HARRISBURG, PA.

Saturday Morning, November 23, 1861, THE LUZERNE DEMOCRACY ON THE SOLDIERS' VOTE

It appears that the Democracy of Luzerne wish to disfranchise our gallant volunteers. Because these men who are now in arms against Southern rebellion voted for the Union ticketagainst the partizan Democrats of the Hakes and Chase school, the followers of these latter would throw out their votes, or enough of them, at least, to elect the Democratic ticket.

The Return Judges, who met on Tuesday week at Wilkes-barre, had quite a time. They finally adjourned by making out two sets of certificates—those by the Democrats rejecting the Army vote-those by the Republicans receiving it. In alluding to it the Pittston Gazette ob-

Shortly before the breaking out of the rebellion he retired from his profession and removed to Texas, where he purchased a large tract of land and started a sheep farm on an extensive scale. When Texas passed the ordinance of secession, Mr. Anderson disposed of his farm with the intention of rebeing well known. Mr. Anderson was a prominent Whig politician and a firm supporter of has held other important offices of trust and honor. IRELAND AND THE UNITED STATES. Again we hear of famine in Ireland. In some districts the destitution and suffering is represented to be terrible. Heretofore when the people of Ireland were starving, the first and most abundant relief came from this great Returning to Cincinnatti, but he was stopped on public. Sailing of the Stone Fleet -- Thirty Vessels to be Sunk in Southern Harbors.

Correspondence of the Evening Post.] New London, Ct., Nov. 20, 1861. The stone fleet, not, however, with pomp or sanners, sailed to-day. Twelve or fifteen vessels departed from this port, all bound south and all laden with stone. The crafts were old whalers, come of them of the largest size, but a hard-looking set. They have spent their lives nudg ing the icebergs, and have been industrious in their vocation of seeking material to illuminate the world and to make life tolerable at night to those who slept not. An immense quantity of midnight oil have they gathered in their day. They go now to illustrate the ideas of commerce which prevail in the darker portion, girt with sandbars, of our disturbed republic. A screw is fixed in their bottom which can be worked from the deck. When it is screwed out, the water, in a stream as big as a man's leg comes in, and the vessel is sunk. The stone anchors it at the bottom.

Our fleet is to be joined outside by a like one from New Bedford, which will make the whole number of the vessels about thirty. Six thousand dollars each have been paid by the govern ment for some of the best of these vessels. The fleet will be under the command of an old sea-dog, of whaling propensities, who has

Gen. Jim. Lane on Slavery. In a speech made at Camp Springfield, Missouri, Gen. Jim Lane, than whom no man is more feared and hated by Border Ruffians and Rebels, declared in reference to Slavery—the MILLINERY. Pandora box from which has issued most of our national troubles—as follows:

When lesser contradictions are reconciled, we will think of harmonizing this."

Comment is unnecessary. The Federal Army marches to crush out rebellion and treason and let slavery take care of itself.

RIFLED CANNON FOR THE WAR. — Three field patteries of Wiard's steel rifled cannon, combatteries of whath a sees rined cannon, com-prising eighteen pieces (six 12-pounders and twelve 6-pounders) with forty-two carriages, including caissins, battery wagons and forges, have recently been completed in New York for the War Department, and two of the batteries have been sent into the service. These batteries are apparently of the finest description.

The gun-carriages are in some respects peculiar. A principal feature in their construction is the extraordinary elevation which may be given to the guns. For ordinary smooth bored ordnance fifteen degrees are allowed, and for rifled pieces twelve are deemed sufficient, and the carriages are made accordingly; but in the case of these batteries an elevation of thirtyfive degrees is provided for, thus adapting them for all or nearly all the purposes of shelling.

Another peculiarity consists in the use of iron

An agent of the State of Ohio has ordered similar carriages for four batteries of Wiard's cannon, with the understanding that the number may be increased to ten batteries.

New Rebel Battery at Possum Nose.

WASHINGTON, NOV. 22.

While some gentlemen of distinction are destrous that Gen. Meigs shall take the field, it is known that the Government, appreciating his eminent qualifications for the discharge of the extensive and very important labors devolved on him, is not inclined to transfer him from the Quartermaster General's Department to the erformance of other public duties.

Much speculation continues to be indulged in relation to the Mason and Slidell question. So far as can be ascertained the Minister of her Britannic Majesty's Government has taken no action whatever upon the subject, but will probably await instructions. Nor has there been even an informal conversation between him and the proper department concerning Those who are intimately acquainted with Lord Lyons believe that in this as in other matters he has observed his usual discretion in resaining from premature expressions of opinion.

The Wyandank ran the blockade last night and reached Indian Head about moonrise, and the navy-yard this morning.

The steamer E. B. Hall also ran the blockade downward last night, having on board a large quant ty of ammunition and ordnance stores generally.

Two schooners loaded with wood ran the blockade successfully on Wednesday night. The enemy is apparently at work on a new battery at Possum Nose, which is far above the others on Mr. Otterbacks land.
