HARRISBURG, PA.

Tuesday Afternoon, December 10, 1861.

THE GREAT REBELLION will open in Brant's Hall next Thursday evening, embraced in Davis's Great Panorama of America—the largest and most thrilling exhibition ever offered to the American public.

For the Holidays.—Messis. Jones & Waggoner have just opened out a large and well selected stock of confectionaries, toys, &c., at No. 75 Market street, next door to Ziegler's liquor store. We dropped into their establishment yesterday, and found it crowded with customers making purchases of Christmas presents for the "young folks at home." We advise our readers, who are in want of anything in this line, to give Messrs. Jones & Waggoner a call.

LOOK OUT FOR THE BANNERS. - Not the least interesting feature of Davis' Great Panorama of "America and the Rebellion" is the thirty-four banners each containing a handsomely executed coat of arms of the State it represents. These are in keeping with the national character of the great painting, and are chiefly intended as an advertizing arrangement. They will be borne by boys in procession, preceded by music, through each of the towns where the panorama is to be exhibited, and will no doubt attract much attention. We repeat, then, look out for the Banners next Thursday.

In Town.-Captain Isaac W. Waterbery, of Col. White's regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers, arrived here at noon to-day, direct from Fortress Monroe. He reports that his regiment, with other troops, have sailed for Port Royal, South Carolina, and that the men of his company are in a fine healthy condition, and anxious for a "brush" with the rebels. Captain Waterbery has been detailed here on recruiting service, by order of General Wool, and will also superintend the forwarding of the convalescent soldiers of his company and regiment who were left in the hospital here, when the regiment moved southward. The Captain is looking remarkably well.

VERY MUCH LIKE A HOAX.-We copied from the Boston Christian Advertiser, a day or two since what was styled a "Remarkable Prophecy," from Haggai, chap. iv., verses, 8, 10 and 21 wonderfully applicable to the present war and its consequences to the south. From several notes received ourselves, and from communications in other journals, we infer that the article has stimulated many persons to search the scriptures, possibly for the first time. As we any misrepresentation, it is proper to say that there are only two chapters in Haggai, and that gious hoax.

DEATH OF HENRY CHAYNE.—At a special meeting of the Harrisburg Typographical Union, No. 14, held on Monday evening, December 9th, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, Henry Chayne, a native of this city and a member of the Indianapolis Typographia desirable state of social ethics and should if cal Union, died in Beverly, Va., on Tuesday last, from wounds received in the vicinity of Cheat Mountain, Western Virginia, while defending his country's flag: And whereas, we have paid the last tribute to his memory, by attending his funeral in a body, in commemora-tion of him as a native of this city, and a

THE COST OF GENTILITY.-Whatever may be said to the contrary, it does cost a great deal of Schools, through the entire period in which the money to be a gentleman, and a great deal leading principles of character are acquired.more to be a lady. Where the mistress of a The principle is, that young folks will go whenhouse has to be a nurse and domestic servant ever they are interested; let those whose duty as well as a wife, she will be sure to sink the it is, see to it, that interesting classes are prolast character in the first. Unless a women has vided, and according to fixed laws of human extraordinary health and vigor, her husband will enjoy very little of her society if she is always looking after the children or the dinner; and if both he and she are forced to spend a great deal of time and thought in contriving ways to make their income to cover their expenses, their minds will be very apt to assume a petty cast, and to be fixed for the most part on small and somewhat sordid, tho' important objects. The obscure difficulties and struggles of such a mode of life are, in plain truth great enemies both to refinement and to high aims in life. A couple to whom every sixpense is an object, have to think and talk a great deal about sixpenses. Although it is perfectly right that they should do so, it would be better for them to be free from the obligation. It follows from this that the desire to keep up appearances is neither an empty nor vulgar one, for the appearances so kept up cover substantial realities. It is quite true that the first and perhaps the most obvious result of the sort of marriage so warmly advocated, is a loss of social station; but the reason why that loss is incurred is, that such marriages always render possessions of importance extremely precarious. They endanger the independence and the refinement of those who contract them, and they make it probable that they will become the he stopped at pa's ever so long, and he told us parents of children who will hold a position in that if you looked through one of those glasses, life altogether different from their own. This simple account of the matter will continue to be side down. He is a very scientific man, and the true one so long as the average energy and self restraint of mankind continue substantially unchanged. Whether or no such a risk is worth running, and such a price worth paying for the gratification of affection, is a separate question; but it is of great importance to understand rightly what the price really is.

