STATE EDUCATIONAL CONVENTION.

FRIDAY MORNING SESSION.
Prayer by President Johnson of Allegheny College.
Minutes of yesterday's proceedings read by the Secretary and adopted.
The Committee on Organization reported as officers of the day, Dr. Loomis, of Lewisburg, Union county, as Vice President, and Professor Wilson, of Dickinson College, Secretary.
List of members called by the Secretary.
The resolution offered by Mr. DENBERGER, of Cumberland county, was withdrawn.
On motion of Mr. CRUKSHANK, a committee of three be appointed to report on each topic presented.

Dr. BULLARD asked for information in regard to the "Teacher's Cannon Fund."
Mr. DAVIS, from the Committee, replied that as the treasurer was not present and as he had failed to see him, the Committee were not able to report at present.
Dr. LCOMIS, of Allegheny College, proposed that the resolution offered by Dr. JOHNSON, of Dickinson College, yesterday, be taken up by the Convention at half past eleven o'clock, for discussion and voted on at 10 o'clock.

Dr. KENNEDY, of Philadelphia, addressed the Convention at some length on the absolute and relative condition of Colleges.
President Loomis, of Allegheny College, addressed the Convention on the great subject of harmonizing not only the various systems of throughout the State, but also harmonizing the representations of those institutions.
Dr. JOHNSON, of Dickinson College, addressed the Convention on the fundamental idea of colleges, the most appropriate studies to be pursued there, and their relation to the practical wants of the community generally, and the wants of colleges. The remarks of Dr. J. were somewhat lengthy and replete with interest and instruction. The reporter regrets very much that time will not permit him to furnish even a synopsis of the address.

President Loomis, of Lewisburg University, then spoke at some length and very ably on the true relation of Colleges to the educational system of the State and the interest of the State in fostering those institutions.
Dr. TAYLOR, of Chester county, made some remarks, the object of which was to refute the idea which might obtain in the public mind from remarks heretofore made, that we were building up an aristocracy by means of appropriations from the State. The Dr. in the course of his remarks took occasion to pay an eloquent and glowing tribute to Hon. Thaddeus Stevens, of Pennsylvania, whose voice he had heard while yet a boy, in the adjoining Chamber, in tones of earnestness and eloquence, and in defiance of the elements of opposition with which he was surrounded, advocating a system of educating the children of the poor at the expense of those who have money. He advocated a system of schools of all characters and of various grades, each performing its part, together with the all-embracing university as its main impetus.

Mr. CRUKSHANK made a few remarks on the position of Academies and Seminaries.
Rev. Prof. DODGE spoke in regard to the special connection of Female Seminaries with the system.
Dr. GERHART of Franklin and Marshall College, spoke ably on the true relation of the colleges to our educational system and the community generally as well as the reciprocal relation of common schools to academies, colleges and universities, and the dependence of colleges or common schools.

The chair here announced that the time had arrived for the special order of business, the resolution offered by Dr. Johnson yesterday in regard to the proposed State aid to the higher institutions of learning.
Dr. JOHNSON advocated the fostering of all institutions of learning by Legislative appropriations.
Rev. Mr. HAY, of Harrisburg, said the State of Pennsylvania had been for years a beggar at the door of her colleges. She had been reaping the reward of the labors of those who had been educated at the expense of christian communities, and the debt should now be paid. He wished to see the day when our public schools would be so saturated and officers that our seminaries and academies would be nowhere, and the poorest man's child could be educated up to the highest point, and be enabled to pass from the school to professional training.

Dr. ERBY of Elk county said he hoped the gentlemen who offered the resolution would withdraw it; while he was in favor of it he would also advise that we move with caution. We might attempt too much and lose all. When the proper time comes we might act successfully.
Dr. GERHART was satisfied with the resolution; the only question was as to expediency at present—would it now be judicious to take a vote on it? He advocated a joint committee from all the interests here to consult and confer on the subject.
Mr. CRUKSHANK explained his remark in regard to evangelical institutions.
Dr. KENNEDY asked for a slight modification of the resolution, by which a committee could be appointed to report at the next session.

