HARRISBURG, PA Friday Afternoon, December 13, 1861.

Passing Counnerfeit Money.—We understood that a party of men wearing the uniform of soldiers, have been endeavoring to pass counterfeit five and ten dollar bills at several of the stores in our city. Our merchants and business men should be on the look out for these scamps.

THE FIFTH ARTILLERY .- Several companies of the Fifth U. S. Artillery, stationed at Camp Greeble, under the command of Capt. Seymour, favored our citizens with a street parade this morning. They were accompanied with their horses and batteries; and made altogether a very imposing appearance.

CHIEF OF POLICE. - Officer Barney Campbell to flourish the badge of Chief of Police. The exhibited a commendable degree of energy, ished by his promotion.

of Mr. James Sprucebanks. The parties of Mr. Sprucebanks are distinguished for the good decorum that prevails, and the social enjoyment and amusement generally that they afford to all participants. Onr readers who desire to spend an hour or so in tripping it on "the light fantastic toe" should make it a point to be on

BOATING .- The boating business still continues brisk on the Pennsylvania and Union Canals. All the hoats old and new from one end of the line to the other, capable of carrying freight, have been pressed into service, and it is many years since the boatmen derived such freights as they are getting this fall. As the season advances, freight increases, and there is a revival on the canal which makes these who sacrificed their boats early in the season, look

THE "SILVER GRAYS," Captain Palmer, marched into the city this morning from Camp Curtin, with the view of being mustered into the service of the United States, but as the ages of the members were considerably over the Dodge, postponed that duty until he received further instructions from Washington. The "Greys" then returned to Camp Curtin, where they will remain until the question of their acceptance is determined by the proper authorities.

THE AUDITOR GENERAL AND THE BROKERS -Hon. Thomas E. Cochran, the Auditor General of the State, has issued a circular inviting the attention of the brokers and bankers to the provisions of an act of Assembly, enacted at the first session of 1861, relating to brokers and private bankers. The first section of this act requires a return to be made under oath, to the Auditor General, of the receipts from commissions, discounts, &c., and requiring a tax of three per cent. upon the aggregate, to be paid into the State Treasury for a sinking fund for the reduction of the State debt. The third section provides a penalty of one thousand dollars, to be collected as taxes on bank dividends are now collected. The brokers hold the law to be at once oppressive and unconstitutional, and, for the most part, refuse to comply with its provisions. The matter will doubtless go to the Supreme Court.

Police -Before the Mayor .- "Whisky Mag." -a revolving drunk"-was arrested for lying around loose, and indulging in uproarious conduct generally. Sent to prison for 30 days.

Chas. Purple-a name very suggestive of his color, was arraigned for drunkenness. Fined $1 50, which he paid and was discharged.

Several soldiers from Camps Cameron and Curtin were up for drunkenness, and after a reprimand, put under marching orders for their Jesse Wise was arraigned charged with robbing the clothing store of S. I. Ramsey & Bro, at Levanon, on or about the 12th inst. Wise is an collisted soldier in the 5th artillery, stationed at Camp Greble, near this city. He was ar- terprising shopkeepers of New York, who an rested by officer Campbell on the strength of a telegraphic dispatch describing his name, person, &c. He was taken to Lebanon to await his trial.

Before Alderman Kline. - A well dressed woman, who refused to give her name, was arraigned, charged with the larceny of a large piece of Mouslin-de Laine from Wiler's store, in Market the express company was made happy by having Square. Sent to prison.

PROF. M'Cox is to deliver his great lecture on "the London Times on the Rebellion," in Columbia this evening. The Lancaster Rapress in alluding to the delivery of the oration in that city, says "as an evidence of its superior both in and outside. But its arresting feature Professor repeated the oration on Monday evening. The spacious court room on both occasions was crowded to its utmost capacity. In happy. Patriotism and love for the Union, an American shield rests above him, surmountflashed through every sentence and paragraph. The speaker was justly pointed and severe, not only on the London Times, but also upon Dr. Russell, the American correspondent of that paper. The Professor proved from facts and Times in this country had been guilty of the grossest misrepresentations-in plain parlance, that lying about the government of the United States and the loyal men who are defending it, composed the chief staple of his letters."

The oration will be delivered in the hall of the House of Representatives before the Governor, Heads of Department and citizens, at the 23d of December. Capitol, in this city, to morrow night; and we advise all who admire a brilliant rhetorical display to be on hand.

