

Daily Telegraph

HARRISBURG, PA. Monday Afternoon, December 9, 1861.

A SPECIAL meeting of the Harrisburg Typographical Union will be held this evening, at the Citizen Engine House, at 7 o'clock.

SHOOTING MATCH.—A shooting match is to come off at Halbach's tavern on New Year's day for two hogs, each weighing four hundred pounds, and a cow. There will no doubt be some good shooting and rare fun on the occasion.

NEW POLICE ARRANGEMENTS.—Officers Fleck, Cariborn, Wickert and Cole, of this city, have formed themselves into a sort of partnership for the transaction of police business. They have taken an office in Shoemaker's building, Raspberry alley, opposite the Court House, where at least one of the firm will be found night and day, ready to respond to any call that may be made requiring the services of a policeman.

MAJOR GENERAL McCLELLAN returned from Baltimore to Washington the other day, with Mrs. McClellan, their infant daughter whom he never saw till that day, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. General Marcy. The ladies came from Pittsburgh, via this city, to Baltimore, in the Directors' car of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, having a special engine. The car is the same used by the Prince of Wales, President Lincoln and other distinguished persons. The General and his family are now at housekeeping.

NEW ARRANGEMENT.—By an arrangement made recently between the clergymen of our city, hereafter the bells of the several churches will be rung for the Sabbath services as follows:

MORNING SERVICES. Bells ring at 10.15. Services commence at 10.30. EVENING SERVICES. Bells ring at 7. Services commence at 7.15. This arrangement went into effect last Sunday.

A VETERAN VOLUNTEER.—Among the privates in General Wynkoop's regiment of cavalry, stationed at camp Cameron, near this city, is Captain Savers, who commanded a company called the Brownsville Blues in the army under General Harrison, in the war of 1812. In 1816 Captain Savers was placed in command of the steamboat "Enterprise," by direction of the Monongahela Bank, of Brownsville, and during General Jackson's administration he was appointed as assistant superintendent for the improvement of the Mississippi river, and was placed in command of the United States steam snag boat "Heliopolis." Captain Savers is now considerably past the meridian of life, but he still retains an active vigor, and as he himself says "a strong arm to strike in defence of his glorious country." May success attend him.

FUNERAL OF HENRY CHAYNE.—The funeral of Henry Chayne, who died from wounds received at the battle of Rich Mountain, Western Virginia, took place from the residence of his mother in Second street, near the Square, at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The cortege moved from the house in the following order: Capt. G. W. P. Davis' Company.

First City Zouaves. Capt. C. C. Davis' Company of Cavalry, forming a guard of honor to the corpse. Clergymen and relatives of deceased in carriages. Harrisburg Typographical Union.

Band of the Fifty-fourth Regiment. Friends of the deceased and citizens generally. The military were under the command of Capt. J. M. Eyster, of the 18th U. S. Infantry, and made a very fine appearance. The weather was delightful, which served to draw out a large concourse of people, who followed the remains to the cemetery, where after the delivery of a few impressive remarks by Reverends Moore and Hay, and prayer by the former gentleman, they were interred with the customary usual attending a military funeral. "Soldier rest, thy warfare's o'er, Sleep the sleep that knows no waking, Dream of battle fields no more, Days of danger, nights of waking."

CITY COUNCIL.—The regular monthly meeting of the Common Council was held at the Council Chamber in the Court House last Saturday evening.

The minutes of previous meetings were read and approved.

Dr. Bailey moved that in order to be able to pay the interest of the city debt, falling due in January, the Council pass no bills until next month, excepting the payment of salaries.

The motion was agreed to.

Communications were received from the Mayor announcing the dismissal of his Chief Police Constable, and in reference to the bad condition of the various pavements throughout the city; asking an abatement of the nuisance. The ordinances on the subject were referred to; when the matter dropped.

A petition was presented from citizens of Fairhill, asking for a foot-walk between Paxton creek and Allison's hill. Referred.

Mr. Verbeke presented a petition from citizens of the northern part of the city, asking for a gas-light at the corner of Filbert and Walnut streets.

Refused for the present. Mr. Martin presented a petition from citizens of the fifth ward, asking for the grading of Rose alley. Referred.

Mr. Verbeke presented a petition from German citizens of Harrisburg, asking that the ordinances and resolutions of the city be published in German in the Harrisburg and Lancaster Democrat.