The Chair explained that the adoption of any such resolution was not contemplated as the object which brought together the Convention, and thought it premature, now as we do not sufficiently understand ourselves or each other at present, to justify us in taking this measure. It might indicate us with present public opinion and prevent the adoption of that grand idea of our educational system, consisting not of one but of all classes of schools, having a claim to public support and the future care of the Commonwealth.
Dr. JOHNSON proposed instead of memorializing the Legislature to consider the propriety of doing so.
After a few further remarks the resolution was withdrawn.
Prof. LOOMIS proposed a committee of three to report at next session on the different topics presented. Agreed to.
Dr. KENNEDY proposed that a committee be appointed to prepare, in a condensed form, a report on the various schools in the nation, at the next session. Agreed to.
Mr. COBURN offered the following resolutions:
1st. The whole official life of Gov. Curtin has evinced a strong attachment to the cause of Education in all its departments.
2nd. His attention, and interest during this Convention is another strong tie to bind him to school teachers and officers as a man, and as the thanks of the association be extended to him for his courtesy in inviting us to spend an hour at his hospitable mansion; that hour is regarded as one of the green spots in our memory. Adopted.
Mr. WICKERSHAM presented a resolution of thanks in behalf of the convention, to the various Railroad companies which had granted reduction of fare to its members.

Dr. KENNEDY presented a resolution of thanks to the President and officers of the Association for the able and courteous manner in which they had discharged their duties.
Mr. MIFFLIN offered a vote of thanks to the different hotel-keepers who had moderated their charges in favor of the members, as well as the citizens of the place who had hospitably opened their houses without charge.
Mr. WICKERSHAM proposed an Executive Committee in order to give system to the Convention and relieve the Department from embarrassment. Agreed to.
Mr. COBURN proposed a vote of thanks to the State Treasurer for his kindness and courtesy in paying to Superintendents the current quarters, salary before it was due. Mr. Coburn also announced an arrangement by which all the members wishing to visit Washington could do so at half fare.
Mr. SAVAGE announced that the time of excursion tickets on the Pennsylvania Central Railroad had been extended another week.
Mr. WICKERSHAM moved that the proceedings be published in the Pennsylvania School Journal.

The CHAIR announced the arrangement with the hotels for a reduction of charge.
Dr. JOHNSON suggested that the State Superintendent be ex officio chairman of the Executive Committee. Agreed to.
Mr. WILSON, of Philadelphia, addressed the Convention in behalf of a Journal published by him entitled the Home and School Journal.
The Deputy State Superintendent, at the request of the President, addressed the Convention, giving his reasons for not participating in the exercises on account of ill-health.
The President in conclusion addressed to the Convention a few feelings, appropriate and encouraging remarks. He returned his thanks for the manner in which they had sustained him and in which they had received the idea which had called them together. The meeting was not intended to be one of strict parliamentary proceeding, but to bring together, all connected with this noble enterprise of elevating the minds of the people. For this reason he had ventured to assume the task of presiding, but hereafter would retire, and next year would be satisfied by taking a seat in the outer circle to be benefited and instructed by their deliberations. His chief glory would be to be connected with the idea without undertaking the guidance of the enterprise any longer. He wished to correct a slight misunderstanding in regard to the object of the meeting. It never was intended that the various departments of education should be made one consolidated system, but only to harmonize and co-operate with each other. Among the unpleasant duties remaining was to bid each other a final adieu. It was probable we would not all meet together again. His own uneasy hearted, unregarded throbbings, admonished him that his departure from life would be sudden, and that he might not have the privilege of meeting them again; but if such be the case, the events of this meeting would recur as one of the most pleasant events of his life, and amongst the things not to be repented of. Bidding them all an affectionate farewell, he declared the Convention adjourned.

From our Morning Edition.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Capture of the British Schooner Mabel.

A VALUABLE CARGO SEIZED.

MILITARY APPOINTMENTS.

The Presbyterian Synod on National Affairs.

RESPONSE OF SECRETARY SEWARD.

Important Order from the Post Office Department.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.

In giving an account of the capture of the British schooner Mabel by commander Yard, Capt. Dupont says she has been brought into Port Royal harbor. She purported to be from Havana and bound for New York, but at the time of the capture was heading for St. Charles' sound.

Her cargo consisted of seven bales of blankets, four cases of cloth, three boxes of starch, twenty-five boxes of tin, 120 bags coffee, twenty barrels of potatoes, 350 pigs of arrow root, one case of pistol revolvers, two cases of cavalry swords and two cases of stores. The Mabel was formerly named the John M. Anderson, of Baltimore, and there is strong presumption of her intention to run the blockade. She will be sent to Philadelphia for adjudication.