ALL should read Prof. Wood's advertisement n another column.

Police-Mayor's Office-Wm. Umphreys was and battery on a young daughter of Kitty Hamilton. Remanded for a further hearing.

Matthias Beaver, George Murray, and Wm. Burch, were arraigned for vagrancy, and discharged with an injuction to leave the city forthwith.

HORRIBLE DEATH CAUSED BY INTEMPERANCE. Some two weeks or more ago, a small girl of 12 or 14 years, named Lawless, living near Water and Swede-sts., Norristown, was at the house of a neighbor, playing with the children of the latter, who had a fire built out of doors, near by, when her dress caught fire and she was burned to a crisp, while the woman of the household lay in drunken insensibility, unable to help the child in her agony. She died in a few hours. What a lesson is here!

Horse Shoeing in Winter. Some black smiths seem to forget that horses shod in the winter should have the inner side of the shoe of such configuration as to let go easily of snow balls formed within the hoof. It only requires a gradual increase in size outward, with no dovetailing in figure, and each ball, almost as formed, will readily be parted with. Why, suggests the Scientific American, could not the horseshoe, for city use, have a slight coating of gutta percha on its upper side, so as to break the momentum of blows on the paving stones? This would materially ameliorate the difficulty so frequent in cities, where one-fifth of the horses have their feet ruined in a few years by continually treading on solid pavements.

----AN EVENTFUL PERIOD-MAKING HISTORY. This is indeed an important era. The American people are now making a history that will be read with interest, not only when the boys and girls of to-day shall have grown grey with age, but for centuries to come. None of the events recorded in the history of Greece and Rome, that are still read with so much interest, were of such world wide importance, as what is now transpiring in this year of Grace 1861. Our young readers, and even grown people, who pore over the details of the war of '12 can hardly realize that a greater strife, and if possible a more important one, is now in progress in our very midst. The result is to determine, for the benefit of the world whether or not a free Government like ours, is a strong one, capable of endurance, and adapted to the wants of the human family. This struggle, its causes, its details, its results, will be constantly written about, talked about, and referred to in the highest legislative councils of this and other countries, longer than the youngest child that reads these pages will live. Let all the youth, then, read about and study the transpiring events of the day, and let them be disdon't wish to be even an involuntary party to cussed at the fireside, at the table and in the BIBLE CLASSES.—With very few exceptions the so-called "prophecy" looks like a sacrili- our Sunday Schools are without advanced classes. The girls at "sweet sixteen," are rarely seen in Sabbath School classes; and boys, even before arriving at that age, find it more pleasant to loiter on the street corners, or lounge at home, than to be found in the class on Sunday. We fully agree with our cotema desirable state of social ethics and should if possible be remedied. One of the most practical and efficient modes of effecting a change would be the establishment of Bible Classes in all the Churches in the city. Not classes in which question books are committed to memory, or form the programme of the teacher's questions; but real live classes, with the most mature judgment of the church at their head and discussed and explained by the members of the class, aided by the superior learning of the leader. The members of these classes, supposed to be ladies and gentlemen of sufficient maturity of mind to grasp the subjects presented, would supply the Sunday Schools with competent and enthusiastic teachers; for it is those, who possess most knowledge, that are most earnest in instructing others. The classes in the schools, would thus be more advanced, more interesting to older pupils, who would be retained in the teachings and moral influence of the Sabbath nature they must be well attended.