Referred to the Ordinance Committee. Mr. Hamilton, from the Committee of the Whole, on the new city Lock-up, reported that he with others had visited the same, and thought that with a few alterations it might be made comfortable. The subject was again referred to the Water Committee, with instructions to confer with the County Commissioners.

Mr. Maeyer offered a resolution for a gas-light at the Lutheran church mission, corner of High and State streets. Agreed to. The Council then adjourned.

MONEY SENT HOME.—The "Colder Fencibles" of this city, attached to the Thomas A. Scott regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers, were paid off last Saturday, and the members of the company have sent to their friends and families in this neighborhood the sum of nearly two thousand dollars.

PERSONAL.—Colonel A. James Mulligan, the hero of the battle of Lexington, Missouri, passed through our city last Saturday, over the Pennsylvania Central Railroad from Chicago, Illinois, en route to Washington city via Baltimore. The gallant officer was accompanied by his wife, and several distinguished military gentlemen, whose names we could not learn.

CAPT. ISAAC W. WATERBURY'S company, mostly recruited in this city, has been heard from in the neighborhood of Fortress Monroe, Va., and are under marching orders to penetrate further into the "howels" of Dixie, probably bringing up somewhere in the Palmetto State. The officers and men are all in fine condition, and anxiously awaiting a passage of arms with the rebels.

POLICE.—Before the Mayor—Samuel Blew and George Sage, both colored, were arraigned, charged with the larceny of four dollars and fifty cents, in "small change," from the store of Mrs. O'Donnell, corner of Walnut street and Tanner's alley. Remanded for a further hearing.

Several cases of parties charged with violating city ordinances, will be heard before the Mayor at 6 o'clock this evening. PLEASANT WEATHER.—The weather was delightful to-day, the temperature having been more like that of spring than the cold blasts of December, so piercing only a few days ago. The wind throughout the day was from the southwest, but at the time of writing the barometer indicates an unfavorable change. During the day large numbers of persons visited the country, and in the afternoon the appearance of the children on the streets was like the opening of the spring time.

THE AMERICAN FLAG.—Bishop Simpson, in a sermon delivered in Brooklyn the other day, made the following graceful and eloquent allusion to the flag of our common country. Our flag, he remarked, is on every sea—it visits every port, and wherever it goes the people love it. No one but he who has been abroad in distant lands knows how that national symbol is respected. A man says "I am an American," and nations protect him wherever he goes. I, as well as others, doubtless, in this audience, have felt its protecting power in foreign lands. Oh! it is a glorious flag. Sometimes it seems to me as if an angel's hand had clipped it out of the blue heaven, with its own stars of gold, coming down like angel's eyes of mercy as it goes on its mission of good will over the earth. It is a glorious flag, and nations love it.

INDIAN SUMMER.—The smoky haze which fills the atmosphere, the hectic flush upon the variegated cheeks of our neighboring hill sides; the fallen leaves; the golden beauty of the landscape, announces to us that it is the return of that crowning season of the year—Indian Summer. But we opine before many days, Indian Summer will have taken its departure from us, for at least a year. It rarely, if ever, tarries long, when it makes its appearance at this season of the year.

The birds of summer have flown to their Southern homes, and not until the departure of the cold and dreary Winter, will their sweet music be with us again, but their more hardy cousins, the few that remain are searching for nesting places, near our houses, and if kindly treated will gather the seeds from our gardens, and pick the crumbs from our doors. Their cheerful presence will repay a thousand fold for their scanty support. The little squirrels are busy in our woods, gathering into their homes their winter stores.

The pretty quails in little flocks become half domesticated, and with their plaintive music, seeking proximity to human habitations, seem to ask consideration and protection at our hands. The busy year is winding to its close, and many are the sad and gloomy thoughts that are turned back in contemplation of the varied scenes of the past year. The season will be a brief one. Jack Frost, with his icy fingers, has already touched the leaves of the forest.

Every season has its joys and sorrows; but look on the bright side and we shall always be happy.

BRANDY AND HEALTH.—"A glass of brandy can't hurt anybody. Why, I know a person, yonder he is on high 'Change, a specimen of many beauties, a portly six-footer. He has the bearing of a prince, for he is one of our merchant princes. His face bears the hue of health, and at the age of forty, he has the quick elastic step of our young men of twenty-five, and I know that he never dined without brandy and water, and he never goes to bed without a terrapin or an oyster supper, with plenty of champagne; and, more than that, he was never known to be drunk. So here is a living example and disproof of the twaddle about the dangerous tendency of an occasional glass, and the effects of a temperate use of good liquors."

