HARRISBURG, PA Wednesday Afternoon, December 11, 1861.

WANTED IMMEDIATELY .-- A boy, who can write a good hand, and is willing to make himself generally useful. Apply at this office between seven and eight o'clock this evening.

GRAND COTILLON PARTY. - A grand cotillon party will be given to-morrow night at Exchange Hall, under the superintendence of Mr. Geo. Krause. Lovers of the Terpsichorean art should be on hand.

Under Marching Orders.-Colonel Wynkoop's regiment of Cavalry at Camp Curtin, have been under marching orders for some time, and expect to leave for Kentucky some day this week. It is understood that the regiment will proceed as far as Pittsburg on horseback, and there be shipped on steamboats for Louisville, Ky.

Lost. - Our readers are referred to the advertisement of a lost carpet bag in the advertizing columns of this evening's TELEGRAPH. The bag contained mortgages and papers which are only valuable to their owner, who if they are not returned, will experience a severe loss. Aliberal reward will be paid by the owner for their recovery, and no questions asked. Address B. F. Etter, Esq., Harrisburg, or W. L. L. Van Buren, Wellsville, New York.

THE SHOP WINDOWS.—The shop windows all over the city afford an unerring indication of the near approach of Christmas. The first class establishments make a magnificent display of tempting wares, and the possessors of well-filled purses can invest heavily, if they are so disposed. The confectioners are, of course, as busy as bees among their sweetmeats. The windows and show cases of these establishments make a grand display, which is particularly tempting to the juveniles, and youngsters may be seen at all times gazing wistfully at the tempting

THE GREAT PANORAMA of America and the Rebellion, painted by Harry Davis, the talented young artist, of this city, will be publicly exhibited for the first time at Brant's City Hall to-morrow evening. The programmes, circulated through the city, fully describe the scenes embraced in the great work, and we need only add that every picture is a perfect gem of art, and that altogether it is one of the most splendid panoramas ever presented to the American public. Evey man, woman and child in the city should see it before it leaves for other PROFESSOR GROSS, at the Jones' House, is a gem in his way, ready to serve his customers with the luxuries of good liquor or the mysteries of perfect legerdemain, just as their fancy may desire. John is as finished in some of his tricks as either the renowned Heller or Blitz, doing without ostentation what both of these magicians perform with great display. He is worth an acquaintance, as being one of those novelties in the way of good sense, rare talent and commendable modesty so seldom met with in the young men of this day. The Professor is bound to win in his battle of life, if he continue to do as he is doing.

A MILD WINTER IN PROSPECT.-Every year about this time, the question starts up as to whether there is to be a close or open winter, and the idiosyncrasies of the beaver, the squirknow a thing or two about the weather, are consulted as carefully as were the oracles of old. The Milwaukee Wisconsin says, "But we think we have a sure thing this time, that it is going to be a mild winter. Joel Hood, the celebrated mountaineer, who has been all over the Northwestern territories, the Pacific States, and the Sandwich Islands, and who probably knows as much about the peculiarities of wild animals (not to say anything about their furs) as any other man in the West, stakes his reputation upon the prediction that we are to have a mild winter, with the prevailing winds from the South for the next six months. He bases his knowledge upon the doings of the muskrats, beavers, and other animals this fall. He also says that it has been reduced to a certainty, by scientific and ordinary observation, that whatever winds prevail when the equinoctial line is passed, they will prevail throughout the winter. This fall it was Southern winds, and therefore he is certain they will be the prevailing winds throughout the winter.

FOR THE HOLIDAYS.—The attention of the public is directed to the advertisement of Wm. Knoche, to be found in another column. The Christmas holidays being near at hand, all in want of a nice article, and one that will add to many coincidences brought about by this war, the life of the winter fireside, suitable for a is the following: Mr. John Stewart, of Ty-Christmas present, can be suited by calling at rone city, a young man about 18 or 20 years his store, where he has just opened a large as_ sortment of , lanos and melodeons, unequaled for power, purity and sweetness of tone of any yet offered to the public. Violins, accordeons, guitars, flutes and musical instruments of all discriptions, constantly on hand, all of which are very suitable for a present to the adult or perhaps "not wisely but too well," for between child, male or female. He has also just received a new musical work, entitled the "Album of Music," beautifully illustrated, containing suitable music for each illustration—a superb book, handsomely bound in gilt -- just the thing to make a Christmas present to a lady. Sheet music in great quantity, and all the latest publications received as fast as issued. Picture frames, square and oval, plain and ornamental, of all sizes and prices, suitable for mirrors, engravings or photographs, in great variety. Those desiring anything in this line will find a large collection to select from. We have neither space nor time to-day to say more of Mr. Knoche's enterprise, and can only advise the public generally in want of anything in his line to call at No. 93, Market street, where everything in the musical line, in style, size or price, from a piano to Jew's-harp can be obtained cheap for

ALL should read Prof. Wood's advertisement in another column.

THE Quartermaster General, of Pennsylvania, acknowledges to have received the following donations for the volunteers at Camp Curtin: Six jars preserved plums; six jars of quince, currant, tomato, apple and plum butter; three bottles current and blackberry jam; one crock current jam-with parcels of towels, castile soap, fine tooth combs, lemons, tea, &c., &c., all for hospital use, from the ladies of Marietta. Three pairs knit woolen socks from Mrs. H. M. Graydon, Harrisburg; forty-three pairs woolen socks from the ladies of Howard Iron works, intended for Captain J. Irvin Curtin's company, Forty-fifth regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers. (These socks were forwarded by express to Fortress Monroe, Va.) Three pairs drawers from ladies of Fulton county; two pairs woolen socks from Mrs. Hannah Coverly, Harrisburg.