The following army appointments have just been made: Second Lieut. Richard K. Crawford, Esamuel Brock, Jr., to be Assistant Adjutant General, with rank of Captain; 1st Lieut. J. C. Andreydy; Captain, Wm. P. Sanders; J. C. McKibbens to be Aid de Camp to Gen. Halleck; to rank as Colonel; John Haskins, Aid de Camp to Gen. Halleck with the rank of Colonel; Chas. Westler to be military storekeeper in ordnance department; James Fuller, Commissary of Subsistence of volunteers with rank of captain; Hiram B. Wetherall, Assistant Quarter Master of volunteers with rank of captain; R. Morris Copeland, Assistant Adjutant General of volunteers, to report to Gen. Banks, with rank of major.

Sir James Ferguson denies he was acting spy when visiting this country. It is only an act of justice to him to say that he was charged by many persons in the South with letters to be delivered or distributed throughout the Post offices of the North, and that on arriving at Washington, and being advised that such was prohibited by the Government he at once surrendered all letters to the Government.

Col. Berdan will grant no more commissions to raise companies of sharpshooters for his brigade, as enough have already been granted to more than fill it. Those wishing to join this corps must enlist under Captains holding commissions prior to present date.
Spencer's new repeating breech loading rifle was tried by a board of army officers by order of Gen. McClellan on Friday. They make a satisfactory report, and recommend its introduction into the army.

The minutes of the Presbyterian Synod of New York and New Jersey, during its recent session in Newark, N. J., were by order of that body forwarded to the Secretary of State.—Among the resolutions adopted was the following:
Resolved, That while we do not feel called upon to add any thing to the repeated testimonies of our church on the subject of slavery, nor to offer any advice to the Government on the subject, still fully believing that it lies at the foundation of all our national troubles, we recommend to our people to pray more earnestly than ever for its removal, and that the time may speedily come when God, by his providence, shall in his own good time and way bring it to an end, that nothing may be left of it but the painful record of its past existence.
The following is the reply of the Secretary of State:

DEPARTMENT OF STATE,
Washington, Nov. 27, 1861.
To the Synod of New York and New Jersey.
REVEREND GENTLEMEN:—The minute containing your resolution on the condition of the country, which you direct to me, has been submitted to the President of the United States. I am instructed to express to you his great satisfaction with those proceedings, which are distinguished equally by their patriotic sentiments and purely christian spirit. It is a just tribute to our system of government that it has enabled the American people to enjoy unmolested the blessings of Divine Providence which affect the natural conditions of human society than any other people ever enjoyed together, with a more absolute degree of religious liberty than before. The Institution of that great Government had ever been hoped among men. The overthrow of the Government might therefore, justly be regarded as a calamity not only to this nation but to mankind. The President is assured of public virtue and of the public valor, but this is unavailing without the favor of God.

The President thanks you for your invocation of the indispensable support, and he earnestly solicits the same invocations from all classes and conditions of men, believing that those prayers will not be denied by the God of our fathers. He trusts and expects that the result of this most unhappy attempt at revolution will confirm and strengthen the union of the Republic, and ultimately renew the internal affections

The Chesapeake and Ohio canal is once more in order for business, the recent damage having been repaired. To-day large quantities of flour and forage for the army arrived by the canal.

Scouts who have been sent out from our lines clear to Fairfax, returned this morning, and report that there is not a rebel to be seen in the village.

Burning of the Jail at Rockville

THE CASE OF LANAGHAN, THE MURDERER OF MAJOR LEWIS.

DARNESTOWN, Nov. 27.

The jail of Montgomery county at Rockville was entirely destroyed by fire last night. The fire was the work of an incendiary, a prisoner who was incarcerated for firing grain in the stock not many weeks ago. The Provost Guard of the Forty-ninth New York, under Captain Ammon, secured the prisoners, sixteen in number, and put them in the Court House. The incendiary on being interrogated by Capt. Ammon exulted over his act and said he fired the jail to get into the penitentiary.

The Court Martial which originally tried and convicted Lanaghan for the murder of Major Lewis of the Forty-sixth Pennsylvania regiment was reconvened last week to reconsider that case. The sentence of death had been or would have been pronounced against him, and he was through the consolation of religion ready to expiate his crime.

Dr. Steiner of the Sanitary Commission is now engaged in making a third examination of the condition of this division.

The regiments of the First Brigade, General Abercrombie's, are all in generous competition in adding to the health and comforts of camp life and cold weather; but the 12th Massachusetts and 16th Indiana are strong rivals in ingenuity, constructing huts and warming and ventilating their domicile and rendering them convenient and comfortable.

Nothing of importance from the other side.