Now, says the intelligent editor of Hall's Journal of Health, it happened that this specimen of safe brandy drinking was a relation of ours. He died in a year after that, of a chronic diarrhea, a common end of liquor. He left six children, and he had ships on every sea, and credit at every counter, which he never had occasion to use. Four months before he died (he was a year in dying), he could eat or drink nothing without distress; and the whole alimentary canal was a mass of disease, in the midst of millions he died of inanition. This is not the half, reader. He had been a steady drinker, that is, daily drinker, for the last twenty-eight years. He left a legacy to his children which we will not name. Scrofula had eaten up one daughter at fifteen; another is in the mad-house; the third and fourth were of unearthly beauty, but they blighted and paled, and faded away, into heaven we trust, in their sweetest teens; another is tottering on the verge of the grave, and only one is left with all his senses, and each of them is as weak as water. Why, we came from the dissecting room and made a note of it, it was so horrible.

THE HARMONIC SOCIETY will meet for rehearsal and practice on Monday evening, D. C. 9th. in the lecture room of the Baptist Church, Pine street, at 7 o'clock. A full attendance of active members is particularly desired. An invitation is hereby extended to the members of choirs to be present and unite with the society.

COLONIZATION.—Thomas White, agent for the Haytian Emigrant Aid Society, will deliver an address in the Fourth Street Bethel to-morrow evening, at 7 o'clock, on the subject of assisting the colored race to emigrate to Hayti. A large number of this class of people are said to be in Western Virginia and other locations who only need the means to get to Hayti to place themselves in comfortable condition, and we hope the subject will claim the attention of our citizens generally. Mr. White is a native of Virginia, residing near Wheeling, has long been engaged in the cause, and will no doubt be able to give much valuable information on the subject.

THE LOCOMOTIVE EXPLOSION AT WRIGHTSVILLE.—The explosion of the boiler of a locomotive on the Northern Central Railroad, at Wrightsville, was noticed in the telegraphic column of last Friday morning's TELEGRAPH. We have been able to gather the following additional particulars respecting the explosion. The locomotive was in the act of backing up for the passenger car in front street, when it exploded, killing the fireman, Mr. Jesse Hortner, instantly, and so injuring the engineer, Chas. Geiselman, that he died in about half an hour. The former was from Glen Rock, and the latter from York, and leaves a wife and family. The explosion was terrific, and shattered engine and tender, throwing the former a complete summersault, blowing fragments in every direction. The accident happened directly in front of Solomon McCauley's Confectionery, and the explosion shattered that and neighboring houses for half-a-square, breaking windows, covering everything with mud and soot, and in one instance knocking a considerable hole through a brick wall. The track was torn up and the ground hollowed by the force of the blow. Attached to the engine was a train of freight cars, which were, we believe uninjured. Several persons standing near narrowly escaped destruction.

FOGGY MORNINGS.—The fog hereabouts for the last two or three mornings was "thick enough to cut with a knife," and would have rejoiced the heart of a Londoner. As described by a cotemporary, moisture hung upon the clothing and beards of those who were abroad, it clung clammy to inanimate objects, and rendered window panes almost as dim as though the glass were ground or frosted. The sidewalks were as damp as if there had been an universal early application of the Susquehanna, and the streets were coated with mud of the stickiest description. The fog was worthy of the London article of that description, and objects could scarcely be distinguished at a distance of a hundred feet. Railroad cars and other vehicles seemed suddenly to emerge from the gloom and as suddenly to plunge into semi-darkness, leaving no trace behind but feebly rattling wheels. Foot passengers looked weird and phantasmic as they passed through the fog, and worthy mechanics with their dinner baskets, and old market women with their cotton umbrellas, appeared as shadowy and unsubstantial at a distance, as though they were so many "ghosts of Banquo's line," seen dimly through a stage fog of double gauze.

FABLE FROM LESSING.—"Now I am going to fly—now then!" said the huge ostrich, and all the birds crowded round in anxious expectation. "Now," he said, and spread his vast wings; but instead of rising, he only tumbled over, and lay flat on the ground.

When a great rebel, Governor Letcher, of Virginia, makes his complaints and gives you notice that he is going to fly with his southern army from the Potomac to the banks of the Susquehanna, he frequently ends by such a fall as the ostrich's, that at least is the opinion of Ulrich & Bowman, at the cheap dry goods store, corner of Front and Market streets.