DIDN'T WANT TO STAND ON HER HEAD .- Jane Eliza—a very pretty and intelligent young lady of eighteen summers and seventeen wintersfrom the wilds of Perry county, stepped into a Market street daguerreotype gallery, a few days since, to get a photograph taken. She was accompanied by a male cousin who "knows the ropes." After being gracefully posed, the urbane operator took a look at her through the instrument, when Jane Eliza blushed, patted her dress down so as to make it touch the floor all around, and hurriedly beckoned her escort to approach.

"Don't let that horrid looking man look at me through that thing: please make him stop."

"Why not?" whispered he. "I don't like to tell you," she blushingly answered. "Oh, I must insist on knowing," said he. "Well," answered she, "if I must tell you (lowering her voice artfully), it will turn me upside down.'' Our city friend, the cousin, smiled-he couldn't help it—and told her he thought she must be mistaken. "Oh no," she said; Mr. E-is an engineer, and when he surveyed the railroad last summer, the object, (that's what he said) was turned upought to know, you know."

Our friend assured her he would not have her upset, if he could help it, and told Mr. Photograph, who had been watching the mysterious conference with some interest, that the young lady thought he might proceed to "take her," without any further preparation, and she was accordingly "took." The joke leaked out somehow, and Jane Eliza's lady friends quiz her Urich & Bowman, at the cheap dry goods store, Bresent price, $3 and $2 25 per ton.

How IT OCCURRED .- We stated last week that Benjamin Snyder, a member of the Thomas A. Scott Regiment, connected with Captain Albright's company, had been killed by falling under the cars of the Northern Central Railroad while attempting to get on them. Since then we have learned the particulars of his To death. It appears that he and one or two of his companions, having obtained a furlough, went to Baltimore to spend the holiday. They started to return on foot, but when a short distance below Melvale, Snyder gave out and laid down on the track where he fell asleep. A train coming along soon afterwards passed over him, crushing his head, cutting off both feet and mangling him dreadfully producing, instant

FIRE LAST NIGHT .- The alarm of fire, about 6 o'clock last evening, was occasioned by the partial burning of the building in South street. opposite Raspberry alley, occupied by Messrs. J. & S. H. Colestock as a carpenter shop. The fire bells of the city rang a general alarm, and the several fire companies were promptly on the spot with their apparatus, which, being put in opperation, soon succeeded in extinguishing the flames before any great amount of damage was done. The fire was first discovered issuing from the lower part of the building, on the western side, as if it was under the flooring, which seems to favor the idea with some that it was the work of an incendiary-although others believe it to have been purely accidental, originating by a spark from a stove. Owing to the promptness of the fire department the damage done by the flames was inconsiderable, and the only loss sustained by the Messrs. Colestocks will be the time necessary to get rid of the water with which the building was flooded, and restore things generally into their usual ship-shape DANDELION COFFEE. condition. That hoops are a peculiar comfort is undeniable. for independent of the grace of motion, of which they are such powerful auxiliaries, their assistance in keeping the long dresses from our feet. and giving the limbs free play, is indispensable. But that they also render us liable to disease by leaving the body exposed to the cold, is a powerful argument against their use. To obviate this difficulty, some New England ladies have adopted the following under garment, which we would do well to imitate: It is a pair of flannel drawers, made of dark Opera flannel, lined with Canton flannel, and worn over the muslin ones. They can be confined around the ankle or not, as the wearer fancies. One pair of such, has been found equal in warmth and pro tection to a half dozen loose, heavy skirts, which are expensive, and require extra labor and time to keep them in order.

DISTINGUISHED ARRIVAL.—The famous Major Zagoni, of Fremont's Body Guard, passed through this city last Saturday, and attracted much attention. The Major is a small-sized lightly built man, but looks every "inch the soldier." Accompanying him there was a favorite dog, who shared the attention paid to his smaster. On his collar was engraved "I am Corporal of Gen. Fremont's Body Guard; whose dog are you?" Those who read the inscription once, were generally satisfied with the inspection.