DAVIS' GREAT PANORAMA OF AMERICA AND THE REBELLION.—This great and truly magnifi-

dice of crinoline, silk hats and sensitive toes. The panorama, as a work of art, certainly deserves more than a passing notice, such as is given to common exhibitions claiming the attractions of either historic celebrity or natural beauty. Mr. Davis does not pretend to illustrate, by a long series of pictorial delineations. all the connected events in American history. Such a work would be as impractical as a drama embodying all the incidents in our remarkable has been honored by the Mayor with the right career, and therefore he only portrays such facts as are indelibly stamped in history, and new Chief has been attending to the duties of through its faithful annals, have become fathat office for some time, but was not formerly miliar to the people. From the discovery invested with the title until yesterday. Officer of America by Jolumbus to the discovery field. And this is not the first time by any campbell, during his career as a policeman, has of the Mississippi by De Sota, the artist has de means that this gallant little place has voted to the illustration of Indian peculiarity which we feel assured will in no wise be dimin- and landscape scenery. His grouping and his portraits are admirable—natural, graceful and proportion of members from this place than spirited. Indeed this feature of the panorama Corillion Party.-A grand cotillion party we regard as infinitely superior to all its other will be given at Exchange Hall, on Thursday attractions, whatever these may be in the estigallantly struggling for the Union in the prethe 10th inst under the management mation of the artist and the public. His fig.

J. R. S. ures, life size and in all respects fully developed are superior to any of those we have ever seen in any panorama, and we venture the assertion that this feature will be its main attraction when it finds its way before larger and more critical audiences than the one which so warm ly welcomed its first exhibition last night. His war dances, council scenes and rude battle encounters of the red man, will certainly win Mr. Davis celebrity, for their energy, their blended coloring, and the striking boldness with which he has succeeded in producing the most gorgeous effects on illuminated canvass. Whatever is animated, he seems at once to catch it glow. He doubtless admires action, and has well studied the anatomy of both man and beast. His horses would be an improvement on many of Rosa Bonheur's celebrated efforts, and it is not writing either fulsomely of the artist or in too flattery terms of his great effort in this panorama, to pronounce it a work on which he can safely rest his merits for high reputation and fame. Our own individual idea of the work, after having had ample opportunity and facility for examining other great efforts in panoramic limit fixed by law, the mustering officer, Capt. printing, is at once in its favor for faithfulness and perfection. There is no fault to be found with its details. Its subjects are all eminently Amercan—all illustrating some distinct event in half hose, jackets, overalls, muffins, night our history, or some peculiarity in our people.

> Those sections of the panorama which preent scenes and events in the great struggle in which we are now engaged for the Constitution and laws of our government, are entirely original, faithful either to the description of men who have been witnesses of those events or moved among those scenes. Some of these are really startling and grand. They are the portraitures of the most evil times in the history of treason on canvass, which will do much in assisting to arouse and consolidate a loyal sentiment wherever the panorama is exhibited.

America and the Great Rebellion.

We congratulate the young artist on his bril-We congratulate him that, after years of patient labor with his pencil in the sireward him for his labor and crown his manly ambition with success. That his panorama will prove a great success there is no doubt, if he can now join to his genius the discretion and ability of some really honest and industrious business man. We would hint, too, that the services of some one other than the artist in describing the scenes as they are unrolled would be a most judicious change. The artist himself dare not praise his own work, and therefore in his description it looses much attraction on this account. These are business arrangements, however, entirely within the control and the direction of Mr. Davis. The Panorama will be again exhibited at Brant's Hall this evening, and to morrow and Monday evenings.

MRS. LINCOLN'S NEW BONNEY. -One of the en nounces himself as the "leader of fashion," lately conceived the idea of paying a most deli cate and sentimental testimony of admiration HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED to our President, by means of an offering to his amiable wife. Its expression in the shape of a bonnet, has been attracting many curious eyes Involuntary Emission to the store which enshrined it, and on Monday consigned to its care this $30 worth of headgear. Viewed with the eyes of sense, it is said to be simply a modish hat of shirred, white, cut velvet, having a crown composed of bouillonees of tule, overlaid with blonde lace. Ostrich plumes of white and Magenta crimson adorn merits, we need but allude to the fact that by consists of strings which were manufactured in general desire of those who were present, the Europe especially for the hat. They are of broad, white, lustring ribbon, upon which appear at regular intervals light portraits, en buste, of the President; each one is surrounded manner and matter, the Professor was peculiarly by a halo of Magenta crimson forget-me-nots; ed by an eagle from whose beak floats a blue pendant, with the motto "Union Forever." Thus, regarding the bonnet with the eyes of imagination, it gleams upon us as an exhibit of patriotic devotion, and an offering most touchdata incontrovertible, that the writer for the ing to the wifely affection of its destined recipient, beneath whose dimpled chin will be prisoned at least three of the "counterfeit presentments" of our respected President,