R. C. Hale, Q. M. G. Harrisburg, Dec. 10, 1861.

POLICE. - Before the Mayor. - Thos. Coburt, Martin Maxwell, Chris. Smoke, Thomas Price and Williams-all soldiers-were arraigned for drunkenness and disorderly conduct, and after a hearing discharged with an injunction to mend their ways.

Jos Jones is a "bould calavery man," belonging to Capt. Davis' company. He was put on the stand charged with drunkenness and bad conduct generally. Sent across the street for ten days.

Detricht Duncht—a "revolver"—up for drunk enness and disorderly conduct. Discharged.

The colored men Samuel Blue and Geo. Sage arrested day before yesterday, charged with the larceny of four dollars and a half in "in small change" from Mrs. O'Donnel are still enjoying the hospitalities of the lock-up, their case not yet being fully determined.

Wm. Umphry's, noticed in yesterday's Tele-GRAPH as having been arrested for committing an assault and battery upon the daughter of Kitty Hamilton, had another hearing this morning and was again remanded.

Before Alderman Kline. - Susan Dennis (colored) was arraigned for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. Sent to prison.

Evan Evans, up for drunkenness. Sent to MARRIAGE UNDER DIFFICULTIES .- A young gentleman of our acquaintance having agreed to meet a certain lady in the presence of a minister, who had been invited to join them for better or for worse, started in full custom one night last week to fulfill his destiny. But the old saying that "the course of true love never did run smooth" was illustrated in his case, for the night was dark, and intent on other thoughts he gave no heed in his ways, till he fell slap into a coal hole, amid a pile of dirt, bricks and broken slabs, from which it was impossible for him to extricate himself. He screamed for help, but none came, for the place was lonely, and to add to his misfortunes, a rain storm came on. Meanwhile the bridal party awaited the hero of the occasion till long after the appointed time, and visions of a breach of promise floated through the brain of at least one angelic being amidst the hitherto happy throng. "A little brother" was at last dispatched to the bridegroom's boarding house, and on the way he was attracted by the cries of his prospective brother-in-law. The situation was at once made known, and by the aid of lanterns and poles the bridegroom was restored to his sweetheart badly damaged, indeed, but with his heart uninjured, for before the minister departed the "twain were made one flesh."

SINGING SCHOOL,-The editor of the Montgomery Democrat thus soliloquizes over this oldfashioned institution: Of the old-fashioned singing-school how much has been said and sung! Great institutions were they; arrangements rel, and other animals that are supposed to charmingly suggestive of fun, frolic, snow, starlight, love, laughter, bells and allowable "benders." Those singing schools away "out in the country," we mean; held in the only church -and that a small one-within a circuit of twenty miles. They made the church the weekly trysting place of each "paird off" couple for miles around; they made it the week's for miles around; they made it the week's Susquehanna he frequently ends by such a fall centre of gravity for the old folks to get to a as the ostrich's, that at least is the opinion of shake o' hands; they made it the grand gath. Urich & Bowman, at the cheap dry goods store ering place where matters practical could be talked over, matters sentimental could be sighed over, and matters musical could be sighed over and learnt. How many sung themselves from Old Hundred to matrimony! What plans and partnerships for the future sprung from the rides which William and Mary Ann had to and from the singing school! They went to church to learn to sing, and they only learnt soft sawder. They went in single harness and came back in double, with the usual promise never to kick over the traces or shatter the matrimonial dash board. And Mary Ann's spit curl was accordingly sobered back, and William worked the old farm till he went to Congress or Canaan.

ROMANCE IN SOLDIER LIFE.—The Huntington Globe of last week relates that among the many coincidences brought about by this war, is the following: Mr. John Stewart, of Tyrone city, a young man about 18 or 20 years of age, and a member of Capt. Jones' Tyrone company, which belongs to the Juniata regiment, and which was encamped in Camp Crossman, met a Miss Drennon, of this place, for the first time on Wednesday evening last, and it appears that they both "loved at first sight," perhaps "not wisely but too well," for between HAIR DYE! HAIR DYE! HAIR DYE!! ed over, and matters musical could be sung appears that they both "loved at first sight." 12 and 1 o'clock on Thursday night, they went to find the Chaplain of the regiment to marry them, but failing to find him at that hour, nothing daunted, nor yet the least discouraged. but wofully disappointed, they gave it up to renew their search for him at early dawn. As the regiment was to leave in the morning there was no time to be lost, and at early hour they were on the lookout for the Chaplain, but did not succeed in finding him until a short time before the train started, when they repaired to the Pennsylvania Central station house, and were then and there united in the holy bonds of matrimony. Their honey-moon was of short but sweet duration, for they had but a few minutes to chat together, when he was or-dered to jump aboard. With a few fond and affectionate embraces, such as only a newly married couple know how to do up to perfection, and the shedding of tears on both sides, which flowed copiously and without restraint, he was gone. He to renew his pledge to his country, in some new field of action, and she to her temporary place of residence, to mourn over the departure of her husband of but an hour.
