HARRISBURG. PA. Monday Afternoon, December 2, 1861.

APPOINTED - James A. Congdon, Esq., Captain of the "Marietta Cameron Guards" in the three months' service, has been appointed Major of Col. Frismuth's Regiment of Cavalry, the Curtin Hussars. Major Congdon, was formerly a resident of this city.

In Town.-Messrs. Phelan and Cavanaughthe great billiard players-were in town last Saturday on a tour of observation. During the day, they visited Poulton's Billiard Saloon where Cavanaugh astonished the "natives" by scoring 81 points in little less than no time.

POLICE AT THE DEPOT. -Mr. Michael Newman. ior many years a constable of Harrisburg, and latterly the policeman in attendance at the Penusylvania railroad depot, has been removed from that post to make room for Ex-Chief Police constable Radabaugh. The new arrangement went into operation this morning.

WE ARE making "dictionary" in the present war, almost as fast as "history." Every day brings out some new phrase, not always neat, but generally forcible. Such is one of our Western exchanges' description of the motive which induced another to write a certain astounding article. The motive, according to the allegation, was "pure cussedness." We have a fancy that the phrase is a good one for a very large ingredient in human character.

TOOK THEIR SEATS .- The President and Associate Judges, and Prothonotary and Register of Wills, chosen at the last election, were severally sworn in and entered upon the discharge of their duties to-day. The remaining county officers will enter upon their respective duties as

THE PRIZE CONUMDRUM.—The offering of a gold pencil to the author of the best original national conumdrum served to draw a crowded house for the benefit of "Brudder Bones" of Sanford's Opera Troupe at Brant's Hall last Saturday night. The following are some of the conumdrums offered on the occasion, the first of which written by Sam. Sanford, took the

Why is a cow like a cooking stove?

Because it can't climb a tree. THE "BUMMER."—The word "Bummer" is a late aequisition to our language. Neither Webster nor Worcester, in their respective lexicons, have noticed the term. Nevertheless, it is one of much insignificance, and is comprehensive in its meaning. It is very frequently used by police reporters to denote a wretched, forsaken, dissipated man. Whenever a man has become lost to a sense of shame, destitute of the means styled a "Bummer." While the "Bunmer" may occasionally be found in the country vilperfection. His haunts are the lowest and vilest localities, where his bestial appetites are gratified to excess and where the lowest depths of degradation are reached in the easiest possible manner. Hundreds infest this city, and can be daily seen creeping along the street pleading for alms in the most importunate manner, or sneakingly on the lookout for some article arrest. The Bummer thrives best near the depots, and at the market on Wednesday and Saturday mornings. No description can adequately convey a correct idea of the Bummer. It is necessary to visit his haunt to fully appreciate him. Many of these poor creatures once occupied respectable positions in society, and not unfrequently revert to their former condition as a palliation for their misconduct. Not a day passes but a number of Bummers are arraigned before the Mayor. They make their appearance there, wearing an air of injured dignity, and in a consequential tone demand the cause of his arrest Habituated to seeking the Lock-up as a lodging place, they are under the impression that they went there the night previous of choice. and indignantly repel the charge of being found drunk and asleep on a cellar door. They listen attentively to the testimony of the officer who arrested them, at the conclusion of which they look into the officer's face, and remark, "you're a perjured man," or perhaps, in less chaste language, assure the witness that he has sworn to a lie. To the Mayor, in indignent words, the bummer protests his innocence, but on finding that it is the determination of his honor to send him over the way for a fortnight, his demeanor changes, he acknowledges the justness of the charge, and be eechingly begs for mercy. ATTENTION, CITIZEN.—A regular stated meeting of the Citizen Fire Company will be held their hall this (Monday) evening, Dec 2, 1861, at 7 o'clock. Every member is requested to be punctual in attendance, as business of importance will be transacted. By order.

Horse Thieves.—The country, just now seems to be infested with horse thieves, and we mysteriously disappeared recently from the vicinity of Chambersburg.

