that there is reason for England and America to look well after the movements of Spain in this quarter."

LATE SOUTHERN NEWS.

Large Quantities of Cotton at Beaufort

THE CHARLESTON MERCURY ON THEIR DEFEAT.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 14. The New York Day Book, of the 11th, received by the Old Point Boat, coutains the folowing additional dispatches :—

The Mercury says the federals would capture large amount of cotton in the vicinity of Port Royal.

The Charleston Mercury, of the 9th, publishes leader with startling head lines, large capitals, s follows: "Naval attack on Port Royal-Batteries abandmed -The enemy in full possession."

"We are in the midst of a mass of conflicting rumors which reached us yesterday from Port Royal. Early in the day it was generally believed that the abandonment of Fort Walker was owing to the supply of amunition becoming exhausted. Our latest despatches are not very. different, but very mortifying. They state that The Washington correspondent of the St. the fort was gallantly held by its defenders un-Louis Republican, speaking of the Count of Paris til twenty-seven of its battery of twenty-nine guns had either been dismounted or rendered > useless. The Mercury continues-"There is no doubt that the fleet will succeed in the capture of an immense amount of cotton of the best quality. We understand that our forces have placed formidable obstructions in the river four miles below Beaufort. Gen. Lee is hard at work near Beaufort, and Gen. Ripley at Boyd's Landing, for the defence of the Charleston and Tennessee railroad." A dispatch dated Pocataligo, Nov. 8th, says: Gen. Drayton retired in two steamers by Pipe's Ferry, and is now at Blufftin. The number of "General Donovan retreated by way of Lalies' Island and Beaufort to Port Royal ferry. Beaufort had not been burned as was reported. It contained an immense deal of cotton, but it is well known that Bluffton would be burnt in case it was attacked. The Railroads, at Pocataligo, Charleston and Savannah, are in the greatest danger." DESTRUCTIVE FIRE IN PHILADELPHIA.

Traitors Setting Fire to Manufactories in the Employ of the Government,

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14. This morning at two o'clock, a fire broke out in the iron works of Ridgeway & Co, at the corner of Ashmead and Clinton street, Germantown. The flames spread with great rapidity, entirely destroying the building and a large quantity of materials. The loss is estimated at $10,000, upon which there is an insurance of $7,000. The works were usually engaged in the manifacture of hardware; but lately the hands were largely employed in making sabres for the Government. It is supposed that the place was set on fire. It is a singular fact that within a short time no less than seventeen woolen factories in various parts of the north, all of which were enmiles of Weston. The first was Wm. Brake, of gaged in the manufacture of supplies for the army, have been in whole or part destroyed by fire. Other establishments employed on Government work of other descriptions, have been destroyed, and a suspicion is excited that the conflagrations have been caused by traitors who wish to cripple the operations of the Govern-