THE "ANDERSON BODY GUARD."—This corps, numbering over one hundred rank and file, originally intended as a body guard for Gen. Robert Anderson, as commander of the Department of Kentucky, arrived in our city this morning from Carlisle Barracks en route for Kentucky, where they will serve as a body guard to Gen. Buell, now in command of that Department. Nearly every county in the State has a representative in the "Guard," and taken altogether there is not a finer looking body of men in the Neafer, in connection with his bone-boiling es-

A Tough One.—A correspondent of the Indiana Messenger states that while Mr. Wm. Gilmons of Armstrong township, was hauling pumpkins from a field, he discovered a land turtle, held by one leg between a pumpkin and a stone, where it had been caught by the rapid growth of the former. The turtle had been neld so long that the pumpkin had grown over it, and shaped a portion of the shell on its surface. When the vegetable was removed the prisoner was released from his confinement, and immediately traveled for other quarters. The story (or the the pumkin) is a remarkable one.

Before the war, wood along the road was poor sale, little or none being sent over the road; now the trade druggists, to all who call for it.

Lanahan for the murder of Major Lewis, of the 46th Penna., was reconvened last week, to reconsider that case. When Lanahan was called upon to plead, he replied "guilty, for," he said, I committed the deed, and am willing to suffer for it, although I had no desire to take his or any man's life." The only witness against him, he said, did not exaggerate his offence, but had stated one or two incidents connected with the affair of which the prisoner had no recollection of living, is an object of derision to the thought. but as he had previously been partially inless, and of pity to the compassionate, he is toxicated, and had but an indefinite conception of the whole transaction, it was possible nothing had been misstated or modified. He spoke with lage, he is peculiar indigenous to the city where much feeling of the officers of the Provost he and his confreres abound in great varlety and Guard, enumerating by name Major Stone, Captain Wenrick, Lieuts. Augustine and Voorhes, and Adjutant Patch. The other prisoners, too, he said, had respected his condition, and through the canvass of his tent he had often heard expressed fervent hopes for his welfare and his escape from the extreme penalty of the law; but he had no hope of the latter. The sentence of death had been which they may steal without the probability of or would be, pronounced against him, and he was, through the consolation of religion, ready to expiate his crime. He thought great for was not killed on the spot, when he shot the Major; and for this he was thankful. He said:

On the opening of this war he had left his home in good health and with a warm heart, to aid in preserving the Government and the Union. He served three months, re inlisted for the war, and up to the time of the act for which he expected to suffer, he had no other object to accomplish, and no hostility against any one save the enemies of his country. He was crazed, he said, when he fired the fatal shot. Rev. Father Dougherty, of Rockville, continues to visit Lanahan, and ministers to him the consolations of the Catholic religion.

"How empty learning, and how vain is art; Save when it guides the life; and mends the heart."

PRUDENCE." One grain of prudence is of more value than a cranium crowded with the unbridled genius, or a flowing stream of vain wit. It is the real ballast of human life. Without it, dangers gather thick and fast around the rail bark for man and hurry him on to distruction. The shores of time are lined with wrecks driven before the gale of imprudence. It is not prudence for children to disregard the good counsel of their parents and teachers. It is not prudence for children to disregard the good counsel of their parents and teachers. SERIOUS RAILROAD ACCIDENT. -The passenger chaplain of Col. Wood's regiment stationed at train from Baltimore due here at one o'clock to-Camp Curtin, filled the pulpit of the Fourth day, when about a mile below Bridgeport, on which threw the locomotive and two of the REMAINING IN THE HARRISBURG POST front cars off the track. The locomotive and the car next to it, ladened heavily with oysters. went down the embankment several feet.

The engineer and fireman were somewhat in jured but not seriously. Directly after the accident occurred, word was sent to the officials of the road in this city who at once despatched physicians to the scene of the disaster to attend to the wants of the woundadvise our farmer friends and others who are ed. A special train was also sent forward possessed of fine animals, to look well to their to convey the passengers to this city, who stable door fastenings. Several horses have arrived here at about 2½ o'clock P. M.— Rasehore, BA The mails were brought here from the other side of the river, by order of the Postmaster, without delay.

The train for Baltimore will necessarily be detained here for some hours. No blame whatever can be attached to any of the railroad officials—the cow being on the track, the train could not be stopped in time to avoid the accident.

FIRE.—The alarm of fire about 3 o'clock yesterday morning, was occasioned by the burning of a couple of old stables, formerly used by Mr. tablishment, about midway between the canal and Paxton creek, opposite the Car Manufactory. The fire bells of the city struck a general alarm, and the hose-carriages, engines and Carr, M hook and-ladder trucks were promptly in motion, but before they arrived at the scene of the conflagration the buildings, owing to the combustible material of which they were composed, were burned to the ground. Several hogs and a small quantity of hav, were consumed with the stables. The fire is supposed to Dawson, C have been the work of an incendiary.
